EDUCATION
The Inter-Collegiate Council of the New Jersey State Teachers Colleges held its fall meeting on December 14 at Chapin Hall, Montclair, to further discuss the functions and aims of the organization. The Council, which was organized in May, 1946, is an educational organization consisting of the education students of the Jersey State Teachers College which function independently of primary or national associations. The primary aims of the Council are to improve college and student conditions through the combined efforts of the Student Government Associations of the various colleges, and to inform the student bodies of the situations and conditions which currently exist in the teaching field. The Council also plans to publish a series of student magazines, using the medium of student publications. The information in these publications will be obtained from current magazines, newspapers and reliable authorities. Responsibility for obtaining information would be rotated among the State Teachers colleges with the issuance of publication. Montclair, being the central meeting place, will be responsible for the first. The Council also plans to publish independent semi-annual papers dealing solely with teaching conditions.

Members Present
All members of the Inter-State Council were present at the last meeting; however, representatives from Montclair, Paterson and Jersey City State Teachers Colleges attended the meeting. Representatives of Montclair included Ann Vescevi, newly-elected Chairman of the Inter-State Council, Sheldon Pollock, Assistant Editor of the Clarion, Jessie Stout, and O'Brien, Ann Paulson, student representative, Angela Roli, President of the S.G.A., Lohosy, Editor of the CON, and Paul Ritz, veteran education representative, sent Paterson State, while Echenille, President of the Council, was absent.

Library Rules

The Library staff would like to draw your attention to the fact that the no-social-talking rule in the Library is for your benefit. Students want a quiet place to study, the Library is no exception. If you want a quiet place, you want the Library quiet. Therefore, please observe the rules.

In returning books to the Library, please place them on the table in the circulation area in order to avoid any confusion. You will be held responsible for your book if it has not been returned to the proper place. There seem to be many rules and regulations this year in the Library. Remember that we have increased student enrollment and therefore a greatly increased Library book circulation as well as much greater use of the Library.

Junior Prom At Four Towers

Tonight marks a great event in State's social calendar for the year with the Junior Prom taking place at the Four Towers, located on route 23, Cedar Grove. This semi-formal affair, a long established tradition at the college, is an open prom.

Much preparation and work was entailed in presenting this event which entitles the students to dancing from 8:30 to 1:00 a.m. and light refreshments. General chairman for the prom is Paul Ritz and heading the publicity committee is June Patton; location, Sarah Lusciandrello; invitation, Mickey Cusano; music, Virginia Fraser; refreshments, Anne Paulson; bids, June Carrano.

Gowns are ready, corsages colorful, students excited and waiting for tonight which promises to be a great time for all.

Posters abounded announcing this great event and as an extra publicity "stunt" Irene Perugini, Joan Rauschenbach, and Winifred Kennedy sang at a recent assembly, original words, publicizing the prom, to the tune of "I'm In A Dancing Mood."

S.G.A. Insures Sports Players

At the last meeting of the S.G.A., the plan for athletic accident insurance was elaborated upon. Joseph Salmon explained that to cover ever team member with insurance for a nine-month period would be too expensive. Therefore, thirty players are being selected to be covered by the liability and a new list of names will be submitted to the company each month.

Another plan devised and passed by the S.G.A. is a guidance council, consisting of upper classmen appointed by the President of the S.G.A. The purpose of this council will be to aid the new freshman class for the first few weeks of school until the class is organized and a permanent advisor is appointed.

Students are requested by Dr. Wightman and Miss Pollard to watch the bulletin board for physical examination notices. Too many students have failed to report, causing confusion and extra work for those in charge. The bulletin board should be read often for special notices, including those of the library, meetings and events of the day.

Christmas Spirit Ushered In At Paterson State

In keeping with Yuletide festivities, this year's traditional Christmas assembly, held today, will feature a one act play presented by the Masque and Masquers and a series of holiday songs sung by the Girls Glee Club.

"Thank You, Doctor," a melodramatic farce, starting promptly at 11:30 this morning will star Sylvia Cook as Mrs. Lester; Lila Swidler, Nurse Gray; Herman Sordo, Dr. Gurney; John Neris, a patient; Richard Corallo, Cort. The play is under the direction of George Pappas with Dr. M. Karp as advisor.

A bit of community singing will act as the intermission filler. The Girls Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Earl Weidner, will then enter singing the impressive "Adeste Fideles." The holiday spirit will be further instilled by the Glee Club's versions of "Angels We Have Heard on High," "O Holy Night," "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," and "Piping Tom of Galway." In addition to this they will present have not been yet disclosed. Several specialty numbers which

The Social Committee of the Student Government Association has many more in store for us for the winter season, but most prominent of all in the next few weeks after Christmas will be the Winter Carnival. With only one or two days' notice because of "Mr. Weatherman," classes will be cancelled after twelve o'clock and an afternoon of fun and frolic in the snow will follow. Some of the outstanding activities for that afternoon will be a "weenie" roast, sleigh-riding, tobogganing, snow sculpture, and other surprises. A novel feature of this year's winter carnival will be the selection and the election by popular ballot of a Snow King and Snow Queen. Ballots will be distributed so it is not too early to begin thinking who you would like for your winter King and Queen. Ice skating will be doubtful but will depend upon the tricks of Mr. Jack Frost and his little helpers. Perhaps enough States can get together and put on a spectacular ice show—"P.S.T.C. Follies of 1947."

The site has not yet been decided upon, but the final choice will be made between Garret Mountain and the North Jersey Country Club.

State Photo Club Is Chartered

The Photography Club has received the green-light signal from the S.G.A. and is now a chartered organization of P. S. T. C., it was reported today by Orville Estler, club president.

Newly organized this year, the Photography Club has had to undergo the red tape connected with becoming recognized as a student activity of the college. With the way clear, the club has several interesting events scheduled for the coming semester. Among these is a lecture by a representative from the Eastman Kodak Company, and materials are on their way for a story entitled, "The Essentials of Picture Making," by Walter F. Bent.

Christina Pepper, secretary, announces that the club is still open for new members. Those interested may contact the president or the secretary.

RED CROSS PACKAGES GIFTS FOR MEN IN ARMED FORCES

Once again the American Red Cross College Unit has been on the job preparing to make December twenty-fifth a really merry Christmas for the boys in service, who are now confined to hospitals or stationed in training camps. Two decks of playing cards, two candy bars, and two packs of cigarettes wrapped in gay Christmas paper was their idea of bringing a bit of Christmas cheer to some of our veterans.

This plan, presented at the various class meetings by the executive council of the Red Cross, was wholeheartedly accepted by all the students. Every class member gladly contributed either the aforementioned articles or money to purchase them so the quota of boxes, determined by class enrollment, could be promptly packaged and sent. A total of sixty boxes were made ready.

The excellent cooperation of the student body is comparable to the support received last year when the Red Cross executive council prepared an assembly and everyone was requested to bring a gift-wrapped package for a serviceman. Accompanying the presents, at this time, was a large hand-painted Christmas card, made by a State student, containing the signatures of all contributors.

Survey On Labor Conducted By Psychology Club

Each year the Psychology Club under the advisement of Dr. Louise Alteneder conducts a survey to determine the attitudes and opinions of the student body and faculty in regard to timely controversial questions. This year's survey deals principally with the present labor situations.

Question 1—Do you approve of a "closed shop?"

(The rule that a worker must belong to a union in order to get a job)

The school as a whole voted—

	Yes	No
Men	14	46
Women	18	145
Vets	61	147

Classes Voted

Freshman	52	171
Sophomores	13	86
Juniors	6	39
Seniors	4	27
Night School	3	34
Faculty	5	21

Question 2—Has the above answer been influenced by the press or radio with regard to the present coal strike?

The school as a whole voted—

	Yes	No
Men	16	49
Women	22	138
Vets	29	165

Classes Voted

Freshman	31	198
Sophomores	20	58
Juniors	1	26
Seniors	3	19
Night School	10	27
Faculty	2	24

Although the majority of those questioned answered "no" to the above questions, it is wondered how many were influenced by family opinions and experiences.

Question 3—Do you believe that strikes should be outlawed by legislation?

In recent years Paterson State Teachers College has been taking its stand with other colleges in more ways than one. However, it lacks something of considerable value to its cultural heritage. We have our BEACON yes, but what we need is a literary magazine to gather and immortalize stories, poems, essays and contributions of the students. Literature, in the past, as in the present, has been the voice and inspiration of nations. Its value is indisputable. What better way is there to represent the students, if not through such a magazine? There is no fear of material shortage because State's halls are flowing with unchecked talent. We can make it a literary "Harvest" of our Pioneers. If you are interested in this plan to color the pages of the college's history, consult a member of the BEACON staff.

Christmas . . . A charm, a warmth of spirit, a time for joy symbolized the coming of Christmas. Today, unfortunately, the world has acquired another connotation. To many it means just scraping up enough money to exchange gifts, the visiting of relatives, and decorating the evergreen. In short, Christmas has fallen and slipped under the heavy thumb of the commercialist. By adding a twig of holly to his product he claims to solve the entire problem of your Christmas gifts. The intangible gifts have been cast aside, to be rescued by the few who hold the true spirit in their hearts.

The lights of the shopping district dare to outshine the candle of faith that flickers in the nearby church. This year is even more trying than the last. That candle is in a precarious position and the turmoil of world events tilts its stand. Even the snow would fall to make this a white Christmas. The part of Scrooge has been over-worked and the role of fairy godmother is just a good publicity stunt.

Let's strip the tinsel from this year's greeting. Let's make it shine with its own brilliance of peace and love. Let's bring back the good old-fashioned Christmas, and most of all let us join in prayer to the God that makes us one.

M. L.

Another year has passed and what have I to show for it? This is a question that bothers many as they tack another calendar on the kitchen wall. We should all be directing our lives toward a special goal and at the end of every year, if possible, we should be closer to the attainment of this goal. Of course, material gains are always an encouraging prospect but, let us not assume that the accrument of tangibles is the only measurement of success. We could never count up all the little favors we did throughout the year, nor should we desire to remember them just to give ourselves a little self-praise. But, think for a moment how you, during the past year, added to the pleasure of others; how much you increased in mental growth and understanding. How much closer have you come to the aim we all have in common—happiness? In the coming year increase your own happiness by contributing more to the happiness of others. You'll find it works!

Mr. Santa Claus
600 Frigid Lane

Dear Santa:

My last letter to you, old friend, was published in the Paterson Evening News about the time the NRA was getting started. Remember? Your response was admirable. In fact, I still am using that fine Tech Razor you left in my stocking. But time has marched on until I find myself a little ashamed of not keeping our correspondence up to date. So, dear pal, forgive your erring admirer and pay heed to his meagre requests.

This time I'll not ask for anything personal. I am only thinking of my friends. I have listed them carefully with suggestions, hopefully anticipating your generous holiday spirit.

First, Santa, wrap up a brand new college building (campus included) and drop it into the laps of Dr. Wightman, the faculty, and students of P.S.T.C. They really need it!

Second, please have your best fashion designers create a pair of exquisite red flannels (in the latest Paris fashion, of course) and put one set into the nylon stocking of every girl who is taking gym this year. The fellows at school hate to see all those poor gals stumbling through the corridors as though they had just seen "The Iceman Cometh."

Next on my list are the Chem students who would appreciate a deluxe U-Mixit-Then-Run Chemistry Kit. I am sure this will help them to be punctual in handing in their perfected experiments. Let's not forget the Engineers; please them with a Champion Erector Set, for, as the saying goes, "Practice Makes Perfect." For my friends in the Business Department I wish you would leave U. Kant Winn's new book "How to Prepare Your Income Tax Blank" (a wonderful cook book!) Also arrange for a special wire to the college from the New York Stock Exchange for the Finance gang. Now for the fledgling teachers who are usually left off gift lists, except when Junior is flunking. I suggest "Classroom Control" or "Why Gray Hair Is Becoming to Teachers" by that famous expert on disciplining, the Marquis de Patersonstate.

Our beloved Seniors deserve the best, for they are the "pillars of strength" upon whom we rest. To them give a speedy passage of all final exams and $2500 per year positions after graduation. The Juniors, a hot time at the Four Towers. The Sophs that famous literary effort entitled "How to Prevent Chaos in One Easy Lesson." And for the lovely Frosh.

What each Ve really needs is a very pretty and efficient secretary (pretty, more important than efficient) to fill out all those applications and forms and to take care of things in general. I'm sure their gratitude would be overwhelming. Lastly and most important, St. Nick, please give this troubled world the light to see the road to peace. Make the world safe for our children where man will never again hate his brother and the world can be one.

Regards to Jack Frost, his elves and fairies. Best wishes for a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you, your wife, and all your customers!

Sincerely yours,
Herman Harris

Return of Scrooge

By TUNIS J. BELLO

December the 25th is Christmas. It is a holiday deserving of a two week vacation in which one may ponder over the expected designs of plotting instructors in January examinations. Yes, the season of shouts and succeeding sore throats is about to make its yearly entrance. The quickened steps of gleeful students indicate the festive spirit or the biting winds of winter. The wholesome laughter of excited club members reveals their enthusiastic plans for sportive revelry or the collection of dues from an erring member made penitent by the reading of Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

Yes, it is indeed a happy time. As I sit in my twenty-room mansion and think of the approaching holiday, I am filled with a desire to rejoice and imbibe the "Coca Cola" of unrestricted merriment. I am tempted to skip down the venerable corridors of alma nama and toss fond greetings to my friend and the other students of this college. However, a solemn particle of wisdom creeps into the inner sanctum of my whirling mind and says, "Pause my friend and think." Having nothing better to do at the time, I embrace this particle of wisdom and let my thoughts prance through the possibilities that might become realities for you and me.

I see a box being opened by a nervous and perspiring Cole Schuster. His eyes sparkle and his hands tremble as he unties the gaudy red string and tears off the decorated paper covering. There before him flashes a tie of an iridescent splendor. The color disappears from his face and a wan attempt at thanks fights its way through quivering lips. The same tie he gave away as a gift two years ago.

I see Helen Seymour desperately plunging her fork and knife into the defenseless leg of a half-baked turkey. Time after time her instruments flash through the air with the force of an Errol Flynn sword slashing at a cordon of blood-thirsty pirates. Time after time her eating utensils bounce back with the consistency of a rubber ball thrown against a cement wall. Next year she will stick to meat loaf. Time marches on!

I catch glimpse of Joe Kohout massaging his mouth with a specimen of words in action while his car remains chained to its parking space by the freezing cold. He gestures and grimaces without results. Certainly the Pacific was never like this.

I peer in the window of a local dwelling and see Glenn Leach sprawled grotesquely on a lavender couch. At times a low moan escapes from his twisted figure. I listen carefully and hear the following resolution dripping with remorse:

"Next time I'll take only seven helpings instead of eight."
Yes, most of us can't wait for merry Christmas to make its long awaited coming. We are all anxious to start spending the well-worn coins that jingle impressively in our pockets. We are all desirous of sliding and falling on new-formed ice and picking up our bodies with the dignity worthy of a Vanderbilt. We are all ready to listen to the somnolent wallings of a crooner tell us he is "dreaming of a white Christmas" while we furtively wish he would have a nightmare. Yes, you and I can hardly wait, can we? We want to be awakened at five o'clock in the morning

Introducing

Appearances are deceiving and a perfect example is Rita. Five minutes conversation with the tall, blond Junior convinces anyone that he kissed the Blarney Stone the past week. If not he's laughing; if not he's eating. Yet this conceals a part of his serious nature; he's a local Methodist preacher, devoted husband and father. A few weeks ago the No. Poetry Association sent a announcing that Paul's entitled "Winni" had been selected to be printed in "Annual Anthology of Poetry." He first started writing poetry in 1933 but found time at a premium while in service. After sending "Winni" (actually Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H.) in to the association promptly forgot about it, receiving the notification of success.

Before entering the service Paul attended Tusculum College, Greenville, Tennessee, one year and then entered Paterson State Teachers College, intending taking courses toward principalship after graduation. For five years he has been a preacher in a local Methodist church; his ultimate goal is to someday become an auto minister. The majority of his four year Army career as a trainee's assistant was spent at Monroe, Virginia; the remainder in the Pacific Theater of War. He was discharged February 1946.

Married to his Lois for a half and a half years, he is the papa of a golden haired, sixteen months old daughter. The happy family resides at Kemah Road, Ridgewood. Papa Paul proudly makes miniature railroad trains (makes them) tooting around tracks on the living room

Undefeated State Captures Six Straight Wins

Sports Slants At A Glance

By Art, Jerry and Howard

Due to the wonderful showing (sarcasm intended) our "Basket-Grab" has been eradicated from this or any other team. "Sorry, aren't you?"

Those students who haven't as yet received their G.A. tickets entitling them to admission to all home games can secure their tickets from either Mr. Schmidt, or Mr. Vivian if the Coach is still ill.

Don Simon's injury at the Bergen game could have been serious which prompts us to get on someone's back for reference to insurance against injury for all athletes.

Arnold, one of our future opponents, was defeated Rhode Island State 120 to 57. Me thinks Arnold can be beaten.

St. Bon's of NY has a 6 ft. 6 in. center known as Smear. Either we tie his hands with chains or else smear him a bucket of paint to smear around with all night.

Our own Howard Canning dabbles with the basketball frequently. His points against the Knights of Columbus are undoubtedly the highlight of that game.

Injuries have hit our squad, and strangely enough, in the legs. Don Simon, twisted knee; Jules Dedinsky, ankle; and Art Schilling with another ankle injury.

Coach Schmidt and Bergen Jr. College Coach Trocolar had a few words of unpleasantness between halves of our final clash. Funny thing, Bergen plays L.I.U. and CCNY and we supplied their time-up game. That's a joke, Sen. . .

First difficult test for State will be against Newark U. They're supposed to be loaded with All-State High School basketballers, while being coached by the very able "Hank" Schneider.

Hats off to Dan Jankalunas for the fine work he has done with J.V. squad and instilling quite a tongue lashing in the laxy of the varsity during the Alumni game. Speaking of that game, we'd rather not. . .

This boy "Beans" Lieberman is definitely the king-pin of shot artists. His deadly eye, accurate passing ability and fine basketball savvy makes him our choice for "Mr. State" on the court.

Pete Simon's 22 points rates the number one high for points scored in one game during this current season. Art Schilling's 18 is high for J.V.'s.

At Camp Kilmer the Army team had only 7 men on the squad. General Hershey wasn't kidding when he asked if the draft be continued.

Norman Chase is terrific under the nets. Somehow, he stays out with confidence especially when handling the ball.

Just in case you're interested, our average point score per game (not including the game with Jersey City State) is 63 and for opponents 34. Pretty good. Now let's keep it intact!

WE GOT A TEAM!

Paterson State has a noteworthy basketball squad. They not only look good on paper, but perform well in the second half of every ball game played thus far. Coach Schmidt seems to have a second half club. The first five carry down the opposition in the initial quarter. In the second period the reserves enter the fray and then the first five come back after the half to put the game on ice.

A PIONEER third quarter is likened to the seventh inning in baseball. In the last two games against teams of similar caliber, the Alumni and Camp Kilmer, Mentor Schmidt's strategy has proved infallible. Against the Ex-Staters the varsity pumped in 25 big points in the third and 32 in the Kilmer rout—enough to win in that third quarter.

Just how super our SUPERBAS are, is still to be determined. College competition, aggressive dribblers, passers, and set-shot artists like our own, will bring back some overtime thrillers. Bergen College, the Alumni, and Camp Kilmer were fine dress rehearsals for the grandiose "Sudden Death" spectacles that will parade before PIONEER roofers as the team swings into the business end of the schedule. Let's all get behind them, cause Our team, is RED HOT!

UR ROSES TO HAROLD PIAZZA AND ERNIE GENRICH

Two former stars for the Black and Orange, Harold Piazza and Ernie Genrich, returned to school recently for undergoing appendicitis operations. It is hoped that the boys will not be out for the entire season, for they do a name for themselves in pre-war days and could greatly enhance Paterson's bid for national recognition.

Alumni Succumbs To Varsity, 71-41

JANKELUNAS STAR OF ALUMNI

Playing a ragged, listless first half against the Alumni, Tuesday evening, December 3, the varsity found the hoop the second half, scoring almost at will to emerge victorious, 71 to 41.

The Ex-Staters worked smoothly and effectively at the outset, racking up a 12 to 8 lead at the quarter. Scoring was more evenly distributed during the second frame, but the grads showed signs of weakening near the half.

It was a rejuvenated varsity aggregation that took the floor for the second half. Paterson lost no time in grabbing the lead and did not relinquish it. Norm Reichert was high man for State with fourteen markers. Assistant coach, Dan Jankalunas, claims the honors for the losers with a cool 16 points.

Short Shots

Mr. Jankalunas directed the varsity attack while scrimmaging against his own onslaught with the Alumni team, Head Coach Schmidt's absence being the reason for this unique bit of masterminding.

Paterson stars of yesteryear had six mates on tap, for the first half. There were only five for the third period and half of the fourth until Danhauser arrived to bolster the Alumni's tired ranks.

"Rocky" Ford of the Alumni squad brought the greater portion of his grammar school class to the game. (Nothing like bringing your own cheering section.)

Single Point Victory Over Marshall

Chalking up six successive wins in their favor, the Pioneers topped the John Marshall College cagers with a breath-taking margin of one point, a 43 to 42 victory, Monday night. Undefeated this season State's basketball squad is in for a rough schedule of twenty-eight games with twenty-two to go. Under the guidance of Coach Henry Schmidt, the well-rounded squad has proved their marksmanship in every phase of this cagey sport.

NORMAN CHASE In Action

Grembowiec was making like bank night when he crashed into the stage and had to be removed from the game. Glen Leach, first team center, also retired early. One strike was dealt the Colonians before getting underway. They were unable to muster enough reserves, but fought gallantly despite the handicap.

In the Marshall game the last three minutes of play proved to be a lashing climax to the night's history. Leading with a score of 38 to 4, Marshall was off to a good start at the close of the first period. They hung to lead for the next 10-7 and tucked in a neat lead of 16-11 by the end of the third quarter.

With a close score, 29-27, still in favor of Marshall, the final stanza seemed to be in the bag for the Jersey City men. However, "Beans" Lieberman and Pete Simon came to the rescue, living up the last few minutes of play. It was Norm Chase who made two important goals, giving Paterson the favorable narrow margin.

To P.S.T.C., 73-25

SIMON SCORES 22 POINTS

An almost exact replica of the Alumni game was run-off at Camp Kilmer last Friday evening when an all-officer squad, using no system whatever, tied up 20 of Paterson regulars for the first half. A spacious, unheated gymnasium presented ideal conditions once the team warmed up, but it took all of two quarters for the boys to thaw out. Coming back for the last half, the PIONEERS wasted little time in initiating a scoring spree garnering the majority of points on lay-up shots.

Pete Simon, biggest point getter for the night, collected nine field goals and four free throws for 22 points. During the last period, Pete repeatedly stole the ball from Kilmer guards bringing the ball up the floor, tossing in lay-ups, unmoled.

P. S. T. C. Trims Jersey City, 68-53

After a somewhat dismal first half the Pioneers unlimbered their shooting eyes and overcame a four-point deficit under spintangling, razor-sharp baskets by "Beans" Lieberman, "Mike" Grembowiec and "Pete" Simon.

Without a doubt "Mike" Grembowiec was the hottest man on the court in the fourth period, scoring 10 points within the space of 6 minutes. His sparkling play pushed Paterson into a comfortable margin.

Lieberman and Simon played their usual steady ball with Lieberman scoring 3 baskets to start off the third quarter and regain a lead which then never again was relinquished. Morty Fink and Norm Chase also played heads-up ball.

Calibro and Jacobson were leading scorers for Jersey City with 16 and 13 respectively but it was Jerkovich who thrilled the crowd with electrifying one-hand pivot shots that looped high and clear.

State J. V.'s Win Over Jersey City

Gnhem and Johnnie Grembowiec combined their talents on the court and were instrumental in defeating their opponents from Hague-town. The low scoring affair gave momentum of things to come. It seems as though the Varsity depends upon the J.V.'s to demoralize its opponents.

Kleban of Jersey City was high man with eight points.

Little Pioneers Win

Playing without the services of Johnny Grembowiec, Glen Leach, George Bristow, "Hawker" Schilling, and Gentile, all first string boys, Paterson Junior's won a slow, ragged game at the expense of some of Uncle Sam's finest.

At the half both teams had pushed 11 points through the hoop. During the third period the Juniors began hitting and definitely secured the tilt in the final quarter, 31 to 23.

Danny Jankelunas, assistant tutor of basketball tactics, substituted frequently until getting the combination he wanted in the final quarter.

Ernie Gnehm led the scoring for Paterson with 12 points.

Girls' Club Starts Ball Rolling

Girls' basketball has begun. The Girls' Sports Club has been very fortunate to have quite a turnout every Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. Scrimmage games have been played, the freshmen against the sophomores and juniors. The freshman team consists of Ethel Spier, Kathleen Donnelly, Frances White, Mildred Sisco, Audrey Perrin, Elizabeth Andalf. The sophomore-junior team consists of Helen Poush, Angela Romanelli, Sarah Lusei, andrello, Vita Iancia, Carol Greydanus, Adeline Niclaus, Connie Russo, Jean Giordano. Final teams will be chosen at next practice.

The Sports Club has also opened roller skating, managed by Annamarie Bradley, at the Recreation Center for all students of the college. The rink will be open on Tuesdays from 11:30 a.m. through 3:00 p.m. A charge is thirty cents and return passes will be granted to students who have to attend classes. All students are invited to attend.

Paterson Cops Season Opener

LITTLE OPPOSITION TO PIONEER QUINTET

As expected the PIONEERS rolled easily over Bergen Junior College, 61 to 36, at the victors' home court Monday, November 25. It was the first game of Paterson's 1946-47 campaign and showed little, except that Schmidt has a very capable group of boys. All squad members saw action and everyone parted the cords for one or more points.

Paterson scored handily during the initial quarter, chalking up 21 markers to 10 for the Teaneck squad. The reserves started the second frame and continued to pour in points to lead at the half, 33 to 17.

The second half went much like the first, save for Paterson's defensive play. A man-to-man defense was used in the first half and a zone was employed for the second stanza. Bergen did not outscore the Staters in any period, however, the Green and White did try a "Merriwell" finish, but to no avail.

Short Shots

Julius Dedinsky, first string center, was unable to play because of a bad ankle. A minute and one-half of the second half had elapsed when Don Simon, normally playing forward but filling in for Dedinsky at center, collided with Chichin of Bergen under the basket. As a result, Simon suffered a twisted knee and had to be removed from the game. He was taken to the General Hospital for X-rays.

Bergen claimed more height, but it made little difference. The Teaneck aggregation were just too short on practice. Next meeting of the two clubs should prove much more interesting.

BASKETBALL MANAGER

EDWARD DOMBROWSKI

Ed is that fellow without an enemy in the world from whom all his friends gather around him during lunch-time. (Can't be his cooking or could it?) Well, lunch-time, or after school hours, Ed is usually doing something constructive for State sports, as manager of last season's baseball team and this year's basketball team, doing a creditable job with both activities.

Born in Paterson he literally ran through the local schools, graduating from Paterson Central High. Then came the war—"The President requests—". After serving three years in the army as a gun commander in Africa, Italy and Sicily he was discharged. He is enrolled in Paterson State as a Business Administration student, majoring in Accounting.

N. Y. U. will most likely be the school he'll transfer to, providing it isn't too crowded. Ambition is to be a C.P.A. (For you liberal art students—Certified Public Accountant, not Conceited Paterson Alumnus).

Whenever people ask Ed what his job is and the importance of it, he always replies, "I'm the man behind the towel."

A pleasant personality and a fine sense of humor in generous proportions make up State's own Ed.

Skull & Poniard Invitation for Membership

Back almost twenty years ago, there was founded at Paterson State Teachers College, the Paterson Normal School, an organization of male students called the Skull and Poniard Fraternity. Its purposes are, as now, were to create a means for furthering the professional and social growth of members and to create a congenial organization for furthering the welfare and the interests of the college to which it was attached.

Dr. Wightman, then an instructor at Paterson, consented to serve as its first faculty sponsor. Through the years, the Skull and Poniard Fraternity has thrived. An average of ten standing men a year became members of the organization. With unflagging zeal and unquestioned loyalty they worked to achieve their purposes. They were to the fore in all school activities and in addition carried a wide and varied program of their own. This included soft ball teams, theatre parties, swimming and fishing parties, formal and most constant and important of all, regular bi-weekly meetings through the school year which developed the give-and-take spirit of fraternal fellowship.

Then with little warning there came a blight upon the organization, a blight seriously hampering its continuous progress. Four years of world war drained most of the manpower from the college including all the active members. Skull and Poniard and itself after the war with but one or two returned veteran members in school and its several honorary members, Mr. Williams, Mr. Matthews, Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Snedeker. In the past six months slow but sure progress has been made toward the rehabilitation of the organization. The struggle of the man who attempted to lift himself by his bootstraps was little less strenuous than the rebuilding of the fraternity. However, a group of interested alumni members, feeling that they benefited greatly from their active membership and feeling further that this experience which was recorded to them was worthy being passed on to men now in school, have given freely of

'Best Years' To Be Presented

As the Christmas holiday approaches, Masque and Masquers makes its first public appearance of the year. "Thank You, Doctor" is the title of the play to be presented in the college auditorium today.

The big event of this year is a three-act play, "Best Years" which will be directed by John Neris. The cast includes: Ernie Genrich as Fred Barton; Ada Skuratofsky as Cora Davis; Helen Potash, Mrs. Davis; Doiores Pappas, Madge Davis; Lila Swidler, Emma Davis; George Pappas, Tommy Craven; Leon Cohen, Mr. Craven; Marie De Rosa, Flossie; Manny Stutchen, Milt; and John Neris as Dr. Graffis.

It is expected this play will be a great success as all Masque and Masquers' productions have always been.

Sorority Enjoys Colored Slides

At the December meeting of Zeta Kappa Chi, Mrs. Barbara Wilder Klare, a former student at Paterson State, showed many colored slides of photographs taken by her husband and herself. Some of the photographs were taken at Trinidad, where Rudy Klare, also a former student of Paterson State, was stationed during the war. Others were unusual shots taken in New York and New Jersey. Mrs. Klare is now teaching in Teaneck.

their time and interest in an effort to perpetuate the Skull and Poniard Fraternity. Several new members have joined this group during this period of time but they feel, frankly, that for the furtherance of the aims of the organization more members are needed.

This article is an open invitation to any man in Paterson State who feels that he would be interested in sharing the fellowship that the fraternity offers to make himself and his interests known to any present members. You will be granted an invitation to attend a meeting as a guest, thus enabling you to judge for yourself the nature of the fraternity.

Veterans Given Hearty Welcome At Grand Reunion

By JAMES HOUSTON
and former editor)

On Thursday evening, December 12, at the Passaic County Republican Club there was held an unusual meeting. Alumni veterans of Paterson State Teachers College gathered together—they knew not why—summoned on short notice by a post-card which read as follows: "You are cordially invited to attend a Paterson State Teachers College Veterans Get-Together to be held at 8 o'clock P.M. on December 12, 1946, at the Passaic County Republican Association Building at Smith and Union Streets, Paterson, N. J."

In order that we may make adequate preparation please fill out and return the accompanying card so that we receive it not later than Monday, December 9.

Now most veterans today have become very doubtful of the motives of those who would organize or get-them-together. Too many of these organizers turn the veteran, a normal, unassuming individual, into a VETERAN, a man with a CAUSE. And yet, here, despite this doubt, were gathered together about seventy-five veterans on a rainy winter night, on short notice and with no knowledge of why they were so gathered! This alone made the meeting unusual. The composition of the group, too, was remarkable. Graduating classes from 1929 to 1948 were represented, a fact which speaks highly of the loyalty and continued interest of members and former members of the student body of Paterson State Teachers College. The faculty was represented by Dr. Wightman, Mr. Mathews, Mrs. Schmidt, Mr. Weidner, Mr. Matelson and Mr. Rubio-Vergera. Such college organizations as the Madrigal Singers, the Skull and Poniard Fraternity, and the Alumni Association had many members present.

Then the purpose of the gathering was disclosed—and it, too, was unusual. Our college had desired to bring us together to show its appreciation to us for our wartime service and to express its feeling of thanks that we were once more enabled to gather together peacefully. That is all there was to it, no flag-waving, no speeches, no mock heroics, no axes to be ground—just a sincere and friendly welcome home.

The program of the affair was as simple and comforting as its purpose. We chatted and visited with old friends. We swapped stories back and forth across the table. With a right good will and a hearty appetite we attacked the abundant and endless supply of refreshments. We sang together some of the enduring old songs and some of our service songs. In song we paid tribute to the various branches of the armed services. The Engineers, the Infantry, the Artillery, the Marine Corps, the Navy—even the Wacs and Waves—were honored. I must confess to feeling a little let-down personally when the Coast Guard was omitted. Certainly no branch of the service has so stirring a song or so fitting a motto.

Sophs To Hold Cinema Classic

"Topper Takes a Trip," starring Constance Bennett and Roland Young, will be the featured attraction January 9, when the Sophomore Class presents the second movie and dance party in the college auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The program committee, consisting of Joe Cioffi, Pat McGowan, Joe Serra, Dorothy Dietrich, Jean Pasinska, Marilyn Werner, and Marge Lombardo, announced that tickets will be on sale at the college, and since a huge crowd is expected, it is advisable to arrive early. The admission is twenty-five cents per person, and doors open at 7:00 o'clock.

Howard Canning reported that the "Soph Hop" date is set for Thursday evening, February 13. The chairman also related that the biggest affair of the Sophomore year will have a theme connected with Valentine's Day.

At the last meeting of the Psychology club, Joan Rauschenbach gave a report on "Attitudes." An interesting test was given to the members concerning their attitude toward war, toward capital punishment, and toward the law. The majority of the votes showed a strongly pacifistic attitude toward war; moderate respect for the law, and showed the students were slightly opposed to capital punishment.

A refreshment committee was formed for the Christmas party to be held soon.

Debaters Talk On Timely Topics

Although a newly-formed club of Paterson State, the Debate Club, since its first official meeting of November 7, already promises to be a very active and popular organization. Armando H. Sordo has been elected president; Edward J. Trawinski, vice-president; and Rita Mischler, secretary. Dr. Mark Karp is serving as the faculty adviser.

The prime purpose of the Debate Club is to discuss—through opinionated speeches followed by open discussions among the members—the paramount questions of the day. The club is setting as its goal for next semester the establishment of a Town Hall Program (similar to the radio broadcast) and the participation in debates with other schools.

On Thursday, November 21, the first debate, "Resolved: That Congress Should Enact Legislation Which Would Make Labor Responsible for the Public Welfare," was conducted under the chairmanship of Armando H. Sordo. Richard Loftus and Leonard Van Nimwegen upheld the positive side of the issue, while Richard Worth and Edward Trawinski presented the negative side.

Dick advocated labor legislation on the grounds that labor was becoming more and more uncontrollable, thus making it necessary to curb the powers of the labor union leaders. Leonard Van Nimwegen, while on the positive side, nevertheless substantiated the con side with his statement that it would be very difficult to enact effective labor legislation as long as human greed persisted.

Presenting the negative point of view, Richard Worth felt that the curbing of labor would not be the ultimate solution as the workers in labor unions constitute a very small percentage of the total labor force. Edward Trawinski asserted that any legislation aimed directly at labor to make it responsible for the public welfare would be unconstitutional in that it would be class legislation. He also cited several illustrations of corrupt and unethical practices of industry in the past. Mr. Trawinski concluded emphatically that there could be no justifiable labor legislation unless there was equal legislation directly against the National Association of Manufacturers.

At the conclusion of the orations, the topic was then open for discussion, after which a general analysis was made by Armando Sordo.

Under the system of rotating chairmanship suggested by Mr. Sordo, Edward Trawinski will lead the next debate on December 19, which will be "Resolved: Should Divorce Be More Difficult to Obtain?" Those supporting the pro side will be Nicoletta Linares and Rita Mischler; the con side, Armando H. Sordo and Leonard Van Nimwegen.

Hikers Hit Trail At New York Park

The Hikers Club has been "roughing it" lately, and on one of their recent trips through Palisades Interstate Park found that this sport is plenty of fun without much comfort.

On Friday, November 29, led by Mr. Eugene Vivian, seventeen members of the club, clad in slacks, heavy jackets, army boots, and knapsacks on back, set out from College at eight in the morning—in cars. They drove to Tuxedo, N. Y. and hiked to Lake Sebago and back, a distance of nine miles. While this mileage seems insignificant, the trail followed everything from sheer cliffs and towering rocks to deep ravines, and that no one was in any way even slightly scratched, is a bit remarkable.

Those who went along with Mr. Vivian were: Rita Mischler, Leonard Van Nunwegen, Frances White, Evelyn Walton, Bill Smith, Joe Salmon, Mary Lobosco, Edward Walsh, Helen Adams, Walter Luddike, Roy Geneslaw, Ed Reardon, Basil Battaglia, Connie Russo, and Mary Jane Jerlinski.

Not only do the hikers go on hikes, but they also study various methods for doing it the right way. At a recent meeting of the Club, two of its members conducted an illustrated lecture on hiking "education". Mary Lobosco showed slides and spoke on trail marks of the Palisades Interstate Park, while Mary Jane Jerlinski gave a demonstration on fire making.

Prokons Discuss Current Issues

This semester the Prokons have had two lively meetings. The discussion at the November meeting was titled: "Should President Truman Resign?" This discussion, was held immediately after the November election when the Republicans gained a majority in both Houses of Congress.

At the December meeting Leon Cohen led a discussion on the timely topic of "Internal Strife in the United States." The group then attempted to justify labor's management's, and government's viewpoints in the recent coal strike.

Harold Stromfeld will be the discussion leader at the January meeting, when the topic will be: "What Should Be The Attitude of the United Nations Toward Spain?"

Rare Film Shown In Science Class

The second showing of a film on solar explosions was presented recently by Neil J. Heines, teacher of astronomy in the adult education center, during a physical science class at Paterson State Teachers College.

Solar explosions taking place on the surface of the sun are atomic in nature, but far surpass our atomic bomb in force and destructive power. This film is rare in the fact that these explosions, often termed solar prominences or sun spots, are photographed from a side view.

Photographs of these solar explosions were made by means of a coronagraph, a device for producing an artificial eclipse of the sun. The only coronagraph in the United States is located at Climax Station, Colorado in the Rocky Mountains.

Honor Society Visits Art Studio

On Saturday, December 7, a group of Kappa Delta Pi members visited the Frick Gallery in New York, and then spent a delightful two hours at the studio of M. Aurel Rasko, noted Austrian portrait painter. The studio was filled with fine paintings and photographs of portraits Mr. Rasko had painted, among them those of Winston Churchill and Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Rasko talked informally on various aspects of art, and refreshments were served in an attractive dining room. Besides the paintings the studio contained numerous relics of different kinds including a collection of swords. Those present felt that the afternoon contributed much to the year's topic—A Study of the Arts. The Kappa Delta Pi fraternity is a honor society in education.

Alumni

From student to teacher—my, oh, my. Believe it or not, it's true. Let's take a roll call and find out the whereabouts of some of our up and coming professors.

Who knows, the day may come!
RUTH HUTCHISON, '45, of Warren Point, is teaching the sixth grade in Lincoln School, Fair Lawn. All power to Ruth—she's working on her master's degree in administration at Rutgers University. During her summer vacations Ruth worked for the Sunnyside Day Nursery in Fair Lawn. ABBE HUTCHISON, Ruth's sister, graduated from P.S.T.C. five years ago and is teaching in the sixth grade of the Radburn School.
