Gov. Robert Meyner Is Awarded Degree At Fall Convocation

"It is a great pleasure for me to be included in the Fall Convocation this afternoon and to have the opportunity to speak at this dedication", stated Governor Robert B. Meyner shortly after the honorary degree of Doctor Of Letters was conferred upon him by Mrs. Edward L. Katzenbach, president of the state board of education, at the Fall Convocation, Tuesday October 28, at 3:00 p.m. Dr. Frederick M. Raubinger, commissioner of education escorted the governor to the rostrum.

Following the acceptance of his degree from Mrs. Katzenbach, Gov. Meyner dedicated the buildings on campus, "... in the hope that they will be a home of service to mankind".

Dr. Marion E. Shea, president of the college, delivered the welcoming address. She informed the audience that the governor had also participated in the dedication of the Sarah Byrd Askew Library and the Memorial Gymnasium, in 1957.

The Reverend David Van Sickle of the Preakness Reformed Church in Wayne, delivered the Invocation and Benediction. Music was provided by the A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Stine, choir director. They sang, "Last Words of David", by Randall Thompson, and the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Judas Maccabaeus.

The following Citation was read to the governor by Dr. Shea:

Robert B. Meyner, one time Paterson newsboy, son of textile-worker parents, self supporting student and graduate of a college and a great university, distinguished lawyer and law-maker, presently Governor of the State of New Jersey, Paterson State College honors you today.

Your basic premise that in government, as in life, nothing is ever permanently settled, nothing is ever disposed of beyond the need for continuous study and action, has been of prime importance in the advancement of this state in the past decade. Nowhere is the drama of state government in action, of state government leading in change, more vividly demonstrated than in the field of New Jersey public education in these past ten years. With questions of substance frequently turned to the people to provide a livelier, more responsive and more responsible democracy, your administration has provided vigorous leadership in public acceptance of responsibility for the development of a system of education geared to the needs and resources of this complex state.

In honoring you today, Paterson State College honors all those who in public service or in civic devotion have in these recent critical years served the great cause of public education to which this college is dedicated.

BEACON Staff Sets Deadlines

The Beacon editorial staff has announced that the weekly deadline for all news material will be 10:00 a.m. each Monday. The task of editing material in time for publication demands that this deadline be met.

All material must be typewritten and double spaced. Handwritten copy WILL NOT be accepted.

The BEACON is temporarily located in Room 203, Hunziker Hall. Permanent relocation to the Beacon office in Wayne Hall will take place upon completion of remodeling there.

New Parking Lot To Open In Oct.

"The new parking lot slated to accommodate approximately 500 cars, will be open for student use early in October," announced Frank J. Zanfino, business manager. He added that hardship cases will be given first consideration when new decals are issued. This lot will bring the total parking spaces to 1,200, but since student enrollment is 2,000, it is probable that some students will still be unable to park on campus.

This lot, located west of the cafeteria is accessible from Gate 4. Internal traffic within the lots in present use is a current parking problem. Students are urged to take the first available parking spot within reasonable limits. A speed limit of 10 miles an hour is mandatory when entering or leaving parking lots.

Mr. Zanfino again warned students that parking on the Wayne Township public roads (including Pompton Road) is illegal. Wayne Township police have announced that they will issue tickets for parking violations. The college will also ticket violators of campus parking rules.

Sectionals, Tables, Chosen For SUB

Dr. Mary V. Holman, dean of students, has announced that the furniture for the new Student Union Building has been selected and purchased by members of the student purchasing committee.

This committee, composed of past and present SGA executive council members have decided that the furniture will be arranged to promote quiet conversation. Choices were made on the basis of beauty and practicality. Upholstered furniture includes brown, gold, and turquoise nylon, and black and persimmon naugahyde. Rounded furniture legs will prevent marring of the walls. Eight tables with white formica tops have been chosen for arrangement between the chairs.

Seating capacity for the lounge is thirty-eight. Those seeking a place for quiet study will have use of the reading lounge which will be in the front of the building.

Wall-to-wall carpeting is being considered, but plans are tentative. Over $2,000 has already been spent on this project.

The furniture purchased is the "last word in beauty, comfort, and durability," stated Dean Holman.

Frosh King, Queen Crowned At Dance

Ellen Daniels and Ray Stiles were named princess and prince of hazing. They were cited by Charloette Aversa and Bob Biagi, co-chairmen of the hazing committee.

Music for the affair was provided by the Melodiers.

Emergency Meeting Slated For Frosh

An emergency meeting of the freshman class will be held October 3, at 1:30 in the gymnasium. The agenda will include electing of SGA representatives and alternates, and planning for the Halloween Dance to be held on October 28. All freshmen are urged to attend.

Citizenship Club To Compile Student Address Booklet

The first meeting of the Citizenship Club will be Thursday, October 5, 1:30 p.m., in room 101 Hunziker Hall.

The club's first project will be to compile a booklet composed of the names and addresses of all PSC students. To help defray costs, a slight fee will be charged for the publication.

The club, a service organization, has revised its program this year to include service to the college as well as to the community. Included in the future plans will be unanimously sent gifts and cards to a teenager in the state reformatory. The signature will be "somebody cares."

For the purpose of stimulating hobby interests among tuberculosis patients of Valley View Hospital, a continuous stamp drive will be conducted. A box will be located in the lounge.

"The Ugly Man Contest," a Thanksgiving food drive, a Christmas toy drive, and a Halloween favor-making project are included on the agenda for the fall semester. Twice a month club meetings will be devoted to guest speakers.

All those wishing to join the (See Citizenship Club, page 2)

State Square Set To Hold 1st Session

The State Square Set, under the advisorships of Miss Dale Cohen and Mr. Herb Califano, will hold its first session Oct. 4 in Memorial Gymnasium. Meetings will be held on the first and third Wednesday of each month between the hours of 8:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. There will be a variety of folk, round, and square dancing offered.

Fall Insurance Is Unavailable

"It is no longer possible to purchase insurance for the fall semester," announced Dr. Mary V. Holman, dean of students. Insurance for the second semester may be made available at a later date. Students are advised to watch for further notice concerning this information.

Who's Who Nominations Now Being Accepted

Nominations for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" are being accepted in the snack bar ballot box between now and October 16. Membership requirements specify that students must be juniors or seniors in the upper half of their classes academically. In addition, nominees must have been on campus for 2 years, and have participated in student activities and exhibited good relations with faculty and students. Any student possessing the above qualifications may nominate himself or be nominated by a friend. Nominees will be considered by the SGA executive committee, class presidents, and present Who's Who members.

Who's Who, founded in 1934, numbers its present membership over 10,000 students in 700 colleges.

Are We Growing?

It was a great honor indeed to have present at our Fall Convocation this week New Jersey Governor Robert B. Meyner. The governor made several impressive remarks in reference to the progress made by institutes of higher education in New Jersey during the past decade. Paterson State, as well as her sister colleges, has benefited both materially and numerically (in terms of total enrollment) during this period. We do not seek to belittle the importance of these facts, however, we ask — is progress in education measured only by building and numbers? Does not the real measure of education lie in the quantity and quality of learning which takes place not only in the classroom but within the college community?

Does not some form of learning take place through this very tool — the campus newspaper? Yet, too often, when we are deliberately seeking to provoke and stimulate the student body, our words go unquestioned. Don't we have people that want to more than just know — are there none who want to know why? The BEACON is, among other things, a go-between for student-to-faculty and student-to-administration communication. There are several areas in which we must learn if real learning and intellectual growth is to be accomplished. How long will you make us wait before YOU will ask these questions? We thought that the wheels had been set in motion at the first SGA meeting of the semester when one student questioned the reason for the 100 percent increase in parking tolls. He received an answer but is he the only student bothered by this "why." We hope not. Therefore, we will answer, or secure answers from knowledgable sources to any and all valid questions submitted. Let's have some!

"Summer of Happiness" Draws Capacity Crowd

Though the Swedish film "One Summer of Happiness" received some poor advance publicity, the capacity audience — some of whom came out of curiosity — went away with a good deal more than perhaps they had hoped to gain from this picture. We believe it was a happy choice for a first presentation.

Through a most beautiful love tale set in the farmlands of Sweden, the film presented its theme — that the emotional experiences associated with religious worship can be found outside the church more readily than within. Certainly, the film suggests that this is so in Sweden. The great commandment is to love. The film questions the ability and the right of any religious orthodoxy to confine or to pass judgment upon the pure expression of that love.

The characters and the story are believable. The melancholy Kersten is consistent throughout, and is the essence of sensuousness. One of the most poignant moments in the film takes place in a field of flowers, where Kersten and Goran sit musing. She looks at the little blossom which she has recently picked, and says sadly, "Poor little flower! Why did I pick you? Now you will never bloom again." Goran reminds her that there will be thousands more to replace it next summer, but she is upset by the fact that this will be the only summer her flower will ever see.

This incident along with many others foreshadows the tragic ending. Kersten, like her little flower, will see only one summer of happiness. Goran, too, dies a little inside as the film makes its shattering impact.

The magnificent photography captures every mood, every shading of sense. As Kersten's life ends, the wheel of the overturned bike slows and stops; as Goran's ends, the turnstile through which he has run in his grief also stops. There is a wonderful unity and clarity of purpose to this film. It is a deeply sensuous production, leaving its viewers speechless.

After this film, the English Club presents "Diary of a Country Priest," a French movie, on October 16, 7:30 p.m., W-101, Science Wing. (BEACON REVIEW)

Sound-Off

by Mike Fitzpatrick

A Slippin' an a Slidin'

One of the most immediate needs on the campus is a stairway and paved path to bridge the parking lot entrance of the "wing" to the road connecting the two parking lots. Presently, a treacherous embankment must be descended which, for days after a rain, simulates an obstacle course. Any number of people have already taken spills on the incline and, while there's enough mud at the bottom to cushion any falls, the victims are hardly in shape to proceed to class. Even if your skiing prowess is enough to prevent a spill, your shoes are covered with mud after the sojourn.

There is, of course, another way to get where these people are going, but it's very long and quite indirect. It is not, I feel, SGA's job to finance this project. It is, however, the executive council's job, in attending to the welfare of the student body, to see that the project is progressed through the most expedient channels.

In speaking of paths, the black-top path to the cafe is not quite wide enough. In fact, around lunch time it gets to look, very much like the old roller-derby. A pack of racers enters the jam and one-by-one competitors are bounced off the path.

Those who wish to be discreet voluntarily slip off into a sea of mud (the depth of which depends on how long ago it rained) and wait politely until there's a space. If the space does not appear shortly . . . they disappear; and a few bubbles mark the spot in which they patiently waited.

Some senior girls suggested that a convenience on campus would be a bridge extending across the cleft between the parking lots behind Hunziker Hall. Considering the depth of the cleft and the engineering of such a bridge, I see this project as a distant gaze in Paterson State's crystal.

Hey — Look Me Over

by Lynn and Judy

As we began to compose our introductory column, all thoughts of "wool" drifted out the window as the hot, sticky, late-summer breeze drifted in. It was here that we stopped, destroyed our previous writings, and began to discuss the latest in the transitional wear.

Shirtwaist dresses are excellent in-betweeners this season and as we glance around, we see that many people have already gotten the message. The advantage of a dress of this type is that it is simple and easy to wear, so why not keep it that way? Girls! Hoop-skirts are for "Freedom Land!" We realize that our mascot is the "Pioneer", but fashion has advanced since the covered wagon days. Seriously, crinolines and hoops are fine for party dresses or costumes, but the Coronation Ball isn't until February, so why rush things?

While we're on the subjects of transitionals, what can be more appropriate for "Indian Summer" than "Indian madras". This pattern of material is more popular than ever this fall, for the male as well as the female set. Madras can be found in everything from ivy-league shirts to hand-bags, and may now be purchased in prices to fit the college student's budget.

Sneakers are a fashion first on almost every campus, and today we find them in colors and fabrics to match every outfit. Although they are comfortable and sometimes give that "smaller," not taller than he is" feeling, why not occasionally try a pair of heels. You'll enjoy that professional feeling.

We'll be seeing you.

Letter to the Editor

In reply to "Sound-Off,"
Sept. 22, 1961

Having observed Mike's penitent attitude over coffee at Kathy and Dan's, members of the English Club, with admirable restraint, are content to reply to his ill-considered comments with these few points:

Point one: The English Club, though happy to acknowledge the aid and support it gives to and receives from the English Department, is not a financial "subsidiary of the English Department." Our organization is a chartered club under the auspices of the S.G.A.

Point two: Mike refers condescendingly to "a couple of flicks" the English Club offered last year. He neglects to name more than one; others shown last year included Death of a Salesman, Hamlet, Cyrano de Bergerac, Jane Eyre, and Henry V. His capsule criticism of Dickens' Great Expectations is not worth comment.

Point three: Exhibiting similar selectivity, Mike refers to only four of the nine films the English Club is offering this year. One of them, O'Neill's play "The Long Voyage Home" he calls a novel and objects to because of its age! Another example of considered, responsible criticism? The other three films he objects to on moral grounds, and he infers that the English Club is trying to insure good attendance by appealing to juvenile pornography. His subtitle evoking strumpets is even more obvious. We would defend his right to voice his own opinion, but we must resent his attributing motives to us which we do not share. And he could have men-

"AXIOMS TO GRIND"

Ayn Rand. ANTHEM. New York: Signet Books, 1961. 123 pp. $5.50

Anthem is, as its title implies, a hymn to Man, the individual. It is not, as its book jacket blurb declares, a novel, but an allegorized biography of its hero and narrator, whose only identity is Equality 7-2521, the "name" given to him by his "brothers," i.e., all mankind, who are the State.

Conditioned from birth by such a hyper-civilization to worship at the shrine of the collective, Equality tells the story of his life (in first person plural, all cases) by means of twelve episodic entries secretly recorded in a diary. Each entry reveals the preceding events which lead, step by step, to the recognition scene inevitably climaxing the book.

By natural bent a scholar, but by decree of the Council of Vocations a street sweeper, Equality's predisposition to know leads him to reject the worship of "We" and to adopt a mask of lip service behind which he carries on his search for knowledge and his own identity.

In rapid succession, Equality discovers his love, Liberty (once more tied to the soil, but symbolic of female fertility and future regeneration), rediscovers electricity (abandoned and forgotten, but symbolic of nature's untamed forces at the disposal of man), and flees civilization (condemned for possession of such a force and the ability to control it, of superior knowledge and his presumption in displaying it).

That Equality should be sought by Liberty in the forbidden, uncharted Forest, ostensibly an inversion of the usual order of pursuit, is fraught with meaning, the significance of which is realized in the recognition scene. Alone together, Liberty and Equality rediscovers the "unspeakable word" lost to the vocabulary of men, the very mention of which remains punishable by death. That word, and those which necessarily follow, comprises Anthem's entire message and Miss Rand's entire philosophy.

"I am. I think. I will . . . but only three are holy: 'I will it!'" Firmly based on Aristotelian principles, as Rand fans well know, these words are more than a sentence; They are an axiom, and from the

Sports Corner

with FRANK McCARTHY

I'm taking the liberty to use the "Sports Corner" this week as a soapbox, hoping to ring a bell with sports-minded sales attending PSC.

Because of outside jobs and family responsibilities, many athletes find it impossible to participate in the varsity or junior-varsity programs at the College. Still others just aren't equipped with the necessary facilities to compete on the varsity level. For this reason, intra-mural activities were born. A program of this sort, provides the experience and the chance to participate in a sport of the individual's choice. The choice will be expanded this year to include football, and intra-mural cross-country, to supplement basketball, softball and foul shooting contests, which have held their own in previous years.

This may look fine on paper, but without the support of the student body, a program of this nature would "fold" when put into practice. "The expansion of such a program is dependent on the interest shown by the students and the response received by the prospective participants", offered Coach Gabe Vitalone in a recent interview. "If the initial response is encouraging, the intra-mural program will survive and flourish in future years", he added.

However, we are faced with one drawback in scheduling the contests. Because the school day ends at 5:30 p.m. for some students, a time has to be set-up, which will coincide with everyone's free periods. As you know, this could only be the activity periods on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 1:30 p.m. This limits us to two hours a week. Nevertheless, there is every reason to think this year's intra-mural program will be even more successful than those in previous years.

Further information on team rosters and the deadline for entries can be obtained from the bulletin board in the gym or from Mr. Vitalone.

Singelakis Places Fourth In Fencing Competition

Paulette Singelakis of Paterson State placed fourth in the week-long Women's National Open Fencing Competition held in July at the Statler Hotel in Los Angeles, California. Miss Singelakis attended the event with Paula Baron, a former teammate, who was a quarter finalist. Miss Baron remained in California.

The finalists in order were as follows: Janice Romary from Los Angeles, Toni Angel from San Francisco, Harriet King of New York, Paulette Singelakis, Maxine Mitchell from Los Angeles, and Denise O'Connor from New Jersey. It should be noted that Miss Romary, fencer on five U. S. Olympic teams, Harriet King and Miss Mitchell, fencer on four Olympic teams, all fenced in the past Olympics in Rome.

Last year the women's fencing team won the Intercollegiate Fencing Championship at Hunter College in Manhattan. The top fencer on that team and the 1960-61 Women's Intercollegiate Fencing Champion was Miss Singelakis. This achievement was especially notable for the defeat of the almost legendary Madeline Miyamoto of Fairleigh Dickinson University in Teaneck.

Miss Singelakis, a junior, was elected this year's team captain.

WRA Announces Fall Activities

The Women's Recreation Association has announced that golf, bowling, badminton, tennis, and modern dancing are among those activities planned for the Fall semester. Volleyball, basketball, softball, and archery are also included in the itinerary.

WRA holds membership in the New Jersey Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Women along with the WRA chapters from nine other colleges in the state. PSC's chapter has been named president college of this Federation for the year.

WRA meets Tuesday's from 4:30-6:30 p.m. in the gym. All women students are automatic WRA members, but participation in the club's activities charts them as active. Playdays, workshops, and clinics with other colleges are open for participation by active members.

Girls interested in the following activities should contact the faculty advisor: badminton, Miss Fonken; volleyball, Miss Cheesman; bowling, Miss Cohen (Wednesday's); modern dance, Thursday's).

JV Cheerleaders Schedule Tryouts

Junior Varsity Cheerleading tryouts will be held on three consecutive Mondays beginning October 2 at 7:00 p.m. in the Memorial gymnasium. All girls attending Paterson State are eligible.

On each night, a practice followed by an elimination will be held. At the close of the elimination period, seven girls will have been selected for the squad.

Judges will consist the following varsity squad members: Fran Dinino, captain; Ann Lieberknecht, co-captain; Joyce Quackenbush, Lynn D'Antonio, Elvira Brown, Rosalind Tyson, Lucille Alcuri, Judy Bowne, Carol Kaiser and Diane Vecchione, as well as the co-captains of the JV squad, Patt Dunn and Judy Lewellen.

Gov. Meyner, Dr. Shea, Mrs. Katzenbach, and Comm. Raubinger participated in the academic procession, along with members of the PSC administration and faculty.

Prior to the ceremony, a fillet mignon luncheon was served in the college cafeteria under the direction of the State Board of Education. Dr. Joseph B. Clayton, Department Commission of Education was master of ceremonies. The invocation was presented by Charles S. Whilden, Ocean County superintendent of schools, and the welcoming address by Mrs. Katzenbach. One hundred sixty dignitaries attended the luncheon as guests of the board. Dr. Raubinger presented Gov. Meyner with an antique gold mirror.

Acting as waitresses at the luncheon were Judith Openhym, Evelyn Justesen, Grace Zieger, Rita Williams, Dorothea Malcolm, Grace Bradley, Antionette Marangella, Theresa Finelli and Juliana Harbreaves. Also, Alice Dietz, Arlene Kursch, Doris Jacobus, Barbara Smith, Judith Palko, Marjorie Piper, Helen Waywil, Savena Knauer, Ruth Nehring, Nancy Wagner, and Karen Nanfeldt.

Members of the hospitality club acted as hostesses in the cafeteria. They were Kathy Keller, Judy Weber, Anne Marie De Olden, Maria Giordano, Sheila Turner, Judy Williams, Cinda Konopko, Sara Shalkin, Jane Meyer, Anita Marlano, Helen Calin, Lorraine Niarelli, Dolores Paheen, and Sherry Peacock.

The following students served as ushers and usherettes for the convocation: Lucille Nardella, Kate Moran, Camille Hannan, Irene Walmsley, Judy Procopio, Gerry Genese, John Cortese, Bob McGuire, and Ken Dow.

GE, KP Junior Practicum Assignments Released

Dr. Peter L. Henderson, director of student teaching placement, has released data concerning the Junior general elementary and kindergarten-primary majors scheduled for fall practicum October 16 - November 3. Upon completion of the list, full information will be posted on the junior-senior bulletin board. Dr. Henderson emphasized that no changes will be affected in those placements already arranged.

An orientation meeting will be held prior to the start of Practicum. Information will be contained in a further issue of the BEACON.
