PATERSON STATE COLLEGE

February 26, 1955

Stokes Orientation

There will be a meeting on March 2, 1955 at 1:30 p.m. in W101 for Social Science majors only.

Paterson Receives Grant For Library

The Association of College and Research Libraries, a division of the American Library Association, has announced recently the award of a grant to the Sarah Byrd Askew Library, Paterson State College, by the ACRL Grants Committee.

The Paterson State Library grant will be used for a micro-card reader and various publications on microcards. The value of the grant is approximately one thousand dollars. The ACRL Grants Program was initiated in 1955 with a grant of thirty thousand dollars from the US Steel Foundation. The Program, directed to the general needs of all colleges and universities, is designed for improving the quality of library service to higher education through fundamental research in librarianship and otherwise aiding in the best use of the most modern teaching and learning materials.

The grant made to the library was one of the one hundred and sixty two selected from among five hundred and forty seven ap-

Loans Announced For 1955-1956

Students interested in the National Defense Student Loan Program for the academic year 1955-1956 are invited to file applications now with Mr. John Huber, assistant director of student personnel, on the second floor of the College Center. Awards may be made to any full-time student or part-time student carrying at least eight credits who is in good academic standing and is in need of financial assistance.

Under the terms of the National Defense Education Act, students may borrow up to $1000 a year. Special consideration is given to all students with superior academic background. Recipients are required to pay 3 percent interest on the money they receive. However, repayment and interest do not begin to accrue until one year after the student ceases to be enrolled in college or graduates. A student is allowed ten years to repay his loan and 50 percent of the loan may be cancelled if he enters full-time teaching service in public or private nonprofit schools and institutions of higher education.

Students are requested to fill out their applications as soon as possible. The deadline date for filing is Friday, April 23.

Dean's Office Releases Student Honor List

Two hundred and eighty-seven Paterson State students achieved recognition on the Dean's List for the fall semester, announced Dean Kenneth B. White. In order to obtain the honor, students must receive a "B" or above average, with no grade below a "B". One hundred fifty-nine seniors, fifty-six juniors, thirty-nine sophomores, and thirty-three freshmen qualified for the honor.

Reservations Set For Historical Trip

"Living History," is the theme for a trip now being planned by the Social Science Department through New England's historical sights, during the weekend of April 23-25.

Dr. Kenneth Job, associate professor of the Social Science Department, one of the two chaperones, will be able to make eleven or more reservations for the trip. The total cost is estimated at $30 per student. Students should contact Dr. Job Monday between the hours of 8:30-12:00 for further information. Students will be expected to provide their own food cost. All students interested will be asked to make a $10 deposit.

The group will leave Paterson State on that Friday morning at 8:00 a.m. and will arrive at Mystic, Connecticut at approximately 12:30 p.m. During the afternoon, the group will visit Mystic Seaport. Mystic is not a museum nor a restoration in the usual sense, but is a living, active, seafaring community. Here the people carry on life just as it was in the early days of the country. The group will also visit Sturbridge Village, Plymouth Plantation, and Bedford Museum.

While at Sturbridge Village, the group will be offered a unique experience of early Americana. The Plymouth Plantation is organized to interpret the history of the Pilgrim Fathers to people living in the 20th century. During their stay at Bedford, the group will see two films which both tell of the early whaling voyages of our ancestors.

Ambassadors Chosen For Summer Abroad

Four P.S.C. juniors have been selected by the Experiment in International Living as college ambassadors for the coming summer. Leslie Omelianuk, Ellen McCloy, Chet Pilgrim and Ann Stokes will each receive a $625 scholarship from the S.G.A. In addition, each student is required to finance the balance of the Experiment himself.

Ellen McCloy, a social science major, will be going to France. Since her grandparents are French, Ellen already has some background on her chosen country. Like any tourist, she will visit such well-known places as Paris, yet she says she knows "there is more to France than Paris." In keeping with the Experiment's emphasis on people-to-people relationships, Ellen wants "to know the people." "I've been interested in French history and in order to know the history, one must know the people." On campus, Ellen was president of Pioneer Hall in 1953-54 and is now president of Heritage Hall. She has been a fencer, is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, the International Relations Club, and the S.G.A. Social Committee.

In reacting to being chosen as an Experimenter, BEACON cartoonist Leslie Omelianuk said, "I felt numb." A junior art major, Leslie chose Ireland as her country. Instrumental in her choice was her "sensitivity toward nature and people. I believe I will have an opportunity to experience life with people who work close to their land." Having read about Ireland, the charm of her people and the beautiful scenery, Leslie feels she must decide for herself from the first-hand experience. On campus, Leslie is an active member of the Pioneer Players, appearing in the 1954 production of The Clown Who Ran Away.

Traveling to India this summer is Ann Stokes, a kindergarten-primary major. Ann chose India for a specific reason, having roomed for one week last summer with an Indian teacher. Ann is "mainly interested in the life and philosophy of the people of India as opposed to Western culture." She believes India will be "radically different" from anything she has experienced. Awe by the prospect and its challenge, Ann feels the full impact of being chosen will be realized when she "holds her passport in an armful of shots." She expects to experience some new customs, including wearing the Indian costume, the sari. At PSC, Ann is a fencer, a member of the Choir, WRA, and SEA, and is in Kappa Delta Pi.

Tanganyika is the destination of Chet Pilgrim, a special education major. Chet has "always been interested in other lands and people, especially in Africa." After his initial shock over being chosen, Chet began to realize the importance of his role and its responsibility. One reason he chose Tanganyika was because of its diversity of people and culture. Chet feels he "may learn much from living in such a society." In addition to being a member of the men's fencing team, Chet is a member of the SGA, and the Special Education Club. Off campus he is associated with the Northern New Jersey Council for Exceptional Children.

Motions To Aid Communications

At the S.G.A. General Council meeting on February 18, 1955, the Council passed two motions which are expected to add to communications within the College. One motion established a College Handbook, which will contain information pertinent to curriculum changes as well as additional information of importance to students. The handbook will replace the Freshman Flashlight, and will be distributed early next year to all students of the college.

The second motion passed by the Council will make available two large bulletin boards to be placed on the first floor of the Wing, on the wall across from the Math department. These will be used by each of the classes as well as other S.G.A. committees and organizations.

A Suggestion

Up to now our S.G.A. committees and officers have been setting the stage for our programs. It has come to that time of the year when our programs must blossom into reality. Socially, we have had mixers and a party, but we have had bands because it was thought the mixers wouldn't otherwise be successful. With bands we had to charge higher admission prices. Now though, our Social Committee is planning a program of record hops and mixers, both for the remainder of the year and for next year. The intention is to reduce cost and increase the number of programs.

Culturally, we have supported the push for more active clubs and interaction between them. This has been to emphasize the need for cooperation and a program aimed at uniting the efforts of clubs to produce better and more widespread cultural programs.

Financially, we have been under heavy pressures arising from increased needs. Budgeting has been our prime objective this year. The Finance Committee is working on revisions in our budgeting procedure, and is going to institute revisions in allotments that should have been made as time advanced.

Our Constitution Committee is working on applications submitted by new clubs who would like to become chartered S.G.A. organizations. They are also initiating a rechartering program aimed at eliminating clubs which don't adhere to their constitutions. As we have progressed it has become general knowledge to all those involved that what we at first thought needed revision, doesn't need revising at all. What is needed is a revamping of our present system, which has more potential than most of our neighbor colleges, who, we have felt, have had better systems. Perhaps their success arises from the many active participants in their programs.

These are the things going on with S.G.A. as a whole, but there are many things which need work — work by you, the class and student body member. Only through your interest can we establish our objectives. Elections are just around the corner. We need better organization in our classes, committees and clubs — organization that is not the responsibility of the officers, but rather the responsibility of the members. You've all got to become more active and aware of things going on and question your representatives about them. Don't take any answer such as "Well, you know as much as I do — we're told nothing." Information is available and steps have been taken to increase communications.

I'd like to congratulate all those working on the Coronation Ball. It was a most professionalized event. Good luck to those handling it next year. They have room for improvement but will have a high standard to maintain.

A Question

We are very curious as to the future of the concrete steps behind the wing adjacent to the quiet study lounge. From all outward appearances it seems that someone has contemplated removal of these steps but abandoned their plans halfway through.

Letters To The Editor

Contributions to this column are the opinions of the readers and, as such, are unedited. All letters are required to be of a standard and will reflect the best interests of the college. Anonymous letters will not be printed but names will be withheld on request. The Beacon reserves the right to edit all letters.

Dear Editor:

I want to thank the Beacon for the story and photograph in connection with the appearance before our faculty of Dr. Ellis White and Dr. Earl Mosier, who discussed the report of the Governor's Committee on Higher Education. As you know, this meeting was jointly sponsored by the Paterson State College Faculty Association and the local chapter of the American Association of University Profes-

ors. Because the AAUP has a continuing concern with the need for the faculty to have full access to all points of view in connection with the recommendations of the Governor's Committee, it was instrumental in inviting Dr. White to the joint meeting. Dr. Ward, as President of the Faculty Association, and I, as President of the AAUP, agreed to the White-Mosier meeting so that the faculty could hear differing reactions to the report from authoritative persons.

The Paterson State College Chapter of the AAUP will continue to serve its membership, and the faculty in general, by doing all within its power to encourage full, free, and open discussion of all issues affecting members.

To further acquaint the faculty with the campus functions of the AAUP, Dr. Winston Ehrmann, who is associated with the National Office of the AAUP, will speak to the faculty on March 8th at 7 p.m. His topic will be "The Role of the AAUP." Sandford Clarke, President PSC Chapter of AAUP

To the Editor:

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the student (or students) who saw fit to turn in my lost wallet with contents intact. This act saved me considerable inconvenience as well as more cash than I can afford to lose.

I would like to be able to thank the person responsible personally. It speaks well for the integrity of PSC students.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor:

As a student at Paterson State, I feel that the snack bar has become a place of which to be ashamed. It used to be a center where students could meet their friends and have interesting chats, eat lunch, have a snack or just relax.

Now as I enter the snack bar, I have to wade through garbage piled to the ceiling and practically step over people, necking.

What is happening to our school, our students and our values? I, frankly, can't understand how some of the new freshmen were ever admitted into Paterson State. They are very poor examples for our college.

I am actually ashamed to sit in the snack bar and have students necking around the room. (Continued on page 3)

Grammar Clinic Hours Announced

Continuing in its sixth year, the Grammar Clinic began the spring series of meetings yesterday under the direction of Mr. Don Edwards, assistant professor of English. Any student desiring help may attend.

The main purpose of the clinic is to increase the students' skills in grammar, sentence structure, and mechanics. Mr. Edwards has announced that more time will be devoted to direct help to the individual than in previous semesters.

The clinic does not complement regular English classes but aids the student in skills which are of value in all classes. No outside assignments are required since no tuition is charged and no credit is received. Composition is not dealt with.

This semester's Grammar Clinic hours are as follows: Tuesday, 2:30, Wing 122; Wednesday, 9:30, Wing 122; and Friday, 1:30, Wing 130. If a student finds he has classes at the scheduled hours, he should see Mr. Edwards in room 203 Hunziker to make suitable arrangements.

Dr. Li Discusses World Communism

"The battle against international communism will be won in the hearts and minds of men," declared Dr. Dun J. Li in a speech delivered at the International Relations Club on February 18, 1965. This theme of communism and what we, as individuals, can do about it, dominated Dr. Li's presentation.

Dr. Li remarked that there have been two basic "forces" in operation in the Afro-Asian world since 1945: the struggle for national independence and the drive for social justice and economic welfare. Dr. Li feels that "whoever helps the developing countries achieve these goals will win their friendship and goodwill." Dr. Li remarks that these developing countries are passing through the same stage as the Americans did during and shortly after the American Revolution.

In regard to fighting communism, Dr. Li said that "there are many ways; the use of military force is not one of the most important ones." Dr. Li cited cases in which the use of military force achieved the opposite results; it is often backfired against the country using it. Commented the lecturer, "War brings about misery and chaos upon which communism thrives. Communism in a socio-economic problem and it has to be fought on socio-economic grounds." One of these socio-economic means includes the peace corps, which, he feels, has not been emphasized as it should be.

Dr. Li continued, "People say that if the Vietnamese domino falls, the rest of the dominoes in Southeast Asia will fall. But I would say that they will not fall if we take immediate socio-economic measures to strengthen the domino next in line. It is useless to grieve about the past; we should think about the future." By reaffirming our basic beliefs contained in the Declaration of Independence and the American Constitution and act upon them, Dr. Li believes we can individually help in the fight against communism. "That all men are born equal is not just a slogan; it should be substantiated in the conduct of our daily lives."

Summarizing his speech, Dr. Li said that we Americans should make sure that "in a world created in the American image there is justice for all. Let us not forget that people in Africa and Asia are colored people. If we believe and act upon the basic precepts upon which this great nation is founded, others will believe in us. We can win the world for freedom without firing one shot. When the Communists have nothing to exploit, they will disappear from the face of the earth."

Dr. Li is the author of two books, British Malaya: An Economic Analysis, and The Ageless Chinese: A History. His third book, The Essence of Chinese Civilization, will be published by D. Van Nostrand Company in 1967.

DR. ALBERT MARCKWARDT OF PRINCETON UNIVERSITY will be the guest speaker at the faculty conference on the teaching of English to be held at PSC on Wednesday, March 17.

in public, thinking nothing of it. Something should be done about this revolting scene!

Announcements are being made concerning the garbage on the tables and floor, but what about these crude, vulgar practices going on among a certain few people? Is nothing to be done about this?

Many of us are proud of our college, but why let a small minority set a bad example for Paterson State? It is up to us to do something about this! Let's stop this crassness! There's a time and place for everything. How about it?

For Lab Forms

Applications for the 1965 Paterson State Leadership Laboratory were distributed yesterday at an orientation meeting for all those students interested in attending this year's workshop. Chairman of the Lab Planning Committee, George Cass explained what the workshop entailed and the qualifications necessary for those students who wish to apply.

The application forms must be received by Dr. Marie Yevak, office of student personnel, on or before March 23 to be considered for the laboratory experience to be held May 6-9 at Sharpe Reservation, Peekskill, New York.

English Department To Host Conference

by James Burke

Over 100 North Jersey High schools will participate in a faculty conference on the teaching of English to be sponsored by the English Department of Paterson State College, March 17 on campus.

Dr. Albert Marckwardt of Princeton University, a leader in the field of linguistics, will be guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the conference which has for its theme "The Articulation of High School and College English."

All PSC graduates in English and current senior English majors will serve as guides, hostesses and parking attendants to greet the guests as they arrive.

Faculty who will attend the conference include English chairmen and cooperating teachers in PSC's student teaching program in English from a six-county area: Hudson, Bergen, Passaic, Essex, Morris and Sussex.

The conference will get under way at 4 p.m. with a series of panel discussions on literature, composition and linguistics. Former PSC graduates Mrs. Doris Hirschhorn and Mrs. Suzanne (Weil) Warnasch, who are now teaching high school English, have been invited to participate in the panel discussions.

Three members of the PSC English Department will serve as moderators for the panels. They are: Dr. Mary C. Davidow — literature panel, Dr. Donald P. Duclos — composition; Dr. John P. Runden — linguistics.

Dr. John McRae, chairman of PSC's English Department, is chairman of the entire conference.

Dr. Marckwardt, a resident of Princeton, has served as advisor in language for several government organizations including the Foreign Service Institute of the U.S. Department of State, the Language Development Section of the United States Office of Education, and United States Information Agency. He has been a Fulbright lecturer at the Universities of Vienna and Graz in Austria, and is the author of several textbooks on English. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan.

The climax is not far off. It has been a long and rather discouraging campaign for Paterson State's basketball squad, as only one encounter remains before the season's termination. That lone battle will come to a head this evening with the Indians from Montclair making their final raid on Pompton Road.

Needless to say, Montclair State is rated a top heavy favorite to crush Paterson State again. Led by 6'7" center Gil Young, MSC slashed troops 96-63 in the Montclair arena two weeks ago, February 12. In that flurry these other Indians hit double figures, sophomore John Appar, freshmen Rich Gleason, and the team high scorer Bob Covecki. Capable senior Art Woliansky rounds out the Indian attack. Montclair is accredited with four conference triumphs to date.

Paterson State has mustered a sunn total of two victories in 23 attempts along with "a not-so-stylish" 0-9 conference count. However, the Pioneers are much better than the records are willing to render. Secondly, Montclair State is not an ordinary game. A victory tonight for PSC is equivalent to ten losses for MSC. Our locals will be led by high scoring junior co-captains Steve Clancy and guard Billy Toosten. Other junior cagers include Bob Clair, Harold Dadds, Jim Feils and myself, the two seniors doing their final duty are Jim Forkan and Chuck Martin. Martin is completing his third year of varsity ball for PSC. Sophomore components include guards Tom DeStefano and Tom Nichols. The four frosh reserves include Jim Burke, John Richardson, Walt Turner, and Stan Yaroz.

To complicate matters more, the conference scoring record is at stake in addition to the important team victory. Clancy needs 22 tallies this evening in order to establish a new mark. Ironically enough, the title is held by a former Indian Pete Capitano who retired last campaign. He collected this honor during the '62-63 season. PSC is well aware of this fact. Unfortunately, MSC is not completely ignorant of it either. Undoubtedly, PSC will do all they can to see Clancy crack the mark and bring the laurel here. It should prove to be extremely interesting. Remember 22 markers, be there to count them off.

The conflict will begin at 8:15, the J.V.'s 6:15, in Memorial Gymnasium. It's the last, and it's important. The support of the school is a necessity. If you haven't supported the team throughout the season, this is your big chance. If you have, keep up the good work. It's Paterson State against Montclair State. It's Clancy against Capitano. Don't be a fool; don't miss this one.

Pioneers Bow To Queensmen

Queens College handed Paterson State another loss with a 71-55 thrashing last Monday, February 22. The loss was PSC's twenty-first of the campaign against two victories. The game allowed the Queensmen to even their season's count at 9-9.

The Pioneers had to play the whole second half without its big mark-maker, Steve Clancy. Clancy was suffering from an influenza and left at internasion. Nonetheless, he did manage to toss in thirteen tallies.

The score was even at 5-5 before Queens opened the large gap. Bad ball handling and a poor shooting percentage was the main reason for the 19 point deficit at halftime, after which the Pioneers never really came close.

Other than Clancy, two other PSC cagers hit double figures. Guard Tom DeStefano and co-captain Bill Joosten managed to muster ten tallies apiece while Harold Dadds dumped in 9. Coach Wolf unloaded the bench playing his four frosh reserves as two of them, Jim Burke and Walt Turner, gathered a bucket each in the dying minutes.

Pace Over PSC 89-61

Pace College defeated the Cagers on February 18 by score of 89-61. The Pioneers to play almost the entire game without ace Steve Clancy, was attending his night English class. After finally arriving Clancy managed to add 12 points to Paterson's score.

Pace jumped to a 5-0 lead before PSC finally broke the At the four-minute mark, Pioneers trailed 12-0. Paterson State was hurt severely in the second half when Harold Dadds fouled out with 16:40 go in the game. Bill Joosten followed Dadds 6 minutes later. Chuck Martin was high man for the losers with 25 points.

The Pioneer Jayvees fared better, edging the visitors 72 on Walt Turner's jump with 2 seconds to go. Turner 32 points in the game.

Jayvees Edge Pace, Queens

Paterson State's J.V. basketball team played two of its last games of the year recently beating Pace College 73-72 and Queens College 88-84.

Against Pace the Junior Pioneers found themselves the short end of a 67-72 score with 1 minute 13 seconds remaining in the game. Paterson got the ball on a steal and Walt Turner's jump shot swished through the basket as the buzzer sounded, for a final score of 73-72.

Tuesday night the team had an easier time winning 88-84 over Queens. This time the team was led by John Richardson with 26 points followed by Stan Yaroz with 18. The vast improvement in the J.V. team foretells a bright future for P.S.C.'s future teams.
