Library Fines Pay Off, Finds PSC's Trainor

With the fall-out from the East Orange bomb on library overdu sEII around, the March 15 LI BRARY. JOURNAL carries an article showing what some of the small New Jersey libraries doing about "Fines, Fees, Overdues." The article, writare and Overdues." ten by Miss Pullette A. Trainor, Librarian and Associate Professor at Paterson State College, and Miss Gladys E. Eckardt, Director of the Rutherford Public Library, treats the subject from the point of view of whether it pays to try to retrieve anything on books, records and other ma-terials which are not returned to libraries.

The authors of the article feel that fines are here to stay for a number of reasons. Librarians as a group, say Miss Trainor and Miss Eckardt, are natural hoarders and cherish their materials, because most small libraries have been carefully and painfully built up. They feel that it is worthwhile trying to retrieve what they can, since books and materials go out of print so quickly that many things cannot be replaced. Besides, mayors and councils are reluctant to give up income from fines.

In order to find out what their colleagues thought on the subject, the two librarians sent questionnaires to the 60 library directors the Bergen-Passaic Library Club and got 100% response - something almost unheard-of. They found that all 60 charged fines for overdues, the amounts varying from 1e to 5e for books, and 1e to 10c for records. Thirtythree of the libraries have a maximum fine, ranging from 50c to $10. There is a great deal of variation in the practice of noi-fying borrowers of overdues ---practically anything goes from first, second, and third notices to telephone reminders.

KAPPA DELTA PI TAPPING ASSEMBLY TO BE APRIL 11

Memorial Gymnasium will again be the scene of the impressive Tapping Assembly held by Zeta Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi on Tuesday, April 11, at 1:30 p.m. This Tapping Assembly, always one of the highlights of the year, is the opportunity taken by your campus chapter of the National Honor Soziety in Education, Kappa Delta

Pl, to invite new members to share with it the honors and benefits which membership in the organization offers. Faculty members of KDP and the student members of Zeta Alpha Chapter appear before the assembly in academic regalia while a brief infroduction to the nature of this honor society is offered. Then, moving to the floor level at the front of the gymnasium, the members greet each new member as his name is called by Chad Martin, Chapter President.

The names of the candidates are kept in strictest secrecy until the very moment at which they are announced before the entire student body. In this way, the element of surprise adds the general excite-ment surrounding such an assembly.

This year, nearly fifty persons have been selected for candidacy, based upon their scholastic achieve ment and proof of leadership and continuing interest in the profession of teaching. Among these people are representatives of each of the three upper classes.

The entire student boay is in vited to attend this ritual of Tapping, and to see the exciting moment when the truly outstanding members of our college community are invited to share in the lifetime honor of membership in Kappa Delta Pi.

Apathy: Who Needs It?

Have you noticed the apathetic attitudes expressed by our student body? We refer specifically to the lack of leadership and responsible membership in campus organizations. Toward the end of each semester, and even every year, club and com-nittee membership dwindles to the core of hard workers which somehow always seem to get things done.

On each campus, one finds the grunasium to be the center of all activity — social, athletic, and student govern-ment as well. Dances, large social gatherings, class meetings, basketball games, etc., all take place in our own Memorial Gymnasium. However, because ours is a "commuter college," student attendance at these events has reached an all-time low. A decent number of people attended only the Coronation Ball and the Paterson-Montclair basketball game.

We wonder if it is financially wise to open the gymnasium, heat and light the place, invest in decorations and refresh ments, and to outfit an athletic team with the latest in equip-ment for only two large crowds per year.

ment for only two large clowes per year. Perhaps the college might do better to tear down the gym board by board, so that valuable desks and cafeteria equip-ment might be constructed in place of the unwarmed bleach-ers. We could do away with sports altogether, using the uni-forms for polishing rags, the scoreboard to illuminate the parking lots, and the new equipment for exercise when some energetic soul feels the urge to do so. Perhaps the gym could be converted into classrooms enclosing a cultural center for adults who wish to further their education. If we have physical education classes at all, they might be held in the old cafeteria or the student union building, to the tune of the latest records being played over the PA system.

Possibly the Beacon has exaggerated its point of view in the preceding paragraph, but we wish to bring the problem of student apathy home--to the students!

We have made an effort to keep the student body well-informed as to the cultural, social, and athletic events of the year, in order that we might facilitate the problems of plan-ning in advance. It is our intention to promote the 'good old team spirit' so that a more responsive and responsible student body might take the reins of leadership from the hands of the select few seeking their own betterment. What have YOU done?

P.S.C. Apathetic - NEVERI

My first day in Korea was a bitter cold Winter's day. The type of day you forget about until Winter rolls around each year. The artillery unit barreled along the frozen road. Two small boys stopped playing and ran to the road-side to watch the heavy guns go by. As the first boy tried to stop, he slipped on the ice, and fell under the wheel of a 155mm howitzer, crushing his head. As our truck stopped, halting the convoy. we ran to see the other Korean woy trying to pull his little friend off the ground. He couldn't-the boy's crushed remains had already frozen to the barren earth. Bundled G.L's watched momentarily motionless as the second boy souatted by his little friend's body, the tears streaming down his face, sobbing words in Korean to his dead comvanion. Someone wrapped the cry ing boy in a field jacket and placed him in the cab of a truck. At that moment we realized that both boys had been dressed in only rags. Torn. diriv. - actually rags that wouldn't be fit for Spring let sione Korean winters. How they managed to survive this long no one could imagine. As the convoy moved on we stopped in the next village but there was no where for the boy to stay. We found he was orphaned by the war. The people of the village were starving themselves, there would be nothing for another mouth. "Sam" stayed with us. We had saved one child in a country that had lost hundreds.

Do you know that for the price of a pack of cigarettes you can sustain a Korean childs life in a missionary orphanage for almost a week? If you care enough - to read on - Fil tell you how you can save the lives of hundreds of these human beings. The S.G.A. until recently supported one of these Korean orphans. First from only coin contributions during registration day, then a $15, per month contribution to the Foster Parents Pian. That boy is able to take care of himself today and so we've accepted another child Anne Marie DeOlden is in charge of the Foster Child Committee and here's the letter she received from Foster Parents Plan.

On Sunday, March 19th, the PSC Assembly Committee presented Robert Goss and Louise Whetsel in eir program of music and skits entitled "Make A Show." Equipped with colorful costumes and dialogue, the duo gave a fine per-formance of operetta, folk opera. instrumental medleys, and musical comedy numbers to an audience composed of students, faculty, and their families. Special mention must be made of the Pianist Composer-Martin Kalmanoff-whose techniques and themes are reminiscent of the great Gershwin. Especially noteworthy was his Piano Intermenzo Concerto No. 3. Kalmanoff has received his BA. MA, and PhD grees from Harvard University. He has composed 12 works for the musical stage, the most recent of which is "The Bold Prima Donna, based on the play by Eugene Ionesco.

Memorial Gymnasium has recently taken on all the ap-pearances of a bullpen. Every afternoon you'll find candidates for the '61 baseball squad running through practice with soft rubber balls, short base lines, and a number of other "scale" drills. The returning letter-men who should carry the weight this The returning letter-mentain Lon Carsich, Cliff Fush, year are Bill Fleming (also captain), Lou Carsich, Cliff Fush, Richie Garofolo, and Joe Boris. If success is to be had these men will be responsible.

men will be responsible. Surprisingly, but not in the least sense derogatively, a number of freshmen have turned out and the way it looks now, after a month of practice, a good many will see Varsity action. Lenny Lakson, Denis DeLorenzo, and Rosario Affieri have been supporting Coach Wolf's expectations of replace-ments for a "worn" pitching staff. Freshmen candidates for infield positions are Tony De-Marco, Ted Trouwhorst, Vic Farkas, Carmen DeSopo, and Pete Helf If these hows can bit consistently an impressive by Anthony De Pauw Due to poor communications we did not fence New York Community College last year. This year their men's fencing team found New Jersey on the map and fenced PSC on Wednesday, March 8. Cur sabre team won the first three bouts and after that NYCC was just dancing in the night. The final score was 20-7. In this case we fenced a poor team.

If you're the cold-blooded type you're probably happy. I am more sporting. I prefer fencing a better or more evenly matched team. This allows both teams to pitch all their skill (body and spirit) into the melee. The resulting excitement (in a very close meet) eventually ensnares everyone's - fencers, non-fencers emotions and pacifists.

March 11 we ienced Pace.  $\Omega_{7}$ Pace-PSC has become a team tradition. This includes suits, clean shirts, dates and the meet followed by an evening of festivity. True to the tradition (of two years) we again defeated Pace - 15-12 the same score as last year. We began one bout behind and the meet remained close and exciting through-

Another team first was the Yeshiva meet of March 15, By a careful analysis of their team record and fancy guessing we decided we were evenly matched. Our bad start ended with a bad finish. The greatest single factor in the several cases of nervous breakdowns was the erratic nature of the scores. Although we were never ahead we did get close. The differences ranged from one point to as many as four points. Yeshiva won the meet 15-12.

We lost because of several reasons but mostly because of our epee team the weakest segment of the team. Their epee feacers were not great. As a matter of fact they weren't even good but ours were worse. To coin a phrase - wait'll next year.

On Saturday the 18th of March. eleven members of PSC's men's fencing team left for Lafayette College just across the river in [Carrival each year. . . people Easton, Pennsylvania, We left the from school and the communit-campus at 11:30 in the morning who come to the campus during and spent most of two hours driving through the unquestionably beautiful blue-mountained farm land of northern New Jersey. We began the meet with a con-siderable lead-7-2. About helf way through the meet Lafayette gained z little ground but we still retained a generous lead — 9-5. Here we reached a minor turning point. A time consuming breakdown of electrical equipment. hunger pangs and travel fatigue -to mention a few dead excuses -caused a shortening of the score gap but we won the meet 15-12. Lafavatte has had a pretty had season but they have fenced better leams than we - mostly west rather than east of them. An indication of our individual strengths would be a comparison of two meets. They fenced and lost to Temple U. 17-10 and we lost to Temple 14-13. Even the most conservative would agree that should have won.

This was the last and also the make it-or-break-it meet of the sea son. Our record is eight wins, six loses. We fanced in twice as many meets as last year and won more than half, whereas we lost more than half lest year. While this may or may not be good some of us are still wagging our heads rather anathetically. Refore we and our apathetically. Before we end our season we will fence in the N.C.E. and N.A.I.A. tournaments. I hope we go out in a blaze of glory I hope!

Brian McColgan, Coach Gabe Vitalone, Jesse Owans and Kenneth Dow chat with Owens.

A few years ago a young man not in the least unlike our-selves, sailed for Berlin, Germany where he was to compete in the 1936 Olympics. Since that year Jesse Owens has es-tablished himself as a living legend, for he accomplished what tanked miner as a fing regret, to be accomplished what no other human before or since has ever achieved. In one year he broke five Olympic records, won four gold medals, and received the World Olympic Crown in behalf of all the athletes of the United States.

northern New Jersey."

Along with the expansion in physical facilities has gone an increase in annihment and faculty to match, From the 607-student-33 faculty numbers of 1949-50, the faculty. In the Part-Time division the enrollment has gone from 768 in 1949-50 to 1386 in 1960-61; in the summer school, from 348 to 1955-56, is included in the figures for the Part-Time division. This important addition to the services affored at PSC accounts for an increase of from 91 in 1955-56 in the spring session to 351 in 1960-61. and from 52 to 155 in the summer sessions for the same periods.

It is no wonder that we are more than bulging at the seams, with every available spot used to more than capacity. When the new science wing with its additional 15 classrooms, 8 science laboratories, art studios, conference room lecture hall (capacity of 146), and 37 faculty offices and 3 receptionist offices, is ready for use late this spring (we hope!), the work which formerly went on in the war surplus temporary buildings will be shifted to the handsome new facilities. And with the opening of the big new food service mingled freely with students from building, the pressure on Wayne Hall should subside. Instead of the all-purpose eating-studying-loafing activity place which it now has to be, it will be remodelled into a student center providing snack bar and lounge, conference room of fices for S.G.A., Beacon, yearbook and Alumni, and the book store the affluence or position of a Medici but despite this limita-tion there exists today a greater range and prevalence of private art collections than ever before.

Thus the battle of the bulge ought to subside for a little while , at least until the next new crop of students shows up!

The Paterson State Assembly Committee was truly honored to present this man to the student body on Tuesday, March 14. An introduction by Brian McColgan precessied a locution that came directly from the heart of this great American. A sound mind, a fit body, and a patriotic spirit was his message,

Mr. Owens urged us as Ameritotals are now 1711-student-122- cans to look optimistically towards the future for we have the opportunities, the minds, the men and the methods needed to achieve world brotherhood. He requested our aid in securing a bright future 987. The graduate division, new in when he said. "Let us not ask what my college can do for me, but what I can do for my college." Either Mr. Xennedy found an Owen's phrase applicable or Mr. Owens found a Kennedy phrase applicable -whichever the case, the meaning should not be neglected whether it be college or country.

Mr. Owens is presently a director oź youth activities in Chicago. though this is by no means the end ಷ್ his andeavors. He frequently allies himself with foreign youth directors and gives his help wherever and whenever he can.

When asked if he was an advothere also in me was the second of the currently popular no-tion that the federal government should subsidize the American Olympic team he said emphatic-ally, "NO."

Following the gymnasium appermance Mr. Owens attended a reception in the cafeteria where he Central and Passaic High Schools. as well as students from our own school As I was about to leave. I heard one student say, "He is really success." I can think of no other way to describe this dynamic personality.
