CARNIVAL A HIT SGA Votes For Annual Affair

As witnessed by the crowds in attendance, and the S.G.A. vote to establish it as an annual affair, Paterson's first all-college carnival proved highly successful. A gross income reached approximately $1,700; however until all bills have been paid the actual profit will not be known.

A surprise booth, "The Town Jail" proved an hilarious feature which lured crowds by offering "well dressed" faculty members as victims to be "dunked" in a pool of water.

The committee has announced the following winners in the income competition: Entertainment — "Old Fashion Show" by a group of interested students with Pat Greene as chairman; Souvenirs — "Ceramic Sale", interested students with Joe Fortuna as chairman; food — root beer "Saloon" by junior section C with Walt Brotsma chairman; and games of skill — dart throw by interested students with Bob Arcieri as chairman. The "Lively Stable", wet sponge throw, by the Citizenship Club under Bill James, was judged the most original booth in design, backdrop and sign. Prizes will be awarded.

"SUBURBAN" SITE FOR SENIOR BALL

A fitting end to the formal social season of the college, the annual ball, presented to the graduating class by the student body, shall take place May 29 from 9 P.M. to 2 A.M. in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Suburban.

The evening, which features dancing by Ugo Carano's orchestra is free of charge to seniors and five dollars a bid to the rest of the student body. Bids will be on sale by May 16 through appointed class representatives.

General chairman for the affair is Noreen Gallagher; publicity committee Jim Simlor, Alice Borer, and Carl Koszykowski; bids, Maura McGlynn, chairman; favors, Pat Byers; band, Mary Aileen Roche and Noreen Gallagher; and invitations Bill James.

Faculty advisers include Mrs. Sally Burk, Dr. Lee Ellis, Mr. Earl Wiedner, Dr. Ralph Miller and Miss Eleanor Edwards.

Campus Polls Open Tomorrow

Featuring voting machines instead of the usual paper ballots, the election for 1957-58 classes and S.G.A. officers shall take place tomorrow, May 15, in the cafeteria.

Preceded by the rally, May 10, and two weeks of vigorous campaigning, the election is expected to draw a large majority of the student body, who have demonstrated a desire for capable administrators by frequent debate over candidates, and their qualifications.

SGA CONTEST OFFERS CLOSE RACE

With two well known and capable students in the running for the office of S.G.A. President, it may well be that Paterson State shall see one of its closest contests as students choose between Jerry De Falco and Mario Volpe.

Noreen Gallagher, placed on the ballot by the unanimous vote of her class, is the only candidate for vice-president. This is not a first in S.G.A. elections but certainly not a common occurrence.

However, the decision concerning secretary and treasurer are not lacking in controversy with Shalla McKowne and Carole Pailinkas out for secretary and June Scheven and Taube Schweitzer desiring the office of treasurer.

Moreover students are reminded that they are all to vote for all S.G.A. offices as well as the S.G.A. constitutional amendments which appear on page three.

Class elections also promise a fair amount of competition as staunch support of the nominees has been evident throughout the school although boosters have refrained from overexuberant displays and poor posters in favor of campaigning more suited to college men and women.

Bev Patterson

BEV PATTERSON TO EDIT BEACON

With the opening of the fall semester, Beverly Patterson, this year's sophomore news editor, shall cover the editing of the State Beacon.

MEANING OF THE WORD

C — Co-operation—A big word with a great deal involved in its work. Through the combined efforts of hard working students and faculty members the task was completed. Hats off to Pat Byers, Mr. Wolf, and Dr. Guinnane who did the planning, much of the work, and kept things running smoothly.

A — Amusements—There were many booths which helped the fund along with the amusement which they provided for the patrons. Many thanks to them for the big part which they played in the fund-raising event. The other booths are not to be overlooked. They too, did a terrific job and should be complimented on their success.

R — Reliability—Some of the students had to carry the ball for the others who were not reliable. Let's see if next year each one of the students could be classified as possessing this characteristic. Then each one will have played an important role in the project and it will truly be an all-college activity.

N — Novelty—This year our carnival was new; we had never tackled anything quite so big before, and many people were curious to see just how well we could carry out our plans. Next year we must work to maintain the standard which we have set. Novel ideas from all will make this possible.

I — Interest—Because many of the students had interest in the welfare of our college, they made themselves an active part of the working group on the carnival. Their concern brought forth ideas which were profitable.

V — Volunteers—These people entered and gave of their time and ideas. Students and faculty cannot be forced into doing something and still do a good job. They must have the desire to do it, and the many volunteers who made up the working force of the carnival certainly did a commendable job.

A — Action—You saw it, plenty of it, produced by the hard work of many. The arrangements, financing, securing of materials, construction, publicity, maintenance, and managing all had to be done before the finished product could make a public appearance. To all of those who worked behind the scenes, a debt of gratitude is owed.

L — Loyalty—The student body and faculty of Paterson State Teachers College have proven their loyalty. This was needed to produce the work, to encourage attendance, and to bring a realization which many thought was never possible—the first step toward a new student union building.

QUESTION BOX

by Camille Nuccitelli

QUESTION: How Do You Think We Can Improve the Carnival?
Cynthia Post, freshman: Earlier planning so as to have more student participation.

Barbara Avedisian, freshman: By having more faculty participation.

Gail Andres, freshman: The Carnival can be improved by having better planning and more outside support.

Betty Brown, freshman: I believe there would be more of a turnout if the Carnival were held outside.

Doris Hellmeck, sophomore: There should be more publicity and other colleges should be invited thereby bettering our relations.

Carol Summers, sophomore: Change the music on the P.A. system to fit in with the theme of the Carnival.

Tish Ruane, sophomore: By having more and better booths. This can be accomplished by getting students to work on the preparing of the booths, planning, and all around organization. The main way in which the Carnival could be improved is to have better workmanship between the faculty and the student body.

Barbara Dugan, freshman: The booths should be so organized so as to have a variation and not two of the same kind.

Ann Waltke, junior: Miss DeBetta playing a Tamborine Solo while singing "Soupy-Soupy-Soupy."

Richard Turf, junior: If the theme is kept the same (Pioneer) everyone should dress accordingly.

Loretta De Berta, junior: Have Barbara Rose conducting (you've heard of her brother David Rose) an all-girl tonette ensemble.

Vivian Semerano, freshman: For the first time the Carnival was very well organized with the exception of publicity which could have been released to other colleges.

What Is Heaven Really Like?

by Charles H. Koch

What is heaven really like
Far above the highest stars?
Do the cherubs laugh and play;
Do the angels drive in cars?

Do the saints just take it slow
Do they live a life of ease?
What is heaven really like?
Do they do just as they please?

Can we all attain this bliss
In the kingdom of the sky?
Tell me please if I'll go there
On the very day I die.

They say it is the greatest place,
And I really know it's true.
I've been there before you know,
Every day I've been with you.

A Feeling of Presence

by Jerry DeFallo

Take a trip to a town of immortality,
Vision a backward movement of time,
Feel the inner inspiration of development,
Feel the lack of proudness decline.

The past can relate such story,
New vistas of undiscovered vision,
Depth of thought provoked glory,
And wonders of new found aestheticism.

Our country is so abundant in history,
So experience the quantity of value,
Make all the afore mentioned reality,
Take a trip to a town of immortality.

CHRIS CRICKET

By LOIS PERRY

Away I sail for Europe this summer. Anyone wishing to book stowaway passage on the "Ile de France" can be accommodated. Ten bucks per, plus board. No mothers-in-law nor textbooks allowed. Bookings must be made well in advance so that enough trunks can be acquired. . . . An art assignment to make a painting that would solve an art problem met with an interesting solution when Pat Brady presented an old painting which had been cut into pieces, and pasted, hit or miss to make a collage. "What art problem does this solve?" inquired Miss Kirkpatrick. Answered Pat, "What to do with that old painting." . . . Congrats to the faculty members who were "all wet" at the carnival. Some of the outfits were quite the thing. More power to soph.

Who? His sidekick, "I hear ya" Dakota was pretty noticeable too. . . . Miss Hayes and Miss Elwell were the two top bathing beauties. . . . I think Dr. Guinane and Coach Wolfe should have been painters instead of teachers. . . . That fishing pond was awfully fishy. . . . I think Ricky Turi chose the wrong career; he should have been a bartender. His wife should be commended for the lovely suit she made him. . . . I wonder where Mrs. Grueneger got that lovely dress. . . . Babe Neward and Marie Meralo should be given an academy award for their performance in the Palace Theatre Group. . . . Palace Theatre Curies worked awfully hard to win that prize. Do you know why? . . . Shell Rich had very unique prizes. . . . Barbara Keegle had some very interesting fortunes to tell. Even the faculty were amazed. . . . Tish, Jerry DeFalco and Maureen McGlynn were getting dired of eating hamburgers. Thanks to Bob Mathews, Tish didn't get any more blisters from blowing up the balloons in the center piece. . . . The nicest thing about the carnival was that both the students and the faculty enjoyed themselves. . . . I wonder why the seniors didn't have any booths. . . . Who do you think made the best jacks in the Livery Stable Booth? . . . I wonder if Jerry DeFalco will get cancer from hitting his thumb with the hammer so many times. . . . I must say the ice cream booth ran into some trouble with the lockers. Speaking about ice cream did you know that Harry Dolan opened up a Dani Delite in Tonawanda, N. J. on Union Avenue. Just say you're a friend of Tish's and you'll get free ice cream! . . . Surprise to Junior Sect. A — Carol Spahr became Carol Orban two weeks before letting the news out — and what was Eunice's reaction? . . . Notice the red glow on many students? . . . Seems the shore has been crowded lately. . . . Dr. Baker's science room is now a maternity ward for guinea pigs. . . . Some students see fit to park in 2 spaces to save a place for a friend! Perhaps someone should report these license numbers to the S.G.A. . . . Stop! That parking place isn't empty! Look closely, for a small foreign car may be lurking within. . . . Jack Wooten says plans are materializing for another hayride. . . . Lois Perry tells me her engagement will be announced next week. Best wishes, Lois. See what happens during the sick season (for news that is) when my contacts clam up? Why don't some of you sports dope or stand on your head or something so I can write a twenty line column. Oh well, better luck next year. . . . See some of you at Connie Gorzicki's wedding next month. . . . That's it for this year.

It looked for a while like the baseball team would go well over the 500 mark but appears they will finish well below that record. If the squad doesn't snap out of its lackadaisical play they may wind up with another disastrous season.

The team boasts only one .300 hitter in Lou Diess. After nine games Lou was slugging at a .368 clip. In addition he is a fine defensive shortstop.

The Jersey City game pointed out how poorly a team can play due to overconfidence. Paterson had just come off an impressive win over Montclair and thought J. C. would be an easy victim. Paterson found out how easy they were as they were soundly racked by a 16-5 count.

The 1921 Washington Senators hold the record of most hit batsmen in one season but Paterson would approach this mark if they played Newark State more often. For example in the fourth inning the game with Newark there were 2 outs and Larry Copelton drew a base on balls. Then Bob Rempies was hit with a pitch, Burch Amadio was hit with a pitch, Don Devins was hit with a pitch, and Jim Obrigg (by now it started getting a little monotonous) was hit with a pitch. Bruce Fischer then struck out but this was excusable for only someone out of his mind would dig in against the Newark chucker.

One of the main reasons for the teams poor play could very well be the miserable support which has been given them so far. About fifteen students turn out for the home games and this is terrible! Let's get behind the team and turn out in full force for all home contests—both students and faculty members.

I have been asked by a group of girls to explain my remarks concerning their playing ability. Well I never came right out and said they were terrible. It seems to me they come to this conclusion all by themselves.

With such a terrific array of ping-pong players on campus it would be interesting if a tournament could be arranged by the M. A. A. One was started last semester but fizzled out. Another could be started with a strict time schedule being enforced. That is, if a player doesn't show up for his schedule match he would lose by forfeit. This competition could include both singles and doubles play.

Since everyone else seems to be making major league baseball prediction I might as well try my luck. The fact that I am a Yankee fan and a Dodger hater has nothing to do with my predictions.

PIONEERS HAVING POOR YEAR Slump Off After Impressive Showing

With the baseball season half over the Paterson State nine is floundering around the 500 mark in compiling a 4-5 record.

The squad played good ball early in the season but hasn't played a good, solid ball game since. The opener resulted in a 6-4 loss at the hands of N.C.E., the deciding blow being a grand slam by Marty Beyer in the third inning. The next loss came as Panzer nipped the Pioneers 3-2 despite a fine four-hit performance by Jack Keyser and Bob Briant. Paterson then broke into the win column by virtue of a 13-6 trouncing of Newark State. They followed this up with a very impressive 3-2 victory over Montclair State. Jack Keyser pitched a neat six-hitter and was backed up by Jim Obrigg two-run homer far over the left field fence.

It was at this stage of the campaign that the team did an about-face. Although the Pioneers have only dropped three out of the last five they haven't even been impressive in their winning efforts.

The third loss came at the hands of Jersey City State with the score being 16-5. This contest was as farce as four Paterson pitchers paraded to the mound in an unsuccessful effort to stop the onslaught. They gave up 13 hits, 15 bases on balls, 1 hit batsman, and in addition the defense committed five errors. Panzer then defeated Paterson for the second time 6-2. Errors were very costly as only 2 of the Panzer runs were earned.

Panzer copped their next two. St. Peters Frosh 7-5 and Kings 8-5, but didn't look good in doing so. On both occasions they jumped off to big early leads and then had to hang on to win. It should also be pointed out that these two clubs had been winless prior to encountering Paterson.

Paterson's last game, at this writing, resulted in a 17-4 clobbering by Tranton State.

In all fairness, though, it is an improvement over last year's 3-9 mark. But the team is weak in hitting, pitching depth and defense. Early in the year the defense had been sound, committing only 3 mistakes in the first 2 games. But since then the squad has been guilty of 29 errors in the remaining 6 contests. To point out the hitting weakness the team as a whole is hitting .235. But most important of all they haven't been bunching their hits. They get one here and there but seldom four or five in one inning. So far the only effective batter on the staff has been Jack Keyser with a 3-4 mark. The remaining pitchers have been hit hard and if another chucker doesn't come through it will be a long season for coach Ken Wolf.

Fencers Finish Fourth Ulrickson Second

The Paterson State fencing squad recently competed in the Inter-collegiate Championships at Rochester and finished fourth in the team competition. The team, under the direction of Mr. Ray Miller, was the defending champion but found the competition too stiff this year. This fourth place finish could well be attributed to lack of experience as only captain Joan Ulrickson returned from last year's victorious squad. The others who competed on the first team were Pat "Tish" Ruane, Carol Siskowski and Connie Gonsalski.

All wasn't lost however as Joan Ulrickson tied for first place in the individual competition and eventually finished second. She and Jane Johnson of R.I.T. the eventual winner, both lost only one bout during the day and as a result a fence-off was necessitated. Miss Johnson came out on top 4-2 and with it the individual championship. Joan was trying to become the second Paterson fencer to win this title as Jane Dardia had walked off with the honors last year.

Miss Ulrickson continued her success by copping the Junior Foil Competition which was held at P.S.T.C.

The squad recently held an election and "Tish" Ruane was chosen to captain next year's squad.

Upcoming competition include the Women's Foil Team Open at Paterson, May 11 and the Orsi Trophy on May 18 also to be held at Paterson.

THE REQUIREMENTS OF A COLLEGE ATHLETE

by Kenneth J. Wolf

"The basic moral and spiritual value in American life is the supreme importance of the individual personality." From this value is derived the goal that athletic activities should foster, above all else, the growth and well-being of the individual student. It requires differentiations of experience for different learners. It also means that welfare of the player in an athletic contest outweighs in value the specious "glory of the school."

The above paragraph has been quoted from the book, "School Athletics," an Educational Policies Commission project, and with this as a starting point, I would like to emphasize the requirements of a college athlete.

An athlete must be one who besides having the physical equipment to play a sport must have a feeling for his team mates, education, sense of responsibility, and above all, leadership. He must put the team and all its representatives ahead of his own personal desires.

He must be first a man and a team player in the most sense of the word. In order to be an athlete, he must maintain a high moral and be discussed on Sunday. The election of officers will also take place at these meetings. A square dance is to be featured on Saturday night.

The buses will leave Paterson on Friday afternoon and return Sunday. Mary Ann Wolf, vice president of the W.A.A. is in charge of the activities in the absence of Mary Tatar, President.

FACULTY INSTITUTE

A faculty institute at Glassboro State Teachers College, Friday, May 3 brought together the six state colleges, including Paterson. This institute is a professional association for the betterment of teacher-training in the state and meets in order that teachers may share ideas and problems. One of the problems which this group has dealt with is the teacher pension plan.

Riding members of faculties were honored at a dinner. Dr. Baker being among them.

Aside from the dinner and business meeting, various speakers on outstanding general interest topics, general education, and professional education were heard. One such speaker from the University of Pennsylvania gave an enlightening talk on changing patterns in Communism since the death of Stalin.

An interesting sidelight at the institute was Glassboro State Teachers College itself, and the changes which have occurred there in recent years.
