Mr. Astor and P.S.C. Students Attend Conference In New York

Several PSC students delegates and a faculty delegate, Mr. Martin Astor, will attend the annual Eastern States Delegate Conference to be held March 19, 20, 21 at the Hotel New Yorker, New York.

The two official students representatives are Phil Rosner and Chad Martin, who were selected by the S.G.A. Other representatives include Mario Volpe, Jerry DeFalco, Betty Urban, Carol Hensel, Ronald Lewis, Walter Dudek, and the new freshmen class president, Barbara Spain is the student representative alternate. Mr. Astor pointed out that any student or faculty member is welcome to attend also.

"New Teacher — New Horizons" is the theme of the conference. Topics ranging from "What Constitutes Being A Professional In The Field of Education?" to the "Teacher-Community Relationships" will be discussed. The purpose of the conference is to have the students and faculty from the professional teaching colleges in the Eastern district come together to discuss the professional problems of teaching and the problems of the teacher's colleges.

A series of work-shop sessions will be held before the conference for student representatives who are planning to attend. These sessions will be "role-played" as if actually participating in the conference to give some experience in conference techniques. The plan is to pool information resources on the various topics that will be discussed.

P.S.C. Series Presents The Weavers

Wednesday, March 18th, at 8:00 P.M., the Weavers, folk song quartette and recording artists, will be here at Paterson State College Memorial Gymnasium. The Weavers will surely captivate our audience as they have done in the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles, Carnegie Hall in New York, and Orchestra Hall in Chicago.

The Weavers offer unusual entertainment in a two hour program with familiar and unfamiliar songs. The audiences cannot resist clapping the beat of the tuneful, rhythmic refrains. Part of the Weavers success may be due to the circumstance that they permit listeners occasionally to participate in the program.

In the concert the Weavers will take us on a folksong tour of the world. Familiar songs of this country will be followed by songs from India, Israel, Indonesia, Africa, the Calypso belt, and other remote regions. In most cases these songs from a distance are unknown to the audience. The concert will be a blend of humor, happiness, and pathos. This group is marked by a great deal of vigor. They are nonchalant entertainers who know how to say things in a convincingly and lib fashion. All in all, an enjoyable and informative evening of entertainment should be had by all.

Cast For Spring Play Has Been Selected

The selection of the cast for the next play sponsored by the Pioneer Players has been announced. The play is an original comedy, written and directed by Mr. Robert C. Leppert, entitled

Mr. Leppert watches as students try-out for parts in future play which the Pioneer Players will present in the Spring.

"Return Engagement"

Among those chosen are Dominic Baccello, Gall Cohen, Jerry De Falco, Tony Kowal, James Lepore, Adrienne Levine, Mary Ann Neglia, Miriam Ring, Taoué Schweitzer, Vincent Vespe, and Carl Weyerman.

Aiding Mr. Leppert will be Assistant Director Geri Rycek. Margaret Sesto will be in charge of stage management for the production while the Sound Technician will be George Gruytch.

Journalism Opportunity

The State Beacon Staff, which is composed primarily of Juniors, will be in need of a great deal of help from underclassmen if our paper is to be published twice in March.

Those interested in helping to write stories, dummying, and proofreading should contact Carol Tenearuse, News Editor, who will be acting editor-in-chief.

P.S.C. Receives $4,206 Under National Defense Education Act

"The $4,206 in Federal funds allocated to Paterson State College under the 1958 National Defense Education Act was made possible through the Student Government Association," Dr. Marion E. Shea announced.

"If not for student action to make funds available to pay the college's share for the new student loan program, Paterson State College would not have been able to apply for assistance from the Federal Government," said President Shea.

Multi-Purpose Law

The National Defense Education Act (NDEA), passed by Congress in 1958, is a multi-purpose law administered by the U. S. Office of Education for the purposes of furthering higher education in the United States. In an attempt to recruit more superior students into the teaching profession, the Act provides a "forgiveness" clause in the loan law. Fifty per cent of each student loan can be canceled by five years of full-time teaching in a public elementary or secondary school, at the rate of 10 per cent each year.

Application for Federal assistance under NDEA was sparked in late December by the Student Government Association at Paterson State College when student leaders offered to contribute as much as $4,000 of their own money so that the college would be given an opportunity to take advantage of the new loan law.

According to President Shea, loans will be granted only to those students who qualify for assistance under the terms of the college agreement with the NDEA. Students must be presently enrolled at the college on a full-time basis and must demonstrate both superior academic capacity and real financial need. Also, upper classmen will be given preference over lower classmen.

Dr. Shea anticipates that the program will be extended in the future to entering freshmen as additional appropriations for student loans are made available through NDEA.

Martin Astor, assistant professor and assistant director of student personnel, has been appointed to serve as liaison officer for the college to administer the details of the student loan program. Professor Astor points out that under the terms of the Act the maximum loan allowed to any student is technically $1,000 a year, and not more than $5,000. He said that the loan is to be repaid in 10 years from the time the student graduates or ceases to be a full-time student at the college. Interest at 3 per cent begins on the year after graduation.

Dr. Astor stated, "In view of the sum of money we received, virtually all students who apply will receive less than the maximum amount of $1,000." Any student who is interested must go to Mr. Astor's office for an application form. After the application is completed, the student will be asked to go for a personal interview with some member of the Faculty who is concerned with this.

The Beacon Staff would like to say thank you to the people who took the trouble to fill out our questionnaire. All six of them!

Carnival Deadline Set For March 15

Jim Smilor, chairman of the carnival committee, has announced that March 15 will be the deadline for carnival booth application forms. All clubs, classes, and sections may sponsor a booth. Don't forget that a faculty member must approve the application before it can be turned over to the committee. Sections may secure approval from their class advisor. For more information contact Jim Smilor or Coach Wolf.

Anyone in the school is welcome to join the carnival committee which is the only all college organization at State. Here is an excellent chance for the freshman class to help make the carnival a huge success. Look for notices of meetings on bulletin boards.

Prizes and Title Discussed

At the last meeting of the carnival committee the problem of prizes was discussed. It was agreed that the sponsors of a booth could make their own, secure them from outside sources, or if the sources failed, the sponsors would use prizes that the committee had collected. The quality of the prizes should be better than some of the things that were offered as prizes last year.

The theme for the carnival is Great Books. A title will be chosen by the time this issue of the "Beacon" is on the stands.

Don't forget the deadline for booth applications, March 15. Everyone is welcome and needed to help make this year's carnival, May 1 and 2, the biggest and best event of the college year.

Work Scholarship Pupils Report to Dr. Scully

All students holding work scholarships must pick up the official notice of their appointments in Room 215, Haledon Hall.

When students receive their grades they must see Dr. Scully if they have failed a course or if their grade point average has dropped below a 1.6 for freshmen and sophomores and a 2.0 for juniors and seniors.

Student who fail to report to Dr. Scully cannot collect for the work done.

Art News, Display of Student Mosaics

The several mosaics now being exhibited by the Art Department in Hunziker wall display case are the works of Paterson State students.

The mosaic is an old art form frequently used in church adornment during the high Christian era. The painstaking placement of numerous bits of tesserae (colored ceramic or glass tiles) on an adhesive base, would form the larger patterns of color and shape.

In the austere atmosphere of the church edifice, the walls of mosaic paintings, usually portraying religious content, would shimmer with brilliant color suggesting the quality of a refractory jewel.

Artists today fascinated by the use of various materials to open new aesthetic avenues, have revived the mosaic media. Contemporary concepts of design with their emphasis on color, form, movement, and texture, find new expressive potential in an old media.

THANK YOU, MIKE

The staff of the State Beacon would like to take this opportunity to say "Thank You" to the maintenance staff and especially to Mike, the painter, for the excellent job of redecoration that he performed on our second home, the State Beacon office.

Editorial

It seems to me that a certain amount of responsibility falls on everyone's shoulders at one time or another. The amount and importance of this responsibility varies with the relationship between the person and the body to which they are responsible.

It seems to me that every student on this campus has incurred a degree of responsibility by virtue of their being a student. They have obligations not only to each other, but also to the school and the school's administration. But this is not one-sided, for the school and its administration must shoulder certain responsibilities which every student expects and deserves. I think, for the most part, that the administrative obligations have been handled extremely well.

It seems to me, however, that an unrealistic view has been taken by our administration concerning the parking problem. Since Paterson State is undeniably a commuter college, every directive issued concerning automobiles is of vital importance to all student personnel. Being aware of this fact, the administration, or the committee in charge of parking, should take positive steps to see that every student is supplied with information pertinent to the parking situation.

It seems to me that these positive steps have not been taken in regards to the parking regulations which were published just a short time ago in the "State Beacon". The regulations were, in fact, being enforced about one month prior to the February publication of the student newspaper. Was this proper publicity for a new directive so vital to every student?

It seems to me, that even in view of the student abuses in the parking lots, foresight was lacking in the drafting of the regulation, and then in the publicity given it, for there are certain times, however few, when both parking lots are completely full. But let us all remember one thing, the essence of the new law is not being questioned nor is its validity being challenged.

It seems to me that the problem at issue poses the question: Was foresight used during the drafting of the new regulation, and then, were the proper steps taken to insure against the possibility of a car owner being in ignorance of this directive?

The question can only be answered by those who know.

Demonstration Class Well Attended

It is too bad that so many P.S.C. students weren't able to attend the demonstration class held in the Little Theatre, February 17, at 10:30 A.M.

Mr. Onorevole and his sixth grade class, from the Liberty school in Englewood, New Jersey, demonstrated a project unit on the creative writing of poetry, which was, in my opinion, worthwhile for all future teachers.

Mr. Onorevole and his class in action.

A classroom scene was set up with desks and blackboards at the front of the Little Theatre; and the student-teacher relationship came across quite readily, with the eyes of P.S.C. students staring fixedly.

We have very few chances to observe children in a classroom situation and it really was too bad that the bulk of Paterson State's student body were not present. The Little Theatre, however, proved too little for the number of students who did come, both legally and illegally.

S.G.A. REPORTER

Louis Piccinino

The objective of this column is to bring to the reader the reasons behind the actions taken by your Student Government Association. Perhaps, when some of the reasons are known, the endless complaining of the uninformed ones will cease.

The S.G.A. is currently investigating the parking situation on campus. A motion was made and passed to send a letter to the administration calling their attention to our problem. Through action of this type, and not by rash and demanding statements, we will reach the solution to our problems in a shorter space of time. Not only will we reach them in less time, but we will reach them in a manner expected of future educators.

Your S.G.A. has voted favorably on a motion to charge fifty cents per ticket for the bus trip to the boat on Schaefer playground. This was done to cover a debt of $385.00 over the allotted social committee budget for this year. Last year, your social committee had to pay for unused buses, when a good portion of the student body decided to use their cars for the trip to the boat. The student council, by charging the half dollar fare, can insure ordering the correct number of buses, and not have to pay for unused buses. This year the social committee has hired a better boat and promises a more enjoyable day. Once more, the appalling lack of interested students at the meeting, was evident to this reporter. The responsibility of the whole student body is resting upon a very small minority. This is not the desire of the executive council or the few interested students on hand. Are the students at P.S.C. interested or interesting students?

Once more the plea goes out to all students: Attend the Meeting.

Getting back to the business of the meeting, President Dudek informed those club representatives present about the correct place for the hanging of posters. The rule is short and simple. No poster shall be hung on plaster walls in any building. Those posters that are not placed correctly will be taken down.

A new system of section representatives has now been developed. The need is great and immediate.

Following is a list of classes in which section representatives will be elected. This is to insure a complete coverage of the student body.

We, The Freshmen

By Joan Kakasick and Al Arth

Hi Everybody!

Now we freshmen have a column all about ourselves and our activities. We the authors plan to write all about You and the things You are interested in. We hope to write news about social activities, to develop a strong class spirit, and to give a broad idea about the things which are happening on campus that concern all of us.

F-E-A-H Team!

Our class has four girls on the cheering squad and two alternates. Eighteen year old Violet Clurciu is in the general elementary course and comes from Hackensack. Blue eyes, dancing, cheering, swimming, good movies and Tony Curtis are among her "likes", while gossipers, jealous people, false friends and boys who aren't punctual for a date are on her "nix" list. Violet, who is five feet one and has long dark hair and hazel eyes, considers everyone she's met a pal. Her experience as a cheerleader goes back to junior and senior years at Hackensack High. However, she is greatly disappointed in the lack of spirit at Paterson. "We have a good team and we should support it."

Has brown eyes, a brown pony tail, is five foot two, and age seventeen is a partial description of Fran Dinino, who hails from Clifton. "K.P." is the course of this Miss who likes life, love and luxury, but who doesn't care for morning hikes from the second parking lot to class. Her best friends are Sonia Bidnik, Lois Kromka, Betsy Collins and girls from Montclair and Glassboro State.

Another regular member of the squad is Judy Melchiorre who "likes everyone". She is eighteen, five foot two, has short dark brown hair and flashing brown eyes. Her dislikes include: lima beans, unfriendly people and two-timers, but cheering, dancing, tall boys with light hair and Frank Sinatra rate high for her. "Your team and cheerleaders need more support," is the comment made by Judy who is also from Hackensack.

High school cheerleading has been the previous experience of Lois Susan Scufflo, the eighteen year old P.S.C. cheerleader. Lois commented that more support and spirit for school activities is needed. This G.E. major likes swimming, dancing, cheering and exciting people, but dislikes "flubbers" and "batty Poopers". When asked who her best pals were, she exclaimed "Lov Ya All", while her merry brown eyes twinkled and flashed.

Blonde and blue eyed Carolae Dood hails from Wayne and is five foot three and one half inches. She is eighteen and in the K-P course. Carolae is an alternate whose friends include T. DeFeo, J. Murray, and J. Quackenbush. Music, dancing and sports are her favorite activities. Conquered people rate low with her.

Elizabeth Ann Thompson, or "Boots" as she is often called, considers everyone her friend. Boots is five one, has light brown hair, brown eyes and comes from Passaic. Her previous experience as a cheerleader began in the eighth grade and continued until the twelfth grade. Bob Eshak, sports, dancing, movies, and music are to her liking, but snow on campus is a definite dislike.

The Way The Tide Turns

There have been some very odd things said concerning the other class officers. Are they merely "figure heads" as they have been called?

The sophomore Coronation Dance is a wonderful bolster to school spirit. It has incited much enthusiasm and concern of the student body.

Looking Ahead

A few freshmen who are looking ahead to summertime and a summer course in Botany at Stokes Forest are Judy Weber, Pete Chabora, Henry Edaehauser, Richard Hodgins, George Kudak, Carole Koska, Nancy Callinane, Joseph Sallard and Margaret Weiss. This extra course will give them three credits and lots of fun.

THE SPINNER

I realize that we are living in a civilization which is pretty rapidly paced, but now it appears that one week with the same person constitutes a "First Anniversary." Conductor! Lemme off this train! But back on earth, there have been some really good releases recently from the wax works on Tin Pan Alley. (Now there's an old-timer's term, if there ever was one.) Among the better ones making the current rounds is Duane Eddy's "Lonely One." This song needs no lyric to tell its tale. The plaintive tonal quality of the guitar speaks quite eloquently for itself. It would appear that the trend toward those wonderful sacro-iliac breakers from south of the border has shifted its emphasis from Cha-Cha to the old standby, La Conga. Danny Davis made so big a hit with the "Trumpet Cha Cha Cha" that he's on the racks now with the "Trumpet Conga". But the Cha Cha is anything but dead. There will always be old songs that can be untemped, such as "In A Little Spanish Town," etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseam. Patrick of the Boonican must have gotten carried away with all that fresh air and purity publicity he's been getting. If ever a man has seen his true love with "The Wind and the Rain" in her hair, he'll know how depressing the whole idea can be. And I'll bet that there aren't too many girls on campus right now who's jump at the chance to get soaked and ventilated before a big date. Pat Boone or no! One of the I-tore-my-heart-out-and-you-didn't-even-noticek set is worth mentioning. LaVerne Baker's "I Cried a Tear" is good music sung by a very, very good vocalist.

Movies are better than ever? Says who? When I was a kid, a horror picture was starring one of three friends of mine playing the same role again and again, time after time. Frankenstein was Frankenstein, Dracula was Dracula, and my favorite buddy, the Mummy, was always the Mummy. We kids got to know them pretty well, and we learned to love 'em. In a flick I caught this week, I sat through an onslaught of winged demons looking like flying locomotives with two heads and yellow legs, a Cyclops who thrived on people, a dragon of no mean proportions, and people who were regrettably shrunk to thumb-nail-squash size. "The Seventh Voyage of Sinbad" was so bad!

The eternal battle between Allen and Sullivan is really paying off in dividends to viewers this season. Both shows have displayed such talent from their Sunday night showcases that this poor viewer is confused as to where to place the dial. I jiggle frantically from one to the other, like the poor sap in this month's MAD magazine, and what happens to said sap happens to this sap. Dasler going to settle for whatever Dinah shows immediately following the rat-race. This gal, persistent in her niceness, could turn a heart to melted butter. She projects such a companionable personality that a viewer just can't help sitting back and letting the hour take him wherever it will. It always struck me as funny that so popular a gal, with so great a voice (she's always in the Top Ten Awards as the TV star most easy to get along with, and she's usually recognized for her beautiful wardrobe, too) has been without a really big smash record for so long. C'est la vie, I guess.

New York has never enjoyed a greater season since the one four years ago which brought My Fair Lady to town. Archibald MacLellan's J.B. is sold out through next September. Gwen Verdon in Bedhead is about as easy to get to see as an Eskimo's bellybutton. Helen Hayes' Touch of the Poet is sold far into the future, and it's the same all over town. Tall Story, starring Jack Paar's buddy, Hans Conried, is available, but not very much so. I would advise getting to the lobby around 6 P.M. and just hanging on for cancellations. It's nice to be able to report on so many shows well, but it would be nicer to be able to tell you which shows you could get in to see, were you of a mind to do so.

The column is still available for contributions to the Freebies Department. Your reporter has run out of them for this issue, but with your information, I should have a couple for next issue.

There's big elegance coming to P.S.C. this month in the form of the Coronation Ball. It's the on-campus affair of the year, so I guess I'll see you there.

Profiles . . .

By Carol Tenabruso

Betty Urban

Jim Earnshaw

A sophomore enrolled in the General Elementary Course Betty has been chosen as one of the two female representatives to the Eastern States Delegate Conference. Betty lives in Wayne and was a secretary at Curtis Wright after graduating from Passaic High.

Her main outside activity is a Brownie Troop in Mountain View, and she enjoys ice skating, swimming, and tennis.

This blue eyed, blonde is active as S.G.A. secretary, and as a member of the Constitutional Revision and C.O.G. committees.

When asked how she felt about being one of those chosen to represent Paterson State, Betty replied, "I'm very thrilled, and I hope I make a good representative."

The Alumni Scholarship which is awarded on the basis of marks, financial need and potential as a teacher was awarded to Jim Earnshaw, a junior, who majored in Paterson.

While at State, Jim has been an S.G.A. Representative, President of the Philosophy Club, and a member of Alpha Beta Gamma, the International Relations Club, Citizenship Club, State Beacon, and the Carnival Committee.

When not concentrating on school, Jim enjoys hunting, fishing, sports and collecting stamps.

"I'm grateful and will try to justify their faith in my ability with future accomplishments," answered Jim, when asked how he felt about the honor bestowed upon him.

The Pen is Mightier Than The Smooch

Back in my courting days (the remembrance was all the rage, everybody was singing "Good Morning," "Miserable Zip Zip Zip"), and young Bonaparte had just left Corsica, back I say, in my courting days, the standard way to melt a girl's heart was to write poetry to her.

I don't understand why young men today have abandoned this gambit. There is nothing like poetry for moving a difficult girl. What's more poems are ridiculously easy to write. The range of subjects is endless. You can write a poem about a girl's hair, her eyes, her lips, her walk, her talk, her clothes — anything at all. Indeed, one of my most effective love lyrics was called "To Mandi's Pencil Box". It went like this:

In your dear little leatherette pencil box
Are pencils of yellow and red,
And if you don't tell me you love me soon,
I'll hit you on top of the head.

Honesty compels me to admit that this poem fell short of success. Nothing daunted, I wrote another one. This time I pulled a switch: I threatened myself instead of Mandi.

Oh, Mandi, pray stop this drive!
And tell me you'll be mine,
For my sweetbreads they do shrivel,
And wind around my spine.

My heart dark cease its beating,
My spleen uncoils and warps,
My liver stops secreting,
Soon I needs be a corpse.

Club Compartment

by Gale Andrus

January 17 the Student Education Association sponsored the Northern Jersey Regional Conference which the members subtitled, "The Teacher in Society." Beverly Tanis, the club's president, was conference chairman. The program consisted of two general sessions. The first session opened with a welcome by Dr. Shea. Following this Dr. Kenneth B. White and Miss Ruth E. Kane, advisor to SEA spoke. Mariona Reed, who is Associate Editor of the N.J.E.A. review, was guest speaker and gave the keynote address.

Following lunch, several workshops met. Each workshop had a faculty advisor and student chairman. They were as follows: Preparing to Teach — chairman, Diane Cerame, consultant, Miss Emily Greenaway; Teaching and You — chairman, Judy Marsh, consultant, Dr. Sidney B. Simon; The Teacher in the Community — chairman, Dolores Smith, consultant, Dr. Roy Austin; The Teacher in the School — chairman, Beverly Tanis, consultant, Miss Alice Meeker; The Teacher in Russia and Other European Countries — chairman, Elaine Mura, consultants Miss Ruth Kane; Looking Ahead in Teacher Education — chairman, Lois Troest, consultant, Dr. James Houston.

The second general session consisted of a summary of the days activities by Dolores Smith. Members of the SEA club are now making plans for a book sale which will be held at the end of April. Proceeds from the books which are being collected from the professors will go towards the SEA scholarship for some qualified student.

Clubship Club

At the present time, the Citizenship Club is busy planning their spring activities. They include organizing the Ugly Man Contest, the Annual Orphanage Picnic, preparing for the Carnival, and trying to foster a blood drive.

Any fellow on the campus desiring to run for the Ugly Man Contest may do so. One penny will buy one vote. The proceeds from the contest will be used for the refreshments at the orphan's picnic. Janice Hoogerbeete is chairman of this activity.

The Annual Orphanage Picnic will take place on campus some Friday in May. The children will be provided with a waltzer, roasts, and recreation activities for the afternoon. Wilma Struck is chairman of this picnic.

Doris Knibbe, the club's carnival representative, predicts that they will have the same booth they have had for the last two years. It seems as if all the students enjoy throwing sponges.

The members are also in the process of organizing a blood drive. They feel as if this is vitally important for a campus this size. If the idea is approved more information will be offered as soon as possible.

International Relations Club

During the fourth week of February the IRC members had an interesting program centered around the theme of "Prejudice." They are also hoping for a trip to the United Nations and to the Friendship House at Columbia. All-out efforts will be focused on the May Carnival. Regular meetings of the club are held on the first an third Thursday of

SPOTLIGHTING

Kenneth Wolf

This is Coach Kenneth "Ken" Wolf's third year at Paterson State. Last year his Pioneers had an 11 and 11 record for a mediocre season, and a second place in the final standings of the New Jersey College Athletic Conference.

At present Ken is assistant professor of health and physical education.

His academic background includes a B.S. degree with a major in physical education from the School of Education of New York University. While holder of a graduate fellowship in the Center for Safety Education at NYU, Ken studied for an M.A. in Safety Education with a minor in physical education which he received in February 1953.

Ken began his teaching career in the New York City Public Schools. From there he moved to North Plainfield High School, and following that, he taught for two years at South Plainfield High School.

Gabe Vitalone

This is Gabriel Vitalone's second year at Paterson State as associate professor of health and physical education and assistant coach.

Gabe's experience has been on both the public school and college levels. For three years after receiving his M. Ed. from Springfield College, he was Director of Athletics and football and basketball coach at Delaware University, Halifax, N.S.

After his graduation from Fordham University in 1943, Gabe entered the U.S. Army. He was honorably discharged in 1945 as a First Lieutenant, Infantry. He then began his graduate work at Springfield. Gabe's public school experience was obtained in Yonkers and White Plains, N. Y. He comes to Paterson State from the staff of the Ridgeway Elementary School in White Plains. For two summers Gabe was with the Army Field Forces Physical Training School, Fort Bagg, N. C.

Bowling News

The Eastern Collegiate Bowling Congress Association started play in October of 1958 with 25 college teams participating. After having completed 51 games, Paterson state holds down 24 place.

The stiff competition of the other eastern schools mixed with the league inexperience of our own pinsters has hampered any advancement by the team. Plenty of hustle and willingness to win has earned the Paterson squad the respect of the other teams.

Representing the Pioneers are: Captain George Gruytch, Dave Tilton, Bob Linz, Joe Swann, Lou Ghesspi, Ray Vibla, Chuck Kugelmeier, and Mike Di Berardino.

Fine games of 210, 203, 188, and 179 have been rolled by Ray Vibla, Chuck Kugelmeier, Bob Linz, and Dave Tilton respectively.

Leave It To The Girls

By Sandy DiGiamo

On Thursday, February 5, Paterson's W.R.A. basketball group visited Newark State College. There were two teams provided by each school. Our A team was defeated by Newark's opposing team 29 to 27, while our B team defeated their B team 20 to 18. Both of these games, as the scores show, were very close. The score was tied on and off throughout the game. At no time during the games was any team leading by more than 3 baskets.

The tables were reversed when Newark visited our courts on the following Tuesday, February 10. Paterson's A team defeated Newark's team 45 to 15, while our B team was defeated 22 to 17.

Our next playdays are scheduled with Douglass on February 19, at Paterson, and again on March 5 at Douglass. We also have a playday scheduled with Shelton College on March 10, and one with Caldwell College on the 11th of March.

Our bowling group did very well against N.Y.U. at the playday held on Saturday, February 7, at Wayne Country Club. There were five girls participating from Paterson. They were: Lonetta Gerken, Mildred Rice, Anne Quimby, Claire Trotter, and Carole Koske. Three games were played and the girls won the second, but lost the first and third by very close margins.

The Modern Dance Group will start sessions Thursday, February 12 at 1:30 directed by Mrs. Harris. Those men and women who are particularly interested in the Creative Dance Group are advised to attend the first class in order to establish a convenient time to meet.

They are preparing a short program of dances to be presented at the State College Dance Symposium in Union City.

Charles Weidman, one of the great modern dancers of our time will teach the master class. This is an unusual opportunity to learn something of significance about modern dance and coordinate it with our own program here at the college.

Sports on Parade

by Ron Currie

One more year of hard driving lay ups, long set shots, jump shots, and that old nemesis, the foul shot, is over. The Pioneer squad finished up with a fair to middlin' season which wasn't too bad considering the quality of the opposition, and the relative varsity inexperience of a majority of the team. Bad breaks at the foul line in the beginning of the season as evidenced in the Upsala game, and then the inability of the ball to fall through the hoop in the waning seconds of the latter contests, as shown in those two heart breakers with Glassboro and Trenton, were major factors for the double numbers in the loss column.

But enough said for the past, for Coach Wolf has the whole team returning next season with the exception of Fred Aug who will be graduating this June.

That's all! Things look good for next year.

Random Notes: Baseball tryouts begin on March 1 in Memorial Gym. Every male interested is welcome.

I understood two or three varsity ballplayers on last year's squad won't participate this season. Nothing definite.

The Bowling Team is looking for an experienced league bowler with an average in the 160's. Contact Captain George Gruytch.

Nobody is there to stop Trenton's Bill Ritchie as he takes a jump shot late in the last quarter.

Paterson Nipped By Glassboro 67-60

Paterson State's rally, with one minute left in the game, fell short as the Pioneers saw the Glassboro Profs rack up seven straight points to break a tie and clinch the verdict 67-60 in Memorial Gym on February 13.

Paterson now has five losses to go with two wins in league play while Glassboro, the conference leaders sport a 6-1 record.

Richie Adubato's one hander broke the ice and put the Pioneers in front 5-0 in the early minutes of the game. From then on it was a see-saw battle with Paterson maintaining a slight edge. With fifty-six seconds remaining in the first half, Glassboro came through to tie the score 31-31. Mike Mugno's two field goals in the closing seconds, however, made the difference as Paterson stayed in front 35-31.

Glassboro in the second half showed the upper hand as they took the lead through the combined efforts of Al Kapczynski and Joe Magosin. It wasn't until the closing minutes that Paterson led by Fred Henry came surging back. Henry had eight of the Pioneers' last ten points and knotted the score 60 all with 1:26 minutes remaining in the contest. His efforts were in vain however, as the Profs then broke away, canning seven straight points to eke out the decision.

Rich Adubato and Fred Henry had 14 and 13 points respectively while Joe Magosin and Al Kapczynski took over all scoring honors with 46 points between them.

Trenton State took the Pioneer Five over the hurdles here on Feb. 15 as they eked out a 7-7 victory. This setback gives the hometown a 6-2 record in the league.

With four minutes gone in the game, a jump shot by Cliff Knapp gave the Pioneers an 8-6 edge, but the Trenton boys were not to be outdone, for at the halftime a set shot by John Madoras gave the visitors a 33-31 advantage.

The second half opened with Paterson rying up the score 33-33, but the visitors slowly took command until they secured a permanent lead 42-40 with two foul shots by Jack Panfen.

Panfen was high for Trenton with 22 points, while Ted Salomon dumped 20 and Bill Wagner and Bill Ritchie added 15 each.

For Paterson Fred Henry was high with 20 points, while Cliff Knapp and Rich Adubato added 10 and 12 respectively.
