

STATE BEACON

Hobart Estate Scene For Luxurious Prom

In the traditional mood of fun, sparkle and gaiety, the annual Senior Ball will be held at the luxurious new college campus, Friday, May 27. In order not to limit the fun to just the one class, the planning Committee, which is made up of the Presidents from the various and the President and Vice President of the Student Council who act

FTA Greet Frosh

The North Jersey Conference of the Future Teachers of America played host to the incoming freshmen of September at the Hobart Estate on Thursday, April 7, 1949.

Promptly at three P.M. the three buses which provided free as ex officio members have planned to sell bids for $3.50 to all those who wish to share the good time. Even lowly Freshmen will be invited.

"OUR NEW CAMPUS"

As has been the annual tradition each class has taken over certain duties in conjunction with planning and making this affair a success. In this co-operative arrangement the Freshman Class is in charge of the printing and publicity; the Sophomore Class must hire the orchestra; and the Junior Class must make arrangements for the place. On this year's receiving line will be Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Wightman, Dr. & Mrs. Kenneth B. White, Miss Edith Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. Tunis Baker, Miss Mildred Lee, Miss Juliette Trainor, and Miss Christine Stroop. A light supper will be served.

PST Debators Win

The Debating Club, coached by Dr. Ralph W. Miller, member of the faculty, defeated the Brownson Debating Society of Seton Hall College Tuesday night, May 3, at Seton Hall. The State debaters, engaging in their initial debate, received the unanimous decision of the judges in defending the topic, resolved, "That the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunities in tax supported schools by means of annual grants." Seton Hall, engaging in its 36th debate defended the negative.

The victorious State debaters were led by Harold Seckey and Lee Hanks; Acting as Judges were Michael Harabatos of Paterson State and E. Brown of the Newark College of Engineering.

The Faculty Social Committee is planning a testimonial dinner for Dr. Wightman on June 1st in recognition of his untiring efforts to secure a permanent campus for the college. Details for the Dinner are not yet available as the Beacon goes to press.

... Jottings ...

The Zeta Kappa Chi Sorority will hold its annual spring dance at the Meadowbrook Club on Friday Night, May 20.

A three-act play entitled "What a Life" will be presented by the Masque and Masquers Club at 8 P.M. on the same evening. Admission will be free.

The Delta Omega Epsilon Fraternity will hold its Inaugural Banquet at the Swiss Chalet, Rochelle Park N. J. on Saturday evening, May 28. Lawrence J. Oast, News Editor of the Beacon will be inaugurated as president of the Fraternity by Dr. Clair S. Wightman.

Marlene Dietrich Heads Local NSA

Marlene Dietrich, because of her outstanding work as Paterson State representative in the N. S. A., has been chosen to represent the College at the University of Illinois in a second congress, this summer from Aug. 24 until Sept. 2, 1949. As delegate from P. S. T. C. she will attend all N. S. A. meetings and discussions, and will keep local committees and the Student Government Association up to date on all activity in the N. S. A. Her duty will be to place posters and current periodicals and literature in prominent places to familiarize the student body of the N. S. A. with recent occurrences.

Last year Joan Reed, a graduating senior, represented the College at the University of Wisconsin, scene of the first student congress. When Joan went out student teaching, Marlene, a freshman, took over the job of keeping everything up to date and distributing newspapers. Her diligence and effort have served her in good stead however and she is finding now that her answer is paying off.

What is it?

In this day and age of alphabetizing when so many letters appear before the eyes of people, they are bound to be confused. It is important that the college students of America know what NSA stands for.

The National Student Association is the only national organization representing American (Continued on Page 2)

Schaffer Play Day On Land And Sea

Avast and Ship Aye! all ye Landlubbers! The Social Committee of the S.G.A. in conjunction with the Field Trip Committee has exclusively chartered the Americana, luxurious excursion boat for the annual Schaffer Play Day and Field Trip to Rye Beach, New York on Friday, June 3rd.

Buses which will be leased by the S.G.A. will provide transportation to and from the boat and will leave the college at half past eight Friday morning. The "AMERICANA" will meet its "whistle and head out to sea at exactly 9:45 A.M. from Exchange Place, Jersey City.

Paterson Players To Present What A Life

Production of the three act comedy "What a Life" has been stepped up by the Masque and Masquers club of P. S. T. C. The play by Clifford Goldsmith will be presented on Thursday and Friday, May 19th and 20th in the school auditorium. Tickets will be available through the Student Government Association. Faculty advisor of the organization is Miss Greenway. It is another chapter in the story of the trials and tribulations of Henry Aldrich. Director of the production is Norman Fink who has done a fine job of casting. The students participating in the drama are: Ruth McGuirk as secretary of Mr. Bradley, Harry Steigler as Mr. Nelson, assistant principal; Mr. Peterson, a teacher, will be enacted by Dick Stack; Clair Tillman as Miss Pike, a teacher; George Messerlian as Bill, a student; Beverly Berelompa as Miss Eggleston, a teacher; Lucille Sabio as Miss Johnson, a teacher; Norman Fink as Mr. Vechtime, a parent; Bill Knoll as Henry Aldrich, a student; Lyle Rowlinson as Barbara Pearson, a student; Arlene Rubin as Gertrude, a student; Don Van Dem as Mr. Bradley, the principal; Mary Diamondis as Miss Wheeler, a teacher; George Erb as George Bigelow, a student; Jacqueline Baker as Mrs. Aldrich, Henry's mother; and Harold Seckey as Mr. Ferguson from police headquarters.

"What a Life" is the story of Henry Aldrich in his rivalry with George Steigler for the affection of Barbara Pearson, co-ed. It features many comical situations as only Henry Aldrich can get into. This will be the spring production of the Masque and Masquers club. Officers of the club are Ruth McGuirk, President, William Knoll, Secretary, and Lyle Rowlinson, Treasurer.

From therein, the dancers, the singers, the sun and the food appreciators, the camera bugs, and the kibitzers will be in their glory because all types of recreation and fun filled games have been provided by the S.G.A. A modern dance band will provide the music for popular dancing and lovers of the square dance can "Do-3-Do" to the calls of Red Ingle (via records). Song sheets will be distributed to promote community singing and for all sign-seers the "AMERICANA" will trundle around the Statue of Liberty, and a "Take Special Notice" sheet, especially arranged by the Field Trip Committee, will point out those places of particular importance and interest.

But that's not all. In order to make the day a financial success as well as a social success, Friday at Rye Beach is "Bargain Day" and everything will be half price. This includes the Beach, Refreshment and ALL amusements. What more can anyone wish for, except perhaps the 3:45 P.M. departure time from Rye Beach!

SGA Submits 49-50 Budget For Approval

To All Students: At the request of Dr. Wightman the Executive Committee has prepared a budget for the year 1949-50. This budget was figured on the basis of the $20 assessment fee paid by the student body. All faculty advisors of the various spending agencies were consulted before this budget was prepared and approved the unanimous. The budget listed below has been invariably received by the Council and now awaits your approval.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes Social Committee ($182-$2000), Assembly ($2-$970), Reason (1.00-$1200), W.A.A. ($50-$650), Men's A.A. ($30-$350), Masque & Masquers ($25-$250), Reserve ($25-$250), Senior Ball ($10-$625), Class Fees ($5), S.G.A. Fund ($0).

It is the sincere hope of the Executive Committee that this new system of preparing the annual budget will be accepted by the student body, as we feel that it avoids any unnecessary delay at the start of a new semester. Respectfully, Joan J. Dowata, President, S.G.A.

Nite of Nites ...

SENIOR BALL

May 27th

BEACON TAKES FIRST PLACE IN COLUMBIA PRESS CONTEST

Well folks, we did it again! Your pride and joy, the good old "Beacon," after very critical scrutiny, was awarded the first place gold certificate at the annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association on March 10, at Columbia University, N. Y. C.

The "Beacon" was adjudged the best newspaper published by state teachers colleges belonging to NSPA. This was the second consecutive year that the "Voice of the Pioneers" succeeded in winning high laurels in the world of collegiate journalism.

Paterson State Beacon

Published monthly under the Student Government Association of Paterson State Teachers College Address—19th Avenue, Paterson Telephone—Office 2-6820 Published by the Staff, 549 Main Street, Paterson.

MARY DIAMONDIS MARVIN COHEN
Co-Editors-in-Chief

TUNIS BELLO.....Feature Editor
LAWRENCE J. OSSI.....News Editor
JOSEPH TRIGONE.....Sports Editor
DON RAFFETTO.....Business Manager
VIRGINIA MORAN.....Exchange
PAT MORONE.....Photography
HAROLD STEINDLER.....Cartoonist

Faculty Advisor
JULIETTE TRAINOR

— Reporters —

Richard DeLucia, Joseph Giora, Charles Sheraskey, Rose Mary Snyder, Lorraine War, June Dwyer, Gerda Lerner, James Leach, Joan Garaventa, Louis Passerov, Joan Hershall, Gloria Bevaqua, Jackie Baker, Pauline Goffino, Bob Hilton.

EDITORIAL

It is gratifying to note that the situation which Dr. Wightman so strongly brought to our attention some time ago has been improved upon namely the smoking room. The "Pit" as it has been called is now being kept cleaner than heretofore and made more comfortable by using the new exhaust fan which removes the stale smoke. Let's hope this period of cooperation is not short lived—and that it continues next semester—VOLUNTARILY.

Is it true that the stage props which belong to the school are housed in a garage on 18th Ave. in Paterson for the fee of $18.00 per month—when they could be stored at the Hobart Estate at no expense to the school.

Is it true that the architects for the Hobart Estate blundered in his calculations for our new library? According to an inside tip, the new library will be short space by 20,000 books, because of this blunder.

It seems to some folks here that the cafeteria situation is about to be called to everyone's attention as was the smoking room. Our cafeteria serves several purposes, among which are a study hall and show hall. To substantiate the following charges an investigation committee was sent out to check on various other school cafeterias, and in no other school was such a situation seen. In no cafeteria was seen as much rubbish left on the tables after the students eat as in this one. The girls in the kitchen do not have time to clean up after you, and beside that, it's not their job. It's yours. As a study hall, it is as noisy as any and here, all are not to blame. Many of us earnestly try to cooperate, but there are some who persist in loud talk and laughter for those who suggest the great outdoors.

Madrigral Singers Give Concert

The 12th annual Spring Concert of the A Cappella Madrigal Singers will be held on May 17 in the College Auditorium.

Under the direction of Earl L. Weidner, the selections: Freedom Still As The Night; Go Down Moses; Nelly Was A Lady; Maytime; Oh, Wash My Love; County Style; Jig For Vices; Pappas On Parade; Mattina; Lovely Maiden; and Three Dutch Folk Songs, will be sung by the members of the Madrigal Singers which include: First sopranos Gladys De Causmaker, Dorothy Fokens, Edith McNeely, Mildred Spitz, Ruth Stephenson. Second sopranos, Grace Banks, Dorothy Gegg, Evelyn Mott, Mary Sierma, Margaret Woechnick, Betty Shaw.

First alto: Lillian Kirkwood, Jean Lorkow, Grace Shaw, Ida Sierma. Second alto: Betty Christa, Grace Simmons, Florence Small, Alida Weidner. Tenors: Victor Christa, Henry Fokens, Paul Rita, Marian Ulsman. Basses: Charles Anderson, George De Causmaker, Albert Dorenius, Andrew Frank, Edward Pisker, Harry Speding, Edward Stephenson and Richard Urban.

PSTC Frat Establishes Scholarship

The Skull and Pannier Fraternity of Paterson State Teachers College has established the first grants scholarship to be granted by an alumnae organization. It will be known as the Skull and Pannier Memorial Scholarship in memory of the deceased members of the fraternity.

The purposes of the scholarship are to promote education and to aid a male student to continue in the field of education. The award will be made for the first time in September to a male student who is entering his Junior year. Books will be purchased for him for the period of one year. The person will be selected by Dr. Clair Wightman, president of the college, faculty members, and fraternity members on the basis of scholarship and character.

The Fraternity held their first meeting at the new college campus, formerly the Hobart Estate, April 25.

Dr. Wightman conducted the members on a tour throughout the buildings and grounds.

Women Fencers Host At Meet

Paterson State Women's Swords Club was hostess for the twenty-first annual Women's Intercollegiate Championship Fencing Tournament which was held at our college on April 9.

New York University, headed up by Diane Greenberg, individual champion Sally Zacharewicz, and Christine Castro, captured top honors. Second place was taken by Brookline College while Hunter College placed third, thus losing their three year reign. Jersey City State Teachers' College placed fourth and Paterson State sixth, providing a better record than they had all season losing three matches by a small margin of 5-4 and 7-2. Diane Greenberg, individual champion last year and again this year, paced her team to its triumph by winning twelve of her fourteen bouts, ten of which she captured in succession. Sally Zacharewicz, captain of the victorious N. Y. U. team, took second place by winning eleven of her fourteen bouts. Herta Friedrich, captain of Brooklyn's team, also had a similar record. However, Miss Zacharewicz had twenty-five bouts against her opponents while Miss Friedrich had only twenty-four, thus placing her in the number three position.

The event was highlighted by a luncheon and dinner at the luncheon Dr. Wightman addressed the visitors and returned in the evening for the presentation of the awards. Mr. George Santelli, well known in the fencing world, presented the awards. Awards were also given to those who displayed excellent form throughout the day, one of which went to Dorothy Cullen of Paterson State.

F. T. A.

(Continued from Page 1)

Coiff Academy Lama and John Doull a film on teaching called "Assignment Tomorrow" furnished by the National Education Association, Washington, D. C. was shown. Refreshments were then served.

Junior and senior students came from Central High School, Paterson; Clifton High School; Dwight Morrow High School, Englewood; Eastside High School, Paterson; Easton Academy, Prospect Park; Franklin High School; Garfield High School; Hackensack High School; Hawthorne High School; Lodi High School; Lodi High School; Passaic High School; Passaic Valley High School; Little Falls; Pompton Lakes High School; Ridgewood High School; St. Cecilia High School; Emporium; St. John's High School; Genesee; St. Joseph's High School, Paterson and Tenack High School.

Arrangements for the conference were made by Miss Miriam Gorman and Dr. Mark Karp, associate professor of English, and advisor of the F.T.A. Members of the refreshments committee were Sheila Ryan, Peggy O'Leary and Zelda Lipset.

The Gerret A. Hobart Jr. Mansion was purchased last year by the State Board of Education as a college site for $200,000. An appropriation of $2,000,000 has been set aside by the State Legislature for alterations. Dr. Wightman now holds the keys to the estate. The estate will be utilized for seminars, conferences, and class events. Plans are already being made for the Junior Term to be held on the evening of May 27, 1949.

Outdoor Club Finds Lost Jessop Trail

The Outdoor Education Club did it again. A day of hiking was enjoyed by all members, when the club spent the day looking for the Jessop and Forrest trails located between Menros and Highland Falls in New York State. The original objectives of clearing and rehabilitating the trails and building a bridge at the low spot in the Jessop trail were discarded when the club had a hard time finding the trail in a blinding snow, sleet and rain storm.

Undaunted by the pessimistic attitude of the weather man our heroes assembled at the Post Office in Paterson. After a prolonged pow wow it was decided to postpone with the days looking come what may. The trip up to Highland Mills was uneventful, except for the top at the Red Apple Rest lunch room.

The hunt for the Forrest trail which was to lead them to the Jessop trail began as soon as they turned off of route 22 and into the wooded uplands. The hikers roge unobscured over these country roads which felt like a bubble zone with every step out of place. Many miles of other trails were covered before we finally found some one who could direct us to the Jessop trail. By retracing the many miles and going up a side road to a necessary they were rewarded by the information to the secret of the lost Jessop trail. It really wasn't the trail that was lost, it was the trail hikers.

Two yellow markers finally hove into view and the trail was found. The heavy fog was still in evidence when the explorers pulled on their knapsacks and started up the trail.

Climbing up the snow covered rocks and sliding down the other side were the extremes in forward motion. Twisting, turning, climbing and occasionally a level spot, the trail wound through Schuylkill Mountain like a huge serpent.

Crossing a small swamp and surmounting a small hill the group finally came upon the junction of the Forrest trail and the Jessop trail.

N. S. A.

(Continued from Page 1)

college students and serving all areas of student needs.

NSA's purposes are broad, but its goals are sought direct and specific aims. The association does not engage in partisan politics, but it has taken part in public affairs affecting student welfare.

Most Students usually ask—"What is NSA for?" NSA's concern is with the increase of opportunities for students to contribute to the welfare of the national and international community. NSA's work is to deal with concrete problems of students and their needs.

The question of improvement of college social life, attention to the problems of discrimination, establishment of faculty-student committees on curricular reform, orientation courses for freshmen, and part-time employment service.

Cultural exchange has been established between college students here in this country and students abroad. World wide travel and study has been and will be greatly facilitated in the future. Tours of England, Holland and France were organized and will be carried out this summer. Scholarships for study at the University of Vienna were planned and awarded. On this pointment also many tours, trips, workshops, and studies have been set up for students by NSA.

NSA has worked for increased Veterans' education substance.

NSA has also set up and organized the Purchase Card System. PCS enables the holder of a card to purchase many articles of almost any nature at a discount. In many regions of the United States.

The association was established last summer when more than 70 delegates from 300 colleges and universities held the Constitutional Convention on the Campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Paterson Team Drubbed By Montclair Nine

In the first home game, Paterson State was handed a 15-0 drubbing by Montclair. It was State's first loss in conference play.

George Schroers started for State and lasted three and two-thirds innings.

With one out in the second inning Peggled singled and scored. Joe Chicks boomed Oberly's single for a two-base error. Spunk then blazed a home run to left center.

Stein spent the last of the second with a single. After Van Orden and Harris were retired, Schroers singled to left. Chicks hit sharply to left center for a triple but was out trying to stretch it.

Bob Pisker batted a two run homer in the third to up the count to 5-1. Frank Cebeko reached first on Bonanza's error to start the fourth. Spunk then singled to center and Cebeko was slipped trying to score. Erb's throw to second doubled Spunk. Three more singles and two outs brought Stein in to pinch with Schroers writing to right. Stein gave up another single which produced runs 5 and nine before getting out of the inning.

Stein singled the Indians in the sixth but Paterson could do nothing to the service of Chuck Spunk. After Manning singled and Ferris was out on a fielder's choice in the seventh, Pisker cleaned the bases with his second straight set of the game to make the score 12-1.

Montclair added three more off A. Goldberg in the seventh on a walk and four singles.

With Arnold pitching in the home half of the seventh, Urban singled, Chuck Sandino slammed a double to right but was out for not touching first. Chicks and Bonanza were easy marks and the game was called one to six o'clock curfew.

First baseman Pisker drove in seven runs with his two homers and a bases-loaded single while Ferris and Spunk each had a perfect day at bat.

Take me to the ...

SENIOR BALL

May 27th

WITHOUT MALICE

by
TUNIS J. BELLO

Man at one time lived in caves in order to hide from the woman. With our modern buildings and their myriads of windows, present day man hasn't a chance. Succumbing to the inevitability of a new era, he has become domesticated and deludes himself with the delightful opium that he, the male, is the pursuer and that she, the proud warrior, is the captive. As long as this false belief flourishes, men will continue to stroll innocently on life's gay boulevard until, while some crackling female stops him with a flip of her eyebrows, paralyzes him with the exotic fragrance of her perfume, and captures him with the softness of her embrace.

As sufficient proof of this belief, I humbly submit typical Case No. 295X, or "The Sad Downfall of Willing Harry."

Pansy Fragile was the kind of a girl who believed in harpooning her prey through the time-proven technique of cutting the part of a dying Camille seven days a week. Weak and defenseless, she would withdraw with sweet resignation into the shadowy corner of a neighborhood living room and let her alluring glances set as bait in attracting male rescuers. The procedure went something like this: After being introduced to all the gentleman guests for the evening, Swaying Pansy would apply a liberal coat of white powder to her face, would hold her breath with mock agony, and then slide coquettishly into the inviting corner of a sofa. Smiling bravely, like one suffering from perpetual insomnia, she would gaze in the direction of some unsuspecting young man and then present complete surprise when the perspiring bouncer bit at the bait and bounded over at the end of her line with appetizing alacrity.

On the night of March 4th, Target for the Night, Harry happened to be one of those young men in a neighborhood living room. Crossing the living room of one Myrtle O'Reilly, our young hero found himself sprawled awkwardly on the new rug as a result of Pansy's foot darting out with the suddenness of a rattlesnake. Picking himself up with as much dignity as was possible under the circumstances, Blushing Harry turned to looking Pansy, and with the air of a gentleman, began to apologize for tripping over the young lady's size 12 shoe. Well, Tombstone Pansy was all prepared for the occasion. Slowly lowering her head some three inches, pausing dramatically for telling effect, and then peering artfully in stammering Harry's direction, she expressed in a subdued voice, that was more appropriate for a funeral, matchless words of comfort.

"I'm so sorry, I'm afraid it was really my itty, bitty feet that caused all the trouble."

By this time Harry was so unnerved by the experience that he had to swallow twice before blurring out with humble candor: "No, honestly it's my fault. I'm just too clumsy."

Well, for the next five minutes Trampled Harry did abject penance for tripping over Pansy's outstretched foot and bruising his knees. During this agony, the word "sorry" was heard by listening guests at least thirteen times. By the end of the five minutes, Harry felt indebted to Pansy Fragile for the rest of the evening. After gently helping her to the best chair in the house, Trampled Harry rushed to the stack of food that was perched on the round table, grabbed a few quarts of punch and a few loaves of sandwiches as adequate provisions, and dedicated himself to the noble task of undoing the great harm that he had inflicted on the pale beauty.

Spurning the gay laughter of fun-growing games and the excitement of fast-moving dances, he lingered at Pansy's side for the rest of the evening. It was not until it was time to go home that Luckless Harry realized the vulnerability of his position. Learning that the nearest thing to an automobile that Harry had was a seven-year-old motorcycle, Dashing Pansy recovered sufficient strength to hurl herself across the room into the puzzled arms of Two-Garage Pete. Hitting him over the head with a shove, of compliments, Pansy managed to daze him into offering an invitation to take her in his car to the Fragile home some four houses away. Never would it be said that Pansy Fragile walked home from a party. All that Harry remembers of those last precious minutes were a passing breeze, a swinging door, a honking car, and that taking of two aspirins.

Since that night, Harry has never been the same. No matter where he goes, his eyes are always on the ground in a desperate effort to avoid someone's feet that might be lurking in his direction.

"Faint Heart"

By NORMAN FINK

I tried to tell you that first night
When we were introduced,
That I had never met one quite
So heavenly produced.

I tried again the second time
I gazed on your sweet face,
Some words of tender love to prune

From my heart—or misplaced!

Each time I had been near to you

My love found no expression,
A sigh, perhaps, a joyous tear, too.

No words, indeed! Complete repression.

So do not wonder at my address
Far off in Mandalay.

I came here, my love to express
P. S. V. P.

Words And Music

These smooth round tones which can be heard coming from room 301 at 1038 are those written by Horwell and Lee for their operetta "WORDS AND MUSIC" which is now in rehearsal under the direction of Earl L. Weidner and which will be presented as this year's selection.

The following Staters have been selected to play the individual parts: Female: Fernande Pugh, Donald Van Dam, Samantha Highgate, Mrs. Stessman, Mary Allen, Edith McNelly, Anastasia Longward, George De Coussemaeker, John Warren, Jim Lamson, Washington, Bill Wasserman; Members of the Glee Quartet: Mary Stessman, Beatrice Gruber, Doris Rome, and Joan Reed; Members of the Boy's Quartet: Peter White, Dick Urban, Harry Sperling, and Joe Decker; Dancers: Blanche Anderson, Dorothy Burns, Frances Papernik, Rose Rigobon, Sybil Kaplan and Marian Albert.

Remember . . .

SENIOR BALL

at the
HOBART ESTATE

MAY 27

Dress Semi-Formal

By PAULYNE GOLFINOS

Hello . . . click click . . . hello . . . Hey, for whom the bell tolls, drop that yo yo and lend an ear here, 'cause the line is busy. Lizzie, and the dial's buzzy cousin . . .

Anchor man for P.S.T.C.'s varsity bowling team, Ray del Grosso spelled defeat to Rutgers' five at the "Rec" on Friday, April 22, 1949. Busy's favorite sport has proven very profitable to him. All that pin money you've been sponging on him lately was the hundred dollar prize he won for the fifth time in McNair's sweepstakes, not to mention his smaller cash awards, 1 2 3 testing . . . Congratulations to Mary Diamonds and Bill Knoll on their fine radio dramatization of "Love Without Words" on station WPAT at 12:15 P.M. Saturday, April 30, 1949 . . . Phi Delta Rho sorority saw "Mr. Roberts" at the Alvin theatre recently . . . Leroy Rosen would like to know if he owes anyone any money. If so, please see Paul Moskowitz who owes him a dance . . .

Staters Visit Jessica Tandy

Three representatives of Paterson State Teachers College, Norma Civinelli, Lorraine War, and Jackie Baker were present at the interview given for students of the drama by Jessica Tandy on Thursday, March 31 at the Ethel Barrymore theatre in N. Y.

Miss Tandy, star of the Pulitzer prize winning play, "A Streetcar Named Desire" was introduced by Mr. Robert Downing, stage manager of the play.

She then very graciously answered the many questions asked by the representative group. Her opinions were shrewd and original. Contrary to most text books on the technique, Miss Tandy stated that she thought young actors and actresses when first branching out in the field should concentrate mainly on expressing themselves and in getting some emotion out rather than trying too deeply to feel the emotion within themselves. She also said that it was important to concentrate on technique, voice, inflection, body movement, and that Shakespeare was a good vehicle for practice because it offered such a challenge to a good actress.

Knowing how regarded the professor as Miss Tandy said that experience should be gained first through summer stock, local theaters or in whatever manner possible before a young aspirant should attempt to gain an interview for a N. Y. play. At the close of the interview, the staterian groups man and songs girl were all introduced to the audience.

Knowing how regarded the professor as Miss Tandy said that experience should be gained first through summer stock, local theaters or in whatever manner possible before a young aspirant should attempt to gain an interview for a N. Y. play. At the close of the interview, the staterian groups man and songs girl were all introduced to the audience.

Elvira, Irving Snow, and Arnie Stein Satisfied boys! What asked how she could float so well as the "T" pool, Rhonda Susman regaled "99 44/100% pure" . . . Ben wishes to Gloria Steinberg on her recent broadcast . . . Nancy Acherman was invited to the Georgetown college formal, Dora Mary Haines . . . Hugh Gilman is trying to seal my chamber by threatening to tap the telephone wires at his girl friend's house . . . Joan Kasper's favorite pin-boy "Brooklyn" lifts the pins before the second ball hits them, thus giving her much needed spares . . . Roberts Ham stayed up late to prepare her hygiene report on the "summer cold" only to find that class was cancelled the next day—why? Teacher was out with . . . Great, you guessed it—a chick! . . . Really red hot copy are those red polka dot shoes featured in the girls' locker room recently . . . Happy birthday to Joyce Salton and Carol Gelfi. Their action you've been seeing around the cafeteria is not St. Vitus' Dance. It is a new song charade game . . . Well there's no more time to chin. Min. And I'll die you via Don Ameche's invention, Gennies . . .

THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS

NEW DRILL METHODS HASTEN EXODUS

Last week a new type of "rapid exit drill" was experimented with, showing great possibilities. This new method opens not only the two side exits but now the main exit is being used. The college was emptied in record time with little commotion and much cooperation.

However, come on the side, walk the students relax and laugh off the drill as a comical thing. The cooperation shown during the exit maneuvers should be carried through until classes are resumed.

State Bows To JCTC

Playing its second game in as many days, Paterson State lost its sixth game in a row, bowing to Jersey City State 11-4.

Mickey Spinelle started for State and got in hot water immediately. With two out and two on, Pirecki singled but Provost was out at home, Lankering to Bonnema to Erb.

In the second inning with one out, McCarthy singled, Marotta walked, Durkee singled scoring McCarthy and sending Marotta to third. Durkee then went out stealing. Smith singled scoring the second run and later took second on a wild pitch. Provost blasted a double down the left field line scoring Smith. Otto had stopped at second, took off for third but was tagged out by Al Goldberg who had received the peg from the outfield and hidden the ball.

A triple, Lankering's error, a single, Harris' error, a balk, a walk, and another single in the third inning scored three runs and spelled the end of Spinelle. Lionel Clifford came in to pitch and gave up two walks and run-scoring fly before getting out of the inning.

In the last of the fourth, Goldberg singled and Sargent was safe on Brower's boot. Erb struck out. George Schroers then belted a single to left scoring Goldberg, making the score 8-1. Sargent stopped at second on the hit. After Van Orden went down swinging, a wild pitch advanced the runner, but Urban whiffed to end the inning.

With one away in the last of the fifth, Lankering hit a triple to left and scored on Goldberg's triple to the same section. Al also scored on the shortstop's errant throw.

Cliff had been pitching good ball but weakened in the eighth and final innings and allowed three more runs.

Sargent's double and a single by Erb scored Paterson's final run in the bottom of the eighth.

The box score:

PATERSON		AB	R	H
Lankering, cf	5	1	1	1
Bonnema, ss	4	0	1	0
Goldberg, 3b	4	2	2	2
Sargent, 1b	4	1	1	1
Erb, c	3	0	2	0
Schroers, RF	3	0	2	0
Van Orden, lf	2	0	0	0
Spinello, if	1	0	0	0
Harris, 3b	1	0	1	0
Urban, c	3	0	0	1
Spinelle, p	0	0	0	0
Clifford, p	1	0	0	0
Z-Herowitz	1	0	0	0
Totals		35	4	10

JERSEY CITY

AB		R	H
Smith, 2b	5	1	2
Provost, cf	6	1	5
Lusso, c	5	1	1
Brower ss	6	1	1
Pirecki, 1b	6	1	4
Babbino, lf	5	1	0
McCarthy, if	4	2	2
Marotta, 3b	3	3	3
Durkee, p	4	0	1
Totals		44	11

Jersey City.....35 000 021-11
 Paterson.....000 120 010-4
 Z-Batted for Clifford in 9th

Attend the ...
SENIOR BALL
 May 27th

STATE FENCERS

The fencing team of Paterson State ended their season recently with a credible record of eight wins against two defeats, establishing themselves among the stronger fencing teams in New Jersey. The squad has been ably coached for the past three years by Mr. Raymond Miller who is an instructor in our social studies department. Mr. Miller gained popularity from his affiliation with the fencing teams as Wagner College before the war.

This year the group started with a considerable handicap, for only three men returned from last season. Bill Reda, Bob Elliot and Jack Griffith, who were substitutes last year returned to form the backbone of the new squad. After considerable training the team entered competition with a nine man team, previously five men had been used in competition. Those who were added were: Tony Blomzy, Souder, Edwards, Alphonse Ignatowicz, Tom Kennedy, Don Pinus and Allan Maksimowski. Shortly before the close of the season Joe Iash was added to the epic team.

The first match was a stinging defeat for the Pioneers at the hands of Newark College of Engineering in a sixteen bout fch match. After that they bounced back and showed distinct superiority against opponents. The only other defeat was in Pace College of New York in a three weapon match.

The record is as follows:
 Full only—16 bouts—Newark College of Eng. 12—Paterson 4
 Paterson State 15—St. Peter's Col-

Bowlers Win Fourth Game

The Paterson State Teachers College varsity bowling team scored its fourth straight match win and fourth straight win without a setback when it downed Paterson in three games at the Palmsport Alleys in Orange. After scoring two one-sided victories, the Pioneers came from behind to top the table on a last frame double by Lipuro and strike by anchor man Petrakakis.

PATERSON STATE

Betts	178	185	206
Leach	176	148	156
Toscano	189	135	145
Lipuro	161	124	213
Petrakakis	163	190	195

PANZER COLLEGE

Selinski	184	156	166
Rasp	145	—	—
Holick	217	—	—
Cannellieri	—	233	—
Bosco	142	—	—
Silfro	—	141	—
Mihalj	153	—	155
Bork	173	141	200
Novak	—	174	157

Three weapon—27 bouts—Paterson 9
 Three weapon—27 bouts—Paterson State 15—Drew University 12
 Three weapon—27 bouts—Paterson State 19—Stevens Institute 11

Three weapon—27 bouts—Pace College 17—Paterson State 10

Three weapon—27 bouts—Paterson State 18—Fordham University 9

Full only—9 bouts—Paterson State 4—Montclair State Teachers College 2

Three weapon—27 bouts—Paterson State 19—Cooper Union College of New York 3

Three weapon—27 bouts—Paterson State 20—Jersey City State Teachers College 7

Full only—9 bouts—Paterson State 4—Newark Rutgers 3

The only post-season contest for the Pioneers was a New Jersey Invitation Tournament in which they took second place, yielding only to Newark College of Engineering who captured top honors. The tournament was an all day affair in which six colleges participated.

After two weeks rest Coach Miller has started spring training in which he is concentrating on building a strong job team and developing greater skills in the epic and saber teams. Next year Paterson State will be fortunate in having back seven first string fencers, which should add to an extremely formidable squad; also it is planned to include several larger colleges to the present schedule.

Tennis Faces Tough Schedule

With their opening match already postponed and rescheduled, Paterson State's tennis team faces an eight game schedule. Mr. Irving Sunshine, who coaches the team, is faced with the tough job of molding a winner from an inexperienced group of players.

Those chosen for the team are: John Zyrkko, Stewart Walker, Glenn Leach, Dolson Conklin, Jeff Silitia, Ray Champin and LeRoy Rosen.

The two home matches will either be played at the 28th Street courts in Paterson or in Teaneck.

The schedule follows:

May 2	Sevan Hall	Home
May 4	Panzer	Home
May 10	Drew	Away
May 16	R. Brooksbury	Away
May 18	Rider	Away
May 20	St. Peter's	Away
May 25	Montclair	Away
June 3	Trenton	Away

Vitamin's Visions

By JOE (Vitamin) TRIONE

As is often the case with basketball teams, Paterson State played its best games at the end of the season. In winning three of their last four games, the Pioneers ended their season with an overall record of 10 wins and 19 losses. State picked the last game of the season to reach its zenith. Newark College of Pharmacy was the opposition in the finale. The Druggists entered the game with a 14-0 record, the Eastern Pharmaceutical League championships, and a previous 15 point verdict over State already tucked under their belt. The Pioneers played brilliantly throughout and with about twenty seconds left, Al Goldberg sent a long set through the hoop to send the game into overtime. With less than a minute left, Dario Pia duplicated Goldberg's feat to send the game into a second five minute overtime. The State five pass to the occasion and capped the verdict, 74-69 to give an otherwise unimpressive season a sparkling climax.

In my opinion the All-Star Opposing team should be composed of: forwards, Max Surhoff of John Marshall and Hilly Shapiro of C.C.N.Y.; guards, Tom Gallagher of St. Francis and George Basco of Trenton S.T.C.; center, Bert Gellzeller of Newark Rutgers.

These players were not necessarily the best all-season performers State faced, but did the most damage to the Pioneers in their meetings.

BASEBALL OUTLOOK

The miserable showing of State's baseball team so far can be traced to two important factors: lack of hitting and lack of experience. A tipoff to the inability of the Pioneers to hit came in the two pre-season practice games with Lodi and Hawthorne High Schools. State could muster just one run in these two games. This incompetency was further proved in the double-header with Bergen Junior College in which they were blanked in both games and got only a scratch single in the first contest. They have also showed considerable greenness in the field with their numerous errors unnerving the pitchers.

The pitching, although improved over last year's mound staff, lacks the depth and poise a college team should have.

The infield is fairly good with veterans Warren Sargent and Ed Bonnema at first and second. Al Goldberg has been a happy solution to the short stop problem and Otto Harris should improve with a little more experience at third.

The catching department offers no problem with veterans George Erb, Dick Urban, and Burt Horowitz holding down the position. George Schroers, also experienced at the position, can fill in in case of injuries.

The outfield is poor. Their fielding is unsteady and they do not supply the power the outer patrol should give to the team.

As was the case in basketball, the bench does not provide the reserve strength necessary for a winning team.

Lionel Clifford's pinning in the Drew game and the hitting of Al Goldberg, Joe Chisko, and George Schroers have been the only bright spots so far.

SHORT SPORTS

It's Kopf is all smiles as her Yankees get off to a flying start. . . . A big get on the back is in order to: Gene Weiss for his staunch, long-voiced support of the basketball team; Lloyd Wheeler for his faithful attendance at away games as well as those at home; Frosh greasy Ed Rigolo for driving all the way to East Rutherford to watch State's five in action. . . . Dick "We're the Last of the Mohicans" Dr. Baker. Funtanella has taken over the first base coaching job. He was declared ineligible when it was discovered that he had been under contract as a first baseman for the Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . The Block 4 men's gym class defeated the Pioneers Boys' Club in a nine inning softball thriller, 3-5. Ray "Waffler" Champin went all the way to get the victory. . . . A group of Suters are playing for State's Drug in the Class A division of the Fair Lawn League. They are in need of a good pitcher and anyone who thinks he can fill the bill is advised to contact Hugh Reid or Jeff Silitia. . . . Congratulations are in order to Mr. Baker and the bowling team. They have just completed an undefeated season.

CAPTAIN REDA QUALIFIES FOR NATIONAL TOURNAMENT

Bill Reda qualified for the national championship epic tournament when he came in second in the state championship tournament held at the Dover Club on Thursday evening, May 12. Reda is the first man from Paterson State to receive second place honors in this tournament. Reda was captain of the men's team at school this previous season.

Also entered from Paterson in the state tournament were Tom Kennedy, Allan Maksimowski and Robert Hincot, none of whom qualified for the finals.

Chuckie

Paterson Suters had a hot time when they pulled 350 matches on the top of a soda bottle. The triumphant march makers were Bob Hillen, Dick Stack, and June Decker.