

Russell Elected Frosh President

Piazza and Tacionis Also Hold Offices; Position of Treasurer Vacant

The cries of "I nominate" filled the auditorium on October 9, as the first meeting of the Freshman class got under way with Miss Abrams, faculty advisor, in charge of the meeting. The following officers were elected: Howard Russell, president; Harold Piazza, vice-president; Petronella Tacionis, secretary. The position of treasurer has not yet been filled.

Howard Russell, president, hails from Ramsey High, where he was a member of the track team and of the International Relations club. Howard is employed at E. I. DuPont during the evening and has aspirations of becoming an engineer. This June, "Howie" is planning to join the Naval Air Corps.

Harold Piazza, vice-president, was born in Lodi and was graduated from Lodi High in June, 1942. As a freshman, Harold was class president and was active in sports, having participated in basketball three years and baseball two years. He intends to pursue sports at State where he is enrolled in the Teacher Education course.

Petronella Tacionis, secretary, attended Butler High where she was a cheerleader. There she was a member of the Debating, Dramatic and Glee Club as well as working on the school paper, "The Maple Leaf". She also participated in bowling, basketball and volley ball.

Paleteers Hear Travel Story

Marguerite Tiffany Relates Life and Art in Arizona

The annual organization meeting of the Paleteers was held Tuesday, October 13. New and old members were asked to sign up for work periods on Monday, Tuesday or Friday.

Norma Giordano, who is chairman of the hospital committee, announced that members may help out in the children's ward at the General Hospital every Tuesday or Thursday afternoon. They may tutor the boys and girls in their school work or teach them arts and crafts.

Jeanne Smyth, chairman of the social committee, reported that the Paleteers will try to obtain tickets for some performance of the ballet in November.

Business was then laid aside in order that Miss Tiffany might speak on the art and life in Arizona. She told of the characteristics of the people, their rather primitive ways of living, and how they make the best of what they have. She illustrated her lecture with some of her own crayon pictures and oil paintings. In addition to her own delightful handiwork, Miss Tiffany displayed a collection of photographs depicting life in the Southwest. The hand-made jewelry Miss Tiffany wore made the fairer Paleteers wish they could have journeyed to Arizona with her.

Class of 1943 Meets October 16

Discuss Finances, Yearbook, And Memorial Trophy For Classmate

Seniors discussed the possibilities of raising money for their class at a meeting Friday, October 16. The annual tradition of selling Christmas cards has been accepted this year. Seymour Pollack, chairman of the Social committee, reported that excellent results have been obtained so far in the selling of the cards. Another means of aiding the Senior Fund, since approved by the Student Council, was the intra-mural men's basketball tournament, scheduled for mid-November.

Evelyn Foote, editor of the Yearbook, announced that an estimated bid from Colt Press has been accepted. The Yearbook staff includes Patricia Reid, editor of Photography; Rose Edelman, business editor; Jean Allison, literary editor; Bessmary Radcliffe, art editor; and William Loveless, advertising manager.

The Dorothea Bundy Memorial Trophy has been selected. A fourteen-inch gold-colored cup resting on a pedestal will be engraved with the late Miss Bundy's name. This will be placed in the exhibit case on the second floor. The trophy symbolizes Dorothea's active participation in all girls' sports. Each year the name of an outstanding girl athlete will be engraved on the cup. The selection of this girl will be based upon regulations announced by a special Senior committee, advised by Miss Hopper, director of women's athletics and advisor of the Senior class.

Juniors Practice November 23-26

By the fall of the Junior year, most Staters are very anxious to become familiar with the teaching field. They spend days wondering what to do in front of a class, how to act.

This year's class has but a short time to wait; for their first practicum will be next month. The days will be November 23 to November 26.

ARMED FORCES

It is imperative that we know the plans of every student concerning enlistment in the Armed Forces.

Will you see Mr. Roehler Tuesday between 8:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.?

Geography Club Functions Around South America

First Meeting Presents Film on the South American Youth

Youth's importance in strengthening bonds between the Americas was stressed in the motion picture seen at the first meeting of the Geography Club, held on Thursday, October 15. The picture did much to make youth of the United States understand that South America is also progressive and that those young people enjoy the same things and need the same things as the youth of the United States. The picture pointed out that every South American boy and girl likes jitterbugging, American movies, and knows who George Washington is; but that in the United States youth are sadly lacking in knowledge of South American history and culture.

This year's meetings of the Geography club will be devoted to giving Paterson Staters a little clearer knowledge of South American life.

Ruthann Shagin, presiding at the business meeting, opened the year by welcoming new members. The Program committee reported that the club members would make slides at the next meeting in November.

Club members became especially interested in making a film themselves. Before the year is out they hope to participate in making a film with sound recordings to show to grammar school children.

Previous to the opening meeting, members of the club enjoyed a hike to Garret Mountain.

Although the day of the Geography club picnic was cloudy, the members didn't mind at all. They enjoyed the hike to Garret Mountain with Dr. Shannon (Continued on Page 4)

Psychology Club Elects Wiegand

New members were initiated into the Psychology club at the first meeting which was held Monday, October 19. Betty Ventres, chairman, asked each girl to introduce herself, and then introduced punch board games.

Laura Crouch, president of the club, welcomed the members and outlined a program for the term. The main purpose of the club, she stated, would be primarily entertainment. Included in the activities for the year are laboratory work, telling stories to children, and attending the annual conference which will be held at Newark this year.

Dr. Louise Alteneder, the club advisor, was introduced to the group. Since Florence Miskovsky's election to the Student Council makes her ineligible to hold the office of vice-president of the club, the members held another election. Eleanor Wiegand, a sophomore who is also active in the Art club, was elected to that office.

Resolution to Establish Publicity Board Presented to Council

Christie Announces Standing Committees; Lecture Room Converted Into Council Chamber

VICTOR CHRISTIE

A resolution, concerning the establishment of a Publicity Board, was presented to the Council of the Student Government Association at a meeting held Thursday, October 22. Drawn up at an Executive Committee meeting, the proposal was read to the student representatives and tabled for further discussion.

Once passed by a majority vote of the Student Council, the resolution will be posted for two weeks on the bulletin board in order that the entire student body may read the contents. At the end of the two-week period, the resolution will be either passed or vetoed during a general assembly.

Victor Christie, S.G.A. president, has announced the following standing Council Committees: Health—Frances Tacionis, Rocco Montesano; Social—Rose Edelman, Ruth Simpson; Service—Holding; Assembly—Ruth Gelderman; Eligibility—Ernest Mueller; Athletic—Donald Hall.

A Student Directory Committee composed of Chairman Christie, Evelyn Foote, Ruthann Shagin, and Ernest Muller has prepared a telephone directory for the students. The committee announced publication of the directory within a few weeks.

The former lecture room has been converted into a Student Council Chamber. The room, when fully equipped, will contain chairs, several tables, typewriters, and bulletin boards. The Council will permit the Beacon, and other clubs to hold meetings there. Thanks go to John Buller, senior class president, who had charge of securing the Council room.

A budget committee will be appointed to confer with Mr. Snedecker, business manager of the college. The present budget, tentatively set up last May on a percentage basis with a possible enrollment of 175 students, will be revised in view of an increased enrollment this year.

Several representatives from the Council are working with Donald Hall, chairman of the senior class ring committee, in selecting a standard ring for the college.

Seniors Sell Christmas Cards

Underclassmen, attention! Support the Senior Class by purchasing Christmas cards from any member of the class. An attractive box of 21 assorted cards may be obtained for $1.00. Ask your friends, ask your neighbors, then place your order with any senior.

Seymour Pollack, Social Committee chairman, urges all seniors to uphold the tradition of Christmas card selling. Keep 'em buying!

Frosh Announce Hallowe'en Frolic

President Russell Appoints Committee Heads For Annual Event

The "freshies" have "done it" again, and turned the tables on the upperclassmen! How? By announcing a Hallowe'en Costume Frolic! Are you going Friday, October 30th at 8 p. m. to see just how these "superior" seniors, "jaunty" juniors and so-called sophomores really look like? Your girl friend is; so are the basketball heroes, cheerleaders and faculty members, (of course your Board of Publications will be represented, too).

In the capacity of president of the freshmen class, Howard Russell conscientiously fulfilled his first responsibility by appointing chairmen for various committees to assure a social success. Heading the Publicity Committee is Mable Steenstra displaying adapt posters; decorating is to be supervised by Teddy Tanis. The orchestra chosen will have passed the final check of Ted Jaffe, and the evening's entertainment is the problem of Alice Bogert; working with her is Betty Filson, chairlady of the Refreshments Committee. With this detailed program in view, naturally, an efficient Clean-Up Committee is necessary. Willard Smith represents this group.

Remember that you don't need to mail any box tops of the "Fresh Frosh Cereal of '46" to be admitted—just a costume. Go to the attic which you cleaned out last week to find some "scrap metal," and wear that pirate's suit on the top of the pile, or be a Persian Princess (parlor curtain style) or be an Egyptian Mummy. Whatever you are to be, don't forget to BE THERE!

WE'RE PROUD OF THEM

Each year we, as students, have the pleasure of seeing our alumni return with stories of their accomplishments and feats. Now we have added to this pleasure, the pride of seeing many of our boys return to us in the uniforms of Uncle Sam. This past week alone four of Paterson State alumni paid an old home week visit to State. We are not only pleased to see these people but we are eager for the ideas which they can impart to us—ideas about trends in education, first hand geographical experiences, and the effect which military life will have upon the future.

These boys are having a first hand opportunity to evaluate the future trends of the teaching profession. When they return to civilian life, and assume their responsibilities as teachers and educators, they'll be able to utilize their military background in the school room. Geography will not be the vague outline of distant lands but it will be an integral part of their military itinerary. The customs, ideas, and habits of the various peoples will be familiar to them, and will serve as a bridge of tolerance and racial understanding between nations.

ARE YOU CO-OPERATING?

Co-operate—every day, every place you hear that word. Here at State it pops up over and over again. We are not a large college, and to function properly, to insure the success of each undertaking, we need the co-operation of each individual. When a class or other school organization sponsors an affair, it is your duty to help it become successful. They expect you to help just as you seek their aid in putting across one of your projects.

Every year the Health committee reminds us about conditions in the social rooms, locker rooms, and cafeteria. This shouldn't be necessary. We know that these rooms must be kept in order. We like to see them clean and tidy, but is each of us doing his share in keeping them that way? The members of the Health committee can not do the job alone. They shouldn't have to. These rooms are provided for your enjoyment and you should feel responsible for them.

Another problem each and every one of us will have to meet is that of raising money to carry out Senior activities. It is customary for each Senior class to sell Christmas cards in order to defray expenses. This Senior class, meeting with the same financial difficulties of every graduating class, is no exception. Seniors have been displaying cards all week. Have you seen them? Have you purchased or ordered any? Remember—very shortly you too will be selling cards. You'll expect underclassmen to buy them. As underclassmen now, you should give the co-operation that in a few years you will be seeking.

Wedding Bells Chime For Florance-Estler

All the world loves romance, and Staters are no different. This year young Mr. Cupid has shot many arrows into the hearts of our lovely young lads and lassies. Foremost among these Cupid victims is Ruth Florance.

On November 7, Ruth will become the bride of Orville L. Estler of Fair Lawn. The wedding will be held at the Eastside Presbyterian Church on the corner of East 29th Street and Park Avenue at 8:00 P. M. Ruth has expressed her wish for all her State friends to attend the wedding. Following the wedding a reception for sixty guests will be held at the Swiss Chalet.

The beginning of this romance dates back to high school days in 1938—but then it was only a friendship. Then one evening in October, 1940, Ruth met Orville as she was leaving school. He was coming in for a bookkeeping class at State, and they stopped to talk. Two weeks later as a result of chance meeting at the gate of Paterson State, they had their first date. Now precisely two years and two weeks later Ruth and Orville will be man and wife.

Orville was inducted in the Army on February 2nd. Since then he has been stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., where he has advanced from a buck private to a sergeant. On the date of his marriage, Orville will be a second lieutenant.

At school Ruth has been active in the Art, Science, Geography and P. and Q. clubs. Music has been a hobby of Ruth's, and the season of 1939-40 found her active in the mixed chorus women's glee club, and the school operetta. Ruth has also filled the positions of secretary of S.G.A., 1940-41; treasurer of S.G.A., 1941-42, and section leader 1939-40. Last year, Ruth was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges and this year she is serving as historian of the society.

Lots of luck and happiness to you both.

Seasons

Florence Miskovsky

Spring is the childhood of all mankind
When spirits are young and hearts are gay;
This is the time when minds are free
And all sorts of troubles refuse to stay.

Summer is the adolescence of all mankind
When joys and sorrows take on meanings true;
This is the time when minds ask questions
And moods run wild from silly to blue.

Fall is the maturation of all mankind
When happiness becomes the prime desire;
This is the time when minds are troubled
And the quest for peace burns like fire.

Winter is the old-age of all mankind
When dreams have and have not been born;
This is the time when minds seek peace
From this troubled world where hearts are torn.

Zeta Kappa Chi Adjusts Meetings

Give Impromptu Shower For Agnes Abrahamsen

Zeta Kappa Chi is hand-in-hand with the new fad in State—engagement rings and then wedding bells.

At the home of Dr. Alteneder, Agnes Abrahamsen was guest of honor at an impromptu shower. Army-Navy kits, measuring spoons, rolling pins, among many others, were protected by a frilly umbrella. Agnes accepted each gift and verse, and applied each to her future life.

Due to the prevalent gasoline shortage, Zeta Kappa Chi will not hold its annual fall picnic. However, for the November meeting the sorority will have a dinner at Nystroms. Because of the same set-back, and the inconvenience of reaching various members' homes, all meetings will be held at Dr. Alteneder's home. The members of the sorority will act as hostesses.

It seems that Zeta Kappa Chi's are regular movie goers. The week after the October meeting, several of the members and Dr. Alteneder, advisor, attended a show in town.

This summer we lost Bobby Bundy and since she was a member of the sorority, plans were made to have some sort of memorial for Bobby here at State.

Art Club Notices

Fourth grade students from School No. 23, have formed a club Monday afternoon in the Art Room. Any member of the Paletteers is welcome to get some experience in teaching these children. See Lanell Turner if interested.

There will be a meeting of the Montclair Art Tecahers Association at the Montclair Museum at four o'clock Tuesday, November 17th. Mrs. La Bastille will speak on South America and will have several article from the Latin American countries. It is open to anyone interested. If any Paletteer member is interested please see Ruthann Shagin.

So What's New?

We wonder if Sue Salemi misses her milkman—the one that used to drive “by proxy” just to wave to her as he passed by the window during economics class this summer.

* * *

Found in a letter:

Dear Joe—How's every little thing? All the little things down here are either going steady or working nights.

* * *

Found at last—a cute Freshman with dimples (and a good basketball player too) to supply the baritone harmony for the “Big 6's” song session down in the cafeteria. “Gremb” (Johnnie Grembowiec) is carrying on for Skip Klein, who is now carrying the pigskin for Susequehanna University.

* * *

News from another Stater, Walt Dunkel, now at Tusculum U. in Greeneville, Tennessee—“I'm taking German down here. But it's going to be real funny talking German with a Southern accent.”

* * *

Here's one for a rainy day—
No birds, no bees
No flowers, no trees
No wonder, November.

* * *

Quote Mr. Matthews—“All you have to do to get an A in my class is to multiply 368 by 19—only do it as the Romans did it:

CCCLXVIII

And now for the $64 question.
* * *

When asked “What's new?” David Smith calmly replied “Somebody knew an answer in physics class today.”

* * *

Our basketball games ought to be really “hot” this year—with the “hot” music of the newly-formed swing band and the “hot” playing of the Staters. More power to them, and more, student support, and there's no stoppin' 'em.

WHISPERIN'S

— by —
FELIX SHAGIN

A prayer of hope—This year we shall have as a basketball team a quintet of men who shoot for baskets not personal vindication.

A prayer of thanks—That an opinion can still be expressed without fear of political repercussions.

Of course, the best judge of playing ability of any man is naturally the coach of a team; however, there are certain psychological factors which even a coach doesn't come in contact with. Or, even if he does, he can't find the core of the situation. This is not a coach's shortcoming, however, because a coach is always at a disadvantage. His men recognize him as their superior and "shut up" like clams regarding their personal bickerings when he comes within earshot. And when he's gone, these petty squabbles again come to the surface, disturbing the will and coordination of the squad.

Nevertheless, although the "Coach" can't hear of these personal animosities, the average State student can and he sometimes wonders what is going on behind the scenes. So boys—if this column is going to plug for support for State teams it also has to plug for State teams for the supporters.

Another weak spot (if it may be called that) prevalent in last year's basketball squad was the presence of a great many "two-man" teams. Names need not be mentioned here, but those of us who knew last year's squad, know who I mean. What sweet couples they made. Now wait—these fellows are all "regular guys" and there is no question as to their own personal ability. For if they had not shown the proper "stuff" they would not have played where they are. However, if these men could find that "drive" which would enable them to coordinate as well with five men as they do with one, the '42-'43 season would make basketball history. All the material add a little common sense and team spirit and watch the team go.

Now that those intramurals are under way, the freshmen seem to be showing up pretty well. The ability of "Chuck" Johnson to take the ball off the back board and the shifty floor game of Tom Rumana might prove valuable assets to the team this year. This Johnny Grembowiec can handle the ball, too, and chatter hereabouts has a "fella" named Pizza tabbed as promising material.

As yet the ping pong tournament is not in action. Yours truly will volunteer to take care of the secretarial end of it, if a couple of sizeable gents will volunteer to put up the table.

The pot is starting to simmer again in the rivalry between the upper class (Junior-Senior) and lower (Freshman-Sophomore). The evening of November 8 has been definitely set as the date for indescribable mayhem when the Junior-Senior beef trust and (Jankelunas, Buller, Montesano and a few others) collide with the fast and shiftless (not a printer's error) Freshman-Sophomore team. The upper classmen will probably have, besides their beef trust, an array of talent(?) which includes Pollack, Reilley, Hall, Fulbeck, Teagle and that dashing super-duper man Christie. Such reknown personages(?) as Brown, Hazonics, Tempeton, Ayoub, Jaffe, Piazza, Johnson, Grembowiec, Zisblatt, Rumana and Fink will take the floor for the under classmen.

As yet no announcement has been made as to selection for a referee, but yours truly can promise a healthy surprise. The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and there will be the unusual dance after the game.

PUBLIC NOTICE—Any mishap, injury, or other form of physical ruin which might befall any freshman or sophomore player during basketball game on the night of November 8 is solely his own responsibility as the seniors and juniors are now taking the precaution of warning them before hand.

(Signed) SENIORS and JUNIORS.

NOTE TO PUBLIC—The Freshman and Sophomore Basketball squads hereby serve notice on the upper classmen that all claims as to physical, mental, or moral disability as a result of a basketball contest(?) to be played on the evening of November 8, must be registered with the Reliable(?) Casualty Insurance Co.

Sportsmen Aid Their Uncle Sam

Athletes Enlist or Contemplate Enlistment In Reserve Corps

Different athletes who are attending State and are in the Army and Navy reserves, and those who are contemplating joining the reserves are listed below. Those already enlisted are Dan Jankelunas, Naval Reserve (V-7); Charles Fulbeck, George Reilley, Gordon Smith, and Don Hall, all Army Air Corps Reserve.

Those who contemplate joining are: Rocco Montesano, Army Reserve; and Victor Christie, Al Ayoub, Sid Brown, all Naval Reserve.

The above mentioned athletes will soon be playing on Uncle Sam's team in the capacities of commissioned officers. They will find it one thing to play on a college team and still another to play on Uncle Sam's team.

With such athletes as Jankelunas, Brown, Reilley, and Fulbeck enlisted in the reserve, and the rest of the team with intentions of enlisting, State will in due time be proud of them.

Fulbeck and Smith, those masters of the court, have already enlisted and may soon be maneuvering a fast pursuit plane. Don Hall, the noted backstop, also enlisted in Army Air Corps Reserve will soon be doing a big job for Uncle Sam.

Jankelunas, enlisted in the Naval Reserve, will train to be a deck officer after graduation.

Christie, who plays on the J-V basketball team, was rejected from Naval Reserve as a deck officer. He intends to enlist as a Naval pilot now.

George Reilley, State's baseball slugger, is already enlisted in Army Air Corps Reserve.

Montesano, the tall man of the court, is the only athlete who has enlisted in the Army ground reserve. We can be sure all our Staters will make a fine showing in the Armed Forces.

Physical Fitness Program Started At Paterson 'Y'

Course Divided Into Two Sections, Games and Swimming

Complying with the requests of the National Selective Service Board and the Army and Navy Reserves, Paterson State has organized a new Physical Fitness program, which is being carried on at the Paterson YMCA, under the supervision of Coach Schmidt.

The course is being given on Tuesdays from three to five in the afternoon. The objective of the program is to prepare all State-men for eventual military service. The course is not as yet compulsory, but all male students are expected to attend the classes.

These classes are broken up into two periods, the first of which takes in games, calisthenics, and general gymnasium work, while the second is carried on in the pool. In the first hour the boys are taught ju-jitsu, boxing, wrestling, all types of games such as basketball, baseball, touch football, and all types of gymnastics such as tumbling, parallel and horizontal bar work, and work with dummy horses.

The second hour of the program is devoted entirely to swimming. There are a great many students who can not as yet pass a beginner's test in swimming. One of the aims of this course is to acquaint these men with the water, and to teach them to take care of themselves in the water. Later in the year, those who will be eligible will be allowed to take advanced swimming courses, and life-saving and first aid courses.

Spring Sports Offer Problems

The Spring is perhaps two jumps ahead of us, but nevertheless the Athletic Committee is already juggling with the problem of providing sufficient funds for both baseball and tennis. Although there seems to be little record of last year's budget plans for this year's athletic program, most of the upperclassmen will remember the report that both baseball and tennis would be eliminated this coming year due to lack of funds.

However, when last year's budget was drawn up, it used as its basis the activity fees of 175 students. This figure is now approximately 55 students under the present enrollment, or in actual cash $825.

There has been no definite allotment of these funds. If it is divided among the various agencies according to past percentages, the Athletic committee might be able to provide for a tennis and baseball team.

Ping Pong Games Underway Soon

Give a lot of credit to "Chuck" Johnson, who finally engineered the feat of setting up the ping pong table. Now that it is up (in the lecture room) we are all ready to start a tournament, aren't we?

Today there will be a sheet of paper posted in the men's smoking room. All those interested in a tournament may sign up.

NOTICE

All you fellows who intend to play basketball for State this year, Coach Schmidt has asked to refrain from participation in any outside ball without special permission. This is only to safeguard the standing and reputation of the entire squad, and it is urgent that you co-operate.

Cheerleaders Organize Squad

Three Frosh Plus Four Veterans Will Cheer State Team To Victory

All the guys and gals at State had better limber up their tonsils, for the cheerleading squad has gained added strength and vigor in the form of three new lassies. Anne Bigg, Marie Van Koppenal, and Pat Tacionis are the newcomers who will lend support to the four veterans; Fran Tacionis, Captain of the squad, Alice Mae Schofield, Shirley Mehrlinger and Lee Beam.

On Friday, October 9, several girls went through the paces before the regular squad in a tryout. On Tuesday, October 13, Frances Tacionis posted the notice spreading the glad tidings to the girls.

The three new girls are all Freshmen who led their teams to victory vocally in high school. Anne Bigg performed the honors at Franklin High School, Marie Van Koppenal threw a mean RAH at Eastside High School and the Butler High squad grieves the loss of Pat Tacionis.

Modesty is a virtue common to all the young women and they refuse to relate their activities, but if you happen to see a tornado whirl past you, look twice. It is probably the seven Pioneer cheerleaders.

Team Transported By Railroad

With transportation difficulties as they are, this year's basketball schedule will include as many home games as possible. However, it is expected that the varsity will take one or two trips this year. In all probability the team will travel by train this season.

However in all events, the squad will reach its destination even if it has to use roller skates. But it is feared that pinochle, will be taboo along with the harmonizing that marked last year's rides.

State Sportsmen

On a 5' 9" frame, this State Sportsman packs 175 pounds. This build plus a lot of ability adds up to one of the best floor-men of State's basketball team. A good all-around athlete, our hero bears only one weakness, that being a flare for blonde hair and baby-blue eyes. A good basketball man this gent is even more adept at baseball, and plays a whale of a game both afield and at the plate. At high, he played more than a little baseball—batting at better than 450.

A regular guy with modesty a cardinal virtue, he is known to be a grim determined "heart" player who knocks himself out playing a game, and then says "It was my fault" if the team loses. The ambulance doctor wrote Tom Templeton on the identification tag during the last ride.

State Announces Basketball Games For Season

Armed Forces Included In Schedule; Away Games Limited

Under the very able direction of Coach Schmidt, the courtmen of Paterson State have already begun their training for the coming court season.

The team will probably play twenty games in all, although until the present time only sixteen of these games are definite. The schedule this year will contain many games which were on the list in previous years. Two branches of the Armed Forces will be represented when the Schmidtmen play host to the Coast Guard Station aggregation from Manhattan Beach, and to the Army Recruiting and Induction Center from Newark. As yet, return engagements with these teams have not been scheduled, but there is a chance that they may be added to the list in the near future.

The schedule as it stands at present is as follows:

Dec. 8,	Princeton Seminary	—H.
" 11,	Coast Guard	—H.
" 16,	Trenton State T.	—H.
" 18,	Jersey City State	—A.
Jan. 5,	Newark Recruiting and Induction Center	H.
" 8,	Siena	—A.
" 12,	Panzer	—A.
" 15,	Rider	—H.
" 20,	Montclair	—A.
" 22,	Jersey City State	—H.
" 29,	Newark State	—A.
Feb. 1,	Arnold	—H.
" 13,	U. of Mexico	—H.
" 19,	Montclair	—H.
" 26,	Rider	—A.
" 27,	Trenton	—A.

State May Start Riding Club

Instead of the usual Thursday afternoon sessions in the park, you will now find a handful of industrious Staters hard at work learning the intricacies of the motion of a horse's back.

These riding enthusiasts offer themselves as the nucleus of a Riding club, and would gladly welcome all others interested in this pastime, (painful as it may be). Anyone interested should contact Harry Lister or George Reilly.

Idea Box

If every fellow would contribute one nickel now, enough might be collected to buy a supply of ping pong balls which could last a long time. Thus everyone would be helping to provide the ping pong balls—not just a few.

The girls who play could contribute too. After all, ping pong balls do break no matter who hits them.

Houston Visits State On 48 Hour Furlough

Although on only a forty-eight hour furlough, James Houston of the U. S. Coast Guard, took time to visit Paterson State. While here he talked of his experiences to Dr. Shannon's geography class. Jimmie enlisted in the Coast Guard in April, 1941.

James Houston

After preliminary training at Manhattan Beach, Jimmie was stationed at the Portsmouth, New Hampshire, navy yard, where he is now on off-shore patrol duty as a second class seaman. When asked how he liked his work, he replied, "The work I'm doing is like a millionaire's vacation."

Jimmie's wife is still a student at State where she takes night courses. During the day she works in Paterson as a medical technician.

Jimmie's address is: U. S. Coast Guard Detail, Portsmouth Navy Yard, Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

A Sailor's Life For Him

Another Stater has entered the services; James Hackett, former sports editor of the Beacon, is now in training at the Norfolk Naval Hospital. Jim has been in the Navy since August 29, 1942.

Jim joined the Navy to be in the medical Corps. "You have a better chance in the navy than in the Army to get in the Medical Corp," he says. "Besides the draft board was closing in." The food he claims is excellent—"all Southern style."

A typical day for Jim is: Get up at 5:30 a.m., go through calisthenics, and run double time five miles (all before breakfast). After breakfast, he attends classes on drills, rifle practice, ju-jitsu, and seamanship. Every afternoon at 3:30 is hobby hour. At this time the trainees march out onto the athletic field, where a specialist entertains them for an hour in calisthenics.

Jim had a furlough last month and then returned to Virginia to continue his training in anatomy, minor surgery, materia medica, first aid, and hygiene.

His address:

James Hackett,

U. S. Naval Hospital Corps School, Norfolk Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Virginia, Barracks E, Class 71.

They're Second Lieutenants Now

Brand new gold bars graced the uniforms of second lieutenants Paul Schneider and Mike Lobosco when they visited State on October 21. Graduated from officer's training school at Camp Barclay, Texas, on October 17, Paul and Mike were granted a ten-day furlough to celebrate.

Friends in school, they enlisted at the same time, February, 1941, and joined the medical corps. The new officers will now train recruits in the medical corps. They were first stationed at Fort McClellan, Alabama, and since have been stationed in nearly twenty forts throughout the South and West. At one time they were separated for a three months' period, only to meet again in California when war was declared.

They were sent from California to Hawaii where they worked in a bacteriological laboratory and in hospitals and schools. They saw much of Hawaii, named the volcano as the most interesting sight and the natives as the most friendly people they had ever met.

When they returned to the United States from Hawaii, they were assigned to a ship carrying casualties from Midway and the Coral Sea. They treated men suffering from shell shock and other mental cases. After they returned from Hawaii, they were sent to officer's training school, and now, after their graduation, they are to be separated for the first time. Paul will be with the 100th Infantry, Fort Jackson, South Carolina; Mike with the 10th Armored Division, Fort Benning, Georgia.

State Features Gallery of Men In Service

Miss Jeffries Offers Suggestion; Beacon Appeals for Co-operation

Acting on a suggestion of Miss Jeffries that State have a gallery of snapshots of former Staters now in service, the Beacon is appealing to Staters in the Army, Navy and Marines to send in a snapshot.

These snapshots will be placed in the locked bulletin board. Under each snapshot will also be placed the fellows address.

It is felt that such a gallery will be of interest not only to students at the college, but also to alumni who stop in on furloughs and leaves. It will thus enable many of them to keep in contact or regain contact with each other. During the past week State was visited by four men in uniform—private, seamen and lieutenant.

Until more snapshots are received, Miss Trainor will keep newspaper articles about the boys in service in the case. But it is hoped that soon there will be a complete gallery of snapshots.

So send in a snapshot. And you Staters here at college, won't you donate a snapshot of a Stater in service if you have one?

Sgt. Beversluis Married to Anita Simpson Oct. 19

Nick Beversluis makes the headlines once more. This time because of his recent promotion to sergeant and his marriage to the former Anita Simpson. Nick, who is a member of the class of 1941, was very active at State and served as president of the Student Council 1940-1941.

He was married October 9th in Glen Rock. His wife was graduated in September from Nurses Training School, St. Luke's Hospital, New York City. She has a position in that hospital now and intends to carry on with her work while her husband is in active duty overseas.

Increase Your Mailing List

Want to write to a boy in the service? A file of the service addresses of all former Paterson State boys in the Armed Forces is being kept in the library by Miss Trainor. The file is open to everyone.

The list of names is far from complete, and anyone knowing the current addresses of fellows (or girls) from Paterson State in the service of their country are urged to turn them in to Miss Trainor so that the file will be as complete as possible.

The addresses now on file, besides those listed on this page, are:

SGT. RALPH SMITH
Battery D, 5th Battalion
2nd Platoon
Fort Eustis, Virginia.

PVT. WILLIAM CONKLIN
540 School Squadron
M. A. F. S.
Merced, California.

PVT. FRANK NUGENT

GEOGRAPHY CLUB

as guide pointing out some of Paterson's interesting landmarks.

After viewing the city from the mountain top, the Geographers walked to the appointed spot and prepared to eat. Suddenly, someone remembered a nicer picnic area "just around the bend," and, despite protesting cries of hunger, the group was on its way again. If it hadn't been agreed that the box lunches were to be exchanged, many of the lunches would have been gone before Bessmary Radcliff's "short cut" led the group to its destination. Nevertheless, everyone liked the new atmosphere and all were only too thankful that the time to eat had finally come.

By the time every last bit of food was gone, it was twilight and time to start for home. Singing as they walked, the group forgot their tired feet and enjoyed themselves to the last. All the members were wondering when and what the next social event of the club would be.

ART CLUB NOTICES

Art Cabinet Exhibits Dolls

Jack Fredericks Displays Marionettes Made and Manipulated by Him

Again the Paletteers are fortunate to have an unusual cabinet exhibit. This time Jack Fredericks, a junior, is exhibiting his marionettes for the two-week period. These marionettes exhibit unusual ability and skill.

Two years ago, Jack earned his way through school with his marionettes. He not only makes the dolls but also directs shows. These dolls are puppets that have been used in his professional marionette shows. The dolls are befit characters from the various stories that Jack has portrayed such as Hansel and Gretel. These are all of Jack's original design in construction and costuming.

Besides, knowing how to construct them he also knows the art of manipulating the marionettes which indeed is a task.

Although the material was loaned by Jack Fredericks, the cabinet displays are under the supervision of Dorothea Van Duzer. Dorothea is a sophomore teacher education student and has been very active in extra-curricular work about State.

These exhibits are changed bi-weekly and since Dorothea tries to have exhibits that are of interest to State students, she would be very glad to have suggestions from the student body.
