Antics Highlight Kangaroo Court

"Hear ye, hear ye, hear ye. Kangaroo Court, presided over by the honorable judge Jack Juliano, is now in session. Please be seated."

So began a fun filled hour enjoyed by freshmen and upper-classmen alike.

The skit, written by soph George Smith and assisted by Hank Baron, was a satire of court procedure in which the freshmen on trial had their choice between guilty or not innocent.

The bailiff, Jim Barton, called the first defendant Joe Ferandino who was escorted before the judge by two policewomen, Pat Sharky and Anita Tafaletto. The prosecuting attorney, Rich Garofalo, called his first witnesses — a pig farmer and his wife, portrayed by Dominic Bocella and Ina Cohn. Mike Fitzpatrick, the District Attorney, attempted to cross-examine the witnesses but finally succumbed to the most unfragrant aroma of pigs. Needless to say Joe was convicted by the biased jury and received his due sentence.

The jury of 11 sophomore girls, headed by foreman Bob Blumintol, hearing the testimonies of Ray Viola and Linda Korek, found the remaining freshman defendants Willie McTighe, Lorri Lowry, Pat Jordan also guilty as charged. After hearing the verdict, the convicted freshmen showed their sportsmanship by carrying out their sentences with a smile.

Splish Splash!

FRESHMAN INVADE PATERSON CAMPUS

The largest Freshman Class ever to enter Paterson State College — 494 students — has been on campus for almost a month now. Many of the upper classmen already have come to know some of these freshmen individually, but a general picture of the Class of '63, showing their high school and family backgrounds, will help us know them even better.

The new freshmen have won many honors in their high school careers. Most are from the top half of their high school graduating classes. Five of them are Boys or Girls' Sisters. Nine of them were newspaper or yearbook editors. Seven have won prizes as outstanding citizens of their schools. Forty-two were class or organization presidents while thirty held minor elective offices in their classes or clubs. Nine were captains of the cheerleader, twirlers, or color guards of their high schools. Seven boys were captains of sports teams. One girl is a Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The family background of the frosh is just as interesting. Over half come from homes where fathers and mothers have not graduated from high school. Only 44 have fathers who have graduated from college, and 18 have mothers who are college graduates (three from P.S.C.). One member has a mother who is a member of this year's senior class. Fifteen have parents who are teachers. One parent is a superintendent of schools, one a college professor; two M.D.'s.

All in all, the Class of '63 is in the words of Dr. Leon C. Wood, Director of Admissions, "one that conforms to a pattern of intellectual, character, and motivation that Paterson State is now expecting of those who enroll" and has, in Dr. Wood's estimation, "one of the highest potential" of any entering class he has seen.

STUDENTS PLAN SHOW

"The Fabulous Fifties" theme of the All Student College Revue will have its only performance on October 27 at 8 P.M. in the Memorial Gymnasium. This revue presented by C.O.G. is an original musical comedy in six scenes.

Joel Glazer directs the revue which will highlight songs, personalities, scenes from Broadway plays, and other well known aspects of the past decade.

The six scene directors assisting Joel are George Del Monte, Chad Martin, Rickie Lancaster, Robert Pante, Laurie Korry, and Sharon Perlman. The Stage Committee headed by Ron Johnson and the Publicity Committee headed by Carol Tenebruso have started their plans.

Tickets may be purchased with an S.G.A. card for $1.00. Look for further notices.

John Mason Brown
JOHN MASON BROWN
TO SPEAK AT STATE

John Mason Brown, the most popular figure of the entire lecture world, will speak to the students of Paterson State College on October 13, 1959 in Memorial Gymnasium. His lecture topic will be "Seeing Things."

Mr. Brown, who was born in Louisville, Kentucky, is well-known as an author and critic as well as a lecturer.

He has been a drama critic for the New York Evening Post and in 1944 he was an Editor of Saturday Review and the New York World Telegram. He has been frequently on television throughout the years and is currently a permanent panelist on TV's "The Last Word."

Mr. Brown has written such books as Seeing Things, To All Hands, and Two on the Aisle.

Brooks Atkinson, in the New York Times, echoed the sentiments of John Mason Brown's most fervent admirers when he wrote: "Mr. Brown is a prodigiously learned man who has apparently read everything, seen everything, and forgotten nothing."

Queen To Be Chosen

"Guest Day", October 13, 1959, between the hours of 1:30 and 4:00 P.M. will officially begin College Week at Paterson State College.

Governor Robert B. Meyner has proclaimed College Week as "Come To College Week." A program of demonstrations, exhibits, and guided tours of the campus will be given for parents, students, and friends who attend. Guests are invited to visit the college all during the week.

College Week will end on Saturday, October 24, when with the approval of the S.G.A. a College Bond Dance will be held and a College Bond Queen will be selected. The girl who is chosen queen will compete with other college bond queens for the title of New Jersey State College Bond Queen.

State Scholarships

This year 39 of our new entering freshmen have received State Scholarships. Five other state scholarships were presented to February '59 freshmen.

The students who received these scholarship awards have satisfied all entrance requirements at the college, and have qualified in an open competitive competition for the scholarships. These awards have been made on recommendation of Dr. Marion Shea, college president.

State Scholarships pay full tuition for award winning students. If the student maintains a satisfactory record, the student may hold it throughout his four year study at the college.

The five February '59 students who received scholarship awards were: George Chieco, Francine Jacobs, Judith Ann Pelko, Elaine Surwyker, and Violet Ciriculu.

The thirty-nine September '59 award winners were: Virginia Bely, Carolyn Becker, Victoria Birga, Barbara Bosland, Giovanna Cipolla, Marquerite Crede, Jo Anne Dill, Kathleen Driscoll, Patricia Dunne, Jane Earl, Pauline Flynn, Camille Hannan, Mary Anne Hascup, Agnes Herlihy, Judy Komorowski, Roseann Levy, Loren Lowry, Antonette Marengelli, Jane Millsop, Judith Openhym, Janice Patten, Beverly Point, Beverly Radzai, Lois Ripatranone, Barbara Rogers, Carol Rossi, Elin Rowlee, Elizabeth Runfeldt, Barbara Ryaby, Carole Selata, Lorna Stefanco, Anna Taube, Wilma Savognani, Antiope Scandola, Marie Scrofini, Carolisco, Iris M. Sonon, Irene Walmsley, and Rita Williams.

Welcome Dance Attracts Crowd

Before a crowd of six-hundred consisting of faculty and students, Willie Van Gleason and Irene Walmsley were crowned King and Queen of hazing. The crowning took place at the Freshmen Welcome Dance presented by the Sophomore class.

Mary Ann Neglio and George Smith, last year's King and Queen, announced the winners and presented the new queen with a bouquet of roses. The Prince and Princess of Kangaroo Court, Bob Dunn and Elaine Kareek, were crowned on Thursday, September 24, 1959, in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Decorations consisted of autumn colored streamers and signs put up by the various clubs on campus. Music for the affair was provided by Joe Swizo and his band.

Work Scholarships

There are still work scholarships available for students who wish to work for their tuition. Before a student applies, he should know that his accumulative grade point average is above that which he will need at the end of the current year.

STATE BEACON POLICY

As we embark on another year of publication, the editors of the STATE BEACON wish to make our position clear. This is for the benefit of the freshmen, as well as for the upper-classmen, faculty, and administration.

One of our purposes as stated in Article II of the STATE BEACON Constitution is to print and circulate information which we believe to be of interest to the students. This we do to the best of our ability.

We try to cover topics that are prevalent in the minds of the majority of the students. We must say majority because the STATE BEACON belongs to the college as a whole and not a small group.

This does not mean that the STATE BEACON does not care what the individual or small group thinks. We are very interested, and we are sure that the rest of the people associated with Paterson State would like to know what you think.

With this thought in mind, we invite you to write letters to the editor. In this way the STATE BEACON, the faculty, and the administration will know how the students react to certain events, situations, and practices.

Another point that we wish to explain is the use of by-lines on columns and stories.

The editorial board is responsible for the contents of each issue of the STATE BEACON. Members of this board are allowed to air their views on interesting topics in the editorial column only.

Therefore, when you see a by-line on a column or story it means that the opinions stated are not necessarily those of the editors.

Now that these two points have been explained, we hope that no misunderstanding or misinterpretations will be made.

Remember those letters to the editor!

SNACK BAR?

When we left Paterson State in June, exciting plans were being made for new building and for the renovation of buildings already on campus.

One of the buildings we anticipated eagerly was the housing of a snack bar in the temporary building located near the cafeteria.

The idea of the snack bar was for students to have a place to eat after the cafe closed.

We returned this year to find our snack bar ready and waiting for us. It was outfitted with several beverage machines, a coke machine, a candy machine and an ice cream machine. Is our snack bar fulfilling its purpose?

Unless a person brings a sandwich from home, he is unable to get anything that even resembles a balanced meal. Where is the sandwich machine that was promised for the snack bar?

Another bad point is the horrible coffee. Do we really have to put up with this?

These existing conditions are driving Paterson State students to leave campus to eat.

Is this what we want? Is this the real purpose of our new "snack bar"?

S.G.A. REPORTER

By Lou Piccininno

New term, new constitution, new faces, but the same greeting goes out once again. Hello!

The enthusiasm shown by the council during the first meeting promises as an excellent year. Perhaps, we will get some of the answers we have long awaited, and cease to get the "RTN-around."

President Chad Martin and Vice-President Ken Hayden assure decorum during the meetings. To avoid the chaos that took place September 29, in regards to student meetings, this council will obtain and publish a complete schedule of all future meetings in the next issue. This includes S.G.A. council, section, and class meetings. You, the Student Body, showed your interest, last term, when you passed the new constitution. If you do not continue to show this interest the S.G.A. cannot function successfully. Do your complaining to the council, not on the lawn or in our new "mechanized" snack bar.

In the next issue I hope to have some specific information to report. Hope to see you at the meetings.

Education Annals

by Ellen Moore

"Cheaper by the dozen" — the University of Portland (Ore.) has encouraged making education a family endeavor. Tuition is determined by the fact that you may have a brother or sister attending. The tuition for the family's first student — $680, $440 for the second person attending at the same time, $220 for a third — nothing for any other members who follow.

Bringing the community into the class and using the skills of members of the community has resulted in a directory of citizen volunteers in Lexington, Mass. The League of Women Voters mailed out 6800 appeals to residents. The results were astounding. The school will have at its disposal experts on ancient history in regard to the Dead Sea Scrolls, teachers from the Arctic to Americana, chemists, bacteriologists, and an M.I.T. professor of sculpture. Guest lectures are being arranged so that the children will receive authentic, first-hand information, and experiences of experts.

The swing from professional schools to liberal arts colleges affects many professions. The leading companies, Palmolive-Peat, Westinghouse, etc., pick their salesmen from the ranks of the top ten of each graduating class of liberal arts colleges. West Virginia began certifying teachers on the basis of exams instead of courses. A discovery was made that only 20% of elementary teachers and 17% of high school teachers are from teachers' level. The need for teachers is so great that theoretically speaking 1 3 to 1 2 the next generation's graduates should become teachers.

One question — If a teacher is professionally a specialist as is a doctor, should he be trained as a specialist? Would we accept any liberally — trained person to treat our aches-and-pains?

COLLEGE BOND

Sports Whirl

by George Kazmier

On behalf of the BEACON Sports Staff, may I extend a warm welcome to all our readers as we embark on another busy school year.

The most important item on our agenda is an expression of gratitude to our very successful baseball team, which finished their regular season with an 18 won and 1 lost record. Though they were defeated in their first attempt at post-season honors in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics baseball tournament at Alpine, Texas, they received many compliments from rival coaches and players for the fine sportsmanship they displayed throughout the tournament and also for the courageous come-from-behind effort against Arkansas State. Congratulations are in order for John Jaccione, slugging centerfielder, who set a new but temporary N.A.I.A. record as he batted six teammates across the plate against Arkansas State. This record later was broken by an Omaha player in the final game of the tournament.

Food For Thought

Would it not be a good idea to include on the school calendar, sometime late in the spring session, an Athletic Dinner at which all athletes and cheerleaders would receive their varsity awards? One possibility to off-set the cost of such an affair would be the sale of tickets to Alumni and all other interested parties, e.g., businessmen, students. The new proceeds from this affair could then be turned over to the C.O.G. Fund.

P.S.C. Sports Expansion

With the expansion of the Pioneers' sports program, perhaps, it is ideal to devote a little space to this topic for the benefit of our new students, both freshmen and transfers. For the men on the varsity level, there are cross country, soccer, bowling, basketball, baseball, and fencing. For the women, there is one major sport, fencing. In due respect, it should be mentioned that our female fencers have been the National Intercollegiate Champions for the last two years. These varsity sports, plus a wide-range of intra-mural activities offered by both the Women's Recreation Association (W.R.A.) and the Men's Athletic Association (M.A.A.), add up to a very eventful school year.

HIGHLIGHTS OF P.S.C. SPORTS

Pioneers Make Debut on Soccer Field

by George Smith

Soccer, as a major sport, made its varsity debut on the intercollegiate level on September 29 at Kings College.

The newest addition to the ever-growing varsity athletic sports program at Paterson State is being coached by Dr. James Houston.

The Pioneer coach, who has been teaching in the Education Department for six years, played and coached soccer before coming to Paterson State.

Although the team has only three experienced players on the 25-man squad, Dr. Houston is completely satisfied with several new additions on the team who have made rapid progress.

In early season scrimmages Cliff Knapp, alternate field captain, has made great improvements, and Bill Fleming's hustle in the fullback position has heightened the hopes for the Pioneer squad.

If there are other interested men, either experienced or new, there is a standing invitation from the coach to join the squad which has room for about eight more men.

Bowling Highlights

The prospects for a winning season for the Pioneer Varsity Bowling team are very good. With the breaking down of the former 25 team B.I.S.C. into three separate divisions, P.S.C. will now bowl against a formidable array of New Jersey schools which will include Upsala; Rutgers; N.C.E.; Fairleigh Dickinson; Seton Hall University; St. Peter's; Montclair State; Jersey City State; and Stevens Institute.

Their first competition was against Montclair State, Mike Di Berardino, Bill Cliff, Ron Johnson, Ray Viola, Bob De Blasi, John Cooper, and George Radzinski were in the starting lineup. The Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference is a member of the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, a Division of the N.A.I.A. The conference will run for 28 weeks and then a play off will ensue between the separate division winners with the emerging victor declared the overall conference champion. George Grunberg is the student advisor of the team which will bowl on Saturdays at 2 p.m. at the new Parkway Lanes in East Paterson.

Cross-Country Tryouts

Coach Sabe Vialone has announced that tryouts for the P.S.C. Cross-Country Team are being held. With 6 meets scheduled, the squad presently has 8 men and is in dire need of additional personnel. The Pioneers first meet is scheduled for October 10. Anyone interested may contact Coach Vialone in the gymnasium office.

Swordsmen's Prospects Outstanding

The team is looking forward to a winning season, as it enters its first year of intercollegiate competition. Last season, which consisted of scrimmages, the men's team posted a record of 5-1.

There are eight veterans returning to Coach Miller's squad. Juniors are: Lou Piccinino, Charlie Helwig, and Captain Pat Devlin. Sophomores include: Jim Johnston, Jim Swain, Al Arth, Eddie Minnes, and Manager Chuck Roth. Twelve future Musketeers signed up at the pre-practice meeting, bringing the grand total to twenty. Practice will be held every Tuesday throughout the season.

The team is happy to welcome Mr. Wright of the Science Department as Faculty Advisor.

Anyone interested in joining the team can do so by coming at any time to one of the practices. REMEMBER: YOU TOO CAN BECOME A ZORRO.

Basketball Potential High

With their first conference basketball game under their belts, the championship fever has struck the Paterson State Campus. Coach Ken Wolfe's Basketball Squad who lost only one man through graduation will have nine returning lettermen and a valuable addition to the squad in '64 Adrian Christ, transfer student from Rhode Island University who averaged 21 points a game and also holds the scoring record of 44 points in a single game.

Veterans include Fred Henry 6'6", Jack Moran 6'7", Tom Strout 6'7", Art Brown 6'7", Joe Wierling 6'7", Armand Palumbo 6'7", Cliff Knapp 6'7", Ray Casper 6'7", Rich Addair 6'11" and Mike Mugno 6'8", the smallest man but one of the most dangerous outside shots on the squad. Varsity practices start on October 13, which is also the day scheduled for N.J. tryouts. Coach Wolfe's boys will be seeking to extend a winning streak of 5 straight from last year into a formidable win and lost record and another championship for Paterson State College.

N.J.S.C. Trophy

Coach Ken Wolf, pictured above, holds the trophy received from the N.J. State Conference in recognition of Paterson State's victorious baseball campaign. The Pioneers won 18 straight ball games, and were undefeated in the State Conference. Coach Wolf is pictured in front of the baseball display in Hunziker Hall, which features highlights of last season and includes a tribute to Jake Reysen, who pitched the only no-hitter. If you have not yet visited this display, it is something that should in the history of Paterson State, not be overlooked.

Introducing...

Charles G. DeShaw, Ed. D.

An addition to our Physical Education Department is C. G. DeShaw who assumes the dual responsibility of chairman of the Department and director of athletics. Dr. DeShaw, a native New Yorker, whose intention is to reside in Pines Lake with the completion of his home there, comes to Paterson State College from East Carolina College in Greenville, North Carolina, where he was a student teacher of Physical Education. He received his Masters in Education at the University of Buffalo and his Doctorate in Education at New York University.

In an interview with Dr. DeShaw it was learned that he will not coach any of the varsity sports, but as chairman of the Department, his main function will be to establish a course schedule in which Physical Education may be taken as a minor curriculum. May we extend to the doctor a hearty welcome and a long stay at Paterson State College.

Opening On Cheering Squad

Captain Patty Wahl of the Pioneer Cheering Squad, has announced that there is one alternate opening on the cheerleading squad. Tryouts for this position will be announced shortly. Any girls interested can receive more information by contacting Miss Wahl or the faculty advisor, Mrs. Wolf.

Dorothy Pohlman

"Dorrie" as she is referred to by the many friends she has acquired with her dynamic smile and cheery "Hi," is perhaps one of the prime examples of Coach Ray Miller's talent for making fencers.

When she graduated from Paterson Central where she was a member of the student government and the cheer, she did not realize that fencing was in the near future. Now in her Junior year, Dorrie, a N.Y. major, can look with pride at the many awards behind her which include 1st place medals in both the New York and New Jersey Preps and the 2nd place individual medal at the Intercollegiate Meet. She was one of the leading reasons why P.S.C. retained its women's fencing title in the Intercollegiate competition. Her advance through rugged competition and her charming disposition are a few reasons why this young lass was recently chosen captain of the Women's Fencing team. Proving that athletes go hand in hand with scholastic achievements, Dorrie is also a member of the A Capella choir and of Kappa Delta Pi.

THE SPINNER

I suppose I should start this issue off by saying that I killed most of the Summer in air-conditioned luxury at my neighborhood theatre. Well, I ain't so. Nor did I zip into Manhattan every other night for a smash Broadway show. (The ones that stayed through this miserable Summer were ones I had seen and reviewed long ago.) In moving into my new apartment, I found myself without my phonograph, which Mother promised I would have within the week (that was last June), and my radio conked out on the third night we spent painting the place. Pretty lousy background for writing a column about show business, I admit, and yet it's not so bad as it might appear.

Other people's homes had radios. There were times when I was almost glad to know that when I got back to my place, silence would reign from my voiceless wireless. Such painfully contrived parodies as "Mack the Knife" (theme from Threepenny Opera), "Don't You Know" (Musetta's Waltz from La Bohème), and "I'm Falling in Love With You" (Tchaikovsky's something or other . . . I always mix them up) made silence a treasure. One thing their popularity did prove, however, is that regardless of the garage which hock a now shushes out to the public, underneath it all lies a desire to hear, at least now and then, a melody — real, honest-to-goodness music. As long as the classics can be used to this advantage, I guess there's some grace in their maltreatment.

Dinah Washington, a gal who has been on the Good-People-Side-of-the-List for years, really outdid herself during the Summer with her inimitable waxing of "What A Difference A Day Makes." That was a recording!

I'm almost sure that no one else watched Summertime TV either, so my reactions to it wouldn't mean much anyhow. Suffice it to say that at no time was Summer TV viewing any worse. The kickers were really in full tilt.

Flucker-wise, Little Audrey Hepburn did what she always does when she makes a film: She walked away with all the good words for the day. The Nun's Story is still doing to local bit, and it is really worth a try. By far the funniest picture ever seen by these jading eyes was the Curtis-Monroe-Lemmon farce Some Like It Hot. With the notable exception of Tony Curtis' tacky accent attempt at sounding like Money on Wheels, the thing was a gas. La Monroe, whose flag I've been waving since way back around the Niagara era, came through as a comedienne par excellence. (And those two gowns she wore didn't do her any harm, either.) This one is on the Drive-In circuit, and also worth the oil you'll burn to catch it.

Hope everyone else is looking forward to the new Season on B'way. Somehow or another I managed to snatch two tickets for Sound of Music, the new Mary Martin opus which is already the hottest sale in Town. Leslie (Marrage-Go-Round) Stevens is putting another one up for sale this Season, also. And if you haven't gotten to see Gypsy as yet, it's more than a great show — it's a living memorial to the talents of Ethel Merman. A career filled with greatness is topped in this show by the greatest.

Visits P.S.C. Campus

The Moscow correspondent of the New York Times, Harrison Salisbury, opened the Paterson State Cultural Series Program last night in Memorial Gymnasium.

Mr. Salisbury, one of the limited number of American newsmen to be allowed to visit the Soviet Union and its satellites, toured the U.S.S.R. with Vice-President Nixon. He also accompanied Premier Khrushchev on his recent trip across the United States.

"Russians Reviewed," a series of articles, earned for the Times correspondent the Pulitzer Prize for excellence in foreign reporting in 1954. In the Times, this past September, there appeared another series of articles on Russia by Mr. Salisbury.

At Paterson State College Mr. Salisbury spoke about his recent experiences in the U.S.S.R. and of his experiences on the Nixon and Khrushchev tours.

A FAITHFUL LAMENT

by Mary Hern

What has Los Angeles got that we haven't got? Oranges? Who needs 'em? Freeways? What's the matter with the Brooklyn Bridge? So, how come the Dodgers left us? Imagine never to hear such sweet, loving words as, "We're witcha, Olsk!" Or never to hear the poignant voice of Gladys Gooding singing the national anthem. Or never to be an eye-witness to triple plays, four men on one base, ten runs in the last half of the ninth, a Snider catch, a Furillo throw, or a Hodges put out.

What about that California smog? It's ruining our athletes. That's why they were only tied for first. Good, healthy Brooklyn air is what they need.

It was a crime to take the Burns away from Brooklyn. How could anyone be so cruel? Ebbets Field will never be the same. Why, years from now the kids will never have heard about the hallowed old place with its velvet blanket of yellowed crabgrass, its posts in front of every third seat, and its Burns Shave sign. They'll never hear the soft dulcet tones of a beer-filled announcer. Oh, things haven't been this black since Bobby Thompson came up with the bases loaded in the fateful playoff game.

Maybe someday they'll come back, but until then—

Somewhere the "boids" are singing. Somewhere the children shout. But there's no joy in Brooklyn. The good old Dodgers have slipped out.

ARE WE READY?

by JIM EARNSHAW

We, in a very short time, will be in our own classroom conducting our own class. We have heard this many times in many different ways. We have also been exposed to many ideals, philosophers, and dissertations on teaching. In theory we will be qualified to teach American citizens.

Is it not rudimentary to question what we will be qualified to teach them? If the teaching is to be content-subject-matter teaching, perhaps many of us will assume the role admirably and will be a credit to our profession. However, if the teaching is to go beyond the courses, perse, what then?

With our rapid-rate dynamic-Americanism we have progressed into an Atomic age which moves so swiftly that many things which formerly were reserved for specific institutions must be assumed by others: The government, church and family have either given up or exchanged many of their (supposedly) inherent characteristics. Education, also has changed. The influx of millions of children from every class, background, and future-perspective in society has necessitated education to be in flux.

The job of the family is to develop proper aspirations and character discipline. Extensive monetary accumulation for future material satisfaction. The job of the church is to imprint moral indoctrination founded on the hope of the future beliefs and spiritual guidance. A twice a year deal — except maybe when you have company, or a new hat. The job of education is to prepare a select few for a classical, scholarly vocation. If education does not assume some of the duties of other social groups, who or what will? Many ask.

The main thesis, herein, is not to explain to the teacher that he will have to teach proper goals, aspirations, interests, activities, beliefs, morals and social obligations, attitudes along with math, science, social studies and English, but that he must provide the child with an adequate background of experience, vicarious and direct, so that he may eventually assume the role of an adult citizen in our American democracy.

From the text book this obligation appears to be simple enough: we have a national, federal, and local government, etc., but let us hear the answers to a few of these questions that our children will ask. "We're guaranteed the right to vote at 21. Mr. Teacher, but why can't everyone who is eligible vote?" We can believe what we want, Mr. Teacher, but why are people excluded from many desirable positions among them teaching for having the wrong belief? We have the right to political affiliation, but why is it a crime to affiliate with the wrong party? We have a right to free speech, but why are people locked up for saying the wrong things? We have a free press, but why are books banned? We have laws against discrimination, but a Negro or Puerto Rican can't work or live where any white Protestant can; why is this so, even in New Jersey, Mr. Teacher? We don't support a particular religion, publicly, so why have bible laws, parochial school support, etc.?

Congress can't pass a bill of attainder, but people are put in jail for supporting their constitution, why Mr. Teacher? Why? Why?"

"Why has government grown so big that many people are not only

STATE SQUARE SET

by RON CURRIE

"Swing your partner and dosey-do" is the general type of sound emanating from the Memorial Gym on Thursday nights. The State Square Set is now back in action under the capable leadership of Mr. Herbert Califano, the club's adviser and caller. Square and folk dances from different countries are the most popular types of entertainment.

The purpose of the club is to instruct the interested students in the intricacies of many national folk dances. However, the night usually turns out to be a swinging good time. The club stresses that you need not be experienced or that you know anything about dancing for Mr. Califano is an expert teacher, and when his wife makes an occasional visit an expert demonstration is the order of the night.

If you are really crazy about square dancing you can take a hand at calling a few dances yourself. The fabulous evening usually ends with coffee at the diner.

The highlight of the year is a big picnic, swim, and dancing day at Mr. Califano's home on Pines Lake. On that day the entire club gets together for a whole day of fun. This tops off a year of fun and enjoyment.

Remember, Thursday night is the day, 8:30 p.m. is the time, Memorial Gym is the place. The calls will be coming loud and clear and the club hopes you will be there.

losing direct contact with it, but personal interest, also?"

When the people lose interest in the government, the government loses interest in the people. Is this a part of Social Studies, per se? Maybe, but it's also a part of life — a life we must live in, teach in, and help to improve.

How are we going to help our children fight Madison Avenue? Mental illness, which will strike a great percentage of them? How are we going to help to prepare them for a family — rather than a divorce? How are we going to help to prepare them for life? We must think long and hard, for we will be prepared to teach reality.
