Swim and Swing at "Y" Splash Party

Well, instead of taking your usual, or unusual, Saturday night dip in the bath tub suppose you hie yourselves down to the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, April 30, at 8 o'clock to duck and swim in the "Y" pool where you won't have to worry about splashing up the walls or be reminded to "hurry up, someone else is waiting." You can splash away to your heart's content and exhibit your aquatic prowess for the benefit of the life guards for an hour and a half. When you've finished your refreshing swim and feel pepped up with vim and vigor an orchestra and dance floor will invite your eager feet to truck on down until 11:30.

Now, boys, here is your opportunity to impress the girls with your Johnny Weissmuller swimming and diving ability. And girls, this is your big chance to demonstrate your Eleanor Holm talents. And don't mind if the water takes all the curl out of your tresses. You can put them up in curlers and bobby pins and the boys won't mind one bit—will you boys?

Suits, lockers, towels and soap will be furnished by the "Y" at no extra cost to you. Just pay thirty-five cents for a ticket which will admit you to the pool and to the dance.

PATERSON PSYCHOLOGY CLUB ENTERTAINS STATE CLUBS

The annual spring conference of the Psychology Club Association of the State Teachers Colleges of New Jersey will be held at Paterson, April 30.

About 100 college students are expected to attend the conference.

At the morning session the students will take part in a discussion of hobbies and their values. The following topics will be presented:

Jersey City—Hobbies of the Elementary School.

Montclair—Hobbies of the College Student.

Newark—Hobbies of Foreign Students.

EDITORIAL

The Debating Club deserves credit for inspiring the following suggestion. Pat-terned after the forum which the De-bating Club conducted in our assembly, could we not hold similar open discus-sions on topics which affect us every day of our school life? A student-faculty dis-cussion of the value of examinations or of the relationship of scholarship and extra-curricula activity, or of the advan-tages and disadvantages of attending our college as compared to a large university, or of what is right and what is wrong with our English Department, our Social Science Department, our Music Depart-ment. Good subjects are at hand all about us. Would it not be worth while even if considered solely from the point of view that this type of program would emphasize the democracy of our school and give us the opportunity of ex-ercising that precious birth-right—Free Speech?

QUESTION:

What types of books should the library buy for student recreation?
ARNOLD OSTROW—"More modern fic-tion—a greater number of current best sellers in the fiction field, regard-less of their subject, should be pro-cured."

* * *

JOSEPHINE GAMBINO—"I feel some good detective stories and mysteries would be worthwhile additions to the library for student recreation."

* * *

JANE SADLER—"The books I enjoy reading during my leisure time are books concerning religion—Christian-ity. I'd like to see more of these books in our library!"

* * *

LEO CLARKE—"I would suggest some adventure books, especially about fish-ing and hunting trips."

* * *

ELEANOR WILD—"A greater selection of biographies of current and popular interest should be made available."

* * *

ANDREW PEDATA—"Our musical li-brary could be developed for recrea-tional purposes."

* * *

ELSIE SAMUELSON—"Books on travel especially in our own West would serve as excellent recreational read-ing."

* * *

BETTY EDWARDS—"We should obtain more of the old classics—these would offer both educational and recreational material."

What does the Student Council think of this idea? What does the administra-tion think? The individual members of the student body and the faculty? Con-ducted by a Student Government Com-mittee, could there be a better topic to start with than the discussion of the advisibility of making such a program a regular feature of the work of our Stu-dent Government Association?

AFFAIRS OF STATE

On Thursday evening, April 28, at 8 o'clock, a free sound motion picture show will be held in the auditorium of our college. Last month a similar program offered to the night students was so enthusiastically received that Mr. Shepard and Mr. Matelson have planned this second program.

The following features will be presented: "The Land That Time Forgot," which depicts the life and customs of a province in Southern Italy; "Pompeii," an account of the excavations and restorations being conducted in that ancient city; "The Royal Pageant," coronation views and comments; "Safari on Wheels," a journey in Africa from Algiers to Nairobi. An animated cartoon, "Frozen Frolics," and a sport feature "Snow Thrills" completes the program.

Parents, students and friends are all cordially invited to attend.

The Alumni of the New Jersey State Teachers College and Normal School at Paterson is holding its annual reunion, Saturday evening, May 7, 1938, at the Alexander Hamilton Hotel. This reunion is in the form of a card party and dance in place of the luncheon, as in previous years. The Committee is expecting a fine attendance.

You will not only enjoy renewing acquaintances and meeting old friends but you will be demonstrating concretely what P. S. T. C. meant and still means to you.

On Friday, April 8th, thirty-seven club and class representatives from Paterson State, accompanied by Dr. C. S. Wightman, Dean E. L. Jackson, and Mr. Tunis Baker attended the conference of the Eastern States Teachers Association at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City. This conference is held each year so that "students may demonstrate to administrative and instructional officers that they are able and willing to assume a larger share of the burden of respon-

THE SPORTLIGHT

Old Man Winter is dead for another year—we hope! As soon as the skies will bless us with some sunshine instead of snow and rain the spring sports will get under full steam. The baseball team has already had several practices. Twenty-five hopefuls reported at the first practice. These included five veterans from last year's varsity—Archie Hay, Lou Sirota, Ed Danheuser, Bob Albinson, and Emil Cavillini.

Pitchers—Pressman, Sirota, Kreitman and Albinson.

Catchers—Todd, Anderegg, Duberstein, De Snoo, Cavallini.

Infield—Fox, Guyre, Poortfleet, Ramsey, Daniels, Feldman, Abramowitz, Murphy, Ostrow, Murdock, Sporoviano and Hay.

Outfield—Mahood, Isaacs Fishman, and Danheuser.

Manager Buys has arranged a heavy schedule for the team consisting of twelve games. Most of the games will be played at home in Eastside Park so that it will be convenient for the student body to attend. The schedule will run as follows:

April 23—Alumni .....	Away
April 27—Montclair S. T. C. ....	Home
April 29—Manhattan .....	Home
May 3—Savage .....	Home
May 6—Jersey City S. T. C. ....	Home
May 10—Bergen Co. J. C. ....	Home
May 13—College of Paterson ....	Away
May 17—Manhattan .....	Away
May 20—Jersey City S. T. C. ....	Home
May 24—Bergen Co. J. C. ....	Away
May 27—College of Paterson ....	Home
June 3—Savage .....	Home

* * *

The Tennis Team will begin their practice as soon as the Hays courts will be ready for playing. A stiff schedule has been set up including four of the other five Teachers Colleges in the state. Promising players include Garry Margolius, former Eastside racketeer, Milan Daniels and Gene Manheimer, veterans, and Arnold Ostrow, and Jimmy Murdock.

STUDENT DRIN

April

I smelled the fragrance of the grass
And saw the green things growing
I saw the yellow bonnet fringe
Of April flowers, showing.

I heard the whistling birds trill clear
A song so sweet and cheering
And April smiled on field and tree
So winsome and endearing.

I saw, I heard, I felt with joy
All things with new life springing
And April, April everywhere
Had set the world a singing.

—Ida Torzella

SONNET ON THE PROLETARIAT AND THE MOVIES

From grimy factories the masses go home
Until tomorrow respite is theirs
Crawling beneath earth's starry dome
Knowing a few hours free from cares
Yearning for some sympathetic joy
Opera's shunned by human mobs
So the movies are their goals
Handsome heroes strut their stuff
And the ladies hearts are deeply stirred
Naked nymphs bedecked in fluff
Noisy murmurs throughout are heard
Over the show and back to their homes
No pleasure but this—for human gnomes.

—Arnold Ostrow and
Garry Margolius

Conference Sidelights

De Snoo rushes in where angels fear to tread and did he blush! . . . We hear the boys just put hangers in their coats and hung for the night . . . At any rate they were ready for breakfast in short order . . . Did Danny really need all the salt he had on his plate? . . . Why did Albinson and the boys from Montclair start the "Star Spangled Banner" at the banquet? . . . We have reason to believe it wasn't prompted by patriotism . . . At any rate Norman Thomas complimented them on starting it for the first time in a key everyone could sing . . . Jimmie Houston took a screen test to see if he could take Stan Laurel's place . . . Did Howie Cole remind you of Banquo's ghost? . . . Who knows the Seventh Avenue Subway around this school? . . . Alice McGuirk should have had pity on the telephone operator . . . Ann Metzendorf and Tess Bilowith had a good time sitting in the mezzanine . . . Alexander and Guyre eat soup in C sharp minor . . . State boasts many jitter bugs who listened to Benny Goodman . . . By the by we would like to know who Elmer is.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

Glassboro—Hobbies of the Feebleminded.

Trenton—The Value of Extra-Curricular Activities.

After the business meeting and the singing of selections from the college operetta, the group will go to the North Jersey Training School for luncheon, and a tour of the school.

In connection with the conference the Psychology Club will have a Hobby Exhibit. If any student in college has a hobby he would be willing to exhibit, he should see Regina Dennehy, Alice McGuirk, Betty Edwards, William Le Vine, or Eugene Manheimer.

sibility for policy forming organization, administration, and instructional leadership. With the aid of the faculty, the students effectively bring to the attention of the general public the significance of the work of the institutions whose function is the preparation of teachers for public schools."

The major part of the morning program was devoted to panel discussions on such topics as Scholarship and Extra-Curricular Activities, Examination and Marking Systems, Building College Morale, and the Teachers College Curriculum. Mary McGuirk participated as a panel member in the discussion of Scholarship and Extra-Curricular Activities. Vital questions connected with this topic were: "Of what importance is scholarship in teacher education? To what extent should students participate in extra-class activities? How may the proper balance between the two be determined?"

The social program of the conference consisted of an informal tea at the Teachers College of Columbia University and a student-faculty banquet at which Norman Thomas was the principal speaker, and a dance in the ballroom of the Hotel Pennsylvania.

As a result of the splendid performance of "The Gondoliers" last month many requests have come to Mrs. Money-penny asking for a repetition of the various duets and quartets sung in the operetta. Complying with one of these requests several of the principals went to Passaic yesterday evening to entertain the Men's Business Club with the lyrical Gilbert and Sullivan tunes. We bet the singing of Gene and Bob, the inimitable pair of gondoliers, together with their merry wives, Pauline and Carmela, made the staid business men wish for the jollity and gaiety of the happy-go-lucky Venetian life they described in the songs.

The Madrigal Singers, an honorary musical society composed of students and alumni of Paterson State, will give the first in the fifth series of annual spring concerts tomorrow at Radburn. The program will consist of selections from previous concerts as well as pieces from the spring concert which is to be given March 11 in our own auditorium. Included in the program are the well known Bach choral, "Awake, Awake"; the Madrigal, "Matona"; Mendelsohn's, "Lift Thine Eyes"; and Russian, English, and Hebrew folk songs.

George Keller, a pianist of high standing will accompany the singers.

* * *

An attempt is being made by Nicholas Beversluis to organize an orchestra at State with Mrs. Moneypenny as Faculty Adviser. So far the response from the student body has been fine and the following students have already joined: Elena Portadino, Evelyn Jackson, Jane Sadler, Eleanor Lohsen, Isidore Lander, Howard Cole, and William Le Vine. Arrangements are being made to conduct rehearsals in the near future. It is planned that the orchestra will be of a classical nature, although in the future its growth and success may allow it to be adopted to perform on occasions when other types of music will be in demand.
