

Senior Ball

Committee members for the Senior Ball will meet next Tuesday, October 29, at 1:30 p.m. in Wing 103.

Ambassadors To Explain Experiment

What is the Experiment in International Living? What are its goals? Paterson State College ambassadors in the International Living Program, Pat Carson, Nancy Sommers, Emma Trifiletti, and Len Carlson will tell of their summers' travels to Argentina, Holland, Italy, and Sweden respectively, and answer these and other questions related to the program, next Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium.

The seniors who represented the college for our first Experiment in the International Living program will show some of the slides of their trips and report on cultural heritage, family life, and the educational and political systems of the countries visited.

Application procedures for this year's Experiment will be outlined along with qualification points.

Smothers Brothers Tickets Going Fast

A limited number of tickets for the popular recording folk singers, the Smothers Brothers, are still available for the November 5 performance on campus. Student and faculty tickets may be purchased in the Octagonal Room of the College Center for $1.00.

The Smothers Brothers appeared on the Jack Paar Show in 1961. Since their debut they have emerged as one of the current outstanding young comedy attractions. In 1962 they launched a cross-country tour of the nation's college campuses which proved to be one of the most popular and successful offerings in the college concert field. Along with their personal appearance and television success is their latest best-selling album "Think Ethnic."

The Smothers Brothers can be credited with starting the new trend of folk song parodies. Making a more subtle and diversified art they do not demolish the great folk songs, but only dismantle them.

DeSopo Scores Two Goals In Win Over Monmouth

Victory over a favored Monmouth College boosted the Pioneer soccermen's season record to three wins and two losses as last Saturday's contest ended 5-2 in favor of Paterson State.

Carmen DeSopo led the scoring with two goals on penalty kicks. Terry DiGiovanni, Vic Talerico and Mark Evangelista each scored one goal to round out the Paterson scoring. Defense was the key to the Pioneer victory. Paul Reilley, Siegfried Krause, Gerry Stefanacci, Rich Witte, Rich Gore and Cliff Raymond, the defensive unit, limited the Monmouth team to one goal until late in the game. Monmouth's second goal was scored against the reserves when coach Wilber Myers cleared his bench. The game was one-sided as Paterson led at the half, 3-0.

The Pioneers next game is with Millersville College at Wightman Field on Saturday, October 26. Then they hit the road for games against Mountclair State on Tuesday, October 29 and Fairleigh Dickinson (Madison) on Thursday, October 31.

Deposits For Sr. Prom Now Being Accepted

Seniors planning to attend the Senior Ball must place a $5.00 deposit toward their prom bid, reported Maureen Wilson, senior class secretary. Secondary and K.P. deposits will be accepted in the Octagonal room of the College Center from November 4-6 and for Elementary majors deposits will be taken on November 11-15.

The deposits are non-refundable and must be taken at this time due to senior teaching. The balance of the bid must be paid by April 3-15. The Prom will be held at the Hotel Americana on June 2.

Nursery Rhyme Dramatized By Pioneer Players

Simon Big-Ears, a dramatization by Aurand Harris of the nursery rhyme Simple Simon, will be presented by the Pioneer Players on November 21, 22, and 23.

Simon, a young, innocent stranger, comes to visit a totalitarian country, where no one thinks without the Queen's permission. Soon, he falls afoul of some of the Queen's arbitrary rules, and is thrown into prison. He escapes execution by apologizing to the Queen, but bothered by his conscience, he whispers the truth into the ground. Miraculously, a tree grows from his whisper, and as it grows its branches sing the truth aloud to the sky — "The Queen is a Tyrant!" Once again he is sentenced to execution, when, by exercising his natural talents, he is able to save the Princess' life, and the Queen learns that the personal freedom of her subjects is precious to the kingdom.

Simon Big-Ears will be the third Children's Theatre production presented by the Pioneer Players. The two previous productions were The Wizard of Oz and Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp.

Many of the actors and members of the production crew come from the Children's Theatre course offered on campus. The students are enrolled in many of the curricula at Paterson State. The purpose of the course is to teach what theatre art is and to foster a co-operative effort among the group in working toward a creative goal. Anthony Maltone, assistant professor of speech, instructs the course.

Besides the dates mentioned above, the production will tour schools in Newark, Wayne, Oakland and Paterson. This affords the students an opportunity to work on several stages and put into practice the things learned in costumes, and the building and class. Lighting, music, make-up, painting of sets are the responsibility of the students.

You Are Going To The Shipwreck Dance

Freshmen Sponsor "Shipwreck" Dance

Highlighting tomorrow night's "Shipwreck" dance will be a talent show and a dance contest. The dance, sponsored by the Freshman class, will begin at 8 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium. Music for the evening will be provided by Al Albinson's Esquires.

Members of the Freshman class will sing and put on skits during band breaks. Four freshmen have also organized a band.

Chairmen of the talent committee are Vince O'Gara and Mike Kerley. Committee members for the dance remind students that I.D. cards are necessary for admittance. Guests are also invited.

The Freshman class suggested that students and faculty dress appropriately in "shipwreck" costume or casual attire.

Refreshments will be served later in the evening in the College Center.

Urgent Notice From Pres. Shea

Please note that a State fire hazard emergency has been declared. This means that the following fire prevention measures will be in effect during this emergency period. 1. All wooded areas in the State are closed. 2. There is to be no burning of any type, including such things as campfires, bonfires, the burning of garbage, etc. 3. Cigarettes and cigars should not be discarded outdoors. They must be extinguished and placed in the necessary fire receptacles.

In addition to the wooded areas, we have on this campus large areas planted in lawns and shade trees. The leaves and grass present an additional serious fire hazard if all are not careful.

During this period of emergency, complete cooperation — from full-time faculty, staff, and students and from the part-time staff and students is necessary.

State Scholarship Deadline Date Set

Deadline for New Jersey State Scholarship applications has been set at December 2, 1963 announced Mr. John Huber, Department of Student Personnel.

State Scholarships are valued at $400 annually or the cost of tuition at the college a student attends, whichever is less. Each scholarship is renewable and may be held for a four-year period undergraduate study.

Applicants for State awards must meet the following qualifications:

1. New Jersey residency for 12 months prior to making application.
2. Financial need in obtaining a college education.
3. Satisfactory score on the qualifying examination.
4. High moral character, good citizenship, and dedication to American ideals.
5. Intended enrollment as a full-time student in an approved college or university.

Interested students should see Mr. Huber (second floor, College Center) for more information and application blanks.

WRA Notice

The WRA will play host to Jersey City State College women's recreation club next Tuesday, October 29. Volley ball activities head the agenda and all Paterson State women in the WRA are asked to participate in the playday.

Faculty Poll?

Exactly twenty-four days ago an opinion poll was taken. Results of the poll showed that more than half of the students cared enough to express their opinion. Of those who voted (52% of student body), 88% favored recognition of social groups on campus, 82% for political groups, and 78% for religious. Now, is it possible to know the opinion of the faculty?

Faculty members of the Student-Faculty Relations Committee were chosen by Dr. Marion E. Shea, president of the college, and student members of the committee were chosen by Ernest Fisher, president of the Student Government Association. The student committee members know the opinion which they represent. Do the faculty members know the faculty's opinion?

As we see the present recognition problem there are three — not two — parties involved. The three parties are the students, the faculty and the administration. As an S.G.A. committee the Student-Faculty Relations Committee might be considered a group to reach a compromise for problems presented to them.

However, between what two parties is the compromise to be reached? If and when a resolution is made what effect will that resolution have on the future policy of the college? The Beacon Board of Control asks for a definition of the committee's power to bind future action. If the committee's power is nil and the discussion of problems is nothing more than a representation of something which looks very democratic then all efforts may be in vain.

The step which must be taken is a polling of the faculty similar to the October 1 poll conducted by students this year. Let us keep in mind that discussion based on facts is the only way to resolve the problem. A faculty opinion poll can provide the foundation upon which discussion may be based.

Psychologist Speaks On Drop-Out Problem

While half of the dropout students in New Jersey's high schools claimed that they were dropping out to seek employment, a study in depth of this problem revealed more complex causes. This was the theme of a conference held at Paterson State College on Saturday, October 19, conducted by Dr. J. Kirk Seaton, Director of Psychological Services for the New Jersey State Department of Education. Dr. Seaton gave the audience, composed chiefly of educators, business representatives, labor leaders and administrators, a detailed account of a study of 140 average cases made within various high school systems in the state.

"The chief role of the student has always been mastery of the curriculum," said Dr. Seaton. "If a pupil leaves school we should first ask: 'How well has he completed his prime task?' he continued. Using the intensive study of the 140 dropouts as the basis for his statistics, Dr. Seaton found that 69% were failing two or more subjects in the period immediately prior to leaving school, 11% more were failing one subject and eight out of ten were getting failing grades. "However," Dr. Seaton pointed out, "these students were not 'going off' in anticipation of leaving school." Since, as he later indicated, of the pupils for whom there were studies completed from the first grade, 26% were experiencing some difficulties by the end of the third grade and three-fourths percent were in trouble before they entered high school.

Was it because of the low level of intelligence? This might have been true of some but Dr. Seaton's study showed that a surprising percentage (53%) of the sample were in the average intelligence range of 90-110 IQ. Although 31% of the sample had severe disciplinary difficulties, 38% were not considered discipline problems. Personality problems was also a contributing factor. School authorities considered 14% extremely introverted or withdrawn, 19% habitually tense, anxious or nervous, and 16% confused or bizarre in their ideation.

Dr. Seaton also pointed out that academic difficulty had seldom been relieved by extracurricular activities, for 79% participated in no activities of any kind during the last two years of school enrollment. The home environment also presented a variety of complex problems, but the determining factor seemed to be the home attitude toward education; if the parents had no use or respect for it, the children were apt to follow suit.

Dr. Seaton summarized by saying that it is apparent that large segments of the drop-out population are characterized by a history of academic difficulty (measured by grades and retention), learning difficulties (as evidenced by achievement tests results averaging more than one grade below the grade norms), a skewed distribution of intelligence quotients with a larger proportion falling in the slow learner category, and a large proportion of pupils with a history of disciplinary difficulties.

Even if some few were persuaded to remain in school by billboard exhortations and crash campaigns, he noted, little would be gained unless they were provided with a more enriching and rewarding experience than they have heretofore received. "The only real solutions would be to strengthen and extend services aimed at improving pupil adjustment," Dr. Seaton said in conclusion, "and to continue the efforts to adapt the curriculum to all ability and interest levels."

Human Form Subject of Workshop

A series of colored slides representing various techniques and approaches to drawing the human form were presented by the Art Club at the Oct. 17 meeting. A debate on individual approaches in drawing human anatomy followed.

Peter Beiment, president of the Art Club, is seeking to broaden the knowledge and deepen the understanding of members by use of intensive art workshops. These workshops will concentrate on drawing and painting during the first semester. Live models will be provided by the Art Club. Students are expected to bring their own supplies. The workshops will be held on Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m. in W-102.

The regular Art Club meetings are held in W-104 during the activity hour on Thursdays. Further announcements will be placed on bulletin boards and in the BEACON.

New Jersey Awake!

by James Edward Miller

Because of severe drought, Governor Hughes last Saturday banned all campfires within the State. Yet, there is one fire which the Governor must not fail to ignore — the revolt of the State's Negroes for jobs and freedom. The dramatic free, to have his children educated along the lines of a middle class society, or must he forever be content to have his flesh and blood instructed in the unhealthy influences of the class isolated school?

Regarding housing: Must the New Jersey Negro be humiliated to continue to pay high rents to landlords for houses which at best might be described as rat-infested hell-holes?

Let the reader think this be an exaggeration — the author himself knows of a case where a landlord bought a dilapidated house for $2,000 and, then, rented the house to two Negro families at the cost of $70.00 a month for each family. The housing conditions — the septic tank was cracked leaving a vile stench around the house — there was no heat during winter; the two families had three rooms each which were of such a small size that the three rooms were equal in size to most American living rooms.

Can not the Negro even be free to choose where and where not he will live? To quote one Negro woman the author met this summer, "We've been looking for decent housing for three years. We have the means. They just don't want us." Surely, this is not fair or equal treatment. Surely, the Negro cannot come to full development in such a hostile environment.

It is, thus, not a profound observation to realize that so long as such discrimination exists in education and in housing — as well as in some businesses and some labor unions — that the Negro will not be able to achieve equality. What is needed, according to a leading Negro spokesman, is that "All American schools, real-estate boards, registrars, labor unions, etc., and all American attitudes including those of Mrs. Murphy will be forced to change." It seems to this writer, we can afford to wait no longer. Despite the reforms being made, the main body of the Negro race is unaffected by civil rights legislation and the gap of median income between the Negro

Equality in a democratic society means nothing more or less than the opportunity of all citizens to fulfill their individual capacities regardless of race, color, creed, or previous ancestry. Yet, what about the Negro in New Jersey? Let us sight two examples:

Is the Negro in New Jersey free to enter his children into the mainstream of American life by educating them in schools free from the functional and instructional inferiority of the schools where de facto segregation is present? Is he and the white has not decreased but only increased alarmingly over the last decade. Automation in New Jersey has hit the Negro much harder than it has affected the white — the need for Negro vocational education or job retraining is, thus, more pressing than it ever was.

Aside from such utilitarian considerations, there is today a need — the people of New Jersey — especially for students — to see and admit the irreconcilability of man with the great religious faiths, and with the great democratic ideal which we have inherited. It would not be ironic, as well as a commentary, that the descendants of those who fought for freedom for themselves should refuse to extend that freedom to others and to feign difficulty in comprehending the Negro's desire to be free? This is the question of our time. This is the question that those who will march on Trenton this Saturday carry with them.

"Dividing Line" Bows At Capri

"The Dividing Line," a new concept in the theatre of the absurd, opened Saturday evening at the Villa Capri, 4 Franklin Avenue, Nutley, N. J. It is a series of satirical skits in the everyday idiosyncracies of society, both political and social. "The Dividing Line" presents two complete shows every alternating Saturday evening at 8:30 and 10:30 p.m. in the Etruscan Theatre of the Villa Capri.

The Company includes Lynn Robbins, Alan Saperstein, Mark Kristal, students at Rutgers University, Newark, and Jonas Rohn (Rosenberg), a junior Speech Arts major at Paterson State College. General understudy for the entire company is Barbara Abbate, a sophomore Speech Arts major at Paterson State.

Performance dates for the next few shows are Saturday evening, October 26, November 9, and a special Thanksgiving snow on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, November 28, 29 and 30. Tickets may be obtained by calling NO 7-2888 or purchasing them at the door. "For a delightful evening of fun and side-splitting comedy, be sure to see, The Dividing Line," said Jonas Rosenberg.

SENIOR TONY COLETTA is presently coaching West Side High School's football team. Last year the team won the city championship. The senior anticipates another successful year for the team.

Senior Organizes Rough-Rider Club

by Sally MacDonald

On the basis that sports helps keep boys in school, Tony Coletta, a senior at Paterson State College, established the Rough-Rider Club in West Side High School at Newark last January. Coletta started the Rough-Riders in order to encourage boys to continue their schooling for a successful future.

Since Coletta, a G.E. major, started the Rough-Rider Club, it has grown in size and stature. The club now consists of over 80 freshmen and sophomore boys. The Junior Varsity football team at West Side High, of which Coletta is the coach, won the 1962 Newark City League championship.

Through Coletta's leadership the Rough-Riders have established purposes, a creed, and have scheduled meetings twice a month. The club's purposes tie in with sports in that they build character through knowledge or correct attitude, draw a parallel between playing football and playing the game of life, and help to realize that education is the road to a happy prosperous life.

"The creed holds beliefs in West Side, the game of football, and victory," stated Coletta. "The members must realize and assume duty as a part of this club, and the Rough-Riders stress the importance of being top scholars as well as fine athletes."

Football films are shown and a free raffle is held at each meeting for footballs, shirts, and insignia patches. In the future the Paterson senior hopes to extend the membership to the eighth, ninth, and tenth grades competing in all sports.

Clubs Sponsor Convention Trip

A free trip to the N.J.E.A. Convention in Atlantic City will be jointly sponsored by the A.C.E. and S.E.A. on Monday, November 7. Three buses will be provided by the college without cost for all students and faculty of Paterson State. One hundred fifty tickets are on a first-come, first-served basis. Cost for breakfast and lunch will be $5.00.

A few of the many interesting events that will take place at the convention are: N.J.E.A.—N.R.A. travel fair. Some of the countries represented will be France, Spain, Holland, India, Japan and Scandinavia. Conferences on "Problems of New Teachers" will also be open to interested students.

PSC Beacon Staffers Discover Yum Yum

Samoa was never like this! One of the most remarkable ethnological documents of our times is now available to Paterson State College students at Loews State Theatre in New York City.

In order to make this educational film more palatable to the average student, it's producers (a collection of sociology professors who have been doing research in Hollywood for thirty years) have entitled this documentary Under The Yum Yum Tree. Attending a preview showing of the movie last Monday were Beacon staffers Betty Tobin, Regina Konowitz, Mary Ann Corradino, and Leslie Omelianuk.

The subject of the study is depicted with consummate and luscious skill by Harvard graduate Jack Lemmon. Assisting in this sociological document is Carol Lynley, Dean Jones, Edie Adams, Imogene Coca and Paul Lynley. The cast portrays in large part, a group of contemporary college students and faculty involved in the philosophical aspects of Yum Yum as opposed to No Yum Yum. The theme indicates "Can Yum Yum Be Platonic?" or "This Is One Thing Nobody Can Get For You Wholesale."

There is no opinion held by some that this study is not conventional. The producers of this educational film have made no claim that it is, and therein lies part of its charm. The rest of the charm lies in the subject matter itself — a subject of deep concern to all college students anticipating balance and stability in what remains of their formative years.

The agenda for the November 5 meeting includes a workshop scene from Moliere's THE MISANTHROPE directed by Jean Byrd by the students in the workshop and a make-up demonstration given group. Future members and guests are invited.

Pioneer Players Pres. Tells Of Upcoming Plans

by Jill Haigney

An interview with Jane Wallin, president of the Pioneer Players, proved quite enlightening. Speaking for the group, Miss Wallin told of their enthusiasm and upcoming plans for the school year.

The Pioneer Players are responsible for the three major dramatic productions put on each year. Their purpose is to endow the college and its students with cultural experiences and to give the students a chance to participate both on and off stage in theatrical productions. Its members are taken from the entire student population and there is no requirement for membership. Meetings are held once a month and function as both a medium for entertainment and instruction.

Future meetings call for guest speakers in such fields as make-up and costuming, slides, a theatre party, and the continuation of the student workshop.

Members of the Pioneer Players volunteer for workshop scenes and are directed by a fellow student. Although these scenes are not polished they provide the student with beneficial experiences in acting, directing, make-up, and staging. Most important, they give many students who do not have the time to participate in a complete production, the opportunity to take part in one of capsule form.

Pioneer Harriers Defeat Monmouth

Dziezawiec, Williams Set Course Record

Pioneer harriers, led by sophomore Joe Dziezawiec and junior Cliff Williams, defeated Monmouth College last Sunday at the opponent's course. Dziezawiec and Williams established a course record time as they tied for first place.

Monmouth runners had the lead until the last mile when the Pioneers came from behind to take the lead. Driving finishes by Bill Hagman, Bill White, Ron Simmons, Tom Dowd, and Tom Vitolo surprised the Monmouth harriers. Paterson State coach, Dr. James Lepanto commented that this year's Monmouth team greatly improved over last year's.

Tomorrow the Pioneers travel to Madison, New Jersey for their 3:00 meet with Fairleigh Dickinson.

RESULTS

1. Joe Dziezawiec	27:40
1. Cliff Williams	27:40
6. Bill Hagman	29:35
8. Bill White	30:50
9. Ron Simmons	31:32

P.S.C. Graduate Guest Speaker At Philosophy Club

George Francis Cronk, a 1963 graduate of Paterson State will be guest speaker at the Philosophy club's next meeting on Tuesday, November 19 at 7:00 p.m. in G1. The topic of discussion will be "Plato's Criticism of the Sophistic Epistemology in the Theaetetus." Club president Ernest Fisher suggests that those who attend should acquaint themselves with the material beforehand for a better understanding of the subject.

Mr. Cronk, a member of Kappa Delta Phi, the national honor fraternity, is now studying history at Rutgers University under a fellowship grant.

Rumblings From A Rambler

by Ron Verdicchio

The Paterson soccer team is enjoying one of its best seasons since the sport was introduced to the Wayne campus. As of this writing the booters are boasting a 3-2 record. Ron Blinder, Vic Talerico and Carmen DeSopo have been the offensive guns for the Pioneer squad. However, the whole team can not be told by offense. Many men who do not score goals are still the crux of the team who perform an important function — that is — keep the other teams from scoring.

Carmen DeSopo, who besides being a great offensive soccer player, has a habit of kicking trash cans and other objects that resemble soccer balls. Carmen is now nursing an injured foot, but still manages to slam the soccer ball. It seems Carmen became slightly disturbed about a referee's decision and decided to boot a trash can.

If you happen to pass the gym some evening and hear the clatter of basketballs, do not be alarmed. Coach Wolf hoopsters are working out trying to bounce into condition for the forthcoming basketball season. It is a little early to venture any predictions about the team, but the boys are really making a valiant effort to rid themselves of the product of a long summer.

Sophomore Joe Dziezawiec has written a new page in the P.S.C. record books. Joe ran the five mile cross country course in a swift 30 minutes and 19 seconds. The old record was held by Brian McColgan. Congratulations are extended to Joe who, only a sophomore, should improve his time and set a new mark at the N.A.I.A. meet to be held at Paterson State on November 9.

The harriers are enjoying one of their finest seasons and the word has it the men have dubbed themselves "The Magnificent Seven."

Well, I always say, if you can't play a sport — be on the History of States Topic of Lecture

Close attention to the histories of the individual states, instead of the history of the Federal government was one topic emphasized by Dr. Richard McCormick of Rutgers, guest lecturer at the annual Social Science Lecture on Oct. 15 on campus.

About 250 students, faculty and guests who were present for the lecture and seminar discussion heard Dr. McCormick's viewpoints on various aspects of New Jersey's role in the important Confederate years.

Financial problems, especially those brought about by the no tax system and New Jersey's role in the Constitutional Convention, were other topics discussed by Mr. McCormick.

Characteristics of a good speaker entitled "Where Do You Fall?" will be presented at the April 21 meeting. The final program of the year entitled "Are You Listening?" will be conducted by Alan Kemp on May 12. All meetings are held at 1:30 p.m. in L-3 with the exception of the December meeting which will be held in the Science Lecture Hall. Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Morand are the faculty advisors. All Speech majors and minors are invited to join.

Drop-Out . . .

Other speakers who attacked the problem from various angles during the day-long conference were Dr. Mary E. Macade, Assistant Superintendent of Schools in New York City and Dr. Richard Wynn, Associate Dean of the School of Education at the University of Pittsburgh. Both have a great deal of experience with this problem and are not convinced of the relationship between the work of the classroom and the realities of everyday life.

In the seminar sessions, representatives from business, industry and labor discussed the drop-out problem from their own points of view. Joan Colasante of "Bamburghers" told of her part-time employment program of high school students, with the training aspects and the requirement that the trainees stay in school. Their efforts have succeeded in making their young employees feel useful and successful.

Editor Wins Essay Award

Co-editor of the BEACON, Michael J. Burns, Jr. has won fourth place in the second annual John Dickins Essay Contest for college students for his article, Religion vs. Reason: Are they Compatible?

Burns, who was featured editor of the BEACON last year, wrote the article as part of a debate with Dave Stannard. His argument was that religion and its moral laws offer not only inspiration but a basis for self-control in this age of conflict.

"The twenty-dollar award will be announced in the November issue of TOGETHER, a Methodist magazine, along with the names of the other winners of the contest, Michael Rowland, a senior at East Tennessee State University; Dorothy E. Beck, Western Maryland College; and George A. Peterson, University of Nebraska.

Braen Given Parking Lot Contract

The contract for the construction of a new parking lot on the Paterson State campus has been awarded to the Sam Braen Construction Co., Wyckoff, for a low bid of $78,000. Other bids received by the New Jersey State Highway Department included the Franklin Contracting Co., Little Falls; C. E. Winans Co., Roselle; Marcellus Warner Corp., Montclair; and P. Mitchell and Sons, Inc., Saddle Brook.

The proposed lot, which will be located just northeast of the college boiler plant, is to be built with a 4 inch thick macadam base and a surface of bituminous concrete 2 inches thick. It will be about 570 feet long and 180 feet wide.

Included in the plans is the installation of an electrical illumination system consisting of about 13,400 watt mercury vapor luminaires.
