Taking cognizance of the complete absence of representatives of taxpayers' organizations, Freeholder Director Nicholas Martini said:

"I am sorry the taxpayers' representatives did not avail themselves of our invitation to attend these budget hearings. Yet, on the other hand, I feel that their absence reflects the complete confidence in which our board is looked upon throughout the county. The taxpayers can rest assured that we will do the very best we can to cut the budgetary items down to meet the needs of the people and still prevent any rise in the county tax rate."

$238,889 Increase

Mr. Martini, who is chairman of the finance committee, informed the other members of the board that the budgetary requests as received from the various departmental heads total $2,824,127.04, an increase of $238,889.07 over last

Some Break Through

Berlin, Jan. 10 (Friday) (AP)—A large-scale British air attack was directed last night at industrial and supply centers in Western Germany, but authorized sources reported early today that only a few planes succeeded in breaking through the defenses and dropping explosives on various towns.

Even those, it was said, did not inflict damage on war-essential objectives, but destroyed some apartment houses and one school. The localities were not identified.

One Shot Down

On British plane was shot down by German night fighter planes, authorized sources said, and the efforts of the others were frustrated by anti-aircraft forces employing all means of defense, including barrage balloons.

The greater number of the raiders were said to have failed to reach their goals and released their bombs over open country of the Western Frontier districts.

Meanwhile, the German Luftwaffe continued attacks on the British Isles. Military targets at Bristol

Jorlett Announces Blinker Traffic Lights 12 M. To 8 A.M.

The traffic lights of the city will be placed on the blinker system from midnight until 8 a. m. starting tonight, Deputy Chief Stephen Jorlett, head of the traffic bureau, announced last night. The light at the Erie Depot will operate without change, he said.

The deputy chief also urged motorists to take care in backing into the curb while parking not to bump the city's parking meters. Particularly during the winter when there may be snow or ice against the curb, autos climb the sidewalks easily and strike the meters, he pointed out.

Mongrel Laughs Last At Police Dog 'Bully'

New York, Jan. 9 (AP)—A scrawny little mongrel led a large German police dog a not-so merry chase down the pier at 26th Street and the East River today.

At the end of the pier the small dog sidestepped and his pursuer hurtled past him into the river, where for half an hour he swam back and forth just out of reach of would-be rescuers. Meanwhile, the mongrel dashed about on shore barking excitedly, as though laughing at his foe.

Finally the police dog was pulled out. The mongrel suddenly stopped barking and ran away as fast as he could.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 9 (AP)—The payroll of the Republican-controlled 1941 New Jersey Assembly was set at approximately $30,000 by the temporary steering committee, which worked out today a division of the 40-odd jobs mostly of a clerical nature, among the 17 counties with G.O.P. representatives.

Speaker Roscoe P. McClave of Bergen said filling of the jobs would await the opening of the 1941 session next Tuesday.

Paul P. Williams of Maplewood, chosen to continued next year as clerk of the House, got the top-paying job, at $2,500. His assistant at $1,000 will be Max Husselrath of Butler, another carry-over.

Williams said the total in salaries approximated the amount originally allotted for assembly jobs in 1940. The original amount was increased later by the voting of bonuses to employees, whose duties were ex-

Harry M. Smith, "Chevrolet Man" Is Sales Manager—J. Victor Hasto, President, Promises "Best Pilsner In America"

J. VICTOR HASTO
President

HARRY M. SMITH
Sales Manager

The S&M label is going to mean big things for those who enjoy good Pilsner beer, for this month, the Sprattler and Mennel Brewing Company will start putting out the finest Pilsner made this side of the ocean and Harry M. Smith, who made Chevrolet history in Paterson, will be sales manager for the new brew.

Mr. Smith is as enthused over the prospects of bringing better beer to this country as he was over the prospect of giving the American people a better car some 23 years ago. At that time he told the General Motors Corporation that the Harry M. Smith Chevrolet agency would sell 1,000 cars a year and received polite guffaws. But the Smith agency did sell 1,000 cars a year. Now Harry M. Smith is predicting that the S&M brewery will sell 100,000 barrels of the best Pilsner ever made in America and those who know him are accepting it as a thing already accomplished.

There is no reason why his prediction should not come true. President J. Victor Hasto of New York has spent $120,000 to have the S&M brewery at 240 Marshall street remodeled and equipped with the most modern brewing equipment. He has gathered together a most experienced staff of brewers under Brewmaster Louis Filipov of Caldwell, who has spent his life in the making of fine beer in some of the leading breweries throughout the country and who has specialized in Pilsner beers.

Mr. Hasto declared that there has long been a demand for a good Pilsner in America and that this demand has grown since the supply of imported Pilsner from Czechoslovakia has been cut off. Paterson, he said, has been found an ideal place for the brewing of Pilsner largely because of the chemical nature of the available water. The S&M Brewery met all the necessary factory requirements and local transportation and housing facilities were ideal. More than 25 Paterson persons will be employed in the new brewery.

While Harry M. Smith will take over the management of sales for the S&M Brewery to make the S&M label synonymous with good Pilsner beer, he is not abandoning the Harry M. Smith Chevrolet agency of which he remains the guiding spirit.

Smith has long been one of the most popular local residents with the result that he is known better to thousands by his various affectionate nicknames than he is by his own given name. To many he is just "Red." To others he is "Seabass." To all he is a dynamic personality who puts confidence and vim into everything he touches.

He is an active member of the Hamilton Club, North Jersey Country Club, Preakness Hills Country Club, Elks, Masons, Shrine and Jesters Club.

"The SM label has always had a high reputation in New Jersey," Mr. Hasto said, in announcing the plan to brew a finer Pilsner in Paterson, "and with the new setup we intend to bring it to new heights of popularity. Paterson has been known in the past as an important brewing center and it will again take its place as a leader in the industry."

The S&M Brewery was purchased last year by the New York group headed by Mr. Hasto and has been completely overhauled. It is now rated as one of the most modern and sanitary breweries in the East. The new company's stock amounts to $300,000, adequate to assure beer lovers that no expense will be spared to put out a truly superior product. The trust local residents have, both in the brewing industry here and in the ability of Harry M. Smith, is indicated by the fact that they have invested more than $80,000 in the new company. Mr. Smith, himself, has bought 50 shares.

With Hasto and Smith in executive posts are August Medvedick, vice-president; Bernard Bilovsky, secretary-treasurer.

tering social life of the nation's capital and who became widely known later for her philanthropies.

The flag above the City Hall was flown at half-mast on orders of Mayor William P. Furrey.

"Paterson deeply mourns the passing of one of the most gracious and distinguished citizens ever to have graced our midst," said Mayor Furrey. "Mrs. Hobart, both in her private and public life as the nation's 'First Lady,' at all times brought distinction to this, her native city. We of Paterson mourn our loss."

While her husband served in Washington, Mrs. Hobart was often official hostess for Mrs. William McKinley, whose illness often prevented her from entertaining. There she met prominent personages of the national and international scene, many of whom she entertained at the Hobart mansion, "Carroll Hall," which was razed a year and a half ago.

Mrs. Hobart was the daughter of the late Socrates Tuttle, three-time mayor of Paterson and one of the outstanding members of the New Jersey bar.

She was married at the age of 18 to Mr. Hobart, who was then a clerk in her father's office. They had two children—Commissioner Hobart and a daughter, Panny, who died while travelling in Italy.

Gifts from Mrs. Hobart were responsible for the building of the Old Ladies' Home and the Hobart Memorial Day Nursery. She also funded a host of other charities.

The Speaker held that imprisonment for a crime did not disqualify U Chit Pe from membership. The House then called on the Government to release the solon so that he might attend the last day's session at Rangoon.
