RECOGNIZE EIGHT STATERS IN "WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS"

George Brown, Joseph Di Gangi, Joseph Isch, James Lomauro, Doris Michiewicz, James Pato, Rose Marie Schmelzer, and Joseph Trione have been accepted for recognition in 1950-1951 edition of

George Brown Doris Michiewicz James Lomauro Joseph Di Gangi

Joseph Trione Joseph Isch R. H. Smelzer James Pato

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, it was recently announced by Professor Howard L. Haas, Chairman of Student Life.

The students recognized in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, representing over 600 colleges and universities, are nominated by their respective schools. Campus nominating committees are instructed to make their selections on the basis of: scholarship, cooperation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future usefulness to business and society. Each student accepted by the organization is awarded a certificate of recognition, presented by the campus either at graduation or earlier in the year, and has the privilege of ordering a gold key made exclusively for him.

Activities

Children's Village Visited by Starter's

An election day field trip to the Children's Village, Dobbs Ferry was sponsored by the Human Relations Society. Both students of Dr. Alzeneder's psychology classes and members of the club attended. At the next meeting of the Human Relations Society a colored film called "Human Beginnings" will be shown. This film presents the five and six year old's reaction to the birth of a new child in the family. All students are invited to this movie which will be shown December 7th at 1:20 in B-1.

S. G. A. JOTTINGS

At the S.G.A. meeting held yesterday are following motions were made and seconded:

The Senior table will be continued. . . the Science Club constitution was passed by the Executive Committee. . . Freshman hazing has been put under the auspices of the S.G.A. with the Sophomore class to draw up the rules. Freshmen who do not wear their "beanies" will be "punished" by the S. G. A. . . In October, the S.G.A. received $38.78 from the Coke Machine; $16.35 from the candy concession; and $21.70 from the candy machine in November; and $3.84 from the juice machine. . . all elections must use this standard plan of class elections (1) At a class meeting, a primary election will be held. Underclassmen Let Drive Flop Underclassmen met the brunt of the wrath of S.G.A. President Isch at yesterday's meeting. Tabulation of the Curtis Subscription Drive showed that of the $5,000 goal, only a little more than $1,000 had been gained. Of this $1,000, the upper classmen get the credit for the biggest proportion. The Student Government's magazine subscription drive to raise funds which they plan to use in equipping and furnishing a student center on the new campus has only until Monday November 20, to run.

This drive represents an opportunity for every one of our new campus. This drive represents an opportunity for everyone of our college students to help the college, his individual class, and his own pocketbook. A prize of $50.00 will go to the class which sells the highest total of subscriptions. Individual prizes will be awarded according to the following plan:

Reports are to be made to the section representatives on the following days, Monday, Nov. 6; Wednesday, Nov. 8; Thursday, Nov. 9; Monday, Nov. 13; Wed., Nov. 15th.

On Monday, Nov. 6, a prize of $10.00 will be paid to the student who has sold the highest total in dollars on the first report. On Wednesday, Nov. 8, a drawing will be held if the student whose name is drawn sold at least $10.00 worth of subscriptions by that time, he will receive $10.00. If no one wins on Wednesday, the drawing will be repeated on Thursday, Nov. 9, with added prizes of two theater tickets and dinner money. If no one wins on Thursday, the drawing will be repeated on Monday, Nov. 13, with $15.00 added. Drawing will continue on Monday until someone wins. On Wednesday, Nov. 15, another drawing will be held in which the students name will be entered for each subscription he has sold. (Ex. Student who has sold 20 subscriptions will have 20 chances, but students who have sold no subscriptions will not have a chance.)

Jane Battenfeld

Jane Battenfeld, Paterson States "Campus Queen" and Dean's List Senior who never thought that she "was the type to win a beauty contest" was simply amazed today when shown Esquire's congratulatory telegram by Mary Diamondis, Editor-in-Chief of the State Beacon, her sponsor in the contest.

Judge, Jane, the esquire circle on the basis of brains as well as beauty by Bing Crosby, Fred Waring, Kay Kyser, Milton Berle, Eddie Cantor, Horace Heidt, Rudy Vallee, Ralph Edwards, and Al Capp. Jane will make radio and television appearances and have her prize-winning contest entry pictures by Murray Korman of New York reproduced in Esquire Magazine. If she captures the coveted title of "Miss 1951 Esquire Calendar Girl" she will win in addition to the above mentioned prizes, an all-expense paid trip to New York City, and a screen test by Metro Goldwyn Mayer Studios in Hollywood.

On campus Jane is the epitome of the American co-ed; wise, clever, gay, ever-popular, loads of fun and no slouch with a test as evidenced by her winning scholastic honors and being named to the Dean's List.

Her extra-curricular activities include membership in the Assembly Committee of the Student Government Assoc., Phi Omega Psi Sorority, Future Teachers of America, A'Capella Choir, and the Women's Athletic Asso.

The 23-year old music and art enthusiast who's a tall, slim 5'8" in height and 120 pounds in weight is majoring in General Elementary Education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Battenfeld of 242 Cambridge Ave., Englewood, and is a graduate of Dwight Morrow High School.

LET'S GO

UNDERCLASSMEN!!

The Curtis Subscription Drive which has flopped because many of the students in the Freshman and Sophomore Classes have not supported it, has been extended to Monday, Nov. 20, so Let's Get Going Underclassmen and do our share.

PRESIDENT ISCH TO REFORM SGA; ABATE DISMISSED FROM OFFICE

Joseph Isch, president of the Student Government Association, literally "blew his top" to BEACON editor, Guy Lott, at a requested meeting by the president. Because of absences on the part of class representatives and club presidents Mr. Isch said the school has taken a "laissez faire" attitude toward the organization.

Charles Abate, after four absences from meetings and failing to carry out his duties as assembly chairman, was asked to resign by the president, and Gregory Heimer, a sophomore in the general elementary department, has assumed his duties. Ted Stephens and Carol Piaget, freshman class representatives, are also being discussed by the executive committee because of too many absences from the S. G. A. meetings. Their dismissal is almost certain.

All class presidents and class representatives must attend all meetings, Mr. Isch said. Two or more absences will mean immediate dismissal. "We want a strong Student Government Association. All members are expected to vote intelligently, and because they are a group representative, they should be ever mindful of their duties." The organization is not a popularity affair, Mr. Isch stressed and the organization heads will do all they can to cut the "shant" away. "We will not tolerate any unexcused absences!" Mr. Isch said, with all the stress and vigor of a true politician.

CURTIS PUBLISHING CO.

Mr. Isch also said that the Student Government Association and the executive committee of the organization are also disappointed in the attitude of the student body toward the new Curtis Publishing Company magazine drive. The showing, after one week of campaigning has been extremely low. The freshman class, on November 8, turned in only $45.50 and the sophomore class gave $111.05. The senior class, also with a poor showing, turned in only $130.40, and the junior class recorded $332.55.

Formal Installation Held by Sororities

by Pat Ruffing

The various sororities of Paterson State Teachers College have been very busy the past two weeks initiating and inducting their new members. The cafeteria, was the scene for much of the pledging. It may have been quite embarrassing for the pledges but a gala time was had by members and pledges alike. Phi Omega Psi

The Phi Omega Psi Sorority held its initiation program on Nov. 1, 2, and 3. The pledges wore blue skirts with yellow blouses, the official colors of the sorority, and had a stocking pulled over their hair. On their shoulder they carried a mop with bows of blue and yellow ribbon.

The pledges serenaded Mr. Schnitzer, director of men's athletic activities, to the tune "I Love You Truly".

On Friday night, Nov. 3, the sorority concluded its initiation activities by assembling in front of the city hall. After scrubbing the statue, and making trips to the bank, the pledges proceeded to a barn in Clifton. Jo Lomauro, Janice Kay, and Cathleen Schwartz were sent to different homes to obtain ridiculous information. After the initiation program refreshments were served.

The formal induction was held on the night of Nov. 7 in the Children's Library. The new members were presented with coronas of yellow pompons. New Members are Janice Kay, Joan Reardon, Mary Blusitz, Winifred Weidmuller, Jo Ann Snick, Cathleen Schwartz, Bonnah Merritt, Ruth Knoll, Marlene De Ross, Betty Knoll, Jane Battenfeld, Marcia Whipple, and Josephine Lomauro.

Officers of IVCF Attend Confab

Jane Daalder and Ruth Clark recently attended the fall conference of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship held November 3, 4, and 5. The conference was held at Keswick Grove, N. J. It was a workshop conference led by the various staff members of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. Mr. Cornelius Vandenberg, Jr. was guest speaker. Mr. Vandenberg served in the past war in the U. S. Marine Corps and did missionary work in Holland. He is author of two books, A Leatherneck Looks at Life and Letters of a Leatherneck.

Opportunity For All

Out of the dark and endless tales of time, we have learned one great thing—blind creeds and kings have had their day. Still every generation has given birth to some man, who, being unscrupulous, has tried to defy that which has already been written as fact. Check the success of these rulers. They sprang like snakes on hungry and troubled peoples. They filled hungry minds with untrue light, they fed opened mouths. They gave food with one hand and carried a knife in the other. And just before every stomach was full, and when all were grateful, they placed themselves in the seat of the supreme, at the expense of unlearned peoples.

Now, again, this is true. A king, somewhere behind the Iron Curtain, is trying to feed the world a blind creed. Ali history is against him. All freedom-loving people are against him. Even those few who love war are against him. What then, is to be done?

The answer was plainly written by the hand of our forefathers—education. When our forefathers landed on Plymouth Rock, years ago, they knew perhaps better than even we know, of unscrupulous rulers—and they knew how to avoid them.

With each helping his neighbors in the early history of our nation, many a red schoolhouse was built on Opportunity Road. That readiness to help the folks down the road and the family across the square was the strength of our early America, the foundation for our democracy. Because of this we have a school system unsurpassed in any country in the world.

Only a few realize the opportunity that is ours—the twelve years of free public education, the five freedoms, the friendliness of our neighbors, the struggle of coins, the abundance of food and work. Because of these, we have a greater heritage to defend than any other people on Earth.

Should all the peoples of the earth have these opportunities that we too often take for granted, there would be no blind creeds and kings. The way to conquer Communism is not by war and inevitable destruction. Victory will come by extending Opportunity Road around the world, and through the Iron Curtain.

but glamorous. They were clad in wash dresses of size 40, or over, which fit beautifully, aprons, the latest millinery from Paris, gloves, and high heel shoes with socks. So that everyone would know these "glamour girls" they wore signs with their names on.

On Wednesday, Nov. 1, the cafeteria looked like "wash day". From pole to pole the pledges erected clothes lines and sang the familiar song "This Is The Way We Wash Our Clothes" as they hung their laundry out to dry.

Each pledge had a hard-boiled egg which had to have the signature of five members of the faculty.

On Thurs. Nov. 2, after a two day period of initiation the new members were formally inducted into the sorority. Each new member was presented with a corsage of red and white flowers. They are: Barbara Beconsall, Pat Saltrici, Grace Monaco, Lillian Serence, Etta Brignotti, Rosemarie Schmelzer, Betty Ann Carlson, Barbara Dwyer, and Priscilla Richey.

The Theta Delta Rho Sorority has not inducted any new members as yet, but will do so at a later date.

BETTE BUGGI

Question:

Do you think necking makes a girl more popular with the boys? Asked of Mike Harracka:

"Yes, if it takes place after the fifteenth date."

Asked of Bob Matthews:

"Yes and no, it all depends on the fellow. In my opinion, it makes the evening more enjoyable."

Asked of Joe Garreca:

"Yes, because when a girl necks, you are more interested in going out with her."

Asked of Stan Grasse:

"Yes, if you are on close terms, no, if you are in less intimate terms."

Asked of Ted Stephens:

"It's according to the type boys she goes out with."

Asked of Bill Reda:

"No, (after much thinking), a girl can be just as popular by being friendly, however, a lot depends on the girl."

Asked of Ed Taradyna:

"Not necessarily, I think that intelligence, sense of humor, are just as important as the romantic aspect of companionship."

Question:

Do you think necking makes a fellow more popular with the girls?

Asked of Mary Ann Weir:

"No, if you can't be popular by not necking, then he's not worth knowing!"

Asked of Regina Gwozdecka:

"No, when I go out on a date I like to have a good time, and not sit down and neck."

Asked of Joan Kuiper:

"No, because those that would have to resort to necking to be popular aren't the ones you want to go out with."

Asked of Peggy Connolly:

"No, it doesn't leave any time for an intelligent conversation."

Asked of Helen Bragg:

"Definitely not, a fellow can be popular by his personality and gentlemanly considerations of the girl." (That's telling them, Helen.)

Asked of Barbara Dwyer:

"No, I think it degrades the fellows."

Fashions

By JULIET BECHAK

With the Junior Prom coming up soon, a lot of attention will be focused on evening fashions. Have you been out looking over the many styles being featured for evening wear? Most of the creations are just heavenly and will take your breath away. Velvet and taffeta, are being featured quite a bit in this season, but of course satin, lace, and net are still popular. The strapless models are among the most popular and many of these styles include stoles, which look very well when draped over the shoulders.

One of the brightest styles of the new season is the poncho coat, a direct steal from the herd riders of the Golden West. This particular coat is short, loose, and easy to wear. It drapes over the shoulders and forms folds that bring grace, though no particular form, to the silhouette. One style features a collar that stands up close to the neck like a scarf, then moves down the coat to form a wide lapover. Two buttons extend the neckline, and the deep pockets are curved. These coats come in a variety of bright and attractive colors, but the most popular shade is orange rust in a wool broadcloth.

Tartan plaids are the thing now and are seen in just about every kind of fashion. They look so sporty and go with almost everything. When velvet is used as an accessory to these plaids, the result is quite attractive.

Profiles of the Faculty

by Dorothy Ritchie

With this series of sketches, we present the Faculty, not as teachers, but as people. May their experiences prove an inspiration, may their philosophies be a stimulation, and may their examples serve to lead us who follow in their footsteps.

Howard Haas

Those of us who have had contact with Mr. Haas are impressed with his calm and objective manner. When questioned about his manner, Mr. Haas attributed his control to participation in sports during his early school career.

Mr. Haas first became inspired to teach when he was a senior in high school. He was president of his class for each of the four years and played basketball and baseball. He enjoyed his various contacts with people and was much interested in them. For this reason he felt his future lay in teaching.

His first job was in Melanah where he taught business subjects. He next taught in Rutherford, in which place he taught Psychology as an extra subject in addition to Business Education. He had the second psychology class ever taught in New Jersey and at first handled the subject basically as human relations. His course was so successful that he was forced to drop Business Education and teach only Psychology. Mr. Haas has been teaching for fourteen years, six of which have been at Paterson State. He is pursuing further education in the form of a doctorate at Rutgers.

Mr. Haas is married and has two children, one aged five and one aged ten. "Sounds like Woolf. His hobbies are golf and tennis. When asked about his philosophy of life, Mr. Haas stated: "Each person has unique potentialities within himself. Students though inexperienced, are capable of formulating pretty sound conclusions. Social contact is best accomplished by groups as a way of discipline."

Introducing

Betty Knoll

Hip, hip hooray! This cheer is nothing new to Paterson State's new cheerleader, Betty Knoll. Betty attended Central High School before coming to Paterson State and was on the cheering squad at the school for three years. And loved every minute of it.

Betty Knoll

At school Betty has found many new interests, especially her music and has become active in the A Cappella Choir and the Masque and Masquers Club. She was recently initiated and inducted into Phi Omega Psi.

When not busy with the telephone her favorite pastime is movies, especially with Burt Lancaster. Muscle bond Gene Stanley and New York City also rate high on her list of favorites.

In and out of school, Betty can usually be found with Marlene De Rosa and Regina Gwozdecka. Betty's big ambition is to become a fifth grade teacher. For the immediate future she's working hard at learning the cheers. As parting words... "See you at our first game!"

VITAMIN'S VISIONS

By JOE (Vitamin) TRIONE

We really hate to write this article and every year, we vow not to write about it again because it shouldn't be necessary. But, it is very necessary this year as it was last year and the year before. The "it" we refer to is school spirit.

At first, there was a good deal of interest in State's basketball team and we thought we could eliminate this article. Then, along came the magazine subscription drive and with it came revelation that old Mr. School Spirit had turned hermit again. The seniors and juniors pointed with pride to the graph in the cafeteria and said they were doing the best. That was true enough, but the best was pretty miserable.

If this magazine drive is an accurate barometer of school spirit, then the basketball team can look forward to playing its games in comparative privacy.

Many of the leaders of State's rooting section from last year have left. It will require at least ten new rooters with strong voices to replace jumping Gene Weiss of the leather lungs. Gene is now doing his howling at Alabama. There are others to be replaced too. Such as, Johnny Betts, who would pack "taxi" with Staters till the sides bulged and take off for East Stroudsburg, Philadelphia, or other distant colleges where State was playing and Lloyd Wheeler, who attended games as regularly as the referees. There are others who merit a small mention also, but space does not permit. We sincerely hope that the students will not need a further reminder that they should attend these games. And we would also be appreciative if we didn't hear the perennial excuse, "I'd come, but I live so far away." Do you realize that some members of the team live equally "far away" and do not have cars, yet manage to show up for games and practices?

We're going to have a basketball team to be proud of this year. Don't make them be ashamed of us.

LEAVE IT TO THE GIRLS

by MARIE LOOF
and
ANN LAWLOR

"And how are you allowed to spend your money?" This was the major question of the day at the Athletic Federation of College Women Conference at Glassboro State Teachers College. Six embers of your W.A.A. attended this conference to find out just how other colleges were financing their W.A.A.'s.

Of all the ten colleges represented from New Jersey and Delaware, we found that we had one of the best intra-mural set-ups for a commuting college, in the conference.

When Ginny Cavaluzzo, our able secretary, sent letters to the colleges in the conference, requesting copies of their point systems, she didn't know what she was letting herself in for. It seems every college has a different way of awarding points. But so far, our system, though far from perfect, is the easiest to understand.

Future W.A.A. Leaders

Keep your eye on Janet Dykstra, a freshman, who because of her athletic ability, has been chosen by the softball manager, Rose Marie Schmelzer to serve as her assistant.

Janet, a graduate of Passaic Valley High School, was one of the top athletes in her class. We hope she will continue her excellent interests here in softball, bowling, and basketball. We were told she is interested in watching football games, but Janet, since we don't have football here at State, come and root for our Basketball team, instead, O.K.?

"Spotlight" News

Did you know that Paterson was the only New Jersey college to have an article in the National A.F.C.W. Spotlight? While at the New Jersey and Delaware Conference, we were complimented on always being represented in the paper. If you are interested in reading the article, the paper is on the W.A.A. bulletin board in the Girl's locker room.

Good Luck!

Congratulations to Marge Broman, our new feature editor. We know you will do as good a job there as you did with this column.

STATE BEACON

ENTRY BLANK FOR PING PONG TOURNAMENT

NAME _____

FREE PERIODS _____

The above signed has agreed to abide by the rules of the tournament, and any decisions made by the directors.

For the first time in college history, the Sports Department of the State Beacon is sponsoring an "elimination" type ping-pong tournament, announced contest directors, Tom O'Meara, Beacon Sports Editor, and Ken Werner, Sports reporter.

According to the entry rules, all full-time students at Paterson State, including both men and women, are eligible to win the Golden Key prize, and the title, "King or Queen of the Order of the Golden Paddle." Contest rules have been set up as follows:

1. A contestant advances by winning two out of three games.
2. The ball must be at least five inches from the paddle when serving.
3. Each match must have a judge.
4. Any contestant in the tournament will automatically become a judge, and may judge any match other than his or her own.
5. Rules of play will be the same as usual.

As in previous student-sponsored tournaments, contestants will be matched by drawing numbers of their opponents from a hat. In this way, each player will have an equal chance.

Definite periods of play will not be set; matched contestants will play at their own convenience. It has been taken into consideration that it may be difficult for players to get together because of conflicting schedules.

Due to the limited facilities for holding such a tournament, the number of contestants must be limited to 24. It will be up to the judges to determine which students will enter, if the number of entries is over 24. The selection of contestants will be based on skill and other factors will not enter into it.

Deadline for entries is Monday, November 20, at 4:00. Entry blanks may be deposited in the Beacon box in the General Office or may be submitted to either of the two directors of the contest, or to any member of the sports staff of the State Beacon.

[From Freshman Hopeful...]

Dear Sports Editor:

One of the main subjects that has been discussed by the freshmen is the rumor concerning the discontinuance of baseball at State. Few of the freshmen know for sure if this rumor is true. There doesn't seem to be any dissatisfaction among the upper-classmen. The unreasonableness lies with the first year students.

One of the good suggestions given by the freshmen is: If there isn't going to be a varsity team, why not organize a freshman team? The freshmen could use the old varsity uniforms and games could be scheduled with high school teams on a home and home basis. The problem of coaching is easily solved, since Coach Schnitzer could be aided by any of the upperclassmen having some baseball knowledge (such as Otto Harris or Jim Pate). Many of the freshmen have cars and therefore, transportation can easily be provided. At all costs baseball shouldn't be discontinued at State.
