Budget Passed By Council On Friday In Record Time

The Student Council passed "Flying Is Fun," ber in the record time of twenty minutes when it met in special session on Friday during activity period.

The Council , confronted with the usual problem of not enough funds, passed the budget in one of the quietest budget sessions in years. Principal objectors to the budget were Miss Betty Bar-Committee, and Miss Beatrice Lapitsky, Secretary of the De-being Club, Miss Barton and Miss Lapitsky stumped for re storations of the cuts meted out to the two agencies. However, their pleas were futile as the council turned a deaf ear to their objections, and voted the budget's passage.

The passage of the budget will insure an innovation at State. The Executive Committee will now have enough funds to publish a directory of the cellege students which will be of a similar nature to the city directory. Enough funds were also set aside in the Executive Committee's budget to insure the printing of the Handbook for the coming year. However if all goes well the committee hopes to publish enough handbooks to distribute to the entire student body. The Budget now goes to the Government Association, the entire student body, for approval.

Indges Are Chosen For Talent Concert

Two Members Of The Faculty And Two Students Selected

Judges for the Student Talent Concert, to be held on April 29, were selected at the last meeting of the Assembly Committee. The judges are: Miss Jackson and Mr. Weidner from the faculty; and James Houston and Kenneth Jehn from the student body. Dr. Wightman will act as honorary judge.

Aready there are fifteen member students who will par-ticipate in the concert, and many more are expected to agen up. The Freshmen are leading with the most appli-cents, with a close second from the Sopha. The program will be divided into four classes: yeel, instrumental, dancing, and novelties. However this division is tentative. Duets. trios and quartets will be accepted.

Entry blanks are available at the library desk. It is not too life to sign up. Further no-tices will be posted on the bulletin board and in the library. Let the college know what Flying sure is fun. If you don't believe it, ask anyone in the C. A. A. course. Those in the course are Bill Daley, James Dock, Lewis Fisher, Stanley Gut, George Maccia, Kay Matthews, Wally Reid, George Shapiro, Wally Reid, George Shapiro, Henry Timinski, and Louis Van-Mansart. Though we must admit that the first flight gave some of us that certain feeling, we have now settled down to the business of becoming good pilots.

One of the first and biggest thrills was the initial solo flight we each made after receiving eight hours of dual instruction As you may surmise, a lot de-pends upon that first solo (the student's life not excluded). However, since all ten of us are still here, all solo flights must have been successful.

Landings and take-offs follow ed, and it seemed almost impossible, at first, to land without bouncing twenty or thirty feet into the air. As a result, we were given intensive instruction in landing and taking off until perfection was reached.

Then we were due for another exciting maneuver, tailspins both dual and solo. This time we used parachutes, but even they don't comfort you when you see some students come down from tailspins and walk slightly wobbly as they leave the plane. I am sure any students in the class will be glad to oblige with the details and most of us are just in the stage of tailspins.

We have had no accidents as yet, and we are still flying our green and yellow Aeronca. For an interesting occupation and a lot of fun we recommend aviation and we hope that all yours may be happy landings.

Flash! An important correc tion is necessary because we are now flying a red plane instead of the green and yellow one. It now seems that I hit one of those peach baskets used to mark the runways; and damaged the under-carriage of the plane pretty badly while taking off. The in-structor noticed from the ground that I was having trouble and came by in another plane to tell me to return to the airport and land. I was very surprised but more embarrassed when I saw what remained of the under-carriage. Confidentially, red is the style for all the new planes any way.

State Chorus To Sing At Central High Program To Be Presented To

Student Assembly

On Friday morning, March 8, at 8:30 a. m. in the Central High School auditorium a group of boys and girls selected by the college musical director, Mr. Weidner, will present to the student body of Central a varied program of vocal music.

The program will consist of a Girls Octet, the members of which are: Ruth Cummings, Carmela Calabrese, Anne Vroom, Alice Sheldon, Pauline Gagliardi, Ruth Barton, Jeanette Levy, and Margaret Patterson.

The Boys Octet is composed of: Frank Almroth, Bill Loveless, Sydney Collins, Everett Malefyt, Harold Mandeville, William Levine, Bernard Seigel, Victor Christie, and Anthony Barbarito.

Mr. Weidner has planned to have a mixed chorus which consists of a combination of both Octets.

This group of talented vocalists is one of the many well organized, well harmonized choruses made possible through the untiring efforts of Mr. Weidner.

"So You Want To Get Married" Is Most Popular

Personality Development, Mar-riage, And Vocations, Rate Highest In Poll

In the recent survey of reading interests conducted by the Psychology Club as shown by a choice of three articles taken from 50 articles of the "Reader's Digest," the article "So You Want to Get Married," received the highest number of votes. "The Self You Have to Live With" and "The Necessity of Sex Education" came next "The Man Who Killed Lincoln" was also popular. Of the 100 votes tabulated "Americans Are Queer," "Life-like College," and "Information, Please" each received 25 votes.

Classified by interest in general, those articles relating to personality development, mar-riage and vocations came first; Americanism and politics, second; science and education, third; world interests, fourth; nature, adventure, and health and recreation, fifth.

Only two articles received no votes; namely, "Spring Festi-vals" and "The W.P.A. in Politics."

The survey showed that the interest of the students spread over a wide area. While they are mostly concerned about in-terests in their own future happiness, they are seriousminded with regard to science and the affairs of the nation and of the world.

Paterson State Stops New Britain In Close Fast Game, 48-44

Bedford, Hartley Obtain Degrees

One of the instructors of Paterson State Teachers College has been conferred the highest degree that educators may earn. Fred L. Bedford, instructor of mathematics, received his degree of Doctor in Education in the field of mathematics from the Teachers College, Columbia University on January 25, 1940.

Dr. Bedford's dissertation, Plans for a Mathematics Extension Service at the Paterson State Teachers College," sug-gests a practical service for mathematics teachers of elementary schools in this area. Materials concerning new methods in the teaching of mathematics would be available to all teachers. Consultations would also be arranged for those desiring advice. Parts of this service have been rendered in some instances during the last semester.

William H. Hartley, history instructor, expects to receive his doctor's degree in Social Studies from the Teachers College, Columbia University in June. His project, to be published soon, is titled "Basic Films for Social Studies." It includes a list of films best suited as visual aids in the teaching of history.

Auditions For Orchestra To Be Held On March 6

Nation-Wide Youth Orchestra To Make Tour Of Latin America

Lyons and Hay Play Last Game For State As Basketball Season Closes

PATERSON, NEW JERSEY

J. V.'s BEAT PANTHERS

The Pioneers added another victory to their season's record as they defeated the highly touted New Britain Teachers 48-44 at the local gym.

Although New Britain was never ahead they managed to tie the contest up early in the last period after trailing throughout the first three periods.

State drew first blood and led. at the end of the first period to the tune of 11-6. The New Britain basketeers showed some signs of life during the second frame to swish through twelve points to Paterson's fourteen. Halftime showed Paterson holding a 25-18 edge over their opponents.

In the third canto the New Britain Teachers barely outscored the Paterson quintet, 16-15 to make it 40-34 at the beginning of the fourth session.

Gorman of the visitors tied the game at 41-all early in the last period but Sirota sent State ahead again. After Gorman tied the game again Jankelunas put the Pioneers out in front where they remained throughout the remainder of the game.

Pressman paced State with 11. points while Gorman's fourteen led the visitors.

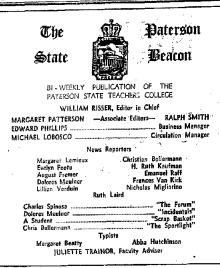

State's victory was particularly thrilling since New Britain is the New England teachers' college champion, having lost only two games previous to this latest setback.

Paterson's J. V.'s beat the Panthers of the Paterson Y.M.H.A., 25-20. Pollack with nine for the J. V.'s and Paer with the same number for the Panthers were high for the game.

SPEAKING OF TERM PAPERS

There has been much discussion around school conconcerning the recently inaugurated term paper plan, view-points both pro and con being voiced. Many of the com-ments offered have been good and valid, both for and against the idea, which we should keep in mind, is in its experimental stage. Other opinions, however, especially those opposing the plan, it would seem, have been formulated without a careful analysis of the subject being criticized or without an openminded approach to the problem.

The first thing to consider is that it is a new idea and is in ts expermental stage. It is quite natural that certain adjustments will be found necessary and imperative in order to obtain favorable results. The students, too, will be expected to adapt themselves to certain innovations that this novel experiment will create. Now let us think about the main reason for devising the plan and the aims this hopes to achieve. The reason or basis for the change was to lessen the load placed upon the students by the need to write a term paper for several courses taken in one semester. This should be especially appreciated by those who were forced to write lengthy papers on subjects in which they were not vitally interested. That brings us to another point, namely that the new plan allows the student to not only choose the field in which he is most interested, but to write extensively in that field alone, and on whatever phase of that particular subject the student chooses. Another valuable contribution made by the term paper idea and one of its important objectives is the termr paper manual, which provides suggestive and helpful data as well as accepted Tules of English to be followed in composing a term paper. Thus we have in brief, to be used at any time, a standard set of guiding principles and rules on which to base a term paper. Surely this is a worthy contribution. Particularly to those who will carry their education beyond ordinary college levels, or those who will transfer to colleges where many term papers are expected, will this training and in-formation be valuable.

COOPERATION

Just when we thought things had settled down to nor-mal and school life was humming along smoothly up jumps two of our old problems. They seem like sore thumbs. We no sconer mend them when something causes us to forget ourselves and we're up to our old tricks. The remedy is a simple one. All that's necessary is to develop the habit of cooperating among ourselves collectively, and toward each other, individually, and our problems would be solved.

Yes, you've guessed it. We are again obliged to remind you that there has been too much noise in the library and too much refuse left on the tables in the cafeteria. As it is, the cafeteria is saily in need of revamping. Let's not make it worse by leaving our garbage and milk bottles, etc. lying on the table for someone else to clean up.

If you wish to chat with a friend, use the social room, the smoking room, the cafeteria, or some vacant room, but don't do your socializing in the library. If we all observed this simple rule, it would be to the advantage of the whole student body.

Pome O, be she dead And am she gone And are I left here All alone?

O cruel fate, You is unkind To take she'fore And leave I'hind!

This column is short. Your attention span too, But so is my patience So, so long to you.

SCRAP BASKET

The Term Paper Manual, the criteria for all of Paterson State, and the last word in correct written English is lacking a copyright. The library is practically a victim of every malady afloat when it comes to questionaires. Within the next few months we may find our famous library polls ranking second only to the Gallup Poll of Public Opinion. A communique is a rumor

* BUNA

The Rockfeller interests are once again traveling at full speed ahead, apparently fostering a noble intent. This country imports a vast amount of rubber each year and due to this fact we are more or less concerned. It seems that a German scientist has discovered (after much American attempt) a means of producing a very satisfactory grade of synthetic rubber, Buna, by using petroleum. The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey has managed to procure the rights to manufacture this commodity in this country but with one provision. Through their subsidiary branch in South America they must ship petroleum to Germany as the demand is made. How will this affect our status in International affairs?

WHAT DOES COLLEGE MEAN TO YOU?

Education has been defined in many ways—as learn-ing; as experience; as personality development; as the acquisition of skills, attitudes, knowledge, understanding; as preparation for life; and so on. But whatever idee we may hold as to the nature of education, we must agree that is is dynamic. In a very real sense, each individual must educate himself. True enough, this would not be possible in a "human vacuum." But even though we may agree with the social psychologist as to the social nature of all human the social psychologist as to the social nature of all human behavior, it must still remain true that what ever growth there is in knowledge, in skills, in understanding, in ap-preciations, in personality are the direct result of activity on the part of the individual. A college may have the best of physical facilities—of classrooms, studios, shops, laboratories, libraries—and be staffed with instructors having outstanding scholarship and commanding personalities; but these are only instruments that the individual may use in developing his own individ-ual and social personality. He grows in ability to do, to think and to feel only to the degree that he does and thinks and feels. He is not a sponge that socaks up "learning." Education is not something that one can pass on to another, as one pours milk into a vessel; it is rather something to achieve.

actieve. True enough, we may repeat what another has said, or something that we have read, but that represents someone else's experience, not our own. It is unfortunate that so many people who claim to be "educated" are really only using someone else's scholarship that has been "learned" or remembered, without so much as giving credit to the source. They have taken on faith, as one takes a creed or a dictum. Such persons may be "schooled" though hardly "educated." 'educated.''

"educated." So much of what passes as "thinking" is merely the passing on of common sayings, of generally accepted ideas. It would seem that one function of a college education should be that the individual develop the ability to be criti-cal; to ask questions; to compare, contrast, and evaluate; to arrive at judgments in the light of evidence; "to think for himself" and then to act on the basis of his thinking. There is no "easy way" by which such skills may be acquired; and the "hard way" demands repeated practice, under guidance, with continuous self analysis and a disposition to better one's past record—just as learning to play tennis, or to swim, or to play a fiddle. ## Innovations Of The Past Year Are Described By Dr. Wightman

You were promised information about your Alma Mater in first issue of the Alumni the BEACON. In this issue a brief summary of innovations throughout the school year, 1938-1939, will be presented

The first innovation by the College for the year, 1938-1939, was the offering of a pre-nurs-ing course. Many of the high school graduates today are not at all certain about their interests for vocational activities Others are much too young to enter directly into professional work. Recognizing this need, State Teachers College at Paterson has organized a program for freshmen which makes excellent preparation for an teaching and at the same time provides a good background for prospective nurses. Through-out this first year, the college experience includes contact with various subjects, students, and instructors, and forms a specific program of guidance enabling the young woman to be more certain of the vocation she wishes to pursue. The work is set up in such a way that it tests the ability of the candidate to complete successfully aca-demic work beyond the high school level of difficulty.

The second innovation was a of four forums from series September 4 to October 1, 1938 international affairs pre on sented by Dr. Fred Ingvoldstad The average attendance at these forums was approximately four hundred people. Dr. Ingvoldstad had just returned from a trip to Europe and presented up-to-date information on the European situation at that time From February 1 to March 1 a second series of four forums was conducted by Dr. John C. Duvall. The attendance at the forums conducted by Dr. Duvall was not quite so good as that at the fall series. However, the four forums constituted an important contribution of the College to the life of the community.

The third innovation for the college year was the opening of an adult school. Immediately following the series of forum which were sponsored in the fall, the first adult school to State conducted in the Teachers College opened with an attendance of approximately 350 people enrolled in eleven different courses. The second semester of the adult school giving twenty-two courses opened immediately after the second series of forums. The attend-ance throughout the second semester was much better than that of the first semester.

The fourth innovation for the year was the Camping Institute sponsored by the College at Camp Christmas Seal near Paterson, from June 17 to June 26, Two points of col inclusive. lege credit toward a B.S. degree were awarded to each student were awarded to each student who successfully completed the approved course of study at the Institute. The total cost for the Camping Institute, including lodging, meals, and tui-tion for the ten-day period, was only fifteen dollars. Approximately seventy people registered for this course. The first pur pose of the Institute is to pre The first purpare young people for positions of responsibility in camps, playgrounds, and other recreational institutions. Throughout the present school year many re-quests have come to the College for experienced counselors. second Institute will be con-ducted in June, 1940. A bulletin of information will be pre sented upon request. In addition to the innovations in the program, there have been many changes in the building The auditorium has heen changed into a combination of gymnasium and auditorium, and showers have been installed for men and women in the base The laboratories ment. fot science have been greatly improved and furnished with equipment worth thousands of dollars. People who have not visited the College in the last six years would find, if they should return at the presen time, that the institution has changed in many respects. We are always hopeful that the progress. changes represent There has been some opposition to the changes and the innovations, but we should all remem ber that more than eighty years Paterson was originally ago dedicated to pioneer work in education, and it behooves us all at the present time to make sure that the College maintains the fine reputation for pioneer ing which it has always had in the past. To serve effectively young men and women in this area, a frequent change of program is necessary. The altera-tion of our auditorium probcaused more misunder ablv standing than some of the other innovations, but it would be ab solutely impossible for the Col maintain creditable to lege standing in the national ac associations without crediting a gymnasium. It would indeed be unfair to the students our College if we did not do everything in our power to make the institution comparable to with the other creditable institutions.

Throughout the present year we shall have several college activities to which we cordially invite you. Plan to attend the operetta scheduled for Tuesday April 9; the play by the Mas que and Masquers to be giver on Thursday, May 2; and the Guest Night to be held on Wed nesday, May 13. The date for the Madrigal Concert has not yet been announced, but we want you to attend.

Many people who have follow ed the developments at the Col lege are asking the important question: How large is my Alma Mater? The information now presented will answer this question for the year 1938-1939. Male Female Total

He spoke on the topic, "Homemade Science Equipment for Grades One to The Conference was held Six." under the auspices of the New Jersey Science Teachers Asso ciation.

Some of our recent graduates have had interesting experiences producing Assembly programs. Robert Albinson, teaching in New Milford, was provided the opportunity to produce the one act play written in College last year. Ask him about his experiences.

Alumni Support Of Beacon Is Uraed

During the present school year the College BEACON has been, and will be, mailed to all Alumni members every ten Some two thousand weeks. seven hundred Alumni members have been on this mailing list Alumni wishes to thank The the College for this service and help. And, furthermore, the Alumni wants the College to know that the BEACON aid has been of great help toward the building of a stronger Alumni Association. Our sincere appreciations to the College!

However, this may not be possible next year without the financial help of the Alumni. Hence, the Alumni would like to suggest to its members that each one participate in a pro gram which will make it pos sible for us to continue this service. Actually, a contribution of ten cents from each mem ber would bring four issues of the BEACON to each member If you feel that you wish to be a contributor, please send your contribution to Mr. John Sim-Haworth School. Ha mons worth, New Jersey.

For the year, 1938-1940, we have not yet complete information, but the indications at the present time are that more than twelve hundred different stu-dents will have enrolled at Teachers Paterson State the College for credit by the end of the present year. In addition there are several hundred people in the Adult School.

In our last issue of the BEACON I gave you informa tion about the costs of printing and mailing the paper to Alumni. The students at the our College have wanted you to know what has taken place and they have, therefore, paid all expenses for sending you the BEACON. We cannot ask the students to continue spending their money to keep the Alumni informed. The actual of printing and mailing cost four issues of the BEACON a year would not be more than ten cents for each person, but when we mail out twenty-seven hundred to the Alumni it makes the cost prohibitive for a continuous program of complete alumni information. Won't you please help financially?

Dr. J. Harold Straub, President of the Alumni Association, is the general chairman of the conference. Zeta Kappa Chi Sorority will act as hostesses for the meeting and will be in charge of all planning except the program planning.

Alumni Board Of Directors Meet

Important Plans For Future Activities Are Discussed

The Board of Directors of the Alumni Association met in the Social Room of the College on Thursday evening, January 18 Several important matters were brought to the attention of the Board. The Board approved the plans of the Curriculum Con ference committee. The Board adopted the plan of inviting one of the College sororities to plan and run the May Alumni Dinner. Each year a different sor-ority will be invited. The Board approved a plan for the collect ing of dues for the press school year. This plan cer about a key due-collecting to mittee of about ç mittee of about one hundred Alumni members. This whole matter was placed in the hands of the Treasurer for action and completion. The Board passed a motion inviting each mem-ber of the in-coming graduation class to contribute fifty cents in dues for the first school year. In the past the in-coming graduating class members have not contributed during the fir year of membership. And the Board approved the appoint ment of a committee to nom ate officers for the next sch year. This election will t place each year at the h Dinner.

Even in the five proposed nature trail project minute overtime session we came from behind to take a temporary lead only to have our guests nose us out. Perhaps this and the Manhattan game were the law of average's work for we have already won our share of close contests.

Before the Hyannis game we heard the familiar rumors about how tough our visitors from Massachusetts were, but during that third quarter all thoughts of their invincibility vanished as our boys swished through twen ty-five points-a new high for a single canto.

We could not help being im pressed by the similarity be-tween this game and the Becker encounter. Both teams cam from Massachusettes, both had been beaton for the first time the night before we met them, and both lost to State, to say nothing of the similar build-ups both teams got. ч. ж. ж

Thrill Packed Game Reverses State Victory Earlier In The Season

Trenton squeezed out a 40-38 overtime triumph over the Pioneers last Wednesday in the most thrilling home game this vear.

Trenton was powerless to halt the powerful second half surge of the home club who poured the ball through the hoop from all directions to overcome a ten point deficit. However they still had enough strength to capture the overtime session 8-6, and with it the game.

The initial period gave indication of a slow ball game as the visitors jumped into a 10-3 lead. In the second stanza, the Trentonians further increased their lead to leave the floor at halftime with a comfortable 10 point margin, 19-9.

Although State, a second half team all year, kept pace with the visitors' 8 points in the third canto, it gave no promise of the fireworks to come. In the fourth quarter, faced by Cookie Fisherman capably aided by Pressman Siroto and Co., the Pinocers sent the fans wild as they continually sliced the Lions' lead. With 20 seconds to go Fisherman again found the hoop for a deuce to tie the game at 32 all.

The climax was reached in the extra period when after the lead had changed three times, Pressman sunk an ace to send the Down State teachers into the lead with 25 seconds to go. The final gun found State trying vainly to knot the count.

Polumbo of the visitors demonstrated an eineering eye as he dropped six set shots for twelve points to share the scoring honors with Fisherman.

The score by periods:

J. V.'s Defeat Lion Cubs, 33-39 In the preliminary game, the State J. V.'s twisted the tails of the Lion Cubs 33-30 in a hardfought game.

Overcoming the 18-13 half-time lead of the visitors, the home team took the game in the third period when they out-scored the Lionettes, 11-4.

Ebner of the local cagers paced both teams in scoring with 11 points.

Zeta Kappa Chi Sorority is planning a most interesting season. The social events planned are a St. atrick's Day Party and the Annual Spring Dinner Dance. an indoor Ice Skating party.
