Senior Class Sponsors Poverty Dance Jan. 23

Affair Under Direction of Teacher Education Section: Soldiers Invited

A Poverty Dance, sponsored by the Senior Class will be held as planned on Friday, January 23. Rumor had it that the dance would be postponed due to examinations but since January 22 is the final day for exams the dance will be held on the scheduled date.

The last issue of the Beacon stated that a dating bureau would be established so that any girl desirous of attending the dance with a junior engineer from Wright's would have an opportunity to do so.

Soldiers Invited

At the time these plans were made there were no soldiers around Paterson. However the day following the publication of the Beacon hundreds of soldiers poured into Paterson and the surrounding areas.

Since it is one of the first duties of civilians to maintain the morale of the men in service, the co-chairmen of the dance, Nonette Renier and Ruth Bastien in conference with Miss Jackson have volunteered to invite soldiers from this area. These men are to be selected by commanding officers in this area. As this plan proved very satisfactory at the basketball game on Friday evening it is hoped by members of the committee it will work out just as well.

Admission

The Seniors are still keeping secret the price of admission. However Jean Hill, chairman of the refreshment committee, has declared the information that carts will be wheeled about the auditorium from which the vendors will sell apples on the stick. Stands about the auditorium will sell home-made cup cakes and soda water.

The entire atmosphere of the dance will be that of an alley in a New York slum area. Co-chairmen Nonette Renier urges all who attend to wear their oldest and most tattered clothes and help add to the atmosphere of the dance.

Committee Chairmen

The dance although sponsored by the senior class is under the direction of the Teacher Education section of the class due to the fact that the other section is practice teaching at the present time. Co-

State Plans Air Raid Drills

Defense Committee Trains Emergency Fire Fighters

At a meeting of all the boys in school on January 10, the defense committee began to make plans for air raid drills.

The tentative plan is to line up the students in the first and second floor corridors.

Special Fire Fighters

The committee plans to train a squad of eight or ten men as emergency fire fighters to put out incendiary bombs.

State follows the plans carried out in the rest of the city of Paterson because the building belongs to the Paterson Board of Education and is under their jurisdiction.

Class of '40-'41 Attend Conference Purpose—to Aid Beginning Teachers in Their Work

A conference for beginning teachers was held in the college auditorium on January 9. Teachers who graduated from State in 1940 or 1941 attended.

Dr. Clair Wightman, president of the college opened the morning session with a word of welcome. As Dr. Wightman was unable to stay for the morning session, Dr. Edith Shannon, Director of the Placement Bureau, presided. The group was also greeted by Jack Madrigan, president of the senior class.

Choral Speaking Demonstrated
Mr. Roy R. Zimmerman, superintendent of Bergen county schools, spoke on "Understanding Your Community." Following this address there was a general discussion and question period.

Demonstrations of choral speaking were made by Grade 3 of School 24, Paterson, Miss Jane T. Casson, teacher, and by Grade 8B of School 15, Paterson, Miss Edith Persen, teacher.

Mr. Eugene Ferraro of the class of '35 who teaches in the department of social studies in the Passaic Valley Regional High School, spoke on "Rendering Community Service Through Teaching the Social Studies."

Afternoon Discussions

A demonstration lesson by Dr. Martha Sibley, a professor of New York University, opened the afternoon session. The demonstration was a reading lesson for the middle grades. Discussions followed the demonstration.

Miss Agnes Decker, of the class of 1940 led a discussion on "Our Problems" at the close of the afternoon session.

Most of the group attending the conference ate lunch in the college cafeteria.

During a recess in the afternoon session Miss Mary Kennedy, freshman, led the group in singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

This conference was the first of its kind held at State. Members of the senior and junior classes substituted for the teachers attending the conference.

Office Announces Registration Dates

Students Reminded of Rules for Payment of Tuition

January 27 is the date set for the beginning of the spring semester for the day session, while February 2 has been set as the opening date for the afternoon and evening sessions. Registration for the day session must be made on January 26 while for the afternoon and evening sessions it must be made on January 29, 30 or 31.

The late afternoon and evening sessions are maintained both to enable teachers who have a Two-Year Certificate or a Three-Year Diploma to obtain the degree of B.S. in Elementary Education and also to meet the needs of public school teachers of grades one through eight.

Annual Operetta Scheduled For April 17

Contenders for Production Are "The Mocking Bird" and "Oh Doctor"

The annual college operetta will be held on Friday evening, April 17, 1942 at Eastside High School.

Many operettas are being considered for the performance, "The Mocking Bird" and "Oh Doctor" are the two main contenders for the production. Mr. Weidener, director of the music department is trying to discover an operetta similar to the one produced last year. The production last year was "The Waltz Dream" by Oscar Strauss.

Last Year's Operetta

Previous to last year, the college performed Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. However it was decided that a new type of show should be produced. The same plan is being adopted this year.

Rehearsals

Rehearsals for this year's operetta are scheduled to begin in two weeks. During the first month of practice, rehearsals will be held within the school day.

LOBOSCO STATIONED AT CALIFORNIA

Michael Lobosco, a graduate of Paterson State Teachers College who joined Uncle Sam's forces last year, is now stationed in California. An amusing incident, he relates is the event that took place on New Year's Eve. To enliven things, a group of boys lit a string of firecrackers about midnight. The terrific blasts in the gym aroused the rest of the men and caused quite some confusion.

Though the result was a severe reprimand to those responsible, the new stage furniture purchased previously, which will be used for special assemblies in the near future.

The lecture is the sorority's first gift to the school, but they hope to be able to make an annual gift in the future.

Girls from class of 1939 under the leadership of Eleanor Duursema formed the new sorority with the following members: Mary McGuirk, Pauline Brandt, Marion Winters, Esther Van Duzer, Regina Denchy, Mary Annachiarico, Jo Gambino, and Rose Sandel.

Contrary to the method practiced by the other sororities, Zeta Kappa Chi votes first on how

Dr. Mark May Leads Conference January 21

Discussion of Questions That Have Come Up as a Result of the War Discussed

Dr. Mark A. May from the Yale University Institute of Human Relations will lead a conference in the college auditorium on Wednesday, January 21 at 4 o'clock. The public is invited to attend the conference "Education For Peace In Time Of War."

Dr. Mark A. May will answer several questions which have been pushed to the foreground as a result of the war. Some of the important questions which have arisen are: What is the education that will win the war? What types of character and social attitudes are fundamental to participation in an intelligent plan for peace? How can the peace of the world be guaranteed for centuries to come? What answers can we give to the questions created by this crisis in the minds of school children and older youth?

MARCH OF DIMES

Last Monday initiated this year's drive for combating infantile paralysis. For several years, President Roosevelt has fostered the March of Dimes as the celebration of the President's birthday for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Having suffered from an attack of the disease in 1921, the President is very interested in the drive.

With remarkable courage he fought the attack and recovered sufficiently to continue his career. Attributing his partial recovery in part to use of the waters of Warm Springs, Georgia, he established the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation. Since 1927, he has fostered the growth of the institution by sponsoring a March of Dimes.

In our fervor to purchase Defense Bonds, stamps and other things that have come to the fore as a result of the present war, we must not forget our donations to the March of Dimes. This drive strikes as near to home as that of defense. So give as many dimes as you can. Each bit helps.

To make it more convenient for you, the Beacon staff is going to sponsor a drive to raise funds in school. A box will be placed on the desk in the library to take up the collection of dimes. Don't overlook it!

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Several of State's men have enlisted or have been drafted. Others are serving as air raid wardens or emergency fire or policemen. Each one of us though we have no official appointment can do our part to help.

Every town has an Emergency Defense Council that needs our help. Those of us who drive can apply as emergency drivers. Those of us who have had experience directing traffic can apply as emergency policemen. Former Boy and Girl Scouts are needed as messengers. Lifesavers and others especially trained in first aid can become first aid instructors or join a mobile first aid unit.

But whether or not we qualify for one of these jobs, each one of us can help. We can keep our heads during an air raid and help our panicky neighbor. But most important we can guard against spreading false Nazi-inspired rumors.

The British "Thumbs Up" campaign is an example to us of the proper kind of calm courage. So with our own thumbs up and our chins high we can do our part to win the war sanely.

CARRIE'S COOKIES GAIN RECOGNITION

Those of you who have tasted Carrie's cooking know it's the best. Soon everyone will have the treat of tasting Carrie's cooking, for a well-known biscuit company is interested in buying her cookie recipe.

As yet the plans have not been completed since both Carrie and the company, whose name we can not mention here, have to approve them. The cookies haven't been named yet, but perhaps you have an idea. Would you like to have a contest to see who has the best idea? Let us know.

WHY NOT JUST "HAPPINESS"?

by FLORENCE MISKOVSKY
From birth, man has the unalienable right for the pursuit of happiness.

But must man spend his whole life in the pursuit of this?

Is there any law as to how long you must wait

Before you reach the longed for "golden-gate"?

We're hate, heartache, and sorrow brought into this world
So that we might appreciate the flag of happiness, when unfurled:

This pursuit of happiness might take all life long.
So when can hearts thrill to life's sweet song?

"Happiness" it should have been, not its "pursuit."
'Cause it seems as if we're always on the wrong route.

Sure, it's true we can dream and sort-of plan for better things, But what joy and contentment there must be in a heart that always sings!

A LIVING WORLD OF ART by RUTHANN SHAGIN

You men of easels and brushes
Who dabble with portraits of
Lovely ladies and golden thrushes,
Hear the cry of the layman:
For we too are artists.
Ours is the art of life;
Flaming with the gold of happiness
Burning with the red of battle and strife.

The mother who lovingly rocks her baby in her arms,
The housewife who with fresh curtains
Makes hers a home of charm
These are artists!

The business girl in her suit trim and neat
Flashing a smile at the "cop on the beat"

The worker with his box lunch and soiled hat
The street vender, homely and fat,
These too are artists!

The doctor foreholding in his uniform of white
The ribbon-clan patient who shirks from his sight
The debutante with raven hair and blood-red lips

The sailors painting their battle-grey ships
Artists all!
Living and blending their colors of life

The gold of autumn
The white of winter
The azure of the sky
The sapphire of the sea,
The brown of the soldier!

The blue of the farmer!
The plaid of the school girl!
The black of the mourner!
What a panorama of colors
Blending the human emotions
On a living canvas of life.

You Won't Miss It

Men How Are Your Clothes?

In my discussion, I shall include the sloppy dresser we see in every walk of life and in this class come some of the "Joe College" boys. For instance they think it's terrible if they have a crease in their trousers, and go around with their trouser legs rolled up but worst of all in my opinion is that they let their socks literally flap in the breeze. Some other faults of the sloppy dresser are clothes that are spotless, for instance the once green tie which now has brown gravy polka dots is not very appetizing to say the least. Also, if a man or boy is going to wear a pocket handkerchief, he shouldn't wear one that has been used to remove the mud from his shoes and the lipstick smudges from his face.

I think up above I failed to mention the careless dresser. Well, he's the fellow who sends his suit to the cleaner but fails to tell them to sew the missing buttons on. Also, he is the fellow who wears a bow tie which looks as if it had been out on a mall night party as it is rather wobbly. He's also the fellow who, when he goes to buy a suit takes the super salesman's word as to its fit. His vests are cut too high and the song, "Sam, You Made the Pants Too Long," fits his trouser legs for they're "dragging, dragging, slowly dragging," etc. He's also the gentleman who prefers blondes and doesn't take the time to brush off the blonde hairs.

The next on our list is Mr. Too Conservative. In my thinking he's just as bad as the others unless he's in the business and you've guessed it, the undertaking business. He wears all black and navy blue suits with his immaculate white shirt, blue or black ties, and black ties, and black socks.

I saved Mr. Too-Loud Dresser for last because I was afraid that if I took him first I would never get through criticizing him, you see he is my pet peeve. Don't get me wrong now, I like color and plenty of it, but too much is too much. Mr. Too-Loud always dresses with just one purpose in mind, to attract attention and be thought a "killer" (all he does to me is send chills up my spine and the urge to kill to my brain). There was one very good example of this type in my classes in Central High School and I really believe that the colors he wore distracted my attention so that I didn't do my best work. I shall give an example of what I mean. One day he came in with a raspberry colored shirt on, a yellow tie, green pants, and a jacket of a violet blue, not to mention his socks which were, you might say in good taste with the rest of the outfit because of all the colors in them, surely some of them had to match. Well I think that I have given a horrible enough example so that you'll understand, so I'll let Mr. T. L. D. rest for a while.

To sum up what I don't like about boys' clothes, I would say the sloppy part, the ill fitting part, the too careless, too conservative, too loud, the careless and the spotty.

(Ed. Note: This story was written for Miss Tiffany's art class. Members of the class thought it true enough to print as a warning to all college men!)

FACULTY REPATTEE

Mr. Baker: I wonder if there's any dog in hot dogs.

Miss Trainor: That's a moot question.

Mr. Weidner: You mean that's a mut question.

Miss Trainor: I can't start my car. The battery seems to be dead.

Mr. Snekdeker: Where is your car parked?

Miss T.: Outside of the funeral parlor.

Mr. S.: Then I'm sure it's dead.

Have Mr. Weidner show you how a dollar bill will look in 1942, or have Mr. Roehler show you how he breaks a pencil with a dollar bill, or have Mr. Baker show you his match trick. Some doings in the faculty lunch room these days!

Speaking Of Sports

by JIM HACKETT

The other day I noticed in a New York paper an article entitled "Colleges Urged to Plan Sports for All Students." The thought occurred to me that even though we are a small school we should develop a more extensive intramural sports program. I know that the athletic committee and Coach Schmidt are willing and able to work along this line but the student interest is not very evident. In the intramural basketball tournament few students outside of the regular basketball squad, seemed interested. Now, more than ever before intramural and intercollegiate sports are essential to public health and morale. Other colleges have decided to expand their sports program rather than curtail them as was done in the last war.

Dave Ebner and Ray White sought to enlist in the Coast Guard before the draft board got them, but they were a couple of days too late for the Coast Guard has ceased to take enlistments.

The draft will hurt the Pioneer squad some, for White and Ebner are sure to go soon. The rest of the squad should remain intact for the rest of the season.

It was good to see Tom Oliver return to his scoring stride against Jersey City last Friday. Dan Jankelunas has been carrying much of the scoring burden lately and if Tom can repeat his scoring spree of last year we should be able to breeze through the rest of the season.

* * *

There is an unheralded bunch of athletes at State that have been doing fine work and getting little recognition. They are the Jayvee Basketball team. The Jayvees play as many games as the Varsity and so far this season have won about as many as they lost. Tom Templeton and Rocco Montesano, the JV captain have been playing fine ball, helping to win game. The squad has the fight and spirit it take to make a good team.

* * *

Recently Dr. Wightman told the basketball squad that, win all or lose all, if they keep up the fine spirits and sportsmanship that they have shown before, he would consider the season a success. I'm sure that he must be pleased for this year the team has shown as fine sportsmanship as I have ever seen. At Siena there was a bit of doubtful officiating at the end of the game yet the boys remained perfectly calm. In every game they have shown the same spirit.

Coach: Henry Schmidt. Ass't Manager: Jim Hackett.
Manager: Donald Hall.

The declaration of war has come too late for me to try to relate athletics with our new foreign entanglement, but, we who are in school should not neglect our athletics I feel, for we cannot forget that in the recent physical examinations four of every six draftees were rejected. Athletics, both intercollegiate and intramural, are necessary to the upkeep of morale and physical well being. We sincerely hope that the rash steps taken during the last war in regard to athletic games and teams will not be repeated.

COACH SCHMIDT HURTS FINGER

Last Wednesday Coach Hank Schmidt decided to get dressed and work out with the team for the first time this season. Coach was going along fine, keeping up with his fast moving team in a figure eight formation when Bill Platt passed the ball to the coach a little too hard. The result was a dislocated bone and a rupture of the muscles of the finger. Vic Christie drove the coach to the hospital where he was given first aid treatment. Mr. Schmidt has been taking a lot of kidding about coaching being such dangerous work.

Jankelunas Among College High Scorers

Captain Dan Jankelunas of State's basketball has been listed among the high point-getters of New Jersey Interscholastic basketball. At the end of the Jersey City game Big Dan had a total of 85 points or an average of 9.4 per game for the nine games in which he has played. Jankelunas did not fare so well in the Jersey City game and ranked behind both Oliver and Platt in this game with only eight points. O'Toole of Jersey City went in to the game with State tied with Bob Davies of Seton Hall for high-scorer in the state. Jankelunas is now only about ten points behind O'Toole and with State playing five games in the next ten days Jankelunas has a good chance to take the lead for high scoring in the State.

Ranking behind Jankelunas in the matter of total points are Sid Brown with 63 points and Dave Ebner with 49. Both of these boys have played in one less game than Jankelunas.

The team as a whole has scored a total of 388 points or an average of 43.1 points per game. While this may seem small compared to the scoring of high-scoring outfits like Rhode Island State or Bergen Junior who average better than 75 points a game, yet in face of the tough opposition the Pioneers meet it is a total not to be ashamed of.

Here is how the scoring has been made:

Player	Total Points
Jankelunas	85
Brown	63
Ebner	49
Oliver	40
Platt	39
White	30
Pollock	29
Engleken	23
Templeton	18
Reilly	12

Coast Guard Downs Pioneers 48-38

The Paterson basketball team journeyed to St. George, Staten Island on Tuesday, January 6, to lose to Uncle Sam's boys, the Coast Guard by a score of 48-38. Bayliger and Danyo of the Coast Guard each had 15 points to tie for high scoring honors. Dan Jankelunas scored ten points for the Pioneers. The Coast Guard went into an early lead and kept up the pace for three quarters. The State squad went into the last period twenty points behind but cut the margin to ten points with a great last minute rally, but time ran out before the Schmidtmens could overtake the guardsmen.

Pioneers Hand Jersey City 5 Initial Defeat

Paterson State Teachers Even Series With Hudson Rivals, 47-43

Paterson State Teachers' College handed Jersey City State its initial loss in six games this season, squaring their annual series with a 47-43 decision at the Pioneer gymnasium here tonight. The victory was the fifth in nine games for the locals.

Tom Oliver found his stride for the first time this year and hit the nets for 14 points, sharing scoring honors with Joe Russick, towering Joyce center who tallied his total on seven tap-in baskets.

The game was closely contested all the way, with Oliver breaking a 37-37 tie to put Paterson into a lead in retained the remainder of the contest. Pollock and Jankelunas then hit the nets for two-pointers to add to the Pioneers' advantage, and in the closing minutes Platt converted on three successive foul tosses to keep the locals out in front.

Platt had 11 points for his total, while Gene O'Toole, who entered the game tied with Bob Davies of Seton Hall for leadership of the collegiate scorers in New Jersey, was held to nine points.

Beacon Reporter Interviews Teaneck High Vice-Principal

Helen B. Hill, Graduate of Paterson State Normal School Lists Duties

Because a college takes pride in the achievement of its former graduates, I was given the pleasant assignment to interview Miss Helen B. Hill, Vice-Principal of Teaneck High School.

Miss Hill was graduated from Paterson State when it was a normal school offering a two-year course. It was at Rutgers University that she received her Bachelor's and Master's degrees. At present she is studying at Fordham University to earn her Doctor's degree.

Active at State

While attending Paterson State, Miss Hill was president of the Student Council and an active member of the Masque and Masquerade. She feels her experience in the former was very worthwhile since it teaches one to get along with other students and also to work in co-operation with the faculty. Dramatics gives one opportunities for oral expression as well as teaching appreciation of this art.

Advices Future Teachers

Upon being asked advice for future teachers, Miss Hill retorted: "First, one must have a love for children and also respect for them. They're people, too. Be willing to spend lots of time and energy on them, and in some cases be agreeable to sacrificing personal interests. The students should use their time to advantage so as to get the best possible background."

Some of Miss Hill's many duties are: welding disciplinary measures, contacting students and parents, and making out students' schedules and various types of records.

Varied Career

Miss Hill's first teaching position was as a mathematics instructor at an elementary school in Glen Rock for two years. This was followed by a position in Longfellow School in Teaneck, also for two years, teaching the same subject. Then she became a mathematics teacher in Teaneck Junior High School and was made head of that department. Director of guidance preceded her appointment to her present position of vice-principal at which she has been working for the past six years.

Many Changes at State

When Miss Hill attended Paterson, there was no combined auditorium and gymnasium as there is today. Eligibility to "Who's Who in American Colleges" is another new practice. Since this reporter happens to know Miss Hill was graduated first in her class, she has little doubts that Miss Hill's name would have been included if "Who's Who" had been instituted at that time.

"I can't ever remember wanting to do anything else," Miss Hill responded after being asked if she had always desired to be a teacher. Mathematics was her favorite subject when teaching, but if she should ever teach again, she would choose psychology because of its interest, or sociology because it teaches one to understand people.

For cultural benefits, she enjoys listening to good music. Just for the sake of pleasure, golf is tops in her opinion.

Holds Many Offices

Aside from busy days at school, Miss Hill holds outside offices. Last year she was elected Vice-President of the New Jersey Secondary Teachers' Association which includes over 9,000 teachers. She is also on its editorial board. She is Chairman of the Library Committee for the New Jersey Guidance and Personnel Association; a member of the Visiting Committee of the Middle Atlantic States Association of Accredited High Schools and Colleges, and of the Executive Board of Paterson State Teachers' Alumni Association.

She is on the cheer committee of the Junior Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital in Paterson. This type of work consists of cheering up the children in the hospital, and she recommends more teachers and future teachers to go out for such activities.

Paleters Attend Current Broadway Show January 7

Monthly Meeting on January 20 Will Feature New Dye Inks

Thirty-six members of the Paleters attended "Lady In The Dark" Wednesday evening, January 7. After they had seen the play starring Gertrude Lawrence, the group went back-stage.

Next Meeting

This month's meeting of the Art Club on January 20 will feature a demonstration of the new dye inks. President Lanell Turner and Bessmy Radcliffe will conduct the meeting.

Christmas Meeting

One of the most interesting meetings of the club was the Christmas meeting. The room was decorated for the occasion with Christmas paper and greens. Each member received a small favor made by the social committee. The committee in charge of the favors was composed of Norma Giordano, chairman; Victor Christie, Laura Crouch, and Harry Lister. The theme of the meeting was novel gift wrappings. Grace Del Vecchio, who was president of the Art Club last year led the discussion and demonstrated different methods of wrapping gifts.

Famous Singers Entertain Jan. 8

N. B. C.'s famous radio and concert singers, the Southernaires, came to the college on Thursday, January 8. This was the second visit that the Southernaires made to the college.

During the first part of the program the performers sang "Journey From Earth to Heaven," "Hand Me Down," and "Negro Work Song," all traditional songs. Then they sang "Dedication," "Beautiful Dreamer," "Grandpa," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Honey," and "Boys of the Old Brigade."

Returns to Classes; Home Several Weeks

Miss Marguerite Tiffany, art instructor at State, has returned to her classes after spending a few weeks at home to recover from injuries received in an automobile accident in Linden, New Jersey on November 29th.

Three bones in her foot were thrown out of place. As her general condition became steadily worse, x-rays of the head were taken. These showed a slight concussion and fracture of the skull. She missed one week of school and had the holidays to recuperate, but was unable to leave town during the vacation.

The remembrances sent during that time were very much appreciated. She hopes to be able to remain in school but the possibility of unfavorable reactions exist for some time after such an injury.

Beacon Staff Writes Constitution

Instrument Sets Up Editorial Board as Governing Body

Since its organization, the con has been operating under unwritten constitution. During Christmas vacation the editorial board wrote a constitution for the paper. Although this constitution has yet been approved, the staff expects action shortly.

According to the constitution an editorial board is set up as governing body of the paper. The board will consist of the president of the college, the faculty adviser of the paper, the editor-in-chief who will act as chairman of the board, the editors of the paper, the feature, make-up and sports department, and the business manager.

In the past the editor-in-chief was elected by the entire staff while the business manager was chosen by the new editor-in-chief. Under the new set up the editor-in-chief and the business manager will be elected by the editorial board.

The practice of giving ten percent of the money collected advertising to the person who solicits the ads was made official in the new constitution. This is to be given to all students in the school.

The giving of awards to students who have served on the staff for a period of two years also made official.

A new system of choosing reporters has been inaugurated. Any one wishing to become a member of the Beacon staff will be given a trial story to test their ability as journalists.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

Students will register for the new term on January 26. They will receive notice of the time of registration. Each student must be prepared to make their initial tuition payment twenty-five dollars.
