Foreword

As a matter of explanation to all our readers as to the format of PIONEER '73, we offer our rationale. Instead of the Yearbook being just another book on the shelf, we hope it will be something that stands out as a special remembrance of the 72-73 College year.

We printed the book in two volumes to create interest in the College Annual, and also to offer to the underclassmen the option of taking only one volume. Through the color scheme of the books, we wished to emphasize the College colors in the hope that they will come to mean something special to all members of this College.

The theme of our publication was "individuality" as expressed through the writing of Henry David Thoreau. This topic was chosen because, in our view, it represented the nature of the Class of 1973. In many ways this graduating class has always been an individual one, from the time they first arrived on campus. They were the largest class to enter, at that time, the last class to undergo a Freshman Hazing; the most active class as far as participation among its members, and lastly its graduates are leaving under the greatest number of majors ever offered by this College.

We tried throughout this book to focus attention on individuals who were outstanding in their particular activities. Any group can be outstanding, but there are certain people who really make that group what it is.

With respect to the sectional dividers, we pictured a falling leaf, that would signify the movement of one member of a larger group. As a person is more fascinated with one falling leaf than the entire tree, we know that one outstanding person is viewed more than the entire activity or team.

Dedication

Mr. Ralph Edward Smith can well be depicted as a very integral part of the William Paterson Campus. Now the Director of the Audio-Visual Center, Mr. Smith had his beginning back in 1938 when he arrived as a freshman, and was elected its class president. He was not only an active student, but also a vocal one. As the 1941 PIONEER stated, "Just give Ralph an argument. He'll take whichever side is free."

Uncle Ralph, as he is more commonly known, was also the Editor-in-Chief of the Beacon, Co-Editor of the Yearbook, Manager of the Basketball Team, and elected to Who's Who.

A very special place in his heart is held for the Sports program. There is hardly an athlete on campus who has not, in some way, come into contact with Mr. Smith. He carries on a very inexpensive and unique counseling service. The cost is just a few minutes of time; the genuine feeling is, "here is the advice — take it or leave it."

Mr. Smith is one of the few people on campus who leaves you with a satisfied feeling that there is still some good-will here at William Paterson College. So, to you Uncle Ralph, thanks ever so much, and next time, don't forget the film.

Administration

RABBI MARTIN FREEDMAN, CHAIRMAN

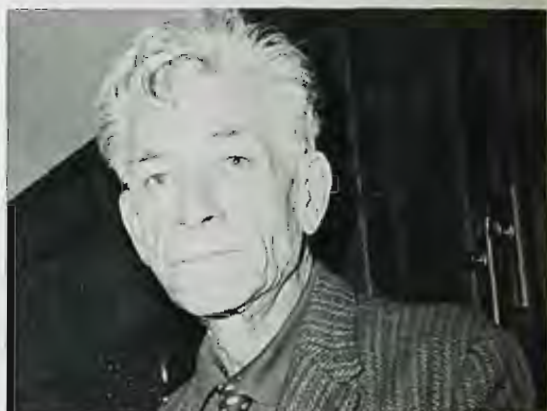

The primary authority for the management and governance of the College resides in the Board of Trustees, and as such, they must cope with many problems. This year, as in the past, the conflict surrounding faculty retention erupted; discussion concerning class size reached a higher pitch; and the parking situation was again reviewed. President Olsen resigned and the search for a new president began. The University Senate was formed, problems arose, and the Senate voted to adjourn. As the year came to a close, many of these problems were solved. A new president was chosen; appeals concerning faculty dismissals were being heard; and the University Senate once again met.

Somehow, when all the dust has settled after any conflict or controversy, one figure remains that may appear to be the hero. That figure usually has the capabilities of finding simple and equitable solutions to the problems that otherwise seem insurmountable. Within the realms of situations that occur here at William Paterson, one would imagine such a figure would be too much for the asking. But there is one person to fit that description that has been on campus for a while. His name, Mr. Frank Zanfino.

With his original role as Vice President for Administration and Finance, Mr. Zanfino is faced with quite frustrating experiences. Few people can see their way through financially, concerning their own lives, let alone deal on one hand with the State Department of Higher Education and on the other, the ever changing William Paterson College. The budgetary problems are only half the battle, for once the funds are received, their proper channeling requires expert accountability. In this capacity, Mr. Zanfino has fared successfully for many years.

After the resignation of Dr. James K. Olsen, this past September, Mr. Zanfino was designated by the Board of Trustees as the Acting President of William Paterson College. The transition of duties of the office of the President went relatively unnoticed by the College Community, proving the expert managerial control exercised by Mr. Zanfino. Overseeing the entire institution has in all probability, been an experience which most people tend to shy away from. At this point in the College's life, wherein we are undergoing a tremendous expansion phase, Mr. Zanfino has seen to it that no stoppage occur and that new programs proceed according to the needs of William Paterson College.

Mr. Zanfino has in his new capacity, expertly reported to the Board of Trustees all important issues and their surrounding situations so as to enable the Board to make as reasonable decisions as is humanly possible. A tremendous amount of gratitude is due Mr. Zanfino from the Board of Trustees on down to the student body whose education relies upon the efficient operation of this College.

Frank J. Zanfino, Acting President

The People Behind the Scenes President's Staff

The planning of the direction of the college is a major task, but just as important is the execution of those plans. The President's Staff, consisting of Miss Mary Zanfino, Mr. Robert Kroeckel, Mr. Raymond Dee, and Mr. Dennis Santillo, are the people usually assigned with the job of managing most of the President's workload.

Miss Mary Zanfino, Special Assistant to the President and Confidential Secretary to the Board of Trustees, is the person most valued by the College for the outflow of information from the Administration.

Mr. Robert Kroeckel, who foresees the future needs of this College and attempts to plan for those needs, is the Director of Institutional Research and Planning.

The person most responsible for the printed image of William Paterson is Mr. Dennis Santillo, Director of External Affairs.

MR. MARK EVANGELISTA, ASSOCIATE REGISTRAR

Among the many problems that a student faces while attending school are "what courses do I take and when?" These decisions are made by the Registrar's Office. This task includes scheduling rooms, courses, and professors; providing the information to the students; and determining registration procedures. The Registrar is also responsible for all academic records.

Vice President

The person most in the spot-light and frypan this College year has been Dr. Milton Grodsky, Vice President of Academic Affairs. Dr. Grodsky was the person bearing the burden of attacks, due to the non-retention of a number of faculty members. An unusual amount of verbal and written communication has been directed at him, considering the extremely small turnout at strike rallies.

Other tasks of the Vice President have been expanding courses of existing programs and the attempt to get the State Department of Higher Education's approval for new programs. This job has the most immediate effect upon the student body as to their future needs in their courses of study.

Although the great majority of students at William Paterson do not know him, without Dr. Grodsky and his office, this College would not have progressed to a multi-faceted curriculum as soon.

Specialized Service at W.P.C.

Administration

Specialization has been an increasingly used word within the past few years. Its meaning denotes extensive attention to particular areas mainly for the purposes of prevention of problems and a better flow of services to those who seek them. At William Paterson, specialization of services comes under the realm of the administration in varying forms. Some of the areas within this range are Financial Aid, Security, Library, and Computer Services. Following are the people most responsible for specialized services on this campus and who try to offer individual attention to all who wish it.

Mr. James Barrecchia, Director of Educational Services, oversees the operations of the Registrar's Office. He also directs other student-service programs that deal not so much with education itself as with that of institution service.

OF EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

MR. DONALD DUCLOS, DEAN OF
UNDERGRADUATE EXTENSION PROGRAMS

As Dean of Undergraduate Extension Programs, Mr. Donald Duclos has been kept quite busy due to the increased enrollment in pre-session and summer courses. He is also responsible for the educational programs taking place off-campus.

A man who constantly keeps the midnight oil burning is Mr. John Adams, Director of Evening Student Services by night and Counselor by day. Mr. Adams strives to make the evening students feel as much a part of the College as their counter-parts do during the day.

Dr. William Small, Director of Academic Services, is a person most likely to be named "man behind the scenes." He is an individual who maintains an observation of students enrolled in special programs. Dr. Small is called upon to perform special duties, for he is also Special Assistant to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

A man quite new within the Administration has been Mr. Bart Scudieri, the Director of Security. Many changes have taken place on campus since Mr. Scudieri's arrival for the purpose of protection. We hope that through his continued direction, Mr. Scudieri will make this campus security one of the finest systems in the state.

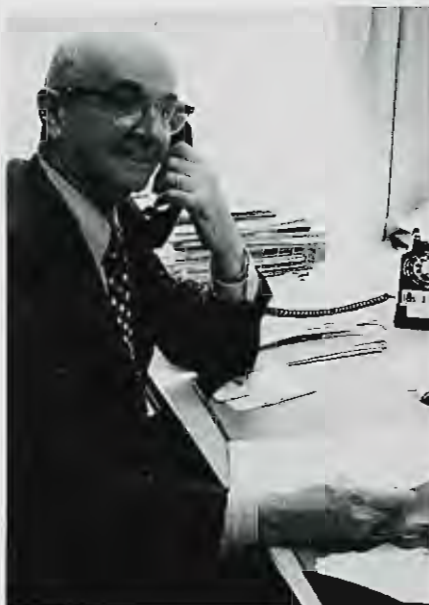

Mr. Robert Ruocco, as Head Clerk, is ever on the move, personally checking into situations surrounding projects and programs. He has his eye on every little detail, for he knows through experience that it isn't always the obvious that contains the problem.

Requests for print-out sheets is by far the largest work producer for Mr. Charles Jury. The Director of Computer Services supplies to all campus offices, the current student roster in any particular form needed, and also handles student grades. Mr. Jury cooperates with the computer courses offered by the Math Department by sharing the computer.

Mr. Charles Farawell, the Director of Business Services, keeps a watch on all expenditures of the College and attempts to maintain them within reason. For Mr. Farawell, there is a constant hassle with almost everybody; hardly a person would be found who requests less money.

MR. WILLIAM SMALL, DIRECTOR OF ACADEMIC SERVICES

MR. KENNETH ZURICH, MS. JENNIFER CREWES
FINANCIAL AID ASSISTANTS

The most rewarding experience for Mrs. Juliette Trainor would be seeing 2000 students filling up the library in a search for all sorts of information; but doing it quietly. As Director of Library Services, Mrs. Trainor has always attempted to offer to the students the best possible information, and through her staff, that goal is usually maintained.

A new arrival this spring has been Mr. Dave Sutter, the Director of Facilities. A fresh face and personality may well bring to this campus the best possible usage of its facilities. However, having to take up projects in mid-stream will not be easy for Mr. Sutter, but with the cooperation of all parties concerned, it may be a rewarding experience for him.

Combatting a growing problem of more student need of aid and less money, Mr. Thomas DeMicelli, Director of Financial Aid, has pleased the largest number of students this past year. Ms. Jennifer Crewes, Mr. Kenneth Zurich, and Ms. Marge Sevrin assist Mr. DiMicelli in distributing State and Federal monies in the form of loans and scholarships.

MR. DAVE SUTTER, DIRECTOR OF FACILITIES

BUSINESS SERVICES

MRS. JULIETTE TRAINOR, DIRECTOR OF

Offering Many Alternatives to Students

Student Services

One of the most far reaching and multi-faceted departments on campus is that of Student Services. This department, under the direction of Dominic Baccollo the Dean of Students, covers areas from housing and financial aid to student teaching and student activities.

Dominic Baccollo most definitely is the elastic administrator here at William Paterson considering the many places he must be at the same time. The many meetings he must attend; but more than that, his efforts to get out to as many students as possible is the largest time consumer of his job.

Hoping to settle the many personal problems that students face, both on campus and at home, is the goal of our Counseling staff. Offering many alternatives to the students is the method of guidance of Counselors Langston Faison, John Adams, Anita Este, and Dr. Robert Peller, who would rather see themselves as aiding in the solution of problems but not actually solving problems for the students.

DOMINIC BACCOLLO, DEAN OF STUDENTS

COUNSELORS: LANGSTON FAISON, DR. ROBERT PELLER, DIRECTOR, JOHN ADAMS, AND ANITA ESTE

DOMINIC LAURICELLA, DIRECTOR, FIELD AND LABORATORY EXPERIENCES

MRS. VIRGINIA RANDALL, COORDINATOR,
COLLEGE AND ALUMNI AFFAIRS

JOSEPH GORAB, DIRECTOR OF PLACEMENT

Mr. Dominic Lauricella, as Director of Field and Laboratory Experiences, attempts to coordinate the annual problem of Student Teaching and Practicum. Placing several hundred students each year in school systems that will meet the needs of the student teachers with reference to their own ideas of education is not the easiest job in the world. Mr. Lauricella's office is never slow due to the fact that once the college year is over, plans for the next year must be formulated and while the students are out in the schools there is a constant flow of problems and conflicts that find their way to his office.

At the end of every year the Placement Office takes on the assumed name of the Unemployment Office, as each semester the job market for teachers in this area becomes scarcer. For Mr. Joseph Gorab, the Director of Placement, the job of finding Kubla Kahn may have been a bit easier than attempting to find openings that don't exist. Assisting Mr. Gorab, but in a different area, is Ms. Lorraine Mika who handles non-teaching job employment. It is not too easy for Ms. Mika to sell our students to employers who have no idea of their capabilities, for this is a new area of William Paterson since its move towards a multi-purpose institution.

Once our students have graduated from this college, the administration attempts to keep its graduates informed of happenings back on campus. The correlation of this information is the responsibility of the Office of Alumni Affairs, directed by Mrs. Virginia Randall. Other aspects of her job entail Graduation, the Outstanding Senior Awards, and class reunions.

A job that looms over the head of Jeanette Lyde, Director of Housing, is the completion of the plans and over-all operations of closing down the old dorms and opening up the new facilities this September. Trying to get the best materials in the building so as to make them last longer, yet working with the State's budget is not going to be easy for Mrs. Lyde.

Truly the busiest office in the College Center is that of Student Activities, under the direction of Mr. Anthony Barone. Trying to get students together to plan activities that range from a Procol Harum concert to the performance of Pro Musica can be a nerve-filled process, but, assisted by Mrs. Ann Picozzi and Mr. Joseph Tanis, he has been able to produce one of the most successful student activity calendars ever witnessed by this College.

Mr. William Dickerson, Director of the College Union, has conducted this past year one of the largest advertising campaigns at William Paterson. In his efforts to help defray a $6 million building, that has a 40 year mortgage, Bill is selling shirts with the ever famous "I Bought A Brick" inscription. He is also working on the plans for the Union Activities Board which would ease the transfer from the College Center to the new Union in 2 years.

JEANETTE LYDE, DIRECTOR OF HOUSING

WILLIAM DICKERSON, DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE UNION

MISS CECILE BROWN, DIRECTOR OF EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES PROGRAM

ARTHUR EASON, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

TIMOTHY FANNING, COLLEGE CALENDAR COORDINATOR

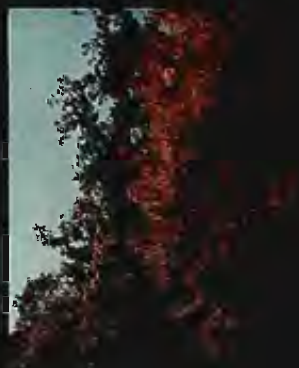

Miss Cecile Brown is a person who is really forced against the wall with the duties of her office. Miss Brown, as Director of the Educational Opportunities Program, is directly affected by federal cut-backs in financial aid to colleges, the source of her funds. Miss Brown would like to see more and complete aid distributed to those students economically disadvantaged than more students each receiving a small amount that doesn't really help the student. However her hopes all seem to be down the drain as far as the government is concerned.

Different campus groups often find the need to call a meeting for the assorted functions of their activities. These groups must therefore seek the assistance of Mr. Tim Fanning, the College Calendar Coordinator. From his office in Morrison Hall, Mr. Fanning attempts to find halls and classrooms for the many activities that take place here without walking into classes in session, and knowing the classroom situation here at W.P.C., that isn't as easy as it appears.

Finishing off his first year as Acting Director of Athletics is Mr. Arthur Eason. Taking up the scheduled games of the past year, trying to find practice space for the teams during our constant bad weather, coordinating the sports program wherein he must find agreeable points in all coaches, and coaching his own team is really a taxing duty to place on his shoulders. But viewing the over-all effect of his work, one must say he fared extremely well. The only additive in Mr. Eason's job is cooperation, Art has all the rest.

Fellow Students,

During the past year, much change has taken place in the College and in the S.G.A. as well. Many new faces and voices have been seen and heard in the General Council and Executive Committee. Some dozen new organizations have been recognized. New committee chairpeople have taken their posts and have done their work and we have enjoyed successful athletic and cultural seasons as a result.

The Groundbreaking for the College Union served as an opportunity for students to state their serious concern about the College's problems.

Constitutional changes and the reduction of the student activity fee have been proposed as the solutions to political and economic situations which demanded resolution.

The William Paterson College has changed in many ways. The impact of the Class of 1973 upon the College has been made slowly, but will be felt long after the Graduation which we now celebrate with them. We wish them the best of luck, the best of hopes, and the best of life.

Sincerely,

S.G.A. GENERAL COUNCIL MEETING

Murphy Freezes SGA Activities

Charles Murphy, SGA president, announced at last Wednesday's General Council Meeting that all SGA business with the exception of financial matters is suspended until all preexisting organizations have been approved under organizational guidelines.

According to the SGA Constitution there are two types of organizations: spending agencies and non-spending organizations. The spending agencies are those which are authorized to spend SGA funds for their own purposes.

Propose Amendment To SGA Constitution

The SGA is now in the process of proposing an amendment to the SGA Constitution.

proposed amendment is to change the SGA's purpose from "to promote the welfare of the student body" to "to promote the welfare of the student body and the community."

Charles Murphy, SGA president, said that the amendment is being proposed to the General Council.

General Council

According to the feeling of most students on campus, the General Council is the closest structure to a democratic form of government at W.P.C. The Council is composed of the Executive Boards of the S.G.A. and the four classes, a representative of each chartered organization, and any student representative by petition. What may appear to be equitable representation on paper is, in reality, a confusion. In order to have a meeting, a quorum must be met. Meetings that have not been cancelled due to a shortage of members, usually resulted in verbal outbursts of opinions, stifled expressions, and long arguments.

The major focus of the Council this year has been to revise the Constitution, a thirteen year-old document, so as to provide the student body with relevant guidelines and solutions to campus issues.

Some of the topics raised in the Council have been the search for a Co-Treasurer, chartering organizations, the shuttlebus service from the freshman parking lot, the legality of the previous S.G.A. election, and the financial matters of the Association. The Council's activities, this year, were topped off with the acceptance of the 1973-74 Budget, the S.G.A. elections, and the installation of the new officers.

S.G.A. Committees

Performing specialized services to meet the needs of the student body, the S.G.A. Committees are the backbone and channel through which the General Council receives information and dispenses duties.

The Finance Committee, under the direction of Co-Treasurers Ken Chamberlain and Bill Redner, make recommendations to the General Council on all financial matters of the Association.

Directing all primary and general elections of the Association, validating returns, and declaring the winners, are the duties of Karen Johansen, Chairwoman, and Elections Committee.

Dee Falato, Chairwoman, and the Constitution Committee review the S.G.A. Constitution annually in an attempt that the interpretations may be kept currently available.

A Year in a Book

PIONEER Yearbook

Presenting to the College Community an annual publication, capturing the events of the past year is something that is not easily done overnight. There are deadlines to meet, write-ups to get and edit; pictures to be taken and developed in time for lay-outs. There are times when activity is slow, and other times when there is more going on than the PIONEER can cover in a day. All of these combined activities are melded together to make this publication so different from any other.

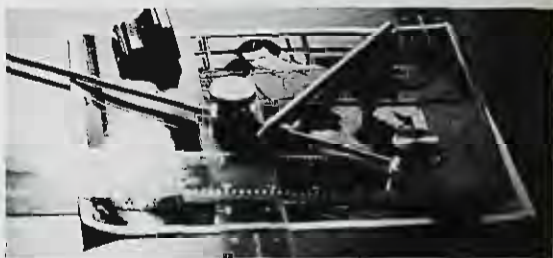

With the different backgrounds of its Staff members, it would be quite easy to add editorial comments or slants to articles. This is not the purpose of PIONEER, it must be factual and has continued to be through the cooperation of many people.

Opinions concerned with specific topics are included in a section entitled 'The Forum', while articles on all items of interest are published in another section of the magazine. In the past, areas which have aroused concern have been Bigotry, Religion, Welfare, Freedom of the Media, and Asia.

WPSC — Radio Station

BOB ACKERSHOECK

The W.P.S.C. Radio Station offers the students a chance to participate in one of the most popular forms of the media field, as well as a good listening experience.

Gaining broadcasting time on W.F.M.U., the Upsala College station, in order to raise funds enabling W.P.S.C. to change to an FM frequency, has been part of a goal realized.

W.P.S.C.'s progressive attitude has extended into its broadcasts. They have planned for more diverse programming, including radio plays, specials, such as a weekly Christian broadcast, more news, and different formats for regular broadcasting times.

Pioneer Players

Several times each year, the Pioneer Players present to the William Paterson College Community, comic, dramatic, and musical productions. Through new methods of the media, they are able to expand an otherwise simple play into one that brings the audience alive with the emotions of the performers.

The Pioneer Players are like any other students except for the fact that they have talent, varying stage capabilities, and the willingness to work long and monotonous hours in preparation for each of their productions. There are many tasks to be accomplished in putting on a play such as, setting design and construction, costumes, lighting, and memorization of scripts. All this work, however, is quite beneficial to the members of Pioneer Players, in the knowledge that they were able to raise the cultural experience of others at William Paterson.

Music Organizations

Various musical performing groups enhance cultural activities at W.P.C. Singing groups, consisting of the Women's Choral Ensemble, Chamber Singers, College Chorus, and Concert Choir, are open to all interested students. Instrumental groups, Brass, Woodwind, Percussion, and Jazz Ensembles, Concert Band, and the College-Community Symphony Orchestra perform at concerts and recitals during the year.

Music Club

Promoting the College's musical interests, the Music Club sponsors a Midday Artist Series, providing an opportunity to hear a wide variety of music literature to all. Some of the performers have included Sandra Walker, a renowned mezzo-soprano; Ronald Fishbaugh, pianist; and the Northern Valley Regional High School Choir. The club, and co-sponsor Cultural Affairs, presented Pro Musica, a Spanish Renaissance performing group.

The returning veteran has been lost in the confusion of protest and counter-protest of the war, and the term 'veteran' has lost the prestige it once held. The Veterans' Association of The William Paterson College has refused to allow the veteran to be let down in this manner, and has directed all of its abilities in aiding the veteran as he entered college in an effort to further his education. By providing social activities, chances to help less fortunate people, and practical experiences in the use of their special talents or majors at the college, the Veterans' Association has helped the new civilian make this important adjustment.

Not just limiting themselves to the campus, the members of the Association has involved themselves in various projects throughout the community. They managed the selling of POW bracelets, informing the people of the plight of the prisoners. They sponsor and participate in a boy scout troop for exceptional children, as well as giving numerous parties at the Veterans Hospital. These are just a few of the activities of the Association.

Beyond Campus

The Organization of Latin American Students actively participated in the development of a Spanish major and a minor in Latin American Studies, thereby serving the needs of the Hispanic Students at W.P.C.

O.L.A.S. has sponsored Jose Greco & Nana Lorca, a folk dance company; a Spanish Film Festival; and a lecture by Dr. Warren Dean. Trips to the Hispanic Museum and the Spanish theater further promote knowledge about Latin America's culture, problems, and way of life.

Varsity Squad Fielded

The 1972 Football Season began a new era at William Paterson College. The Pioneers fielded their first Varsity football squad after two successful years of playing on the club level. Participating in the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference, the team logged a 3 win — 7 loss record.

If the Pioneers had not been hampered by injuries and inclement weather, the team's losses could easily have been wins. A total of nine points prevented a winning season.

Tough Schedule

Experiencing their first losing season in five years, the Women's Field Hockey Team posted a 3-6 record. Under the leadership of Co-Captains Jane Chapman and Dot Lampmann, the relatively inexperienced defense turned in many fine performances. The girls started to work together, as a team, and this is the promise for the future.

Enthusiastic Team

Posting a 3-5-1 record, the Junior Varsity Squad, led by Co-Captains Sue Armbruster and Trish Chapman, showed a great deal of enthusiasm. There were several members of the squad who had never played field hockey before, and now with a year's experience, a lot of speed, and natural athletic ability, the outlook for next year is very bright.

The 1972 Cross Country Team, having a long and formidable season, posted an 11-4 record. Although the team was small in number, they carried on the tradition that the Pioneer teams have built up. The six member squad was the hardest working and most dedicated team run in this year's competition.

At the Albany Invitational, the Pioneers captured 5th place with Tom Fleming, Captain, taking first. A new course record was set by Fleming at the N.J. College and University Divisional Meet, the Pioneers taking 3rd place. Art Moore garnered 3rd in the Conference Meet and 12th in the State Meet. Placing 12th in the Albany Invitational and 11th in the State Meet, Art Fogerty gave the team additional status.

Team members Jeff Kemp and Ron Veneman, freshmen, show promise for the future, and Andy Koikes, sophomore, added depth and balance to the squad.

Tournament Bid Sudden Death Loss

With one of the strongest schedules on the eastern seaboard, the Pioneer Soccer Team ended regular season play with an 8-2-2 overall record and a bid to the first Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Soccer Tournament. The team lost to Brooklyn in the Tournament after 135 minutes of spectacular soccer, as a result of overtime and sudden death situations.

Team goalie Ray Spadaro had 116 saves and allowed only 1.23 goals per game, while accumulating 6 shut-outs. Sophomore Necdet Muldur led the team in scoring with 16 goals, followed by Gary Compesi and Jim Smith, netting 5 each. Smith led with 5 assists and Stan Bavaro was close behind with 4.

Muldur was selected for first teams — All-Conference, All-State, and All-Penn.-New Jersey-Delaware. Emin Tejaoglu was selected for honorable mention All-Penn.-N.J.-Delaware, and first teams — All-State and All-Conference. Stan Bavaro, Ray Spadaro, Rich Matteo, Al Corazzo, and John VanderHorn were selected for honorable mention — All-Conference.

High Scorers Highlight Season

Beginning with the hopes of continuing last year's winning streak, the Pioneer cagers drew a 12-14 record overall and 5-5 in the league. One factor working against them was the fact that they played 17 of their games on the road (winning 5) and only 9 at home (winning 7).

High scorers were the highlight of this season. Seniors Al Cousins, co-captain, collected 295 points giving him 1,108 for his career and LeRoy Lewis finished his W.P.C. career with 1,058 points, earning 302 this year. Gary Hipp, who missed the 1,000 point mark by 92, compiled 252 points. Junior surprises included Bob Planker, who finished as the team's leading scorer with 367 points and Bob Devine and Les Hirsch, guards, who handled themselves capably this season.

Mixed Records

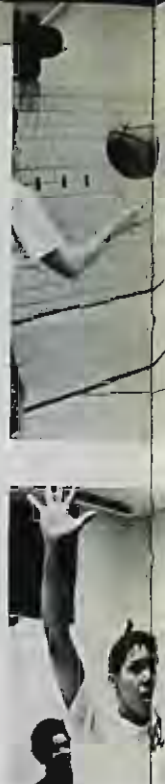

The Varsity Team's performance, a 9-8 record, was marked with injuries. Lost were seniors Bev Sisto and Peg Lavery. Three other seniors, Jane Chapman, Co-Captain, Butch Johnson, and Jill Czehut, able to play, contributed in key games for victories. Sophomore Toni West was the top point getter for the season.

The JV's record of 11-4 resulted from a new squad — 11 of the 12 players being freshmen. Outstanding performances were by Trish Chapman, April Prestipion, Debbie Morrow, Jan Raymond, and Ruth Fabris, and they were aided by the rest of the squad. Highlights of the season were a 1 point win over Montclair and a 4 point win over Glassboro.

2nd in the Nation

William Paterson retained its title in the N. J. College Women's Fencing Championships by defeating Trenton, Jersey City, and Montclair. The team also placed 2nd in the 45th National Intercollegiate Women's Fencing Association Championships. Both these titles and an undefeated dual meet record were the efforts of every member of the team, including Coach Ray Miller.

Captain Dee Falato, named to the All-State Team, attained a 21-2 personal record. Bridget DiFalco qualified for the Mid-Atlantics while Debbie Gunther, Iza Farkas, and Jeannine Lynch fenced in the National Junior Olympics. Jeannine and Iza, finishing 6th and 8th in individual finals at the National Championships, were named to the All-American Second Team.

Rain-plagued Season

The '73 Women's Softball Team was one of the best in the school's history. Playing a tight defense and a hard-hitting offense, the Varsity defeated Montclair and outscored four more opponents, losing only two games.

Although plagued by a soaking wet season and an unbelievable 10 rainouts, both squads maintained high spirits and skilled determination.

Blood Drive

Too often in the normal course of our College life, we seem to ignore issues that do not relate to either academics or our own activities. Though most of us feel that we have been awakened to matters of human concern, we are too caught up in the philosophy of it all to notice human need right before us. It may not be that we do not care enough to help, but that we are not fully awakened to life.

Here at William Paterson there are people who have noticed a human need, that need being Ricky Hummel. Ricky, a hemophiliac, is the son of Mrs. Leonore Hummel, an assistant professor on campus. Rick needs blood, one of the basic substances of life, and lots of it. An annual drive is held in Wayne Hall, to draw attention to the problem of another person and to draw blood donors.

The planning and execution of such a Blood Drive is not an easy task. First there is the publicity, then the recruiting of more help and scheduling of donors, and finally the over-all preparations the day of the drive. The people behind this drive are special, in that they set aside other activities to organize and carry-out an activity that outright helps prolong a human life.

So in a small way, William Paterson recognizes those individuals who have taken upon themselves this task, in the service of others. This recognition takes the form of the Blood Drive Honors, presented to those who have assisted, and assisted well.

Honors Program

Most students would tend to state their rank at William Paterson as either good, average, or below average. They feel that they meet the general requirements of their courses and are generally satisfied with their work.

The College knows through theory and experience that all students are not the average, but that some greatly excel in their course of study, and are constantly raising further questions. College officials have learned that they must constantly challenge the knowledge of their students if those students are ever to realize their full potential.

In a program initiated three years ago, the College has set up varying levels of study that bring these exceptionally bright students to a point that they might explore for themselves subject matter not usually found in the regular classroom situations and curriculum. The materials discussed in these different levels range from art and history to psychology and science. The faculty for these courses are chosen on the basis of expert knowledge of their related fields, and how this ties in to the present and future world of the students.

Presently, the success of this program can only be felt in the satisfaction of its students, but after a period of time, William Paterson will gain many benefits through the success and hopefully renowned work of the students in this program.

Nine hundred members of the William Paterson College Community gathered together one night. Tradition deemed that the occasion be called "The Senior-Faculty Dinner." It was to be the last meeting between professors and students, but in reality, it was the parting of friends. Most will never meet again. Others have formed friendships too strong to be broken.

Gary Hulton, President, Class of 1972, welcomed us and Patricia Mulqueen, President, Class of 1973, toasted to our successes. Speeches were kept to a minimum as this was not a night for listening.

It was a night of honor, bestowing upon those individuals, who have made their name known in some corner on campus, recognition. Athletes, media experts, actors, and government spokesmen alike were mentioned. Mrs. Virginia Randall presented the Alumni Awards to Chuck Murphy and Laura Strother, who were chosen Outstanding Seniors.

Our dreams varied and our mood was mixed. It was an evening of happiness, yet it was an evening of sadness.

A Parting of Friends

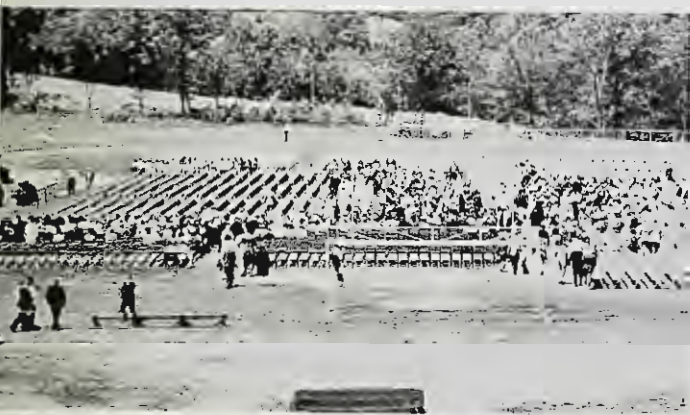

May 19, 1973

There was to be a happening. It was to be regal. It was to be ceremonious. It was to be solemn. It was to be joyful. It was to be a gathering. It was to be a parting. It was to be the horizon on which we would stand in preparation to moving purposely into our world. It was to be graduation.

We lacked direction, for we did not know the alternatives. We lacked vision, for even the most farseeing of us looked through closed lidded eyes into the darkness of midnight. We lacked goals, for our concern myopically spanned only a four year breadth of time. We lacked awareness, for our minds were clouded with self-interest.

However, four years ago we started on a mission that would lead us to an understanding of ourselves, our fellowman, and our world. In the light of false dawn we would begin to see beyond today. Yet, it was a light which could as easily illuminate the course to take which would carry us to where we wished to go, as it could hide the disasters of a wrong choice in its shadows. It was still a time of confusion and narrow vision.

Yet slowly, like the sun rising over the horizon, shedding light and confidence into our confused state of being, we began to see beyond tomorrow. The transformation would not come over night. On no one morning would there be an awakening of the mind with the body. It would be an evolution of one experience building upon another. We would recognize the alternatives; and we would choose and develop a direction.

*We Did It
Our Way*

At some passing instant in time, the inflection point was passed. Today we stand beneath a zenith, sun-bathed in the illuminating knowledge that we know who we are and in what direction we are heading. Today, we know the alternatives and are ready to accept the responsibility of our direction. Today, our opened eyes reveal the goals we have established far beyond the horizon on which we stand. Today, we are aware of the purpose of life, of people, of our direction. Today is graduation.

With the regality of the processional march, the ceremony begins. In the solemnity of the conferring of degrees, joviality permeates the air. We gathered together this time so that we could depart, not as random moving beings, but as individual forces aimed in a direction that would give purpose to our lives, and would change the course of our world.

To all who existed on the William Paterson campus this year, thanks. As you were all a part of this college, you have in some way changed it. PIONEER '73 has attempted to report and record those changes of William Paterson and present them to you within this publication. The theme of individuality on this campus has been one of the simpler tasks of the Staff, with respect to those individuals who very aptly deserve recognition for their club, department, class, or college activities.

The greatest amount of my gratitude is extended to the Staff of PIONEER, who were so capable in publishing this annual. For putting up with our office habits, being our resident dishwasher, acting as a lobbyist with sports, and our glue-all as far as putting together all articles, I thank Karen Johansen, Literary Editor. Karen is also a great personal secretary, God bless the dictionary. Janie Hess, Business Editor, earned the title of stare-down champion whenever our spending came up against her budget. As the office go-between, going through photos, literary, and typing, Janie has been the extra blend that really made it an enjoyable break from class.

To the newer member of our Staff, Pat Mulqueen, a relieved thanks, that as Lay-Out Editor you have been able to get the most out of the pictures and use them in your spreads. I know things can get rough, Pat, but you were great in sticking out with the job and seeing this book through. As Photography Editor, Ken Hess has breezed around campus to try and cover all events and has given us some great shots. Gratitude for photography must also be extended to Gilbert Boyajian, for our sports shots and contacts. Gil, to the quietest member of our staff, a well executed job.

To the rest of the Staff, Bob Adler, Dee Hall, Marshall Sigall, Laura Bravo, Michael Dropkin, Bill Morrison, Sandy Mason, and Diane Mantei, I thank you all very much for the sections you gave us and the patience showed on all sides.

Now I must also congratulate Mr. and Mrs. George Crescione for always taking our emergency photo calls and greatly helping with our deadlines. To George Franklin, our publishing representative, who from the very beginning was our biggest mind bender with new concepts for our book, thanks George. Mr. Smith, our views are expressed in the Dedication, no one could meet your match or even come close. We hope this to be an honor well deserved.

My sympathies are now extended to Ken, Janie, Karen, Pat, and most of all, my Laura, who put up with my dual roles. I know it was hard to get me to stay any length of time, I appreciate your patience with me. I also wish to extend to the PIONEER Staff of 1974, all the luck you will most definitely need to put out a book next year.

I would attempt to explain to all of you why this book has so much meaning to me, but half of it would have no meaning to you. You all will view this book differently, if it has any meaning to you, you will value it. To all of the critics of the world, what I would say to you is appropriately written by Henry David Thoreau, in his JOURNAL:

"However mean your life is meet it and live; do not shun it and call it hard names. It is not so bad as you are. It looks poorest when you are richest. The fault-finder will find faults even in paradise. Love your life, poor as it is."

Thanks and Good-bye,

KENNETH G. CHAMBERLAIN,
Editor-in-Chief

Fellow Graduates:

We have always been taught that only through strenuous efforts will one achieve one's goals, only through vigorous exercise can one preserve her or his liberties, that only through determined and constant labor can we fulfill our dreams. So if we seek new direction, select a new path to travel, we are doing so because of our past education. The future that we all will share will be made from those new directions, new paths.

What the world needs is love, and in the absence of love, understanding; this is the least that we can accept, it is what the future requires if it is to be peaceful or productive. What we must acknowledge then is that each of us is different. We must accept and, if necessary force ourselves to appreciate the fact that we can only be different. We must realize that no one individual's dreams can satisfy another, that no one individual's work can fully challenge another, that no one individual's hopes can give another's life meaning. We must each learn that other people are as important as we are, that other dreams are as important as our own.

This is my hope for the class of 1973; the future can be more brilliant than the present, but only if we are willing to understand.

Sincerely,

PATRICIA E. MULQUEEN

This is our book. It chronicles not only the graduates (one could say, the survivors) from our three academic schools, with the images of ourselves as a camera snap captured us at one moment; it also presents the four painful, glorious, never-ending, already completed years which most of us spent here at William Paterson, by literal and pictorial suggestions throughout its pages. It is of course the work of a small group and what it has remembered since those first days in September 1969, but we hope that you will integrate these words and images with your own memories.
