College to Receive Bond Issue Funds

By CLARE PUCCIO

New Jersey citizens are urged to approve the three capital construction bond issue of $990 million, set for a vote on November 5. The bonds will provide a means of solving New Jersey's education, institution, highway, mass transit and urban housing problems.

The New Jersey Transportation Bond Issue will invest $440 million in new highway construction and $200 million in new mass transit equipment and facilities. The Public Buildings Construction Issue will provide $100 million for the renovation and new construction of state institutional buildings, and another $237.5 million for the construction of new state colleges, expansion of existing colleges and vocational training centers, and the establishment of state-wide educational radio and television stations.

The New Jersey Housing Assistance Bond Issue will make available $12.5 million to attract and stimulate private investment in housing for depressed areas.

The state's current income is needed to pay for current operations. As in business and personal finance, investment in facilities to be used over a long period of time is best funded by borrowing the money for gradual repayment. Selling bonds is the means by which government can borrow these much-needed funds.

Come and Get 'Em ID Cards Are In

By BILL GAZDAG

So you do not have your I.D. CARD as of yet and you are getting all types of upset... do not fret... just follow these instructions.

The students who sent in their mug shots by mail this summer should pick up I.D. CARDS in the ADMISSIONS OFFICE, second floor on Haledon Hall.

Now those who sent in their picture during Orientation should check in the Octagonal Room of College Center toward the end of next week.

And students who still must send in their picture, this includes Upperclassmen whose cards got lost, stolen or dry cleaned, should report to the Octagonal Room in the College Center (or Mr. Tiffany on the second floor) NEXT WEEK. No more requests for

Basque Festival To Dance at PSC

The Olaeta Basque Festival of Bilbao will appear on the stage of the Marion E. Shea Center for Performing Arts on Friday, October 11, at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 and are available at the Box Office.

The origin of the Basques is a mystery; how they remained in a single group is equally unknown. But single they are, though they are divided by a natural frontier - the Pyrenees - as well as a man-made one, the border between France and Spain. The French and Spanish Basques have much more in common with each other than they have with other Frenchmen or Spaniards; they speak the same language, look alike, have the same traditions, the same games, the same history, the same work, the same songs and the same dances.

Certainly one of their most striking physical characteristics is their agility. It is well represented in the national sport of jai alai, and it is equally well demonstrated in the dances which will be performed in this country by the Olaeta Basque Festival of Bilbao. The Goblet Dance, for instance is climaxed when the dancer makes a spectacular leap onto a wine goblet, remains there, poised on one foot, for a few seconds, and then leaps off - without spilling a drop of wine.

Many Basque dances are a kind of contest in agility and skill. There is one, Aurreku, in which the men - often the local

Minister Organizing

By LINDA BARBARULA

Reverend Richard P. Johnson was recently appointed United Campus Minister for PSC by a seven denomination ecumenical board in Bergen and Passaic Counties.

The Board who hired Mr. Johnson is aware that higher education, like the culture and society is very much a part of lives under a constant pressure to fragment and specialize, and feels that any sense of community can be lost and requires an ecumenical approach.

With this in mind, Mr. Johnson has begun to meet with school personnel and clergy from the Christian, (Newman and Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship) groups functioning on campus. He and Father Werhlen hope to meet with Hillel representatives and work toward establishing a sense of community among all the students and faculty at PSC.

Some of the typical

Advisors Chosen For First Time

Students will have a voice this year in the selection of advisors for their activities, except where advisement of a particular activity is an integral part of a faculty member's work load. The procedures to be followed are:

Student groups meet and determine the faculty member they wish to have as adviser for their activity (within the departmental restrictions listed.)

The president or chairman of the student group contacts the faculty member selected and secures his agreement to serve as adviser.

The president or chairman of the student group forwards the name of the faculty member to the president of the SGA who, in turn, presents the name to the chairman of the senate for appointment.

The restrictions are as follows; Art Club, Art; Association for Childhood Education, Education; Beacon, Any; Citizenship Club, History or Social Science; English Club, English; Essence, English; International Relations Club, History or Social Science; Kappa Delta Pi, Education; Mathematics Club, Mathematics; Natural Science Club, Science; Philosophy Club, Philosophy Division of Education; Pioneer Players, Speech; Rho Theta, Alpha Psi, Speech; Omega Dramatics Club, Speech; Romance Languages Club, Romance Language Division, English; Ski Club, Any; Social Science Society Club, History or Social Science; Special Education Club, Special Education; Student Education Association, Education; Student Speaker's Bureau, Speech; Swords

Club, Any; Tennis, Any; Yearbook, Art or English.

Groups for which advisers have already been assigned are: Carnival, Cheerleaders, Color Guard, Contemporary Dance Society, Director of Athletics, Hospitality Club, Jazz Ensemble, Gymnastics Club, Pathfinder, Physical Education Club, Riding Club, Student Government Association, and Women's Recreation Association.

Balloting Begins For Who's Who

Each year at this time, Paterson State College elects students to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Founded in 1934 with a membership of over seven hundred colleges and over ten thousand students, the Who's Who election has always been an exciting part of campus life.

Present members of the organization on campus elected from the Class of 1969 are JoAnn De Marco, Linda Fischer, Robert Moore, and Albert Paganelli.

Homecoming

Paterson State's first Homecoming, sponsored by the PSC Alumni Association and the SGA will be held Saturday, October 12, 1968 at Wightman Field.

The program begins with registration and includes the Alumni vs. Varsity Soccer Game, picnic lunch, and a Cross-Country Match, PSC vs. Virginia Union. Tickets are $1.50 and will be available at the Alumni office for students. Alumni will receive mailing forms.

IRC To Host

Chicago Talk

The International Relations Club will have its first meeting of the year on September 25 at 3:30 in Wing 101. The topic for discussion is entitled "Chicago - What Really Happened." Phil Jonas, vice-president of the IRC and a member of the McCarthy National Staff at the convention will be the guest speaker. The IRC cordially invites students to help make this year as successful as last year.

The main purpose of the club is to introduce and familiarize the PSC student with world problems and provide discussions concerning world crises with foreign and domestic speakers from all walks of life.

Stokes Stay Discontinued

It was recently learned that the Stokes program has been discontinued as a college requirement. A recommendation was made by the Educational Policy Council to Dr. Forcina, who was Acting President at the time, to allow the individual departments to decide whether to send its students to Stokes or not. The Science department is participating.

Previously students spent a week at the Stokes Conservation Forest with classes in forestry, dramatics, animal habitat, camping, orienteering, canoeing, archery, and socialization.

Bond Issue Funds

Conditions are favorable in New Jersey to issue bonds. The state has a top credit rating because of its low debt level. Investment now can create for future generations an inheritance of adequate public facilities, but action must be taken now to avoid leaving a legacy of unsolved problems.

Paterson State College can expect to receive $7,505.00 for the expansion and improvement of the campus if the Bond Issues are passed. The 1972 enrollment objective for the college is 5,500 an increase of 2,400 over last year's full-time enrollment of 3,100. The 1967 part-time enrollment was 3,000, and a similar increase can be achieved in part-time enrollment. Major facilities to be financed by the bond issue are a science-laboratory-classroom-office building, with two larger auditorium-type lecture halls for multiple use.

As at the other state colleges, there is also a need for a maintenance and storage facility and for the creation of parking facilities, walks and roadways for the additional students. Under the Educational Facilities Authority, funds will be provided to construct a student union and to build a dining-hall and dormitories housing 1,000 students.

There are two important controls over the 1968 Bond Issues. First, if the voters approve the bonds, the money does not necessarily become available all at once. A "yes" vote means the people of the state are allowing their government to issue bonds from time to time — when they are needed for each project, and when the market conditions are best. Second, before the money is spent, the state legislature must approve of each project together with the price tag.

Many people believe the 1968 Bond Issues are a reasonable way for New Jersey to begin to catch up by building. The bonds will benefit everyone. The people of the state will allow their government a way to build for the present and the future. The investors who buy the bonds will get a reasonable and safe return on the money they loan New Jersey. And the citizens will get the public improvements so badly needed. The building activity will create jobs, bring in more industry and tax ratables to local towns, and open New Jersey up to greater opportunities.

New Jersey Democrats and Republicans will be fighting to elect their own candidates this fall, but they will be working together on one major project — asking the voters to approve the 1968 Bond Issues. To help further this cause the bi-partisan New Jersey Bond Yes Committee and the Pro Higher Education Bond Campaign were formed.

The latter represents all institutions of public higher learning in New Jersey. Each institution will be responsible for educating and influencing its students, the parents of the students, faculty, alumni, and the area surrounding its campus concerning the Bonds Yes program.

Currently, Paterson State

College does not have any one group sponsoring the Bonds Yes Campaign here on campus. All groups and clubs interested in promoting this campaign are urged to contact Mrs. Randall in the Administration Building immediately.

Balloting Begins

The requirements are:

1. Student must be a Junior or Senior in the upper half of his class academically and have been on campus for two years.

2. He should have been an active participant in a variety of student activities or have been outstanding in one area.

3. He or she should be a student well thought of by students and faculty.

Any student who believes he is eligible may enter his name or the name of a friend whom he feels qualifies. The ballot box will be in the Octagonal Room in the College Center from Monday, Sept. 23 to Friday, Oct. 4.

expressions of the Church in the University like group dialogues, coffee houses, art and drama, and social and political action may result; only time will tell.

Mr. Johnson, a native of California, attended Sacramento State College and California Baptist Theological Seminary. He was campus minister at University of California for one year and Ohio State for three years. While in the service, he was a paratrooper, and in between service and school, Mr. Johnson tended bar and drove a truck.

Basque Festival

authorities — form a parade in order of seniority. Then a prominent woman or pretty girl is chosen, and each man leaps and dances in her honor. The shole is a demonstration of art and vigor which ends with men and women all twirling rapidly to the accompaniment of the txistu — the incredible Basque flute — and small drums.

Other dances are as spirited; unusual and robust rhythms, high jumps and leaps, and a strong sense of gaiety abound in Basque dances. There is also a touch of tenderness, and the loneliness and haunting mystery common to sheperds and fishermen the world over. The Basque are also a deeply devout people, and much of this is reflected in their song and dance, from the passion play in dance form to the musical celebration of Loyola, a Basque born and bred.

Other dances are an evocation of ancient Basque wars, undoubtedly these in which their culture defended and preserved itself. The Ezpata Dantza, for example, starts with the flag being waved over the dancers' heads as they kneel on the ground and ends with a fallen warrior being raised on high while the others dance around him.

That the Basques love their music and their dance is evident in the performance of the Olaeta troupe. The Basques themselves have a saying about their music: "Where there is one Basque, there is a beret. Where there are two, there is a game of jai alai. And where there are three, there is a choir."

In their carefully selected program of song and dance, the Olaeta Basque Festival of Bilbao brings to American audiences as rare a blend as it is possible to find. Here is the gaiety of Biarritz, the ruggedness of Navarre, the breath-taking agility of the jai alai of San Sebastian, and the adventurous spirit of the Biscayan mariners. These are the components of the Basquaise whole; on the concert stage, it is a totality which effervesces with excitement, vitality and the many-splendored pleasures of the dance.

ID Cards

cards will be accepted after FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27.

Do not forget to print your name and IBM number from your registration Course Schedule on the back of your wallet sized photo. Also bring a self-addressed envelop and if you are an Upperclassman needing replacements do not forget to bring a dollar.

SEA Officers

To Be Elected

The Student Education Association of PSC will hold their opening tea on September 25 at 3:30 in Wayne Hall. Election of officers will be held and all freshmen and upperclassmen are invited to participate.

Teaching is changing as our national life is changing. And tomorrow's teachers will be activists in many causes, for many goals, on many fronts.

For students who are preparing today to become teachers tomorrow, now is the time to prepare for both educational and community leadership. Such preparation does not come through formal study alone. It comes also from activities outside the classroom: on the campus, in the slums, in organizations, through the full fabric of life.

The STUDENT NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, an organization of college and university students who are interested in education, is an action group geared to involve its 120,000 members in just such activities.

As a preprofessional organization, the Student NEA program provides opportunities for students preparing to teach or interested in education:

1. To develop an understanding of and appreciation for the teaching profession and professional teachers organizations.

2. To stimulate the highest ideals of professional ethics, attitudes, and growth.

3. To interest capable young men and women in teaching as a career.

4. To improve educational services in general.

The Student NEA is sponsored by the NEA, National Education Association, a voluntary, independent, and non-governmental professional organization. Supporting NEA is the campus student NEA chapter, also called a local student association.

Government Grants Available Now

The competition for United States Government grants for graduate study or research, or for study and professional training in the creative and performing arts abroad in 1969-70, is nearing its close.

Congressional funding for Department of State grants in Fiscal Year 1969 (July 1, 1968-June 30, 1969) is substantially below last year's total. It is not possible, therefore, to assure candidates of the availability for all countries of the grants shown in the printed announcements already issued.

Reductions will be applied most heavily in the categories of grants for Americans to go overseas because of the desire of the government to reduce travel overseas at this time. Competition for such grants will, therefore, be all the keener. The number of 1969-70 grants for Americans may, on the average, be reduced as much as two-thirds from the preceding year.

The awards are available as part of the educational and cultural exchange program of the U. S. Department of State. The general purpose of the program, administered by the Institute of International Education, is to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and those of other countries.

Application forms and detailed information for students currently enrolled in Paterson State College may be obtained from the campus Fulbright Program Advisor, Dr. Elizabeth De Groot. The deadline for filing such applications on this campus is October 31.

With competition greatly increased, only candidates who fully meet eligibility requirements and other selection criteria will be considered. Applicants must be U. S. citizens at the time of application, must generally be proficient in the language of the host country, and, except where noted below, must have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the beginning date of the grant. Students who already hold the doctoral degree are not eligible to apply. Preference will be given to candidates who have had no previous extended study or resident abroad, and who are under 35 years of age.

Selections will be made on the basis of academic and/or professional record, the feasibility of the applicant's proposed study plan, his personal qualifications, and evidence that his selection for a grant would help to advance the aims of the program.

Creative and performing artists who wish to study abroad are not required to have a bachelor's degree but they must have four years of professional study or equivalent experience. Applicants

Why would Bic torment this dazzling beauty?

Why?

To introduce the most elegant pen on campus.

Expensive new Bic® Clic® for big spenders 49¢

Only Bic would dare to torment a beauty like this. Not the girl... the pen she's holding. It's the new luxury model Bic Clic... designed for scholarship athletes, lucky card players and other rich campus socialites who can afford the expensive 49-cent price.

But don't let those delicate good looks fool you. Despite horrible punishment by mad scientists, the elegant Bic Clic still wrote first time, every time.

Everything you want in a fine pen, you'll find in the new Bic Clic. It's retractable. Refillable. Comes in 8 barrel colors. And like all Bic pens, writes first time, every time...no matter what devilish abuse sadistic students devise for it.

2. Students who wish to change their curriculum for the spring 1969 semester must file a change of curriculum form in the Registrar's Office before November 1.
3. Seniors who expect to complete graduation requirements by February, June, or August 1969, and who have NOT filed a degree application with the Registrar's Office should do so immediately.

1070 Freshmen Enter PSC

Members of the largest freshman class to enter Paterson State College began their college careers in the orientation program on Tuesday, September 10, in the Marion E. Shea Center for Performing Arts.

Mr. Richard S. Desmond, Director of Admissions welcomed the group to the college and presented Dr. James Karge Olsen, President, who extended greetings and welcomed the Class of 1972. Other speakers who gave an overall view of college life were Dr. Grace Scully, Dean of Students; Miss Anita Este and Mrs. Joan Henderson, Freshman Academic Advisers; Mr. Ted Tiffany, Freshman Class Advisor; Mrs. Carol Patterson, College Nurse; and Mr. Dominic Baccollo, Financial Aid Officer. At the close of this session the newcomers purchased box lunches, which proved to be the most expedient manner of serving lunches to a new group of students.

The afternoon session was under the auspices of the Student Government Association. President Walter Miller introduced speakers for various men's and women's athletic groups and other activities to encourage freshmen to participate as part of their college life.

Pat Hurley, president of the sophomore class, presented hazing instructions for this year's freshmen and then John Alfieri assigned sophomore guides to groups of students who were taken on a tour of the campus.

The final activities of the day were meetings of each department faculty with the students in their major area.

Transfer students and students previously enrolled in the part-time division were invited to a special program on Wednesday, September 11, at 1:30 p.m.

Danforth Program Available At PSC

All eligible Paterson State students who wish to participate in this year's Danforth Graduate Fellowship program are urged to contact Dr. Paul Vouras on the fourth floor of Raubinger Hall immediately.

The Danforth program was established in 1951 with the aim of giving personal encouragement and financial support to selected college seniors and recent graduates who seek to become college teachers. The Fellowships are open to men and women who plan to study for a Ph.D. in a field common to the undergraduate college. Applicants may be single or married, must be less than thirty years of age at the time of application, and may not have undertaken any graduate or professional study beyond the baccalaureate.

Special attention is given to three areas in considering candidates for Fellowships. The applicants must show evidence of intellectual power which is flexible and of wide range, and also evidence of academic achievement which is a thorough foundation for graduate study. The candidates must demonstrate personal characteristics which are likely to contribute to effective teaching and to constructive relationships with students. Finally, they must show evidence of concerns which range beyond self-interest and narrow perspective and which take seriously the questions with which religious expressions attempt to deal.

The award is for the academic year of the calendar year, and is normally renewable for a total of four years. Fellowship stipends are based on individual needs but may not exceed $1,800 for the single student and $2,200 for the married student during the academic year. For the calendar year, the stipends may not exceed $2,400 for the single student, and $2,950 for the married student.

The Graduate Record Examination Aptitude Tests in verbal and quantitative abilities are required and must be taken on Saturday, October 26, or earlier by all nominees.

Candidates for appointment to the Fellowships are restricted to those persons nominated by the designated faculty member, which in the case of Paterson State is Dr. Paul Vouras. Each college may nominate two to five candidates from among its seniors and recent graduates. Nominations close November 1. Application materials are sent to the nominees, and completed applications are due in the Danforth Foundation office not later than November 23.

Tired American

I suppose there comes a time when the American citizen must take time out to re-evaluate, at least in his own mind, the political, economic, and social state of his country. He must also weigh the quality and sources of charges made by his country's critics who seem to be growing in increasingly large numbers both at home and abroad. I would suspect that the average American citizen hears so much about what is wrong with the United States that at times he begins to wonder what is right.

One American, Alan McIntosh, editor of the Rock County Herald in Luverne, Minnesota speaks for those who are fed-up with the one-sided attacks at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty and integrity on which America grew to greatness when he says:

"I am a tired American.

I am tired of being called the ugly American.

I am tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American — weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned, and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American — weary of being lectured by General De Gaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a tired American — weary of Nasser and all the other blood-sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and who kick him on the shins and yank his beard if the flow falters.

I am a tired American — weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a tired American — weary of the beatniks and all those who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American — who is angered by the self-righteous breastbeater critics of America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States but never apply the same standards to the French, the British, the Russians, the Chinese."

There are those who would pick the United States apart and dwell on everything that is wrong with its system and all the mistakes that our government and people have made. But no nation is exempt from making blunders — not the United States, France, Great Britain, Russia, North Vietnam, or even San Marino. And so I would add one more thought to Mr. McIntosh's beliefs:

I am a tired American — weary of those who delight in focusing only on that which is bad with our country rather than on the many more things which are good.

Chicago's Renaissance

As almost anyone will tell you, this is the year for the Twenties Look. Thumb through any magazine and you'll see bobbed hair and styles sharply resembling that era. Turn on the television and a model in a pin-stripe suit sells you, "Da real stuff." Think about the phenomenal success of "Bonnie and Clyde."

Mayor Daley, not to be outdone by anyone, has provided the ultimate sacrifice the twenties had by giving Chicago's visitors and tourists a taste of the corruption in that city during "The Lawless Era."

The industrious Mayor of Chicago started his extensive campaign in political nostalgia by pulling a "caper" that would have made Dillinger roll over in his grave. He "heisted" an entire national political convention. Despite mumblings and groanings by party chiefs the iron fist of the Irish mafia prevailed. The whole "gig" became his personal property in just the same way that Capone once owned the south-side and the seat of power never drifted from his ringside chair. He could (and frequently did) signal to the podium when to adjourn, when to begin, and even when to sing "Happy Birthday" to the absent yet very present President. No great leader would let his power terminate there, however and Daley, was no exception. His handpicked security guards mistakenly admitted countless nondelegates carrying false identification not to mention pro Daley placards who just happened to be employees of the city of Chicago. But then again these men did have their hands full muscling reporters and photographers. This brings us to another syndicate practice. The mob showed its displeasure with newspaper reports on its activities by taking the editor "for a ride." Daley's boys were content to take members of the press and just rough them up a bit (at least two in full view of a nation wide audience).

And with all the above preparation the Mayor cleverly duplicated another gangland tradition. For because of his actions Daley automatically gave the "kiss of death" to his own party's candidate.

Still in all fairness, his Honor forgot one major detail in his restoration campaign. He forgot to include an Elliott Ness-type to oppose him.

Does anyone know where we can reach Abe Ribicoff?

SGA Appeal

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to welcome you all back on behalf of the Student Government Association. I hope you had a restful and enjoyable summer.

In my two years here I have heard people say the S.G.A. is run by a few; well they are right because only a few people on this campus are willing to work. I personally will never send someone away who is willing to work because this isn't my school, it is everyone's. Only with all the students working together will P.S.C. students get more than a classroom education.

During this year I will ask for your help on different committees which are being formed. Let's take advantage of the responsibility given to us as students which all students want and should have.

There will be a place for you to bring your problems and ideas. I don't care who you are or if I agree with you as long as the student body benefits. I don't care who you are, this Student Government Association is for all students, no matter what.

This coming state election is important to the six state colleges. Only if we'll explain the condition on the campus will the others pass the Bond Issue. But it is up to us to tell the people. More information on this matter is coming forth.

I'm ready to work for you. I hope you're ready to work for yourself.

Thank you,
WALTER MILLER
PRESIDENT OF S.G.A.

College Tea

DEAR EDITOR:

For us at Overbrook, the beginning of the academic year means a new group of College Companions, or the renewed visits of old friends. The adolescents, in particular, are eagerly awaiting the new Companions and are constantly inquiring about them. The older patients, of course, enjoy the visits just as much.

Last year saw the visits of 148 students from 11 colleges. Seventy-two service Awards were presented to students who participated regularly in the program and 10 Distinguished Service Awards were presented to students with outstanding service. Certainly there were many students who gained new insights into the field of mental health and who gained great personal satisfaction from their service to others.

This year we are planning a new approach to the College Companion Program. Students will have the opportunity to be more closely involved with overall ward activities and special projects should they desire this. Initiative and creativity will be welcomed and encouraged. The College companions will also have the opportunity to meet and work with students from other colleges and other disciplines and to share their experiences with them. Or, they may just visit patients individually as they have in the past.

We are planning our annual College Companions' Tea on Thursday, September 26, from 3 to 5 p.m., in the Graduate Nurses' Home. You will be receiving an invitation shortly. Interested faculty members and students are cordially invited to attend. We hope to have some previous College Companions present to chat informally with the new students about their experiences in the program. We are looking forward to seeing you then.

Sincerely,
LILLIAN BRUNELL, Coordinator
College Companion Program

Change of Heart

DEAR EDITOR:

This is an open letter to students. The issue of the Viet-Nam War perplexes the country and has bothered me for many months. Last year I was neutral on the issue because I was not sure what I believed. I also knew that many of you felt strongly about one side of the question or the other, and, as SGA Advisor, I thought my role should be neutral. On issues solely involving students, of course I will remain neutral.

However, as a faculty member I believe I have the right, and as a person the obligation, to hold and express opinions on important national issues. I also want you to know my current opinion on this controversial question because our working together successfully depends basically on a relationship of trust, and an ability to discuss differing points of view rationally, even though some of us may strongly disagree.

After a great deal of uncomfortable soul searching, I now believe that this particular war is 1) illegal, 2) immoral, 3) purposeless, 4) impractical, 5) futile, and 6) is cruelly unfair to those American and Vietnamese people whose lives and homes are forfeited by it.

There has been some irrationality on both sides of the national debate about this war, I can claim neither to have the final "Truth" nor to be eternally rational myself, but I will be happy to try to explain the reasons for my conclusions should anyone wish to listen.

Locks and Burglars

DEAR EDITOR:

Upon my return to the Science Wing of Paterson State College I discovered many interesting things. First to catch my eye was the shine of the floors and lockers. Next was the complete absence of locks which made it almost impossible for me to find my own locker. I had a lock on it for two continuous years. Finally I found the vicinity of my old locker and proceeded to open all the doors expecting to find the interior in the condition in which I left it. I really couldn't believe my eyes! The interior was spotless, almost a high polish on the steel walls. I don't see why the janitors, excuse me, custodians, in their fever to clean up took, I won't say stole, my Webster's Dictionary, a lab coat, a dissecting kit, and various other items giving

Higher Education Available To All

The Garden State is making an all out effort to give disadvantaged young people a higher education. Our great state will most likely be the one to show the country how we can move tomorrow's leaders out of the ghetto and onto college campus.

The impetus derives from the Educational Opportunity Fund, which was created to make available special financial aid and academic programs for intelligent, needy people who want and deserve an education. When the New Jersey Education Association was given this proposal last April, Governor Richard J. Hughes said:

"Many young men and women in New Jersey who are fully capable, with assistance, of work at the college level are prevented from entering college because they lack both financial resources and acceptable scores on competitive tests.

"It is essential to identify and assist students of outstanding character and leadership potential whose comparative underachievement or low test-score performance is associated principally with poor school training — in other words, boys and girls whose scholastic weakness is not their fault, but our collective fault."

The Legislature, which has a Republican majority, accepted Hughes' proposals and appropriated $1.6 million to aid students and $400,000 to the colleges for remedial and supplementary education. Higher Education Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan stated:

"This $2 million is the largest appropriation by any state in the country specifically designated for disadvantaged students."

The program is especially centered around the Negro and Puerto Rican youths.

"It is important that 'needy student' not be defined solely with reference to financial need. We have chosen to speak of economically AND educationally disadvantaged students as to the population to which this program will be directed."

The ultimate goal is to place 2,500 ghetto youths, capable of doing college work, into higher education.

The program will be put into operation this September at Paterson State College. In accordance with Chancellor Dungan's request Paterson State College has committed places for disadvantaged students in 1968-69 academic year. We have sought out candidates through organizations other than the ones usually associated with recruiting new students. We have expanded guidance and counseling services. This year new curriculums, including "Afro-American courses, have been added to comply with the requirements.

Mr. Baccollo, our financial advisor, has determined the total amount of the students' needs. A package of financial support from all available sources has been prepared. Mr. Baccollo has also determined the amount of the Opportunity Grant from the Fund required to make up the difference between the total need and other available resources.

The grants, which range from $250 to $1,000, will be renewed only if the Paterson State student retains his grades in accordance with Paterson State's requirements. No more than 10 percent of the funds may be used for post-graduate work, and no more than 10 percent may be made available to New Jersey residents attending out of state colleges. The appropriated funds could be used for tuition, books, room-board, and related costs such as transportation, clothing, and supplies.

The New Jersey State Board of Higher Education named an eight-member board of directors, who along with Chancellor Dungan, administers the Educational Opportunity Fund.

The program qualifies for matching federal funds. Governor Hughes hopes it "will serve as a magnet for additional public and private scholarship funds to enable more and more young people to overcome cultural and educational deprivation to become productive and highly valued members of society."

rise to a total of about twenty dollars. This is the first time in two years that this has happened and I would like, along with my classmates, to know why we were not told of this summer clean up. There is no reason to doubt that I will be reimbursed for my losses, but I felt that the Administration along with the student body should be aware of the situation for I am not the only victim.

Misrepresentation

DEAR EDITOR:

A while ago the MORNING CALL printed an article attributing quotes to me which were not my works. These comments, greatly exaggerated and given a new meaning through a new context, do not reflect my views about the paper you publish. They don't really represent the ideas any sane person would wish to express in print. I'm concerned about representation of the liberal viewpoint by this paper — this last sentence is the only sentence on the subject I could honestly be quoted to have said.

Inside Is Where The Action Is

By CLARE PUCCIO

Hey, everybody, what are all you nice people doing in a place like this? Really, what do you think you're doing here? Probably it was your parents who had always expected you to go to college. Then when all the other seniors in your high school began thinking and talking about college careers, well, you naturally wanted to be part of the scene, too. Right? Or maybe you decided that you would look better wearing that blue fraternity jacket rather than the khaki one. But then, blue was always your favorite color.

Allright, so here you are. Now where's the action? Is it in the snack bar? Not really, because right now you'll only find books there. Is it happening right outside the classroom window, or right inside that classroom, or down at "The Rock"? Wrong again. Want to know a secret? The action is you. It's right in you and in others.

The action is learning to live and learning to get the most out of life. A part of that comes from the classroom and the textbooks, but the most important part comes from your contact with others. It means reaching out in the darkness, grabbing at one another, huddling together, and pulling each other along.

We have to learn to know and understand each other. Or at least try. And imagine how much we will begin to learn about ourselves in the process. The action is created when a professor loosens up enough to invite a few of his students over to his house for a coke or coffee and a bit of evening conversation. Or is it there in the midst of a bunch of students sitting on the grass talking about premarital sex, the racial situation, Vietnam, or why they just cannot open up to people with sincerity and without fear and doubts.

There is a potential in each one of us, professors and students alike, to create the action. How loud the raucous will be and how wild the party, will depend on each individual. How much are you willing to contribute?

Jonas Has Fill Of Conventions

By SUE TALLIA and DAVE LEWIS

In 1968, for perhaps the first time in American history, the youth of the nation have been incensed by the fever of a political campaign. At the National Democratic Convention in Chicago representatives from many segments of our society before unheard from, vociferously voiced their political sentiments.

Phil Jonas, a sophomore at PSC, an involved participant in local left-wing organizations, and an ardent admirer of Senator Eugene McCarthy, carried his political zeal both to the convention and the streets of Chicago. As a member of the "McCarthy for President" staff, and National Field Representative of the Border States for McCarthy, Phil was able to gain access to the convention floor, serving as a floor manager for the pro-McCarthy West Virginia delegation. His major task was to help co-ordinate the floor fight in support of the minority "peace plank" on Viet Nam.

Besides being involved inside the convention, Phil also became active in the outside demonstrations provoked by the convention. To Phil Jonas the demonstrations "symbolized the distaste for the system of the democratic process."

Since the convention there has been vehement controversy over the confrontation that occurred between the Chicago police, and the demonstrators. Phil described Chicago as the setting for the turmoil and recounted incidents from his own experience. Upon his arrival he viewed barracks that had been set up to house army troops, saw national guardsman patrolling the streets, and police stationed at every corner, creating according to Phil, "an ominous atmosphere." While walking to his hotel Phil was detained while tear-gas settled and police attempted to clear the streets. Phil was also involved in a group which attempted to march to the amphitheater; but was halted by police at 18th St. and Michigan Ave. and informed that they could not lawfully proceed further. Then, Dick Gregory suggested the group march to his house. According to Phil, "they walked to 3's on the sidewalk, not violating anyone's rights or the law." The police proceeded to arrest several delegates anyway, and Phil himself was forcibly removed by national guardsmen.

After hearing of Phil's adventures on the streets of Chicago, we asked him what had given him the inspiration to become so adamantly involved in politics. Phil gave great credit to Senator McCarthy; and having had the privilege of meeting and speaking with the Senator, Phil said: "He is a man of unusual wit and sense of timing; and, although not a proficient politician, his contribution to the American political scene may have been more than concrete."

Right or wrong, Phil Jonas is involved in a trend for the future; a spirit of involvement on which the course of history will be based.

Ensemble to Perform

By STEVE TANASOCA

This year Paterson State's Jazz Ensemble is planning to present as many informal performances on campus as possible, the first of which will be held on November 17.

In addition to the student members of this accomplished musical group there will appear several professional guests including the "Village Vanguard" and the "Village Gate."

The style of music will be a combination of blues, jazz, soul, and rock and roll thus providing a very broad spectrum of improvisation and color.

Performances will also be held at several area schools and a competitive assembly between PSC and High School ensembles is slated for the North Jersey Jazz Festival. Background assistance will be provided at the Warren Conventienn, the Buddy Morrow Band and the Villanova Band Festival.

It is hoped that these programs will offer opportunities for Paterson State's students to hear experimental music and to enjoy such opportunities which normally would only be available through the very few scheduled concerts.

Lab To Prepare Fall Experiment

The Leadership Lab Experiment, PSC's annual group dynamics happening is now open for application for the Fall Lab.

Laboratory training combines personal experience with theory and practice. It emphasizes the individual and his social and cultural context conditions which facilitate or impede learning, and the relation among values, feelings, and behavior. Participants in a laboratory have an opportunity to reflect on many aspects of human behavior under conditions of relative freedom in social work must have at least two years of professional experience after the Master of Social Work degree. Applicants in the field of medicine must have an M. D. at the time of application.

Two types of grants are available through IIE under the Fulbright-Hays Act: U. S. Government Full Grants, and U. S. Government Travel Grants.

A full award will provide a grantee with tuition, maintenance for one academic year in one country, round-trip transportation, health and accident insurance and an incidental allowance. Countries participating in the full grant program will be: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium-Luxembourg, Brazil, Ceylon, Chile, Republic of China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Denmark, Ecuador, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, India, Iran, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, the Philippines, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Thailand, Trinidad, Turkey, the United Kingdom, Uruguay, and Venezuela.

A maintenance allowance for one or more accompanying dependents will be given to grantees studying in Australia, Ceylon, Republic of China, Finland, Germany, India, Japan, Korea, Norway, Portugal, and Turkey. Travel for dependents is not provided in the grant.

To supplement maintenance and tuition scholarships granted to American students by universities, private donors and foreign governments, a limited number of travel grants are available. These are for study in France, Germany, Israel, Italy, Poland, Romania, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, and Yugoslavia.

In addition to the grants offered by the U. S. Government, the Institute also administers approximately 100 awards offered to American graduate students by several foreign governments, universities and private donors. These "foreign grants" apply to Austria, France, Germany, Iceland, Israel, Italy, Mexico, Poland, Romania, Sweden, Switzerland, Tunisia, Turkey, and Yugoslavia. In Germany, Poland and Romania an allowance for dependents is included.

from the demands of work and home. Laboratory Training aims at important goals:

Personal Growth — Self-awareness and sensitivity to others, free expression and better listening, more trustful, open interpersonal relations.

Group Development — Understanding the dynamics of groups, developing group leadership, building better teamwork, increasing group productivity.

Organizational Improvement — Effective change process, inter group collaboration, effective communication, problem analysis, and change strategies.

Laboratory Methodology utilizes the T-Group approach. The core training unit of the laboratory is the T (for Training) Group. In the subject matter is each participant's own immediate behavior in the group and the effects of that behavior on other members of the group and on the group as a whole. Group members provide essential leadership and membership functions. In the process, they learn — often for the first time — how their motives, feeling and strategies are seen by others.

Lab is open to all classes. Applications can be picked up in the Little Theater at 4:30 on Tuesday, September 24, 1968 or in the Octagonal Room, September 25-27 from 8:30 to 3:30 p.m. Completed applications should be placed in Dr. Hailparn's box before October 4, 1968.

Alumni meeting will be September 24, 1968 at 4:30 in the Little Theater. All are urged to attend as plans for the Fall Lab will be discussed and committees chosen.

Learn Chosen Pioneer's New Baseball Mentor

Richard Learn is Paterson State College's new head baseball and assistant soccer coach.

A graduate of Pennsylvania State University with a B.S. Degree in Health and Physical Education, Learn is also serving a health and physical education teacher at PSC.

He received his Master's Degree in Science from Indiana University at which time he was a graduate assistant.

RICHARD LEARN

Learn and Coach Myers are old friends - Learn graduate from Elkland High School (Elkland, Penn.) where he lettered in soccer, basketball and baseball under Myers!

Learn was voted as the recipient of the "Outstanding Athlete" award in his senior year at Elkland, an award based on dedication, effort and athletic ability.

At Penn State, Learn played soccer and baseball at both freshman and varsity levels.

He went on to coach soccer at Lorain County Community College and in his second year as

Myers and McDonald Had A Busy, Talkative Summer

Athletic director-soccer coach Wilber S. Myers and cross-country coach-assistant basketball coach Dick McDonald were kept busy during the past summer as guest lecturers and counselor coaches at various sport camps.

After a week's work at the Third Annual Springfield College soccer-school, Myers spent a week as guest lecturer at the North Jersey Soccer camp directed by Ernie Unger, head soccer mentor at Paramus High School. Allan King and Hubert Vogelsinger, two of the top soccer coaches in the country were also there.

Myers, a successful coach in his own right, concluded his speaking engagements with a week at the Fifth Annual Olympic Soccer Clinic in Fairfield, New Jersey.

At this camp, which was under the direction of Ralph Dougan of West Essex High School, Myers discussed and demonstrated the various techniques of formation play and skills as used in the sport of soccer.

Coach McDonald was busy this summer attending, speaking, and demonstrating basketball techniques at several clinics in the East.

He was a counselor coach at Jack Kraft's basketball camp in August as well as a member of the staff at the North Jersey Basketball school held at Eastern Christian High School in North Haledon.

This camp, under the direction of Cardy Gemma of Glen Rock High, also had as part of its staff Ollie Gelston of Montclair State, Bob Knight from Army, and Lou Carnesecca of St. Johns University.

Late in August, McDonald was the guest speaker at the Garden State All-Star Basketball camp at Pope Paul VI Regional High School in Clifton. The camp was under the direction of Dick Vitale of East Rutherford High.

McDonald discussed "fitness as it pertains to the development of the all around basketball player."

Coach McDonald finished his lectures by returning to Kraft's Camp in Green Lane, Pa. while Myers concluded his speaking engagements at the Olympic Soccer Clinic.

HELP! We Need You!

Now is the time for all good college students. . . .

You have heard this many times, in many forms. However, his time it ends: to come to the id of your campus newspaper. THE STATE BEACON NEEDS YOUR HELP!!

Since 1959, the BEACON has been reporting the news, on and off campus, and the sports clearly and concisely. It has debated controversial articles through editorials and letters to he editors. It has brought you the facts behind all the new developments on campus.

In the past we have printed four pages which is not enough for this college. All this does is deprive the students of what they are entitled to - better coverage of our campus activities.

So if you care about your college, come to the BEACON office. Typists, reporters, proofreaders, photographers, circulation people are all needed. We are located on the second floor of the College Center. Come on up! Give a Damn!

Cirignano Named PSC Sports 'Info' Director

Paterson State College has a new Sports Information Director in Lawrence A. Cirignano who was appointed by Director of Athletics Will Myers during the summer.

Cirignano will take care of sports publicity for the entire athletic program at Paterson State. He teaches health and physical education at Passaic High School and is the Indian's cross-country coach. He has been in the Passaic System for the past five years.

Cirignano is a sport involved individual. Besides his coaching duties he is a member in the New Jersey Interscholastic Coaches Association, the New Jersey Track Officials Association, is Public Relations Director the Passaic County Coaches Association, and is a member of the New Jersey Sports Writers Association and the Passaic-Clifton YMCA.

Cirignano also serves as the Director of Intramural Basketball of Passaic High, summer work co-ordinator for the Neighborhood Youth Corps of

'Kilties', Girls Drill Team, Will Stage Fall Tryouts

"Right Shoulder - Arms! Mark Time - March!" These commands and more will again echo through the gymnasium as Paterson State's "Spirit of '66 Kilties" take the line.

Organized in May of 1965 by Joe Dziezawiec under the auspices of the Senior Class of '66, the squad consists of eight flags, four rifles, two sabers, the school flag, and the American colors. The guards purpose is to contribute to college spirit by their performance at both home and away varsity basketball games. Competition and exhibition marching are also on the squad's schedule for the upcoming season.

Attired in Scotch plaid, the girls display their drills during half-time. Returning guard members are: Pat Barnaba, captain; Jean Pujol, sergeant Pattie Atkinson, secretary; Kathy Brady, treasurer; Sharon Vogel, Joanne Smith, Maureen O'Gorman Marge Oggenfuss, Marge Davis, Carol Steitz, and Ann Roch. Their new advisor is Miss Mays of the Physical Education Department.

At present there are openings for rifle and flag positions and substitutes. Practice for tryouts will be on Tuesday, September 24, at 3:30, Wednesday September 25, at 4:30, and Thursday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m., all held in the main gym. Final selection will be made on Thursday night, the former two practices being MANDATORY. Those wishing to try out should report promptly, dressed in shorts and either saddle shoes or sneakers. New squad members will be chosen according to heir enthusiasm, poise, and ability in marching formations. Girls from every class are urged to attend.

The Kilties will open their 1968-69 season on October 12, performing at PSC's Homecoming.

Runners, Booters Getting Set To Go

Cross-Country Squad Looks Strong; Fine Season Expected

by JOHN C. ALFIERI

PSC's 1968 cross country team is one of the biggest and strongest harrier squads ever assembled by Coach Dick McDonald.

"We've doubled our size, but the budget is still the same. Just another example of deficit spending," said Coach McDonald while talking of his roadrunners.

TWO REASONS FOR HOPE

AL PAGANELLI
Record-breaker

HIGH HOPES

Optimism is the feeling expressed by the team about a better season this year. Two reasons are the strength shown in the early workouts and four freshmen are running with Senior Al Paganelli in the top five.

The schedule is as rough if not rougher than last year's. Adding to the toughness are Sacred Heart of Connecticut, Virginia Union, and Lehman College, all fine competitors. Also the five teams that the harriers lost to last year are back on the slate: Stony Brook, Jersey City, Marist, Montclair, and the always strong Trenton. About Trenton, Coach McDonald had this to say: "Trenton is as strong or stronger than last year."

DAVE SWAN
Freshman From Passaic

But the roadrunners are hoping to reverse the decisions of last year when they take on the five teams.

MANY FRESHMEN

OPTIMISTIC

DICK McDONALD
Cross-country Coach

Swordsmen Ready for '68 Tilts

PSC's Men's Fencing Team is now preparing for the season ahead which will consist of thirteen meets with such familiar opponents as: Montclair State, NCE, West Point, Lafayette, Temple, and St. John's University. Also scheduled is a pre-season scrimmage with Drew.

This year's officers are: Bob Moore and Pete Wasek — co-captains, Tom Mayer — technician, and Steve Tanasoca — manager. The other returning lettermen are Mike Burns, Bob Stewart, and Ed Heater.

LOSSES HURT

Last spring's graduation took a heavy toll of the pioneer duellists and three fine swordsmen, Jack Zellner, Tom DiCerbo, and Arnie Madracmimov were lost. A varsity team is comprised of nine fencers, three in each respective weapon division — sabre, epee, and foil, so this year there are a number of vacancies which must be filled.

New candidates, especially freshmen are urged to try out. Fencing is a fast-moving, reflex and thinking sport. Hard work and perseverance are the only prerequisites — no previous experience is necessary.

PSC PRODUCES CHAMPS

In the past P.S.C. has produced three state champions, John Cilio, Tim Szabo, and Jim Lawther, none of whom had fenced before coming to Paterson State as freshmen.

Practice and tryouts will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, starting September 23. Time of practice will be from 2:30 to 5:30 on the gym stage.

All interested candidates should report there in gym suits with sneakers or else contact Coach Sully in his office in H102.

14 Lettermen Lost Means Rebuilding Year For Soccer

Paterson State College's soccer team, which ended play last year with a 9-2-2 record, a second place finish in the New Jersey State College Conference, and a birth in the NAIA area playoffs, finds itself with a rebuilding program on its hand this year.

Coach Will Myers has lost 14 lettermen either through graduation or other commitments. Among this group are many of the players that made, for last year's success story.

HEAVY LOSSES

Gone are first strong All-Conference goalie Bill Deubert, All-Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Delaware selections Stave Kasyanenko and Stosh Bavaro, and last years high scorer and leading assist man for his four years at PSC — Tony Benevento. Add to this the loss of entire backfield that was at one time or another selected to the NJSCAC team and you can see that Coach Myer and new assistant coach Dick Learn have quite a job ahead of them.

MEDASKA KEY MAN

The team will be built around senior letterman Ken Medaska, an All-Conference selection as forward.

This Hackensack High School product holds PSC's all-time scoring record of 36 goals and the single season high of 16.

Other returning lettermen are co-captains Rich Furlong (A senior) and Vinnie Caruso (A junior) both from Passaic Valley High, Phil Spagnolo, a junior out of Cliffside Park High and junior Harold Ferrando who played at Bergenfield High School.

Most of the rest of the team is young.

Myers has been putting his boot squad through their pre-season paces since just about Labor Day. The boys practice six days a week, three hours a session.

The coach started with the fundamentals and aimed at getting

REALISTIC

WILL MYERS
Soccer Coach

his team into shape for the long grind ahead.

Then came to work on the skills leading to team play. The team has had several scrimmages already.

The Pioneers will take on a 14 game slate, opening at home against Monmouth College on Saturday, September 28.

Home opponents will also include Newark State, Marist, the Alumni, Montclair State, Fairfield, Sacred Heart and St. Peters.

The Black and Orange will travel to play Jersey City, Bloomfield, Merchant Marine Academy, Glassboro State and Brooklyn College.
