Buildings Named for Famous Jerseyites

Three outstanding New Jerseyites who made major contributions to Paterson State College and to their state and country in general would be honored with buildings name in their memory, according to the recommendations of a College committee studying the naming of buildings.

Mrs. Bertha Clark, a member of the Paterson State Board of Trustees and chairman of the committee, said the committee recommended that the gymnasium be named the Wightman Memorial Gymnasium in memory of the former president of the College; the former campus school building be named Hobart Hall, in honor of Garret A. Hobart, Vice President of the United States under McKinley, on whose former estate the College is now located and the Fine Arts Building be named Ben Shahn Hall, in memory of the New Jersey painter who gained world acclaim.

Mrs. Clark said the criteria for selecting names included service to the College and/or the community. She stressed that the recommendations are being made public at this time to give those interested an opportunity to react to the proposals.

Dr. Clair S. Wightman, who died in January, was president of Paterson State from 1937 to 1954. It was through his personal efforts that the College continued in existence in the late 1930's when there was some sentiment in the State Legislature for consolidating the Paterson facilities with Jersey City State. He was also known for his fight against bigotry and discrimination in education.

PSC Alumna Gets Trustee Position

Paterson State College has acquired the youngest state college trustee ever appointed in the history of higher education in New Jersey. Miss Barbara Hradil, 23, graduated this college last year and is now a third grade teacher at Hudson-Maxim School in Hopatcong New Jersey. She was recommended for the position by the State Board of Higher Education and approved recently by Governor William Cahill.

Miss Hradil, who lives at 11 Ashby Avenue, Livingston participated in many student activities during the four years she spent earning her B.A. She worked on several SGA committees and is now a member of NJEA.

Miss Hradil will fill the position vacated by Mrs. Iris Bluestien. The late Mrs. Bluestien had two years remaining in her appointment.

The membership of the New Jersey state college's boards of trustees has been getting younger each year. Three of the eighteen trustees named or reappointed this summer are in their twenties, and another five are below forty years of age. They will join another half dozen trustees below forty including one twenty seven year old.

Said Chancellor Ralph Dungan, "I believe that the state college boards should have at least one quite young person among their membership."

Also returning to her alma mater's sphere is Miss Maureen Gatyars, a 24 year old graduate of Trenton State College, whose Board she joined this summer. Miss Gatyars teaches in Ewing Township outside Trenton and lives in Perth Amboy.

Another new young trustee is switching allegiance in joining the

Johnson: Location of New Parking Lot Has Been Carefully Planned

A half million dollar, 1,000 car parking lot is scheduled for completion by September of next year. Robert Johnson, Director of Facilities, disclosed that this college is awaiting state funds to finance the lot, which would temporarily alleviate most parking problems.

Mr. Johnson anticipates that the proposed lot will be inadequate within a year of its completion. Mr. Johnson attributes this to the fact of our future enrollment. But, Johnson concluded that "the parking facility will service as a foundation for a possible doubledecker structure which will hold up to 2,000 cars."

Schematic drawing and story by John Acker.

In addition to the parking lot, a road circuiting the peripheral edge of the campus will be constructed. The road will provide access to Belmont Avenue.

The parking facility is to be located below Buttermilk Falls.

Some students and faculty members have expressed concern over the ecological effects the lot may have. They point out that the proposed site will interfere with the normal flow of the spring fed stream that feeds Buttermilk Falls.

In answer to their concerns, Mr. Johnson emphasized that "the new parking lot will not endanger the ecological balance of the Buttermilk Falls area."

He added that the proposed

Students Enjoy SGA Weekend

BY JUDY BLOOMSTEIN

Bruce James, president of SGA, surmised that the recent SGA weekend held at a YMCA camp in Stillwater, New Jersey "helped to establish a better relationship among students, faculty, and administration, although little real work was accomplished."

The weekend, which was attended by several administrators, faculty and about forty students, involved various meetings which discussed new directions for SGA and the establishment of an All College Senate. The proposed All College Senate will include ten faculty members, ten students, and ten administrators.

It will be the main governing body of the college, although it will be subject to the authority of the President of the college and its board of trustees.

"Honesty, no politics," is how Mr. James describes the new course for SGA.

Mr. James also mentioned the possibility of student representation in the SGA General Council whereby one representative out of every thirty people would be elected. According to this system there would be over 100 representatives.

His outlook was dismal towards having so many

Community Affairs Semester Begins

BY LARRY CHERONE

The Community Affairs Semester kicked off its activities on Wednesday afternoon at the Paterson Street Academy.

Dr. James D. Baines, Director of the Community Affairs Institute explained that "the purpose of the program is to give the socially inclined student an opportunity to experience the problems of the inner city by actual participation in community events". The students involved in the program will be able to assist in any one of the following programs: field work, neighborhood counsel, or attendance of a series of Aldermanic or Council meetings. The students will receive fifteen credits at the end of the semester.

John Bell, Director of Paterson's Model Cities Program, spoke of the problems confronting the city. He said that Paterson's problems were not unusual but were "more or less severe".

Bell explained that "only one percent of the city's dwellings were vacant thus creating a severe housing crisis". He also said that forty percent of a family's income in Paterson is spent on housing as compared with the national average of twenty-five percent in other cities.

"As far as education is concerned, 97 percent of the

Executive Board Minutes PSC Hosts "Times" Speaker

On Tuesday, September 15th, the executive board of the Student Government held an open meeting in the office of the President. Present was the president, Bruce James, vice-president, Ruth Strother, treasurer, Millie Rose, recording secretary, Pat Mulqueen, corresponding secretary, Diane Manteri. Among the absentees were senior class president, Bob Ross, junior class president, Tom Oram, sophomore class president, John Wade, and past president, John Alfieri.

The first subject on the agenda was the 1970-70 SGA budget. This budget had been put together by the finance committee under the leadership of treasurer, Millie Rose. The vote was unanimously in favor of the budget.

Next, President James

proposed that a committee be formed to investigate the possibility of establishing a day care center for the local communities. This committee was approved and assigned to give a report on its findings no later than September 28th.

Appropriations were then approved to send President Bruce James along with college President James Olsen to Washington for a Student Government conference from September 25-26. The cost was approximately at $500.

Discussion then centered on the funding of a local little league basketball team and the current financial dispute with the Four Tops. In closing, President James announced that all future executive board meetings would be held in the Little Theatre prior to General Council meetings.

The Hobart family still serves the College. Garret A. Hobart IV, greatgrandson of the former Vice President, is now president of the Paterson State College Development Fund Board.

The College is located on the site of Ailsa Farms, the estate of the Hobart family. The old mansion of the estate is now Haledon Hall, one of the campus administration buildings.

Ben Shahn, who lived in Roosevelt, New Jersey, before his death last year, has been called "the most remarkable of American artists of sociological tendencies." Another critic maintained that "no American surpassed him in spreading a public record of his social thinking."

Among the most famous paintings of the Lithuanian born artist are those dealing with the Sacco-Vanzetti case of the 1920's and the Dreyfus case in France. His themes expressed deep sympathy with labor and with the crippled, the hungry and victims of persecution.

In 1933, he joined with the great Mexican artist, Diego Rivera, in the decorating of New York's Rockefeller Center.

Approval of the College Board of Trustees is necessary before the names can become official.

board of Ramapo College of New Jersey, the new four year college scheduled to open in Bergen County next September. He is Alonzo Jennings, graduate of Montclair State College, director of the Passaic Conference for Economic Opportunity and also an artist.

Pioneer of the younger crop of state college trustees is 27 year old William Price, named to the Newark State College board a year ago. A 1969 alumnus of the college he now helps direct. Price is a U.S. Navy veteran and has been a welfare case worker in Essex County. A Roselle resident, he plans to earn a law degree.

The new younger look of the state college boards is not mandated by law, which specifies only residence and sex requirements. No more than three members of any nine member board may reside in the same county and each board is required to have at least two women members.

of the N.Y. Times, will be the kickoff speaker, talking generally of "Issues Facing the Nation."

Mr. Reston was born in Scotland in 1909, and was brought to the U.S in 1910. From 1914 to 1920, he lived in Scotland, and again returned to America to reside. Resulting from this was an education in both countries.

In 1932, he graduated from the University of Illinois, and the following year became press agent for Baseball's Cincinnati Reds. He covered sports for the Associated Press and wrote a N.Y. column in 1934. In 1937, the Associated Press sent him to London where he covered sports in the summer and the Foreign Office in the winter.

After joining the London Staff of The Times in 1939, Mr. Reston covered assignments there and in Washington alternately. Since 1939, he has reported regularly from Washington, first as national correspondent of The Times and later as diplomatic correspondent. His enterprise and ingenuity as a reporter have scored many an exclusive story for Times readers.

Mr. Reston has twice won the Pulitzer Prize — in 1945, for his superior coverage of the Dumbarton Oaks Security Conference, and again in 1957 for distinguished reporting from Washington, an outstanding example being his five article series analyzing the effects of President Eisenhower's illness on the functioning of the executive branch. His interpretive informative coverage of foreign news has twice been rewarded the Overseas Press Club Award.

Three books have been written by Mr. Reston. In 1942, he wrote "Prelude to Victory" and "The Artillery of the Press: Influence on American Foreign Policy" and "Sketches in Sand" were both published in 1967. One of his themes was that the press should provide a relentless barrage of facts and criticism, as noisy but also accurate as artillery fire."

He had been an associate editor of The Times from 1964 until 1968. Previously, as well as being the Washington correspondent of the N.Y. Times, he had been chief of The Times bureau.

On September 1, in 1969, became a vice-president of The N.Y. Times. He is now based in Washington, where he writes the Editorial Page column three times a week. He had been executive editor of The Times, in charge of the news and Sunday departments, from June, 1968 until he was named vice-president.

In March of 1968, Mr. Reston and his wife purchased The Vineyard Gazette, a 122-year-old weekly on the island of Martha's Vineyard.

This program will sponsor other outstanding editors and reporters speaking on a number of topics. Admission will be free to anyone interested in attending.

Keeping Up With The Times

The New Jersey Council for the Social Studies Paterson State College will feature the outstanding editors and reporters within the oncoming weeks. The kickoff speaker, James Reston, will speak on the issues facing the nation, in the campus school auditorium on September 30 at 4:15 p.m. Other speakers and topics will be:

10/7/70	Indo-China	Robert Klein
10/14/70	International Communism in 70's	Harrison E. Salisbury
10/21/70	U.S. and Middle East	Dana Adams Schmidt
10/28/70	A View from Washington	Robert Semmler
11/4/70	The U.S. Economy	Thomas Mullan
11/18/70	The City: A National Problem	Martin Tolch
12/2/70	Environment	David Blum
12/9/70	The Cultural Science — Books	C. Lehmann-Haus
12/16/70	Education: National View	Fred Heching

The program is in its tenth year and is involved in the states of Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. There is no admission for the college community.

Your Inalienable Rights

"New Jersey's Drug 'Reform' Bill—Things Change But Everything Remains the Same"

By Prof. Richard Chused,
Rutgers Law School, Newark

A lengthy bill has been submitted to the State Legislature dealing with "reform" of the New Jersey drug laws. Part of the bill is an effort to "rationalize" the marijuana and other drug laws in this state. This rationalization is to occur by the classification of all drugs thought to be subject to abuse in a series of "schedules" with less restrictive controls on substances thought to be less subject to abuse. The concept is not totally faulty, but its application in the proposed legislation is highly punitive and noticeably inconsistent.

As has been noted many times by the ACLU (see Pot and the Law; Inalienable Rights columns of June 1, 1970 and June 8, 1970) state laws generally deal very harshly with the marijuana distributors and users, despite a lack of proof that the substance presents any significant danger to our society. In the "reform" bill, marijuana is placed in Schedule I, which is supposed to contain those substances found to have "a high potential for abuse, no accepted medical use in the United States, and a lack of accepted safety for use in treatment." Most of the drugs commonly known as "hard" narcotics are also on this Schedule. The criteria used to describe the substances in Schedule I do not properly describe the societal interest in criminalizing behavior. Ability to abuse a substance does not necessarily mean that any danger will be caused to citizens who choose not to participate in such abuse. Lack of medical use for a substance does not necessarily mean that known uses will be harmful to society. Lack of safety for use in treatment is not relevant at all to substances which may have no medical use, while still being fairly or completely safe for use in a non-medical context. In short, applying these criteria to marijuana simply makes no sense. Marijuana may be subject to abuse, but the abuse is not known to present a danger to anyone except the person using the substance, and perhaps not even to the abuser himself. Medical use of marijuana is thought to be unrewarding by most, but not all, practitioners; but this fact is not necessarily related to any societal interest in regulating the substance. If one is literal about the criteria for describing the substances on Schedule I, then alcohol and tobacco should also be listed. Both are substances with high potential for abuse; neither have any substantial medical use, nor any degree of accepted safety if they were regularly used in treatment.

The authors of the bill seem to recognize the awkwardness of the position the bill takes on marijuana. Methods are provided for judges to expunge all records (except those involved in the statutory requirement to register as a narcotics offender with local police officers) involved in minor marijuana offenses, and to dismiss minor charges after a period of good behavior. These provisions sit next to sanctions of up to twelve years for sale of marijuana, and five years for possession of more than 50 grams. The contrast is startling. It reveals the failure of the bills' authors to confront the question of whether the use of the criminal sanction is proper with regard to marijuana. How can pot be so dangerous that it requires one of the stiffest penalties in the state criminal code for its transfer, and so lacking in potential for abuse that first offenders or minor users may be let off with a fairly minor sanction. How can minor involvement with marijuana be considered so inconsequential that sanctions are very low or entirely expungeable, at the same time that even minor offenders must register with local police and subject themselves to the stigma and possibility of harassment that entails? If the involvement is minor, and the probability of participation in the transfer of large amounts of marijuana is therefore small, what purpose does registration serve? Need local police keep track of such persons?

tendency of state legislators to criminalize behavior without any evidence that the sanctioned behavior is dangerous to non-participating members of society. The seemingly endless presence of criminal laws punishing behavior that may be annoying but not dangerous to others, despite persistent criticism of Presidential Commissions, scholars and forward-looking administrators in various fields of criminal justice, is a blight on the legal system of our nation. The apparent inability of state legislators to seek non-criminal methods of regulating annoying or disfavored forms of behavior is one of the basic causes for the existence of lobbying and litigating groups like the ACLU.

Even if one accepts the justifiability of using the criminal sanction to regulate marijuana use, the bill has grave flaws. The bill's wide differentials in penalties for marijuana involvement still leave open for use the common practice of charging a person caught with fairly small amounts of marijuana with a serious offense in the hope of later obtaining a plea of guilty to a minor offense. Present practice is to charge possession of marijuana and later obtain a guilty plea to use. One effect of such a practice is to put tremendous pressure on a defendant to forego what might be a good defense to the charges against him (e.g. an illegal search) in return for a lenient sentence. This practice will continue in cases where more than 50 grams (less than 2 ounces) is found, but the amount is not substantial enough to cause a prosecutor to believe that the defendant is a seller of marijuana. Only an increase in the limitation of 50 grams, together with addition of an element of "intent to sell" to the offense of possession of marijuana and a substantial reduction in the penalties will bring a halt to the coercive obtaining of guilty pleas to minor charges.

The continued presence of a requirement that all persons involved with marijuana register with local police departments is totally unnecessary and highly punitive. What conceivable purpose is there in requiring a person accused of possessing one pot cigarette to register? Even assuming that it is a legitimate state purpose to keep track of and follow persons involved in marijuana distribution at some point in their lives (which we do not), that purpose does not extend to cases of minor involvement with the substance.

It is also interesting to note that the bill makes no provision for removing a substance from controlled status, although it does provide for adding substances to controlled status after an administrative determination that the substance should be placed on one of the four schedules contained in the bill. The oversight, if that it be, is illuminating. It is a preordained statement that no medical evidence will ever be able to persuade state administrative personnel to remove marijuana, or other substances, from regulation by the criminal law. Such is the nature of "reform."

Dr. Grodsky Named Dean of Graduate, Research Programs

Dr. Milton A. Grodsky has assumed the post of dean of graduate and research programs at Paterson State College. His appointment by Paterson State College President James Karge Olsen was recently approved by the Board of Trustees of the College.

Prior to joining Paterson State College, Dr. Grodsky, a psychologist, served in a variety of scientific and management positions with the Martin Marietta Corporation. He was technical director and program manager on a host of research studies designed to determine the reliability of the human during long duration space flights. This included realistic simulation of lunar landing problems, confinement, reduction of sensory input, work-rest cycles, physical conditioning and crew task loadings.

He was also instrumental in the development of training regimes to assure maximum human performance in these exotic and arduous environments.

Dr. Grodsky was also Program Manager on the research and development of the first variable stability inflight trainer. This trainer, in its early stages of use, appears to be a safer and more economical and effective mode of training pilots.

Dr. Grosky was visiting assistant professor of psychology and industrial engineering at

DR. MILTON A. GRODSKY

Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1966 and 1967.

He was recipient of Martin Marietta Corporation Achievement award in 1963 and the Outstanding Astronautics Achievement Award in 1962 for his work on human reliability during space flight. He was elected to Sigma XI, the honorary science society, in 1955.

The Dean received a B.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1953, a Master's from the University of South Dakota in 1954, and a Ph.D. from Emory University in 1963.

He is the author of nearly 50 publications in his field.

Placement Office Completes Job Survey of 1970 Graduates

The Placement Office at Paterson State College, Wayne, New Jersey, has just completed a job survey of the 1970 graduates. The resulting information has been compiled by Mr. Carl Salamensky, Director of Placement, and Miss Jane Winters, Assistant Director.

With the June, 1970 graduating class being the first to contain an appreciable number of Liberal Arts majors, the list of positions secured no longer reads only "Teaching." Almost every facet of business, industry and civil service hired our graduates.

Five graduates are evolving into merchandisers at Stern's, Bamberger's and Abelson's Jewelry. Three women have found their way into the insurance field, while one woman convinced IBM of her outstanding abilities. Union Carbide, Chubb & Son, Regal Paper, Business Corporation of America, Willpet Manufacturing, Equity Funding and Pensions and Investments Association of America each persuaded one of our graduates to join them.

Two of our lovely co-eds have joined the airline stewardess ranks (American Airlines), and will grace your next flight to sanity.

Hoffman-LaRoche wooed one of our graduates for a very lucrative salary.

Social Service has drawn several of our graduates this year. Three are presently in training with the Peace Corps, two have chosen to work with the Bureau of Children's Services, three to-date have accepted positions as Social Workers and one is counseling with a New York clinic. One woman will be working in the Mission field in Nebraska.

Thirty-eight ambitious graduates will be attending graduate schools; while twenty-two will be in the Metropolitan New York area, the other sixteen will be at Illinois, Maryland, Ohio, Florida, Vermont, Virginia and Mississippi.

Twenty-two of our gambling graduates won the draft peel and are serving in branches of the armed services.

Upon graduation, ten of our co-eds have retired to motherhood. It is their task to create the 1988 freshmen class for Paterson State College.

While many of our education majors have taken positions locally, several have found lucrative positions out-of-state. Elementary Education majors found positions in Virginia, Connecticut, Arizona, Hawaii, California and upstate New York. Early Childhood majors are working in Michigan, Maryland and Indiana. Art majors are exploring Virginia and Pennsylvania. One Math major will venture into Arkansas, while two Physical Education majors will be teaching in Maryland. Social Studies graduates went to Maryland and Nebraska, while Speech Therapy and Speech Correction majors will be in Pennsylvania and Florida. Teachers of the mentally retarded found positions in North Carolina, California and Maryland.

One Art major and one English major will be teaching in Germany, while one Speech Correctionist has secured a position in Scotland.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

For those of you who do not recognize the above paragraph, it is Article I of the Constitution of the United States. This article guarantees certain freedoms which many Americans take for granted.

We do not begin to appreciate these freedoms until someone like Vice President Agnew comes along and attempts to take them from us. Everyone at Paterson State, students, faculty, and administration alike, are effected by his rhetoric.

Spiro Agnew's unrestrained rhetoric continues to blast every American who is not afraid to speak out against injustices. Last fall, the Vice President stated, "We can, however, afford to separate them from our society — with no more regret than we should feel over discarding rotten apples from a barrel." Well, Mr. Agnew, it is because of "rotten apples" like John Adams, John Hancock, and Thomas Jefferson that Americans can enjoy certain freedoms.

Agnew continues, "We have among us a glib, activist element who would tell us our values are lies, and I call them impudent . . . I call them snobs for most of them disdain to mingle with the masses who work for a living . . . America can not afford to divide over their demagoguery or to be deceived by their duplicity or to let their license destroy liberty." We are sure that Mr. Agnew is not referring to the thousands of college students who must work to put themselves through college. Perhaps, he was talking about people like David Eisenhower or Martha Mitchell. We don't remember seeing them "mingle with the masses" or working for a living!

Vice President Agnew also verbally attacked the few politicians who are not afraid too rise in opposition to the administration. He called them "ideological eunuchs" who sit on the fence "soliciting votes from both sides."

They are like "vultures who sit in trees and watch lions battle, knowing that win, lose or draw, they will be fed." Was Mr. Agnew referring to the Nixon Administration who only recently promised Black Southerners integrated schools while refusing to send justice department officials to unlawful school districts?

Mr. Agnew believes that the "silent majority" will prevail. Is this the same "silent majority" who followed Hitler to destruction? Is this the same "silent majority" who rules communist countries around the world?

We think not! Americans have been silent for too long. As Mr. Agnew has said "It is time to question the credentials of the leaders. And if in questioning them, we disturb a few people, I say it is time for them to be disturbed."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Housing

Editor, STATE BEACON:

A number of students have inquired about the statement in the 1970-71 Pathfinder concerning off-campus housing.

Particular reference is made to the statement, "All students who live in off-campus housing must report their residence to the Director of Housing . . . failure to report will jeopardize status in the college."

To clarify this statement, I would like to mention that this particular section dealing with housing was secured and reprinted from the 1968-69 Pathfinder.

It is true, the college would like to have the off-campus address of students for mailing purposes, but students are not required to notify the Director of Housing of apartments which they have secured on their own. Therefore, no student will be jeopardizing his college status if he chooses to keep his off-campus residence a private matter.

Leaflet

Editor, STATE BEACON:

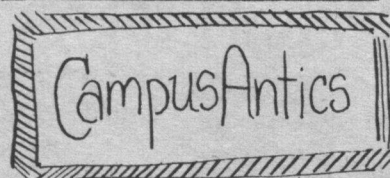

Some students are up in arms over a leaflet which refers to policemen as "Pigs." It seems that the statement "This leaflet has been issued with full awareness of its consequences by the people and the S.G.A." has upset them. To explain briefly, the Student Government Association is made up of all students and as such I shall authorize any publication regardless of its contents. My job is not to be a censor but to allow freedom of expression of views. The contents of the leaflet was not necessarily the opinion of the SGA, but a student's opinion. Also, this is not an attack on the content of the leaflet or the opinion expressed.

Greek News

The Sisters of Chi Delta Phi had a dynamite time at their shore house this past summer. If you're looking forward to a fun summer next year, come and meet the Sisters at our Rush Tea on Sunday, October 4th, at 1:00. Everyone is to meet at the PSC watertower. A 'mystery ride' is planned. All female students are invited.

Political Moritorium

We students have the ability to show the rest of the State, and ourselves, that an ideal system of government can be established. However, we are all blowing it. It is now with great pleasure that I officially announce a moratorium on politics.

Politics is a game we are all used to playing. It is where I say one thing and smile and shake your hand and then do another thing and spit and say fuck you! It's a simple game that can be a lot of fun, increase one's selfish power, and teach one how to "live" in the outside world.

- To date politics has given us:
1. AN UNREPRESENTATIVE S.G.A.
  2. A STRIKE OR TWO
  3. A WONDERFUL STATE EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM
  4. VIETNAM
  5. GEORGE WALLACE
  6. A FEW PAINTED BUILDING
  7. SPIRO AGNEW
  8. THE REPRESSIVE RIGHT
  9. THE REPRESSIVE LEFT
  10. THE REPRESSIVE MIDDLE (ALL HAIL NIXON)
  11. JUST ABOUT EVERY LITTLE NASTY YOU CAN THINK OF

The Left yells "PIG" (and sometimes rightly se), however, just take a look at some of our leftiest students on a campus. The Right yells "COMMUNIST" (because they fear the Communism of Russia, China, Cuba, etc.), however, just look at some of our right wing students on campus. Politics! Politics! Politics!

From SDS, to SMC, to OCS, to SGA, it's all political manipulatory, corruptice, oppressive organization which perpetuates bigotry and hatred and violence.

I do believe we have the ability to change. Let everyone throw away politics and replace it with honesty. There will still be disagreement, but open disagreement. The kind of disagreement which leads to honest progress.

President of SGA

Help Needed for Clifton Council

If you like a challenge this is your opportunity to join the Clifton Council for Improvement in Reading. Mr. Wellington Brown, instructor at Union Catholic High School, Scotch Plains, is organizing a program for inner city reading improvements. His plans also include a recreation and arts and crafts segment to the program. So far his staff includes eight professional teachers and three PSC education majors. The Council is still in need of eight more teachers, professional or college education majors. To see the reality of a recreation and arts and crafts program we are also in desperate need of physical education and arts majors.

The students will be Passaic school children who are in need of this type of program and will be screened and transported from Passaic to Clifton. This work is being done for the Council by Mr. Reco Wallace of the Urban Crisis Center on Market Street, Passaic. The program will run for nine weeks beginning October 3 on Saturday mornings from 9-12. Mr. Brown will run orientation programs before the opening date for all people interested in teaching reading.

In order to make our program successful we must have more man power, ideally more PSC man power. We especially appeal to Clifton and Passaic residents attending PSC but all help will be welcomed.

For more information please leave your name, address and phone number with Terry Ripmaster, Office 444, fourth floor Raubinger. A member of the Council will be in touch with you and will be happy to answer any particulars.

construction will not interfere with the natural flow of the stream, although the road will cross the stream that runs over the falls.

One student who declined to identify herself stated, "The new road and lot will destroy the aesthetic appeal of the area. The land was appropriated for biological study, and the students purchased the property after a lengthy fund drive," she added. "The lot is badly needed," stated Mr. Johnson, "and its location has been carefully planned to fit the future "layout of the college."

ATENCION !Hispanos!

The OLAS (Organization of Latin American Students) held its first meeting of the academic year on Tuesday, September 22, at 10:30 AM in the Little Theater, Hunziker Hall. The meeting was conducted in Spanish.

All students, Hispanic and American are eligible and invited to join OLAS. President of the club is Hector Ayala. Faculty advisor is John Mamone of the Foreign Languages Department. The next meeting of OLAS will be announced in the BEACON.

Love, Peace, Happiness Homecoming Theme

Plans are now underway for Paterson State College's second annual Homecoming. This year Homecoming will be held October 9, 10, and 11 and its theme will be "Love, Peace & Happiness." Activities include an evening buffet-dance, a full day of open-house, an afternoon rock concert, and a first for Paterson State College - the christening of its new club football team.

Prior to the soccer game, a parade will take place. The Homecoming Committee invites your organization to participate in and support Homecoming by building and entering a float in the parade. The tentative parade route will begin in Haledon, proceed up Pompton Avenue, through Gate 1, and end on the soccer field. Judging and awarding of prizes for the best floats will then be held. Following the judging, a pep rally will take place to open the game.

youngsters attending the schools in the Model Cities neighborhood are reading from two to four years below grade level". "This does not exclude youngsters being educated in our better schools", Bell explained, "because 52 percent of those students are also reading below grade level".

Bell attributed the city's severe narcotic problem to "little advance planning". The blame was pinned on past city leadership which considered narcotics a "quiet problem", because it encompassed only a few individuals of Black or Puerto Rican origin contained in the "inner city".

representatives, because he felt there aren't enough students interested in taking on the responsibility.

Edward Mosely, chairman of the SGA Cultural Council, who attended the meeting, mentioned that there was some discussion concerning better representation of students on the All College Senate. Mr. Mosely felt that the meeting was a social success, but that nothing concrete was accomplished.

In addition he stated that the recreational activities were a big booster in creating better communications among the students. He was referring to the many games of football, and various other activities.

"You get to know the faculty and administration as people..." he concluded.

Women Begin Field Hockey

by Laurie Clark

Most clubs and teams promise good times and good fellowship but the Women's Field Hockey is different. WE DELIVER!! We play a good brand of ball and boast a 7-3 record for Varsity and 8-2 record for JV last year.

To what do we owe this success? First and foremost, our wise and patient coach Miss Overdorf is most helpful. Through thick and thin, she buoys our spirits and instills in us the will to win. Secondly, we are eager to spread the fun and carefree camaraderie of field hockey to those who are willing to spend a few extra hours of their time with us. Practice is Mon. through Fri., 3:45 to 5:15.

EXTRA ADDED FEATURE!!!

Cast aside those extra pounds and put those Old Wive's Tales about hockey in the garbage. It is fun and good exercise too!

P.S. You have already passed our intelligence test by wading through this article. See you on the pitch!

Club Football Team Ready; Open Against Fairleigh

BY MALCOLM HOLMES

On Friday night, September 25, 1970 the Paterson State College Club Football team will take the field as they open their first regular season of football against Fairleigh Dickinson of Teaneck at the opponents field. Kickoff time will be 8:00 P.M.

Opening day should be a very exciting occasion for the Pioneers. In view of the recent win and loss in scrimmages against Upsala and St. Peter's, it seems as though Head Coach Michael Sabia and Head Line Coach J. Sarrino have worked hard to put together the team of the year. The coaches and the team members are working hard on any snarls there may be, but they are ready. In essence, they should look forward to a smooth and prosperous season.

We can also look forward to a

Club Football Co-Captains

The PSC defense will be strong with linebackers W. "Kill" Young playing strong side and Doug "Nose" Avella. The defensive backs to watch will be Stan "Brag" Ross along with Scott Bey. On the line will be Steve "Bad Man" Brown also referred to as "Mr. Utility" on the team, and Jim "Mad Dog" Sykes with his combo. We do not expect to worry on the defense.

Out to adjust and improve themselves the offensive team will be led by Bill Regan at guard and W. Rea at tackle. The backs are strong and should be able to run well against Fairleighs defense.

"With these men and the rest of the team all playing together as this one," according to Coach Sarrino.

NOTE: Fairleigh Dickinson football field is located off Route 4 in Teaneck. The Pioneers need your support so let's get out there and give it to them. Let's be proud of our club. After all they are proud to be a part of Paterson State.

Probable starting line-up:
Offense: Finnity, C; Regan, G; Sarrero, G; Matson, T; Rea, T; Bumpas, SE; Armand, TE; Ravenel, FI; Bowden, QB; Gallagher, HB; Lupo, FB.

Defense: Sykes, DE; McGuinness, DE; Brown, DT; Taylor, DT; Wolff, RLB; Young, LLB; Avella, MLB; Alberque, CB; Ross, CB; Bey, S; Hefferin, S.

Captains: Taylor, Roberts, McGuinness.

Soccermen Impressive In Scrimmage Games

By JOHN C. ALFIERI

Paterson State's soccer team, last Wednesday, played two scrimmage games against Atlantic Community College, considered to be one of the best Junior College teams in New Jersey; and Drew University, who finished third in the nation last year in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Championship. The scores were 5-3 and 2-1 against PSC in each game.

According to Coach Wilber Myers, head coach of the booters, the scores do not mean much. The real purpose of a scrimmage is to play the personnel that you have to see how well they operate at certain positions, and to formulate any systems or formations that the team can use in the regular season. After that you can shift personnel to fit the formations.

The Pioneers played the team members as they came to the games from class, and as a result Atlantic was able to score five times before the possible starting squad was able to arrive in full. From there the booters scored three goals before the game was ended.

In the Drew game, PSC led 1-0 until the last few minutes. Coach Myers wanted to play all his personnel so he added another goalie and Drew scored twice.

Myers, however, was very impressed with his first three goalies, each of whom are vying for the starting berth on the team. The three are James Lepore, a sophomore and much improved over last year; freshman John Vander Horn, goalie on last year's Eastern Christian Parochial High School Championship team; and Harold Leek, a transfer student from Atlantic Community College. Each goalie kept the opposition scoreless for the time he played

The soccer team will play a twelve game schedule, their toughest in PSC history. And for the first time Coach Myers will add a Junior Varsity team to give experience to the new members of the 40-plus-man team. Only one senior will be playing this year. Myers adds that he has greater depth now than ever before because of his strong veterans and very talented new people.

Coach Myers still emphasizes the strength of the team as the best in the soccermen's history. John Reeves, head coach of Drew and former coach of the Bloomfield College team that played the Pioneers in the 1967 NAIA championships, reinforced the statement by Myers as he said the Paterson State team is better than the 1967 squad.

With all the compliments flying about the strength of the team and with the toughness of the schedule (six of the twelve teams can beat any team in the country), this should prove to be an interesting season for PSC soccer.

Hard Slate Ahead For Roadrunners

By JOHN C. ALFIERI

The Paterson State College Roadrunners, under Head Coach Dick McDonald, open their 1970 campaign on Saturday, September 26, on PSC's home course. The cross-country team is as strong if not stronger as last year's championship team, and like the Pioneer soccermen, are running a very tough schedule.

The first seven men so far are the returning veterans from last season. Tom Fleming, the number one roadrunner, is expected to continue his outstanding performance. Fred Ross, Dave Swan, and Tom Greenbowe will all be close behind in a race for the second spot on the team. Bob Crawley is likely to run a strong fifth but Bob Johnson and John Pontes will be pusing him across the finish line.

Coach McDonald added that he cannot rely on his freshmen yet, as they have only been working-out for a few short weeks. "The veterans," he stated, "are in mid-season form because they have been running all summer." Despite this fact, McDonald is expecting fine showings from four of his freshmen: Arthur Moore of Englewood, Fred Rolleson of Bernardsville, Joe Kinzley of Hackensack, and Carl Foote of Indian Hills.

McDonald is expecting a hard week as the roadrunners meet Monmouth in their opener and then Southern Connecticut and C.W. Post, two of the best teams in the east, in a double-dual meet at Van Courtland Park in New York on September 29. The team's performance against these opponents should show how the roadrunners will fair this season.
