Lab Readies Applications

Applications for the Spring Leadership Laboratory will be available at 3:30 in the Little Theater on Tuesday, Febru-ary 20, 1966. A Panel Discussion to clarify the aims and goals of the Leadership Lab and to answer any questions students may have will be held. The Panel will consist of: Dr. M. Haipen, Mr. F. Rhodes, Judy

The Four Scarous

As the come student body knows by this time, the perfermance of the Four Seasons, to be held on Saturday, March 2. was sold out within one hour on the first day the tickets were put up for sale. There have been rumors that another performance will be held, but these hearsays are false,

However, as this newspaper goes to press, Dr. Kenworthy, Assistant Director of Student Personnel, is indeed working on the possibility of having another performance. Dr. Kenworthy has been in contact with the appropriate people but has not confirmed a definite program. He has listed three possibilities:

- 1) A second show will be held Saturday afternoon, March 2, and will result in a total of two performances held the same day, both of which will be shorter than the originally scheduled evening performance.
- 2) A second show will be held on Sunday, March 3, and will be of the same length as the Saturday evening
- 3) There will be no second performance and the original March 2 show will continue as scheduled.

As soon as a program is decided upon, the students will be informed by use of flyers. Hopefully, we will know by the beginning of next week. But it must be understood by the student body that there is no committment at this time.

۵ The library has two conference rooms available for student use. One is located on the first floor and the other is on the second. It would be advisable for groups of students who are planning to use the rooms to check first with Mrs. Trainor, the head librarian

BIG WEEKEND

Tonight! Paterson State gets another crack at Montelair State but this time the game will be played at PSC. The Indians took the first game at Montclair. With the Pioneers coming off a victory against Jersey City and MSC off a loss to Trenton State, the teams should hook up another hardfought contest, Game time is 8:00 p.m.

Freshman Class President Bill Daley and his dance committee have spent a lot of time and energy in setting up what could be the best-run mixer ever held at Paterson State .With three bands there will be continuous live music, and there will be plenty of refreshments. Saturday night from 8:00 to 12:00. Don't miss it.

Deer Editor:

Because I am one of the trustees who asked for the help of the faculty and the student body in the search for the next president of Paterson State College I'm grateful to you for your brisk defense of the faculty committee (Beacon, February your oras detense of the recursy commune towards recursly 9). The three committeemen are working long and difficult hours above and beyond the call of duty. I dare to hope that in the end you will be proud of their work and the board's. Nobody has discriminated against women. The committee ing), I chose to point out to you was asked to canvass faculty and student opinion. The question was: What kind of president do you want? The student body wrate its own criteria, which may be independently available to you. The committee summarized faculty criteria. The board accepted the report with thanks It was a rong a want ad. It was confidential. As for as the board is concerned it still is. I can't persuade myself to think it was improper of the board to ask for guidance. Please let's assume we all mean well.

The criteria are high and stern, and the man or woman who meets them will have to be very great indeed. But the point is that if, instead of expressing a preference for a man as president, the student body and the faculty had declared a bizarre longing for a 12-year-old crocodile, even then the faculty committee would have been oblined to report the finding. It wasn't editing opinions. It was com-municating.

Not one solitary application from a woman was before the board at the time discrimination was alleged. Since the story was printed one application has come in. It will be processed as seriously and scrupulously as each of the scores of other candidacies before us. No candidate can meet all the criteria of all the people. If a woman candi-date meets all except that one I'll vote and electioneer for her.

After gazing at nine garbagebaden tables in one small sec-tion of Wayne Hall, I have been "inspired" to write this letter. The crowded conditions of the cafeteres have made it difficult for both students and staff, but this problem has been only intensified by the negligence of certain students returning their trays and disposing of garbage, It is unforlunate that a few students have to spoil the cafeteria for so many others as well as make more work for the cafeteria staff. It is difficult to find a table at all, let alone a chan one. This situation isn't only n reflection on these meansidciste, individuals but a restection of the college itself. It is and to think that some shedents can not even assume the small responsibility of returning a littered tray to a designated 2520

When I got my schedule for this spring semester and found that I had no conflicts could not believe it. I just knew that there had to be something wrone.

There was , but definitely. It is called the two hour lecture class,

The two hour lecture class is a new innovation here at PSC that allows the almighty, almost mythological computer to do its dirty work much easler.

A two hour lab class I can see. One moves around and

But sitting for two hours, taking notes especially if the class starts at 8:30 in the a.m.) and fighting off drowsiness is too much for even the metal - hearted, fuse - brained computer to expect.

Two hours is a hell of a long time to just sit and listen. And the professor has it worse for two hours is, or seems, an even longer time to stand in front of a class and spout out knowledge . . and can you tracking making up a two-hour esson plan?

What Can A Reviewer Say?

By Stove Tonasoca

The silently eloquent personality of internationally famed mime Marcel Marceau pervaded the farthest reaches of Shea Auditorium while simultaneoulsy dominating its empty stage last Wednesday evening. So univer-sal in appeal and so read-ily comprehensible was his performance that long before the nights' closing the audience, in its entirety, had been as irresiztably drawn to self identification with Marceau's mimes as was the invisible tagging kite which soared about its heads white heralding the commencement of the program's repertoire.

As a young man Marcel studied under the French master Etienne Dercroux, later progressing to the formation own celebrated Compágnie de Mime. Pantomine is one of the most ancient and complex forms of theatre art. Its ba-sic and inherent simplicity and economy of movement so vital to its successful communication, belie the intrincities of each of its outwardly simple actions. Therein lies the artistry. Mime has been defined as a language of the heart. Partial validity of this assumption rests upon Marceau's own philosophy, "One cannot exercise an art unless one has a love for it'. This is indeed the case in point with Monsieur Marceau. Minne is, through the efforts of such artists as he. a universal means of communion between all people in the world who "crave love and beauty." Perhaps this takes into account his boundless acceptance throughout the world. "By breaking through the wall of langua-ges" Marceau stated "a mime can become a brother to all the audiences of the world." This art "makes visible the invisible and concrete the abstract" as Marceau unquestionably proved to even the most cynical and hardened skeptics at PSC.

The highlights of the evening. since one must single out and discriminate from all the superb impressions enacted, undoubted ly would include, in the Style Pantomime division; the comic awkwardness of a tight rope walker, the surrealism of Youth, Maturity, Old Age, and Death and the amasing insightedness of the Public Garden, which capped the pre-intermission half of the program. Within the very brief span of a few minutes Mareeau brought nearly a score of people to life the characters people to life the characters one would see in a park. There were gossiping old women, a dog-walker, a pair of lovers, and the ever-present statuo's pres-ence. All were interpreted alone, in rapid succession and with out assist from prop or material

The second portion was devoted to the misadventures of the character BIP, Marceau's ulter ego. who, garbed in white face, striped pullover, battered top hat crowned with a "trembling flower" embodied the realization of life's silent witness continuous attached the tinuously struggling against the bounds of society. This comic, yet painfully realistic creature, blutdors in and out of incessant woo, alternating sorrow and loy, irony and pathos. As BIP feultlessly attempted saicide after balad jilted in an offsir of the heart the audience was moved to smiles. As he stumbled over the rigorous mores of a Society Party the audience laughed. As he portrayed the dual role of David and Goliath, the audience was roused to roars and a standing ovation. I, for one, have yet to be convinced that there were not two men on stage - no one man could accomplish such a feat - could be?

Marceaus silent partner, Pierre Verry, the presenter of cards introducing each mime to the audience, certainly also deserves mention. Dressed in Harlequinesque garb this former apprentice-mate of Marceau was only in a sense upstaged - through that was the drift of intention. Admiration for his control of poise and pose are to be as well commended as were the mobile mayments of face and form by Mar-

Having completed the greater part of his 1967-68 world tour Marceau is presently performing two months worth of Amerienth Stateside town for the fantastically fluent Frenchman. Prior to his PSC stop-over Marcel trouped the African continent, Italy, England, Checkoslovakia, Hungary, end Romania. His it-inerary for the immediate future includes lated stops in Russia and Germany, and then a return to his native Gallic soil.

dr. Molokot Pidisies numanist Survey work

Dr. Virginia R. Mollenkott, Associate Professor of English at PSC, has recently written the book, Adaraan and Stono Chips: A Christian Humanist Approach to Knowledge.

The book is divided into four chapters. Chapter one explors the contemporary meaning of Christian Humanism-its social and academic implications, while chapter two gives a brief historical survey of Christian Humanism, highlighting Saint Augustine, Calvin, and John Milton. Chapter three dis-cusses the relationship between secular literature and the Bible, and contrasts real poetry with versified prose. One of the real poems discussed in this chap-ter is "Missile" by PSC student Ruthe Spinnager. Chapter four discusses moral values in recent literature, stressing us, Faulkner, and T.S. Effot.

Published by World Books, Adament and Stone Chips is now on sale at the book store.

Dr. Mollenkott, who is mor-ried and has a nine-year-old son, has been teaching college English for fifteen years. She has taught in such various schools us Bob Jones University, Temple University, Shelton College, Nyack Missionary College, and new PSC. She carned her Ph.D. at New York University. Dr. Mollenkott's dissertation, Milton and the Apocrypha won the Andiron Award for the best NY doctoral dis-sertation in English for the year 1964. Dr. Mollenkott taught full time all the way through her dectoral program, except for one year when she received a Penfield Fellowship.

Articles written by Dr. Mollenkott have appeared in such journals as Modern Language Quarterly, Seventeenth Century News. N.E.A. Review, Chrait-lanity Today, Gordon Raview. and Sadies in Philology.

Some of the current activities that Dr. Mollenkott is involved in include her position as Chief Bibliographer for the Confer-ence of Christianity and Literature, a national organization of college teachers; an assistant editorship of Seventeenth Century News; and her Presidency of NYU's English Graduate Association, an organization of Ph. D.'s and Ph. D. candidates which features speakers like W. H. Auden, Edward Albee, and Saul Bellow.

Occasionally, Dr. Mailson does guest lecturing. She will be speaking to the faculty of Barn-ard School in New York City on February twenty-first.

join a firm that II give you executive responsibility your first day at work.

Now, that's a pretty funny thing for a civilian firm to say. A boss? Right out of college? The first day?

But the Air Force can make such offers. As an officer in the world's largest technological organization you're a leader, Engineer, Scientist, Administrator. Right where the Space Age breakthroughs are happening.

Or how about the executive responsibility of a test pilot clocking 2,062 mph in a YF-12A jet?

That could be you, too.

But you don't have to be a pilot in the Air Force to move fast. With your college degree you zip into Officer Training School, spin out an officer, speed on your way as an executive, in the forefront of modern science and technology. Right on the ground.

The Air Force moves pretty fast. Think it over. A man's career can sometimes move pretty slow.

Quite a few things have come to our attention lately and we thought that some of them would be of interest to you.

Did you know: That P. S. C.'s Evening Division is unique throughout the state? Al. P.S.C. students must be candidates for a degree and this includes the Evening Division. The other colleges allow unmatriculated students during the evening sessions. Our pol-ley here results in higher standards and also allows night students who have completed 24 credits the opportunity to transfer to the day session.

Thei out-of-same students are not allowed in the day session and must attend the evening session only? Currently there are about seventy out-of-state students enrolled.

That two more counselors have been appointed to the staff and will assist in the work of evaluating candidates for admission to the undergraduate and graduate evening pro-prams.

Mr. James A. Yachnik whose appointment will be effective on February 19, 1968 holds a B.A. degree in Elementary Education and a M.A. degree in Administration and Supervision. Both degrees are from Newark State College. In addition, Mr. Yachnik has an M.A. in Guidance from Teachers College, Columbia University. He has taught in the Newark Public Schools since 1962, Mr. Yachnik will assist Mr. Burt D. Cross working in the graduate admissions area.

LBJ Asks For Student Funds

wasnington (LPS)—President Johnson, in his budget message to Congress this week, requested an increase in federal student aid programs for the fiscal year of 1969. The increase would concern a $112 million package for existing student financial aid programs, but the budget would show an $83 million decrease in the amount Washington (CPS)--President Johnson, in his budget mesof federal funds for construction grants to colleges.

President Johnson also asked for $23 million for proposed legislation in the area of federal assistance to students. This proposal related to his State of the Union Message in which Johnson recommended passage or an Educational Opportunity Act "to step up our drive to break down financial barriers separating our young people from college." The details concerning student aid legislation will be included in the President's education message which reportedly will be referred to Congress within the next few weeks.

The Adminstration's 1969 budget request also includes an increase of approximately $86 millien for educational research in the Office of Education, as well as a $70 million increase to be allotted for teacher training. Out of this $70 million, about $18 million has been designated for the purpose of expanding the Teacher Corps, which recoived a severe financial beating by Congress this year. In the event that the President's request is granted by Congress, the present Teacher Corps of 1,000 members would be expanded to incorporate 1,500 new members into the program this summer, and 1,500 additional members in the summer of 1969, for a total of nearly 4,000 Corps members by the end of Fiscal

Unfortunately, even with the increases, the budget outlook for education in 1969 looms gloomily in the future for two reasons:

(1) As a result of the rising rosts of the war in Victnam, a fiscally conservative mood prevails in Congress, and cutbacks are expected in nearly all of the Administration's requests.

(2) Higher education is presently suffering, not only from the lack of sufficient appropriations in fiscal 1968, but also from the across-the board cutbacks in tederal spending ordered by Covgress last year. For example, higher education construction funds were cut by $150 million this year, which is approximatey one-third of the entire year's budget appropriation.

Wilbur Cohen, Undersecretary for the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, described the Administration's budget request as "large, but constrained." He concedes that the unmet needs in education "are very great," and that "there will be numet needs for years to come, but this budget will enable us to continue the forward thrust in the major programs."

Actually, the increases in federal aid to students are spread over a number of different programs which will culminate in only modest increases for each one.

The President has asked Congress to appropriate $149.6 million for educatonal opportunity grants to about 254,000 needs undergraduate students, with an accitional sea million to be utilized for contracts which will encourage needy youths to go to college. He also requested $193.4 million for national defense loans to approximately 408,000 graduate and undergratuate stu-dents; 199.7 million for advances for reserve funds and interest payments for 750,000 college stu-dents under the insured loan program; $145.5 million for workstudy grants for about 228,000 students; and $15 million under proposed legislation for project grants to institutions for recruitment, counseling, tutoring, and other services for disadvantaged students in college.

As an example of why the President's requests are considered modest, the national defese loans program is operating on a budget of $184 million this year, so the President requested an increase of only $9.4 million. The current educational opportunity grants program has budget of about $131 million, so the requested interest is on $18 million. In all cases, President Johnson's request falls below the amount authorized for the programs by law.

The 1969 program level for higher education construction grants under the Administration budget, totals $225.6 million. Of this total, $200 million will support 470 new projects for undergraduate academic facilities and public community colleges and technical institutes, and $25.6 million will support about 33 new graduate facility projects. The budget also provides for a pro-gram level of $150 million for loans for construction of college and university academic facil-

President Johnson also said in budget message that he will ask Congress for a 1968 supplemental appropriation of $4 million for the initial activities of the Public Broadcasting Cor-poration which was created to strongthen the quality of noncommercial television and rudio broadcasting and to make such gervices broadcasting more widely available across the nation. In addition, a 1969 appropriation of about $33 million was requested, as well as as-sistance from the Public Broadcanting Act of 1967 which will provide for educational broadcusting facilities on both television and radio.

Other major increases for higher education include $6 million for atrengthening developing institutions and $8 million for inter-institutional sharing of ro-

Under proposed legislasittes. Under proposed legisla-tion, Congress will be requested to authorize support for the sharing of college and university resources, expecially those re-quiring large investments for specialized libraries, computer services, and curriculum develop-

President Johnson's budget also provides for educational improvements grants to be awarded to medical, dental, and other professional schools to be used for a variety of activities, includrecruitment of additional faculty broadening the range of courses, and improving laboraremaires, rimui puo mi lion will be available for this purpose in 1969, an increase of more than $16 million over the 1968 program level. In addition, the Administration's budget proposes increases in loan, scholarships and grants for medical, dental, and other professional school students, particularly for for grants to the Corporation those from low-income families.

PSC Is Represented At Miss NJ Pageant

On Saturday, January 20, Miss Ann Yusaits, Bob Moore and Carol Calderone attended a luncheon held at the Cherry Hill Inn in Cherry Hill, New Jersey with the directors and participants in the Miss New Jersey State Pageant,

They had an opportunity to meet Miss New Jersey, Jeannette Phillipuk, and to discuss with her and the directors of the pageant the worth of such a pageant on a college campus.

After the luncheon and general meeting which followed, the representatives from Paterson State College were invited to participate in the Miss Amercia-Misa New Jersey State Pagcant and, therefore, compete with the twelve other New Ier-sey colleges for the Miss Jersey

The pageant is the girls who enter coupled with their excitement and that of those who support them. The Miss Peterson State College Scholarship Pagcant is open to every freshman, sophomore and junior young woman on the campus regardless of race or creed. All the entrants will be accepted whether fraternity or socority sponsored or not, "It is open to all."

In launching a program such as this much help is needed and all the students are urged to participate, if not in the actual running, in the production and staging of the pageant.

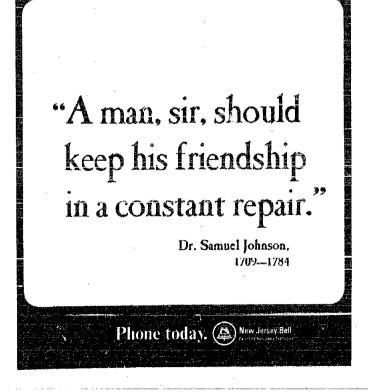

PSC delegates were honored with the invitation and, although there is a great deal of work involved, they feel that with help from the students such an undertaking can be successfully carried on.

All students interested in working on the various committees (entries, production, ettendance, awards, publicity, advertising and promotion, souveneir program book, judges, par-ade, hostess, and budget and finance) are urged to attend a meeting on Tuesday, February 13, in R1 at 2:30.

Remember, in a pageant of this scope, public attention is brought to the personality, benuty, intelligence, talent and ambition of the girls who enter, and state-wide and national recognition is focused on the college through the attending publicity and good will the pageant creates.

of Paterson Eastside High School and Coach Star Flood, was named by Coach Will Myers as the recipient of the Most Valuable Player Award for the 1967 soccer season at Paterson State College.

Hank, co-captain elect for the 1965 season, was considered the "stopper" on the team and "workhorse" from his center half slot but still managed to rank second in both the scoring and assist columns.

He was given the distinction of being named "first string" on the backfield slot for the New Jersey State College Athletic Conference Team, This was a feat he accomplished for the third year in a row after being named "honorable mention" in his freshman year.

Hank played in all 14 garnes this year making it 48 consecutive games played in a four-year period. Saxon's all-round ball playing ability will certainly be missed by the Black-and-Orange soccer team come next year, according to Myers.

Stanley Bavaro and Richard Furlong were recently chosen to act as co-captains for the 1968 Paterson State College soccer team.

Bavaro, a sophomore and two-year letterman, had been chosen "honorable mention" on the New Jersey State College Athletic Team in his freshmen year and "honorable mention" lineman in his sophomore year. "Stosh" was also given the di-stinction of being chosen "honorable mention" right halfback on the AH NJ, Pa, Del, Team as a fresh, Ke ranked second in the scoring and assist column during the 1967 season. Bayare was a fullback on the All-Passaic County Team while playing for Kennedy High School.

Richard Furleng, a junior and three-year letterman, moves from the line to the backfield slot on the Pioneer soccer team. Dick is a graduate of Passaic Valley High School. He places his playing ability on a bodily frame of 5 foot 9 inches and 160 pounds. Dick is 9 years of age and resides in West Paterson.

FENCERS EDGE GOTHICS; SLICE FDU KNIGHTS

Reaping its fourth win of the season, PSC's swordsmen cut down Jersey City State 15-12 last Tuesday night in home Gym C. A three-bout forfeiture in the epec division assured the Hilltoppers an immediate lead as the Gothics showed up with an eight—instead of a nine-man squad.

an eight—instead of a fine-man square.

Three of the remaining six epec bouts were also captured, one apiece by Tom Di Cerbo, Bob Moore, and Bob Stuart. Also contributing to the final fally was the foil team, which took five of the nine possible bouts. Jack Zellner was 2-0 for the night, Mike Burns 2-1, and Steve Tanasoca 1-2. In sabre there were four wins. These, were collected by Ed Heater 2-1, Arnie Madrachimov 1-2, and Tom Mayer 1-0. This was the Piercewell third consequence to be possed to the consequence of the con Pioneers' third consecutive home meet win,

Saturday afternoon the Pioneer fencers defeated a rather weak FDU team in Rutherford by a 19-8 tally. Generously adding to this score were three forfeit foil bouts which Fairleigh's eight man squad necessitated.

Four other foil bouts were taken by Jack Zellner and Mike Burns with two apiece. Both other weapon divisions were also captured with ease Epec 7-2 and Sabre 5-4.

In Epec Bob Moore's record for the afternoon was again 3-0. His teammates Pete Wasek went 2-1, Tom Di Cerbo 1-1 and Bob Stewart 1-0. PSC's Sabremen Ed Heater and Tom Mayer both tallied 2-1 wins and Mike Hegedus 1-1.

This victory brought the rillitoppers to the fourth notch in their recent winning streak. The Pioneers have now turned the 67-68 season into a winning one as their record stands

Baseball Schedule Announced

The ceach has given his boys a little more work.

Athletic director Dr. James Lepanto, who also serves as varsity baseball coach for Paterson State, has announced an expanded 21 game schedule for his boys.

This is four more than last year when the Pioneers had a 10-6-1 slate. The tie was a 7-7 affair with Hunter College of Brooklyn.

The Pioneers will meet Frostburg State College of Maryland for the first time and will also play its traditional New Jersey State College Conference rivals in a home and home series. Last year the Pioneers were 5-5 Conference-wise, good enough for third place standing.

Also a feature on the schedule is a "twin-bill". The two games will be played here at PSC on Saturday, April 20, against Trenton State.
