HOUSTON WINS ELECTION BY LARGE MARGIN

Candidate James Houston, won the election for president of the S.G.A. by defeating Archie Hay by the large majority of 173 to 98. Nicholas Beversluis is elected to the vice-presidency for the coming year. He defeated Eleanor Wild by 50 votes. Ralph Smith won the treasurership and polled the largest number of votes in the election: The vote was 201 to 70. Bob Beckwith assumes the duties of secretary for the coming year. He polled 136 votes while Barbara Wilder polled 81 to Frank Ianucci's 53.

Polling was exceptionally heavy during the third period with 207 votes cast. Bill Langstaff was at the polls bright and early and registered as the number one man. Credit goes

THIEVES RANSACK SAFE

Breaking into the school safe in the General office was the crime committed by several anonymous persons, Thursday night, May 4. A small fund of petty cash was the only reward for their evening's work. Damage to school property was the larger loss.

After the janitor, Joseph Shields, discovered the battered safe and scattered papers, he reported the deed to local authorities. Several Paterson detectives conducted a careful examination for any clues or fingerprints. No report was given out by the police, but determined efforts are being made to capture the culprits.

SURPRISE PLANNED FOR GUEST NIGHT

The annual "Guest" night program of the College will be held in the auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 17, 1939 at 8:15 o'clock. Parents and friends of the students are cordially invited to attend.

A program will be given during the evening which will be varied and interesting for all. The Masque and Masquers, under the guidance of Mr. Herbert Roehler will give a one-act play entitled "The Trysting Place". Excerpts from the operetta, "The Mikado" will be given by the principals and chorus of the recent production. Mrs. Louise Myers is in charge of the music. Nicholas Beversluis will play several piano selections at the opening of the program.

Dr. C. S. Wightman, President of the College, and Edwin Danheuser, President of the Student Government Association, will make brief talks.

For the remainder of the program, Miss Dorothy Abrams and Edwin Danheuser are planning a "surprise" in which both parents and students will participate.

Other faculty members on the committee for the evening include Miss Trainor, Miss Hopper, Miss Loftus, and Mr. White.

Alumni of the school are all invited to come and enjoy the evening with the students. This evening is always one much anticipated by the students and those parents and friends who have come before. This year guest night promises to be the most outstanding one ever. So come, all of you, and bring your guests!

UNDERCLASSMEN PLAN

BALL; HONOR SENIORS

On May 26, the Hackensack Golf Club will be the site of the "piece de resistance" of all school affairs, the Senior Ball.

Don Weeden and his orchestra will supply mellow music delightfully interpreted by his charming soloist.

In Oradell, about ten miles north east of Paterson is the Hackensack Golf Club. This club is a perfect locale for the Senior Ball. Set in a lovely spot, surrounded by beautiful lands and trees, the building itself gives the impression of grandeur. As for the interior, there is more than ample room for dining and dancing as well as comfortable lounges.

Don Weedan hails from East Orange and has been making quite a name for himself and has had a very good season. His band is smooth and danceable. Once you hear him, you'll probably want to keep dancing all night, and you won't want to stop even for the delicious buffet supper which will be served later in the evening.

By the way, every once in a while you can go to the punchbowl for a pause that refreshes and indulge in some delicious punch as the bowl will be full all evening.

The undergraduates are giving this ball as a gift to our outgoing seniors, so all you seniors are expected to be on hand to be guests of honor.

Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors should turn out in full force to make this final gesture to the Seniors a sparkling success.

Bids can be obtained from Nicholas Beversluis, Edward Phillips and Francis Iannucci for $2.50. The committee announces the dress will be formal. Make your plans now to be there. With a beautiful place, swell band and a charming partner, combined with moonlight on a warm balmy night, how can you resist?

INTERESTING COURSES

OFFERED AT CAMP

Applicants for admission to the Camping Institute, sponsored by Paterson State Teachers College, should register immediately as the enrollment is limited to one hundred students, according to a recent announcement made by Mr. W. Hartley, Director of the Institute.

Each student will be required to take the course on Principles and Philosophy of Organized Camping, and one course in swimming, plus one additional course chosen from the list of courses. Each class will be about one and one-half hours in length. The course on Principles and Philosophy of Organized Camping will be given by the Camp Director and is the only theory course to be presented. Problems of camp organization, choice of camp sites, care of various age groups and typical camp problems will be considered. Tests will be given on the first day of the Institute to place each student in his proper swimming class. Beginning and Advanced Swimming will be taught in addition to Life Saving and Teaching of Swimming and Life Saving. Each student must choose one course from the following group of eight: First Aid; emphasis will be placed on the treatment of injuries and ills common to camps. Arts and Crafts; handicrafts such as beadwork, leatherwork, metalwork, woodwork will be taught and the size of this class will be limited in order to assure individual instruction. Archery; the course will include instruction in making bows and arrows in addition to instruction in using them. Athletics; instruction will be given in baseball, basketball, tennis, volleyball, quoits, clock golf, badminton, deck tennis and other outdoor activities; suggestions will also be given for rainy day programs. Music; piano lessons will be available and opportunity to participate and direct such music activities

JERSEY COLLEGES ENTERTAIN AT 'PLAY DAYS'

Buzz-Buzz-Buzz: Have you heard it too? It is a choice bit of news. Our girls participated at the New Jersey College for Women on April 25, in a "Hawaiian Holiday."

The day was spent in playing the different sports offered for women. They were divided into two teams and played for the principal idea of fun.

On April 29 another group of athletic girls from our College accepted an invitation from Jersey City Teachers College to exhibit their skill in an active day of fun. Those who attended were Jennie Lutzkow, Pauline Gagliardi, Lucy Saluppo, Beatrice De-Brigida, Ida Torzella, Betty Barton, Nonnette Renier, Ruth Bastien, Catherine McAllister and Edith Kohout. They played in each of the following games: badminton, paddle tennis, deck tennis, shuffle board, and archery.

EVENING COLLEGE TO SEE SOLONS IN ACTION

At 5:00 p. m. on May 15, the Western Civilization and American History classes of the Evening College will meet on the campus and then proceed to the State House at Trenton. Mr. Benjamin Matelson and Mr. William Hartley will accompany the group.

Our Assemblywoman, Miss Mattie S. Doremus will introduce the group to the Speaker of the House, Mr. Herbert J. Pascoe, who will explain to them what happens to a bill from the moment it is dropped into the hopper until it reaches the governor for his signature.

STUDENT COUNCIL NOTES

The council wishes to announce that the gym will be reopened for student use Monday, May 8. Students are urged to cooperate in every way possible to keep it open, by careful use of the Gym equipment. In the event that this privilege is again abused, the Council will be forced to close the gym permanently.

TEAM BOWS TO MIDDLEBURY IN FINAL DEBATE

On Thursday, May 4, a group of debaters from Middlebury College, Vermont, handed the debating team a set back on the question: "Resolved the U. S. Government Should Cease to Use Public Funds for the Purpose of Stimulating Business." The victorious negative team consisted of Frances Kellog, first speaker and rebuttal, and Margaret Doubleday, second speaker.

The home affirmative team consisted of Robert Cantor and Gene Manheimer as first and second speakers respectively. Marshal Murray was rebuttalist. The decision was rendered by Dr. William B. Kelly, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Passaic. Beatrice Lapitsky and Paul Schneider served as chairman of the program and time keeper respectively.

This debate concludes the season of the scheduled debating program for P.S.T.C. Mr. Mark Karp has acted as coach and adviser to the debating club during this season. Debators participating actively this season are: Marjorie Fairbanks, Aaron Rubin, Marshall Murray, Paul Schneider, Howard Josephson, Robert Cantor, Gene Manheimer, and Beatrice Lapitsky.

PRE-NURSING GROUP VISITS STATE HOSPITAL

A group of pre-nursing students inspected the State Hospital for the Insane at Greystone Park last week. The trip, under the direction of Miss Helen Loftus, was part of the orientation and guidance program. Miss Edith Jackson and Miss Juliette Trainor accompanied the group.

They were shown the various facilities of the hospital by Miss Cowart and Miss Frey of the nursing staff, and Mrs. Melvin, the hospital dietician. Of particular interest to the group was the nurses' home, where they saw the students' classrooms, library, and living quarters.

JUST NOTES

This column is to be dedicated to the Senior Trip.

The entire class have unanimously decided that their hearts belong to "Daddy" . . . Dr. Louise Alteneder had the class thinking they were seeing double in Pennsylvania . . . Evelyn Kelley and Elena Portadino believe that luck comes in "Bunches" . . . Regina Dennehy picked up her southern accent . . . Jean Leonard was an amusing "Egyptian Ella" from the Cairo . . . Mildred Probert and Evelyn Jackson were delighted when the two Eddies from P.S.T.C. put in an appearance . . . May McBride loved oranges . . . Rae Vivino, Lorraine Smith, Mary Annacharico, Jo Gambino and Kay Zigterman were very generous with their midnight snacks . . . Mrs. Van Duzer especially liked to be awakened at five o'clock . . . Betty Begg had best watch her calories. Things in hotels break so easily . . . Kim Steckert enjoyed candid camera shots and swimming . . . Eleanor Duursemma wore a hat reminiscent of "Dodge City" . . . Marge McMichael visited Midshipman Mackown at Annapolis . . . PHILADELPHIA FIELD TRIP

At half past seven, Wednesday morning two buses filled with enthusiastic juniors left the college for their field trip to Philadelphia. The first stop was of historic interest at Washington Crossing Park, Pa. After walking across the bridge, erected over the place where Washington crossed the Delaware we went back to the buses and rode on to Philadelphia. A few minutes were spent viewing the campus and visiting the library of the University of Pennsylvania. The United States mint was the next stop. From glass windows on an upper floor we were able to look down and observe the process of coining money, learning the development of it from the metal in a molten red hot state to the final cutting, stamping and sorting of the individual coins. No samples were given away so we proceeded to the Curtis Publishing Company. Here we learned much in connection with our current labor studies. The pleasant working conditions and the highly specialized method of printing, binding and shipping magazines was surely the most interesting part of the day. From 3:30 to 4 o'clock we were able to visit Independence Hall, Congress Hall, Betsy Ross's Home, Benjamin Franklin's grave.

Clara King laughed last when a practical joke was played on her . . . Gene Manheimer practised debating . . . Jack Lipsy upset the taking of moving pictures . . . Colette Siess wanted to take the soldier at the Arlington Cemetery home for a souvenir . . . Helen Johnston doesn't appreciate hard boiled eggs about two o'clock in the morning . . . Pauline Brandt managed to look calm and collected during the entire trip . . . The bus driver proved to be quite a historian . . . Nettie McCann went high hat and wore a hat around Washington . . . As for me, I wish New Jersey were nearer Connecticut.

CLUBS & CLASSES

On May 6 the Psychology Club journeyed to Trenton to attend the Psychology Conference of the Psychology Clubs of New Jersey. The main topic discussed was concerned with the gifted child. After the session in the auditorium, a delicious luncheon was enjoyed by all.

An urgent appeal is being made to Science Club members to attend all meetings. A great deal is being done which is both interesting and educational. Make it a point to go to the next meeting. It will be worth your while.

Club members are urged to attend the next meeting of the International Relations Club on May 10. Election of officers will be held. Be there.

Skull and Poniard Fraternity have completed plans for an outing to be held at Brother Albinson's cottage at Greenwood Lake on May 20. Tentative plans have been made for the annual "Stag Banquet" to be held at the Cottage on Route 23 in the near future. The new pledgee for the Skull and Poniard is James Todd.

Zeta Kappa Chi Sorority takes pleasure in announcing the names of the pledgees of the sorority. They are: Joyce Whetham, Hazel Bairel, Ruth Kaufman, Ruth Barton, Alice McGuirk, Ruth Breen, Eleanor Wild, and Barbara Wilder.

Phi Omega Psi Sorority sponsored a tea for the faculty on April 26. The sorority is making plans for a hot-dog roast to be held in the early part of May.

To Kalon Sorority has made plans for a theater party to be held in June. Stationary bearing the sorority symbols has been purchased for members. The next meeting of the sorority will be held at the college on May 14.

COM' E' BELLA GIOVINEZZA!

Music, comedy, drama were all combined in "Com'e Bella Giovinezza" (How Beautiful Youth!), a play written by Dr. Alfred N. Borloso, Italian instructor at the college, and musically scored by Paolo Signore. The entire play was under the able direction of Dr. Borloso, supported by a cast made up of the members of the Italian Club, with Carmela Calabrese as leading lady. The play is about college life and although it is written in Italian, the skilled acting and the English librettos made it understandable for all.

Seniors Enjoy Eventful Trip To Washington, D. C.

Seven o'clock Sunday morning, April 30, the Seniors left for their pleasant trip to Washington. Before they arrived at their destination they stopped at two important places. The first was at Dr. Louise Alteneder's mother's home at Philadelphia where the group was accepted very cordially and was served coffee and rolls. The second was at Gettysburg, the historic battlefield of the Civil War.

Monday morning at 8:45 the group was taken to various highspots in the nation's capitol. First, they visited the United States Bureau of Engraving where all the paper money and stamps are made. After looking at the many different processes that money goes through before it reaches our hands, the seniors went to the Pan-American Building. The most impressive was its patio, in which South American plants and birds are found!

The group finally arrived at the Smithsonian Institute. There they saw many famous articles among which were, "The Spirit of St. Louis", "The Winnie Mae", the special dresses of the presidents' wives, uniforms of famous generals, and many guns.

Later the members of the class left the Smithsonian Institute to visit the White House and Capitol. Before entering the Capitol the seniors had their picture taken on its lawn. While there, they were admitted to the session of the Senate and the House of Representatives. Mr. Gordon Matthews, one of the faculty advisors to accompany the seniors, secured some special pencils for the seniors from Congressman Seger.

Monday afternoon was left free for personal pursuit, and in the evening all visited the Congressional Library, where there is a copy of almost every book in the world.

Again at 8:45 the following morning the seniors were off with their cameras to see the Franciscan Monastery.

After visiting the impressive Lincoln Memorial the bus rode through the Arlington Cemetery and stopped at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

When all finished luncheon, they went to the Federal Bureau of Investigation to learn how, when, where, and why to take fingerprints.

Then to Alexandria to see Christ's Church, the church that George Washington attended. They also saw the first public school in Virginia which is now used as a kindergarten. They rode on until they came to the large building where they bought and sold slaves. This, they learned, is an apartment building, at present. Last of all the seniors examined the Lee Mansion which is situated on a hill in the Arlington Cemetery.

Wednesday morning the bus left Hotel Cairo at 8 o'clock. It stopped at Annapolis so the Seniors could visit the U. S. Naval Academy, and then sped homeward to arrive at Paterson shortly after 10 o'clock.

STATE DEFEATS MONTCLAIR

For the first time in many a year Paterson defeated Montclair in baseball to the tune of 6-5. It was a hard fought contest with the outcome in doubt until the very end.

Bill Langstaff, State's pitching mainstay, hurled a great game to score Paterson's initial win.

The home team jumped to the lead in the third inning when with bases loaded, Schutz singled driving in two runs. The lead was increased to four when an error gave Langstaff a base, Fox singled, and Hay doubled to left field, driving in two tallies.

Montclair came back in the fourth when they combined an error, a single and a double by Tryanowski to get two runs.

In the sixth Sirota walked and scored on Pressman's double to left. Breslow scored what became the winning run in the seventh when an error by Matteo allowed him to score from second.

However the game wasn't over yet. Montclair came up for the last time and started a rally as Langstaff began to weaken. Two hits, an error, and a sacrifice accounted for three runs. Then with the tying run on third, Langstaff tightened up and forced the next two batters to fly out.

STATE BOWS TO BERGEN C.

The baseball team dropped its second decision of the season against Bergen College. The game ended with the score of 7-5.

Lyons was the starting, losing pitcher for Paterson. He pitched great ball until he got into trouble in the sixth inning. He allowed three hits, one a triple by Pinkham, and two walks for a total of three runs.

Langstaff relieved Lyons and stopped the rally. Jankelunds went in the seventh inning and allowed two runs which proved to be the winning runs.

The boys finally got to the Lautenschlager in the sixth for three runs. Sirota opened the inning with a single to left field. Pressman reached first on an error by Ballestri, Hay scoring; Pressman advanced to second on Jankelund's infield out and scored on Schutz's hard hit ball to pitcher.

In the eighth, trailing by four runs, Pressman hit a single with two outs. The next four men walked forcing in two runs. That was the end of our scoring spree.

EDITORIAL

The Council finds it hard to understand why people have not attended assemblies as they did in the beginning of the term. The assemblies have been very interesting and exceptionally good. Yet it is possible to find many students playing ping-pong, chess, or talking when they should have been in assembly. Some few may be studying. Still it is not an activity or a study period! The program is put on for the students' education and entertainment. It is paid for by them. Because the students do not realize their loss the Council is seriously considering taking steps to make it compulsory to attend assemblies or to stay out of the building during the assembly period. If these measures are not to be taken then the students must see to it that they get to

FIRE!

It is very important that the students are quiet and orderly at all fire drills. This is a necessary precaution for their own benefit. If there were a fire, disorderly conduct would be disastrous; this has been proven by many cases in the past. Not only may such conduct prove disastrous, but it is a very bad example for the children of School No.
24. So for the good of the College and of School No. 24 be quiet and orderly at all drills.
