Beacon Staff Elects Editor

Emma Trifiletti was named editor-in-chief of the Paterson State BEACON for the 1962-63 academic year in an election on May 3 in the BEACON office. A sophomore GE major, Emma was a reporter for the newspaper in her freshman year at the college, and has been assistant news editor for the last two semesters. Prior to her experiences on the BEACON, she was editor of her high school newspaper, the I. C. Hi Echo, for two years.

Besides writing for the BEACON, Emma coaches two high school girls basketball teams and instructs in Christine Doctrine in her parish.

Marianne Schinn, a GE major from Maywood, was appointed business manager for the upcoming semesters, and Herman Van Teyens, a GE major from Ringwood, will continue on as staff photographer. Other positions will be announced at a later date.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF Emma Trifiletti makes plans for the 1962-63 BEACON after being elected to the position Thursday, May 3.

Carnival Awards Given For Variety, Skill, Food

The S&P variety show, "Hi Spot U. S. A.", the frosh refreshment stand, and DOE's famous pool were awarded trophies at the annual awards assembly last Tuesday in the Memorial Gymnasium, for adding to the success of the '62 Carnival. The awards were given for the accumulation of the most tickets in the variety, skill and food divisions.

The sophomore basketball throw, the "Ship-A-Boy" skit by the Frank Merriwell Girls, and the Hawaiian Luau by the Hospitality Club took first prize in creativity for their respective classification.

S&P, an interested group on campus, presented a variety show with an all male cast. Dominick Baccolla, master of ceremonies, added to the comic appeal of the show, as did Ross Alfeiri who imitated JFK, and George Smith who read Part II, a beat poem satirizing specific events at Paterson State during the last two semesters. The main attraction of the show featured the Skullski ballerinas, a group of male students clad in pink skirts and colorful tights.

Hamburgers, french fries, soft drinks and pizza pie were served at the frosh refreshment stand. Bill Bruterri, Andy Zipfel, Vic

MEMBERS OF THE PIONEER PLAYERS (standing l. to r.) Jim Robinson, Grace Zieger, Ellen Schaffner, (lying down) Joan Polastri, and (sitting) Dave Homcy, rehearse a scene from their present production of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit". Their second performance will begin at 8:00 this evening. Their final performance will be given tomorrow night.

Students Receive Annual Awards

Twenty-two campus clubs and organizations presented active students with various certificates, trophies and pins at the Annual Awards Assembly held in the Memorial Gymnasium at 1:30 p.m. last Tuesday.

Presenting awards at this time were the A Cappella Choir, BEACON, WRA, Pioneer, Kappa Delta Pi, Hospitality Club, Swords Club, Varsity baseball team, Swords Club, Intramurals, Women's Choral Ensemble, Varsity soccer, and the Cheerleaders (varsity), and Cheerleaders (Junior varsity). Other clubs presenting awards were the Association of Childhood Education, Varsity Cross Country, Student Education Association, Men's Fencing, Varsity Bowling, and the Alumni Award.

Over two hundred students were honored at this program. Special awards were presented to Judy Palko who was elected to the Alpha Chapter Delta Kappa Gamma International Honor Society of Women Educators. Henry Edelhauser was selected as outstanding senior in the 1962 graduating class, and Henri Baron received a special Kappa Delta Pi award.

Also at this time, Carnival awards were presented to those groups who merited trophies for acquiring the most tickets and for those organizations displaying outstanding creativity. S&P's show, "Hi Spot U. S. A.", sold the most tickets in the show division, as did DOE for skill booths, and the freshmen food concession. Frank Merriwell's Girls took first place in creativity among the shows, the sophomore basketball throw came in first among the skill booths, and the Hawaiian Luau sponsored by the Hospitality Club was first among the food concessions.

Each organization presented its awards to deserving students in the club, and the cheerleaders performed during the assembly.

"Blithe Spirit" Performed Tonight

The Pioneer Players will present the second performance of Noel Coward's improbable farce, Blithe Spirit at 8:00 this evening. A final performance is scheduled for tomorrow night in the Little Theatre.

Dr. Jay Ludwig of the Paterson State Speech Department is directing this second and final production of the semester for the PSC dramatic group. This also marks the second production of a Noel Coward play on the Paterson campus. Three years ago Hay Fever was presented by the Pioneer Players.

Blithe Spirit is a domestic comedy of manners that enlivens the theatre with the reasoned opinion that ghosts of first wives are an embarrassing superfluity in a household.

Members of the cast of "Blithe Spirit" are Ellen Schaffner of Bergenfield as Edith; Judy Panucci of Fair Lawn as Ruth; Dave Homcy of Paterson as Charles; James Robinson of East Orange as Dr. Bradman; Marianne Petrillo of Lyndhurst as Mrs. Bradman; Grace Zieger of Denville as Madame Arcati; and Joan Polastri of East Paterson as Elvira. JoAnn Dill of East Paterson is assistant to the director.

Mrs. Jane Barry is in charge of costumes for the play; Mr. Robert C. Leppert is director of sets. Mrs. Barry and Mr. Leppert are members of the Speech Department.

This is the first time that more than one production has been presented during a semester at Paterson State.

Faculty Plans Buffalo Roast

All faculty, staff, their families and friends are invited to attend the second annual Buffalo Steak Dinner which will be held Monday, May 21, at the College picnic area. In case of rain, the alternate date is set for Wednesday, May 23, at the same time.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Outdoor Education Committee and Camping Day School Class. The committee is comprised of Miss Anita Este, Dr. Paul Vouras, Mr. Frank Schaefer, and students Bob Albano and Gerry Genese.

Those who plan to attend at a cost of $1.50 per person, are asked to make reservations with Miss Este as soon as possible, extension 257.

Final Exams Begin May 28

The final examination schedule for the spring semester, 1962, was released by the administration, Monday, May 7. According to the schedule, all classes will continue to meet until Friday, May 25 with one exception. Senior examinations will begin on Friday, May 25 and all other examinations will begin on Monday, May 28. The exam schedule will run through until Wednesday, June 6, with senior examinations ending on Friday, June 1.

Students are requested to check with professors for the date, time and place of all examinations. The bulletin board in Hunziker Hall will display a complete listing of examinations. The semester officially closes with Shaffer Play Day on Friday, June 8.

College Plans Guest Day

Guest Day at Paterson State College will take place on May 20 at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Virginia Randall, director of public relations, announced that the program for the plays from each department. In-day will consist of various discombing students, their parents and guests are invited to attend.

Recordings of English literature at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. in room H202 will be the main event of the English department's program under Dr. Donald Duclos' direction. Also at this time the Foreign language department will present tapes and records of the different languages in room H203. Mr. William Rubio will supervise the program.

In the lecture hall from 2-2:30 p.m., Dr. Paul Vouras, of the social studies department, will speak on the Middle East. Voice Recording in room L-3 at this same time will be under the leadership of Mrs. Wathina Hill. The Health and Physical Education department will display women's fencing in the Memorial Gymnasium under the direction of Mr. Raymond Miller.

The music department consisting of the A Cappella Choir, Chansettes, Women's Choral Ensemble, and Wind Ensembles, will perform from 2-3 p.m. in the Little Theatre. Dr. Angelo Annacone, of the math department, will direct Field Math problems from 2:30 p.m. on campus. Botany and Biology exhibits in room 237 will be held from 2-4 p.m. under supervision of Dr. Leona S. Emerich.

Sports Dept. Presents Awards At First Banquet

The first annual Sports Banquet was held on May 2, in the Food Service Building for Paterson State students who qualified for sports awards. The awards were presented at the Awards Assembly for bowling, cross country, soccer, men's fencing, basketball, baseball, women's fencing, and cheerleading. The following students received awards for one, two, three, or four years participation.

Bowling: Robert De Blasi, Ronald Johnson, John Demeter, Fred Koeniz, William Mandara, Dave Alexander, and Frank Krautheim.
Cross Country: Henry Edelhauser, Robert Fleming, Roy Marshall, Brian McColgan, Ron Simmons, and Preston Partola.

Carnivals Come

and go but policies remain static, or so it seems at Paterson State. Each year a few hundred interested students band themselves together in small groups, devote time and effort under the most trying circumstances for the honor and glory of one indistinct fund or another. They battle one another for desirable locations for their productions, equipment, and finally for the patronage of carnival guests. In addition to these problems, interested groups often must cross administrative obstacles, as was the case during the past carnival. One group, dependent upon a piano for their production, learned a few days before that "costs" would prohibit their obtaining it. Another group learned late Thursday afternoon that the room in which they had been working to prepare their show was occupied by some sort of PTA meeting and that they were to be denied access to their properties until 10:00 p.m. that evening.

Despite Everything,

"American Travelogue" did take place and did make a gross profit of nearly $2,600. Carnival awards, however, were another story. An anonymous sign, which appeared on the snack bar bulletin board on Wednesday morning, bore mute testimony to some prevailing feelings. Editorial license does not permit us to become carnival judges but we will anyway, and voice complete agreement with the sentiments pictured above. We would also suggest that in future carnivals, criteria for awarding of prizes be clearly outlined and published well in advance and that judgment be made by students only since carnival is a student project. It might be well for SGA to lend a hand if need be. Let's see some changes made.

Senior Banquet Slated June 4

All responses to the Senior-Faculty Dinner must be submitted to Haledon Hall today, May 11. This event cannot be organized until responses are returned. A meeting of 40 hosts and hostesses will then be planned to assist with the dinner. The meeting of these hosts and hostesses is scheduled for May 17 at 1:30 p.m. in Room 202 in Huniker Hall. At this meeting the procedures for the evening of June 4 will be finalized. As tables seat 8, 10, or 12 individuals, some previous planning is necessary for the 400 who expect to attend the dinner. The President of the senior class, Hank Edelhauser, will preside as host at the head table and set the theme for the evening which centers around Thomas Hood's poem, "I Remember, I Remember." The main speaker of the evening is Miss Helen B. Hill, an alumna of Paterson State College and present principal of the Teaneck High School. Miss Hill will remember Paterson State and also will have a message for future teachers. At the individual tables scattered throughout the dining room, hosts and hostesses will be recognized by their boutonniers or corsages. They will be sharing their food and conversation with two faculty members as well as classmates. The affair offers innovations which later can be evaluated.

Senior Student Dies In Hospital

Miss Barbara Ann McLaughlin, senior GE major at Paterson State, died on May 6 at Hasbrouck Heights Hospital. Cause of death was a kidney infection. Miss McLaughlin, 21, resided at 276 Boulevard South, Saddle Brook.

According to Dean Mary Holman, Barbara was a "fine person and a good student. She had a great desire to teach, and especially to help students with learning difficulties."

Barbara was a 1958 graduate of Lodi High School. Although Barbara had a history of illnesses she maintained a work scholarship with Mr. Nicholas D'Ambrosio, assistant professor of science. Barbara was engaged to be married this coming July.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin; and a sister, Mrs. Joan Schneider of Saddle Brook. The funeral was held Wednesday, May 9, at 9:30 A.M. from the Vander Plaat Memorial Home in Paramus. Interment is at St. Anthony Cemetery, Nanuet, N. Y.

Student Displays Work At Jewelry Exhibition

Howard Alboum of Hillside, a Junior in the Art department of Paterson State College, is among the 61 craftsmen from more than 20 states represented in the First Annual Jewelry Makers Show at the Feinberg Gallery, State University College, Plattsburg, New York. Having been accepted in this national competitive exhibition ranks Mr. Alboum among the leading craft jewelers in the country.

Mr. Harold J. Brennan, Dean, College of Fine and Applied Arts, Rochester Institute of Technology and Juror of the show said, "The range of work shown in the current exhibition of jewelry is high and should provide an interesting and informative insight into the work of our artist-craftsmen who are concerned with the production of jewelry." Mr. James Warwick of the Art Faculty at Paterson State College is the instructor.

Guests . . .

Under the direction of Miss Ruth Mackenzie, the Modern Dance group will perform from 2:45-3:15 p.m. in the gym. At 3 p.m. and at 3:30 p.m. demonstrations in reading improvement for the child will be supervised by Dr. Mark Karp in room H104. Mr. Ken Wolf, of the Men's Physical Education department, will be in charge of apparatus from 3:30-4 p.m. in the gym.

Various other displays will appear around the campus. Works of art by faculty members will be on display in the gallery lounge. Art majors' work will be displayed throughout the entire gallery, and art students' work will be displayed in art classes rooms H102, 104-107, and 108-111. The art education seniors' work will be displayed in the student lounge of the Food Service Building. Students' work in mathematics will be displayed in rooms 110 and 111. Other exhibits are of the college paper, the Beacon, in the newspaper office of the College Center, works of the student personnel and graduate division, in the cafeteria, and the Education department in the display cases in Hunziker Hall.

Acting classes, under the guidance of Mr. Anthony Maltese, will present scenes on the lawn in front of the college library.

Dr. Grace Scully Studies Problems Of PSC Fresh Failures

The problem of freshman failures and dropouts is one that is currently affecting all colleges and universities throughout the country. Among those members of the Paterson State faculty that have long been particularly disturbed by this situation is Dr. Grace Scully, assistant director of student personnel. This year Dr. Scully succeeded in implementing a program by which this problem could be more fully investigated and evaluated. "Each school year," explained Dr. Scully, "Paterson State, as well as every college and university admits a small percentage of freshman having high school averages and abilities judged to be somewhat below the level required for success in that particular institution." While these pupils enter college with advantages against them, it remains the belief of many educators that there is a great chance for their success, provided the necessary prerequisites of incentive and motivation are present. Dr. Scully has backed up these ideas with figures, repeatedly proving that certain doomed students do succeed and often successfully complete four years of college.

Early in September, 1961, Dr. Scully invited 83 freshmen, who were statistically slated to have difficulties in adjusting to college work, to attend a series of specially prepared lectures concerned with How, When, and Why to Study. These sessions conducted by Dr. Scully, and offered early in the fall semester were open to all interested members of the freshman class. Approximately 150 freshmen attended one or more of the three lectures.

During these discussions, Dr. Scully attempted to illustrate the importance of adequate study habits on the college level and sought to assist pupils in evaluating the amount of study necessary for the success of each course. Information on how to plan and schedule time accordingly was offered. This was the first time that group aid of this type was extended to freshmen, and Dr. Scully feels that the results of this experiment are "encouraging."

Sixty freshmen out of the 83 originally labeled as likely to have difficulty in retaining passing averages completed their first college semester with a grade point average above 1.6, or the requirement for attaining sophomore status. Three freshmen from the above group completed their first semester with the unexpected average of above 3.0, and the greatest percentage of this group achieved the satisfactory average of 2.0 or better.

Twenty three students of this selected group, or 27% were below the 1.6 requirement at the finish of the first semester. Individual and group conferences conducted by Dr. Scully revealed that there was unanimous agreement among the freshmen that the suggestions originally offered were not heeded. Pupils in this category revealed that the hours devoted to study were inadequate, and many of them further indicated they felt their reading ability below par for college. Study also concluded, according to evaluation by Dr. Scully, that a minority of this group will not retain college status as they cannot accept the cause for their failure as lying within themselves, and tend to project blame in a manner that reveals immaturity.

Conant Committee Makes 2nd Visit

Dr. James B. Conant, holder of forty-nine honorary degrees from universities and colleges all over the world, and Dr. Robert F. Carbone, President of the University of Chicago, visited Paterson State College in connection with the Conant committee study on the education of the American teacher, May 2. This is the committee's second visit to the Paterson campus — the first one was in January, at which Dr. Conant could not be present. The committee is attempting to find out whether the specialization which is claimed in the area of kindergarten-primary, general education, and junior high was genuinely valid; or whether, as in so many instances, educators were just calling the same old curriculum by various names in order to claim a speciality. Faculty members and students were called in to give information and answer questions asked by the committee. The committee visited the reading clinic and a class in remedial reading methods under Dr. Mark Karp. This was followed by a meeting of special groups with faculty members from the education and science departments. The education group was represented by Miss Alice Meeker, Dr. Kenneth Job, Dr. Sanford Clarke, Miss Maureen Denny, and Mr. Roy Austin. The science group's five members were Dr. C. Kent Warner, Dr. Edward Ward, Mr. Don Edwards, Dr. Edwin Arthur, and Mr. Felix Yertzley. "Whether the Conant committee was as convinced of the validity of our point of view as our own people are, we do not know, since they are just collecting their materials at this point," said Mrs. Virginia R. Randall of Informational Service at Paterson State. She went on to say, "Our people felt honored and pleased to be visited, and glad to be able to present what they are convinced in as a good plan of preparation for New Jersey teachers, for they feel that we do a better job of it here than in some of the highly publicised colleges."

Navy Info Team Here May 14, 15

A Naval Officers (Aviation and Ships) Information Team will visit Paterson State College on Monday and Tuesday, May 14 and 15 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the octagonal room, College Center.

As on prior visits the officers will be prepared to counsel interested students concerning their Selective Service or any Naval Officer Programs in which they may be interested.

English Club Elects Officers; Schedules Year's Final Film

The English Club elected officers for the 1962-63 academic year on May 3. Gail Cosgrove and Janet Gruenz were selected president and vice-president, respectively. Treasurer for the club Dianne Huber, historian Geri Colpaert, and secretary Yvonne Twomey were also elected at the meeting.

"Tight Little Island," a British comedy, is scheduled for next Tuesday, May 15, at 7:30 p.m. in W-101. The hilarious comedy satirizes the agitated activities of the inhabitants of a little Scottish island when a shortage of scotch whiskey develops. This will be the final movie of the semester presented by the English Club. All students and faculty are welcome.

tion group were required to register for PSC's newly installed Developmental Reading course, in the belief that improvement of reading habits would prove beneficial. Others are being individually tutored by Dr. Scully in ways to improve personal study inadequacies.

Thirty six of the 44 freshmen who chose to participate in all of these Study Lectures completed the first semester with acceptable averages, and 19 students of this group achieved 2.5 or above.

The conclusion of the positive results of this study were indicated by the fact that from 560 freshmen admitted in September, 1960, 133 freshmen completed their first semester with failing averages. Out of the same number of freshmen admitted the following year, (the group among who this program was initiated), only 77 freshmen, or a drop of almost 50 percent, failed. Dr. Scully maintains that the difference, that of almost sixty students, is that the group who received assistance, and, although expected to fail, were successful.

Garrabrant, Pam Markopolis, and Kate Moran. Patt Dunn directed the show.

George Berriso, carnival chairman, estimated a gross profit of $2,600 for the "American Travelogue". Returns for the two day event are still being considered by the committee. A large increase in profit is expected over the '61 affair.

Choir Visits Area Hi Schools Today

The A Capella Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Stine, left early this morning on its annual field trip to three area high schools. This year the choir will present full length programs at Rutherford, East Rutherford and Lyndhurst high schools. Choir members will lunch at Machio's Restaurant in Lyndhurst at which time they will also elect next year's officers. The program of music will be approximately the same as the Spring Concert.

Archery Club Open To Men And Women

The Archery Club met for the first time on Thursday, May 3, and will meet each Thursday at 1:30 p.m., weather permitting. The club is open to men and women interested in participating in archery both on campus and in off-campus competition. Carol Spiotto, the chairman, will work along with the advisor, Miss Mary Jane Cheesman, and the WRA Executive Board to plan a program for the club.

Annual Steak Roast Tomorrow Evening

Tomorrow in Wrightman Field the Natural History Club will hold its annual Steak Roast at 6:00 p.m. Faculty, staff members and friends have been invited to the cook out. Steak, lobster and clams will be on the menu. They will be specially prepared and cooked in the fashion that the old buffalo roasts were done.

Sports Corner

by Frank McCarthy

Spectators attending the Paterson State baseball games can only praise the Pioneer's offensive efforts. Thus for this spring, Tony Coletta and Mark Evangelista alone, have belted nine home runs between them, with Mike George and Lou Carcich contributing one apiece. But unfortunately, there are two sides to the game and this is where the Pioneers are hurting.

In the Montclair State game alone, which the Pioneers won by a 9-7 score, seven errors were committed, four in one inning. Apparently the defensive alignment, under constant juggling, has not reached a happy medium. This raises the question — Is it necessary to sacrifice a little power, to perhaps insure a better and more effective defense?

On another subject, the All-Sports banquet, Mr. Miller the womens' fencing coach, addressed Paulette Singelakis as the best athlete, male or female, produced at Paterson State. I certainly agree. When an outstanding performer, as Paulette, reaches National prominence, all of us can feel justly proud of her relationship with Paterson State. Her awards are too numerous to mention, while our congratulations in appreciation of her accomplishments, could never be enough.

Two other Paterson State athletes who have distinguished themselves in their respective fields, are Chuck Roth in mens' fencing and Brian McColgan in cross-country. We will have more to say of these three in the up-coming issues of the BEACON.

TONY COLETTA, sophomore centerfielder, demonstrates the batting stance which helped him deliver five home runs this spring in his first year of varsity baseball.

DeLorenzo, Carcich Lead Baseball Team To Win

The Paterson State baseball team, behind the courageous pitching effort of Dennis DeLorenzo, outlasted Montclair State last Monday for a 9-7 conference win. The big blow for the Pioneers came in the fourth inning, when left fielder Lou Carcich hit a 375 foot home run with a man aboard, into the right-center field woods. Mark Evangelista delivered a run producing triple in the eighth, to round out the big hits in the Pioneer win.

Pitcher Dennis DeLorenzo went the distance for his second conference win and it wasn't easy. The Paterson State defense, in the midst of constant juggling, committed seven costly errors behind the big right hander, while contributing eight hits. Four of these errors were committed in the fourth inning, which saw Montclair State march home four runs while touching DeLorenzo for one lone hit.

Montclair opened the scoring in the first inning when Pete Altieri led off with a double, the next batter walked, and after a double steal, both runners scored on a single to right field. A seesaw battle followed until the fourth inning, when with Paterson leading 3-2, Lou Carcich unloaded his 2 run homer, to boost the score to 5-2. After Montclair countered in the fourth, Paterson bounced back and iced the game in the eighth, when Mark Evangelista drove a run-producing triple to right field, to put the Pioneers in front 9-7.

WRA Banquet Tickets On Sale

The WRA of Paterson State is holding its annual banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Food Service Building on Thursday, May 17. Tickets will be on sale beginning Monday, May 14 in the snack bar and cafeteria.

A schedule of activities have been released by the WRA for spring activities. Tennis matches will be held on Tuesdays at 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the campus tennis courts. Softball games are scheduled in the gymnasium for Tuesday afternoons between 4:30 and 6:00 p.m. Thursday afternoons offer archery for interested students between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., modern dance at 1:30-2:30 p.m. on the stage in the gym, and golf at 4:30 to 6:00 p.m.

Baseball Nine Win 1, Lose 2

The Paterson State baseball nine, behind the strong pitching of Bill Born, romped to its second conference victory by defeating Newark State, at the losers field last Friday, by an 11-3 score. The other games played last week included an 18-4 loss to Bloomfield College and a 7-6 home-game set back at the hands of conference leading Jersey City State.

The Pioneers showed some of their potential last Friday by defeating Newark State 11-3 behind Bill Born's fine pitching effort. Through the course of the game, Born sat down fourteen opposing batters via the strike-out route.

Bill also contributed to the offensive punch of the club as he rapped out 2 hits, making him the only man on the squad to have hit safely in ten consecutive ball-games. The difference in the score was the result of the continued long ball hitting of centerfielder Tony Caletta, and first baseman Mark Evangelista, each of whom collected a home run with men on base. Jerry Conklin also proved himself capable when he stroked a bases loaded double in the eighth inning to provide the margin of safety, insuring victory.

The 7-6 loss to the Conference leaders, Jersey City, was a hard fought battle down to the last inning. Paterson pitcher Dennis DeLorenzo went 9¼ innings, and was credited with the loss. The game was won by Jersey City, when in the 10th inning, with the score tied 6-6, their first batter walked, stole second, and then was tripled home.

Paterson contributed to the winning ways of Bloomfield College as the Deacons defeated the Pioneers by an 18-3 score at Wightman Field last Saturday. Frank McCarthy, the starting Paterson pitcher, was relieved by Ross Alfieri in the fourth, who in turn was relieved by Dennis DeLorenzo in the eighth. In the fourth inning, Paterson State was plagued by a couple of mishaps in the outfield, which gave way to a Bloomfield rally. Shortstop Rich Garafola was injured in the third inning and taken to the hospital for emergency treatment. It is not known whether or not he will finish the season.
